SALTED MEATS TO COST MORE SOON

Advance in Wholesale Quotations Expected to Affect Retail Market.

WESTERN PRICES HIGHER

Size of Shipments from Eastern and Near-by Farmers Said to Have Dwindled.

Salted meats have started upward in wholesale quotations, according to dealers yesterday, but the retail price has not yet been affected. Some merchants are paying $1 more on 100 pounds to the wholesale agents than they were seven days ago. Rising quotations for the remainder of the winter, with higher figures in the retail markets by next week, are predicted.

Smaller supplies of salted meats are being received from nearby and Eastern farmers, it is explained, which has resulted in Western shippers raising their quotation. Fresh meats are quoted at the same figures.

Fish receipts also were smaller in the last week, although the quotations have not been affected. Unless the weather permits more vessels to continue their work advance in prices is looked for.

Butter, eggs and poultry remained at practically the same figures during the week. Broilers advanced from 25 and 28 cents a pound to 28 and 30 cents.

Cucumbers, selling a week ago for 10 and 15 cents each, were quoted yesterday at 15 and 20 cents. Cymblings sold three for 25 cents. Prices of other vegetable commodities and of fruits were firm.

"AMERICA FOR AMERICANS."

Senator Ransdell Urges Closer Union Between Republics.

Boston, Feb. 11.—"It would be wise for us hereafter not to speak of the Monroe doctrine, but to substitute in lieu thereof the American doctrine of 'America for the Americans,'" said Senator Joseph E. Ransdell, of Louisiana, tonight, addressing the members of the City Club of Boston at their annual banquet in celebration of Lincoln Day.

"Let us invoke the spirit of Lincoln to aid in founding a 'greater union' that will embrace every foot of American soil from the north pole to the Straits of Magellan.

"Such a union properly conducted would be of the greatest good to all its members. It would make Americans truly brothers, friends and business associates. Perhaps this is a dream, but I can see its fruition in the dawning future, and I beg of all lovers of America to lend their help toward making it come true."

THE GREAT WHITE WAY

By B. O. M'INTYRE.

(Special Correspondent of The Washington Herald.)

New York, Feb. 11.—J. W. McConaughy, who has been writing for years under the name of Right Cross for the Hearst papers, has gone over to the New York Press to write deep and weighty editorials.

Some may think it a far cry from the jargon of the sport page to the polished English of the editorial page, but as a matter of fact more money is spent getting talent for the sporting pages in New York than for any other department.

The highest salaried writers, paragraphers, and editors—to say nothing of the cartoonists and illustrators—are attached to the sporting departments. More money is spent in season and out to make this department a success than any other and this is particularly true in the mechanical end in getting out the baseball extras.

The uplift has struck the Bowery. A crusade has been started to close up the cheap rum shops along the ancient thoroughfare after midnight. Forty saloons were closed in one night and the proprietors were told that if they opened again after midnight they would lose their licenses.

The Bowery saloon habitues were stunned by the new order of things. For years they have been accustomed to regard 12 o'clock on Saturday night as nothing except the time the clock strikes. Most of them spend their nights in the "flop" rooms in the rear, and to be chased out into the chilly night air irked them fearfully.

The famous Bowery saloons, such as "The Alligator," "The Doctor's," "Dago Pete's," and "China Mike's," were all affected. Drinks in these places are three cents and two may drink out of the same glass. Also, you may help yourself to the free lunch if you are a spendthrift—that is for two or three drinks.

Miss Henrietta Rodman, a public school teacher, recently wrote a letter to the conductor of the Tribune's funny column criticising "mother-baiting" on the part of the antiquated board of education. She held them up to ridicule for dismissing teachers who were about to become mothers.

She has been suspended for a year, and the teachers made up a purse to cover the salary she lost—something like $1,800. Just as they were about to present it to her, the Tribune offered Miss Rodman the job of school news editor, which she has accepted.

Now Miss Rodman can say whatever she wants to about the members of the board and instead of losing pay she will get paid for it.

Thomas J. Egan is the sergeant-at-arms of the Federal Commission on Industrial Relations and it is he who serves subpoenas on the famous persons who appeared before the commission to tell how they got it and what they are going to do with it now that they have it.

When Egan called on Rockefeller, jr., he took his son with him. He told John D. jr., about it, and he said to bring the lad in. "I want to see your safe" was the first thing the boy said after shaking hands. Young Rockefeller laughed heartily.

McAlpin Hotel Happenings.

New York, Feb. 11.—At the Twilight Club dinner and meeting in the McAlpin Hotel ballroom last night 200 members and guests of the club were present. Prof. William R. Shepherd, of Columbia, was toastmaster, and the principal speakers were Mr. Max Eastman, Mr. Frank Harris, the London critic; Mr. Frederick S. Lamb, Ameen Riham, and Mr. Charles Ferguson, and Justice Charles L. Guy. Among those attending were Father Prout, Mrs. Philip Lydig, Mr. J. Brewster Macdonald, Prof. Cariton C. Curtis, Mr. J. Dunbar Wright, Dr. Edward A. Boyne, Miss Katherine Holmes, Mr. Edward Murphy, Mr. Charles E. F. McCann, Mr. John J. Watson, jr., and Paul Herzog, Mr. J. E. McLean, Mr. Samuel W. Goldberg, Mr. O. W. Smith, and Mr. Clinton B. Price.

At the banquet tendered to Gov. James F. Fielder, of New Jersey, by the senate of New Jersey, at the Hotel McAlpin last night, there were present the following: Senators Walter E. Edge, Blanchard H. White, Charles O'Connor Hennessy, William T. Read, Harry C. Wheaton, John A. Ackley, Austin Colgate, George W. F. Gaunt, Charles M. Egan, George F. Martens, jr., Barton B. Hutchinson, William E. Ramsey, H. E. Ackerson, Charles A. Rathburn, Thomas A. Mathis, Peter J. McGinnis, Collins H. Allen, William W. Smalley, Samuel T. Munson, Carlton T. Pierce, and Thomas Barber.

Among the attaches of the McAlpin yesterday were Representative Hatton W. Sumner, of Dallas, Tex.; Dr. M. M. Carrick, Dallas, Tex.; John J. Howard, New Orleans, Franklin Johnson, jr., Toronto, Ontario; Henry J. Ford, Princeton, N. J., W. B. Geary, Charleston, W. Va., A. W. Latta, Philadelphia; M. A. Hoffman, Roanoke, Va.; A. W. Emmett, Rochester, N. Y.; George L. McCandless, Chicago, and Theodore C. Kanter, Detroit.

The American Association of Railway Accounting Officers began a three-day business session at the Hotel McAlpin on Wednesday.

Five Months of War Cost Russia $1,555,300,000

Petrograd, Feb. 11.—Russia's expenses in prosecuting the first five months of the war were $1,555,300,000, it was announced in the Duma today. It was stated that that sum in round numbers represented the cost of the war up to January 1 and that the daily cost is now $7,210,000.

After statements made by the comptroller and the chairman of the budget committee, the budget was passed.

The chairman of the committee said that nearly four-fifths of the reduction of revenue in the empire was due to the prohibition of the sale of alcohol, but declared that the abundant resources of Russia would prevent any alarm over its revenues.

Frank S. White, third, who is the young visitor at the home of his grand parents, also shared the honors of the day. Already it is said that he resembles his distinguished grandfather.

Mrs. Walker Curry is the house guest of Senator and Mrs. Frank White.

The piece de resistance at the Dolly Madison breakfast, to be held at Rauscher's on February 15, is to be an original sketch written especially for the occasion by a dramatist and writer high in official circles in Washington whose name for the time being is withheld. This sketch is to be rendered by professional artists. The Dolly Madison breakfast will be a gala event where the ranking hostesses of Washington are to be gathered for the first time this season.

The Southern States conference will hold another of its interesting meetings on Sunday at 2:30 o'clock at the Jardin de Danse. The speakers will be three distinguished Southerners, Miss Kate Gordon, of New Orleans, who is the house guest of Mrs. W. M. Stoner; Representative Abercrombie, of Alabama, and Representative McKellar, of Tennessee.

Mrs. P. J. Lennox will be at home at the Toronto from 4 to 6 o'clock today for the last time this season.

ASKS DISTRICT PAY INQUIRY.

Bill Paves Way for Founding of Minimum Wage Commission.

Thorough investigation of the cost of living of wage-earners, exclusive of government employes in the District, is provided for in an amendment to the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill offered in the Senate yesterday by Senator Kenyon, of Iowa. This study is to be preliminary to an attempt to establish a minimum wage commission in the District.

It is contended that a large percentage of the women wage-earners in the District are employed at an unreasonably low scale of wages because they are members of families in which some wage-earner is a government employe.
