COTTON MARKETS.

New York, March 8.—Ships or cargoes consigned to enemy ports will not be allowed to proceed. This statement was made to Cord Spring Rice by Washington today as part of an order coming from the British council regarding a new arrangement covering cotton ships from America with cargoes consigned to the allies, neutral ports and to Germany.

Contracts for sale and freight engagements made prior to March 2 and consigned to neutral ports either will be allowed to go forward or will be sold by England if stopped, provided the ship sails not later than March 15.

Similar treatment will be given all cotton insured before March 2, provided the cargo is put on board not later than March 15.

This decision and regulation will have the same effect as if cotton were declared contraband of war by the allies. The decision regarding shipments to neutral ports means that these countries cannot import cotton for Germany and Austrian destination.

Cable advices to the Department of Commerce from Minister Egnew give American good middling at about 24 per pound.

Exports today were 22,000 bales making 3,675,440 bales to date against 3,735,997 bales last year.

The cotton markets of New York, Liverpool and New Orleans were very dead today with only fractional changes.

Liverpool futures closed with a decline of only ½ point, and Manchester quoted yarns firm with cable offers declines in most cases of spinners.

New York futures closed quiet. Southern spot markets were steady with prices sustained at recent advances.

WASHINGTON PRODUCE.

Quotations given below are for large lots of good, marketable goods only. Jobbers' prices are higher. Lower grades sold for less. Fancy goods commanded higher prices.

Live poultry and veal calves were in good shape yesterday. The quotations on both were strong. Eggs, having reached a point where they will likely remain, continued steady. Receipts in general were light, especially on calves and live poultry, which cars were in good supply. Lambs made no change.

Fruits and vegetables continued firm. Sweet potatoes and yams were scarce and a considerable strengthening occurred in the figures. Beets were stronger. Quotations were:

NEW YORK MONEY.

New York, March 8.—Call money opened at 1% per cent; high, 2 per cent; low, 1% per cent; towards close per cent; closed, 1½ per cent; ruling rate, 1½ per cent.

The money for time loans continues exceedingly light and trading normally at a standstill. In view of that, the market has revised the decrease in the supply of money, as shown in Saturday's bank statement with which the banks have been unusually generous, at 2½ per cent for sixty days, 2¾a3 per cent for ninety days, 3 per cent for four months, and 3½ per cent for five or six months, and all per cent for one and six months.

Business in commercial paper is quiet. The good demand does not indicate to purchase papers but rather this is due to the fact that the offerings are quite meager at the beginning of each week to the next few days and will. Rates continue to quote at 3¼a4 per cent for choice names, according to maturities.

NEW YORK CURB MARKET.

New York, March 8.—Trading on the curb was fairly active at the opening but later lapsed into dullness. Prices fluctuated within narrow limits, but were generally firm.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET.

Chicago, March 8.—Charles B. Pierce, president of the Bartlett Frazier Company, of Chicago, who is recognized as an authority on the grain world, says there is a serious shortage in the supply of old crop wheat.

The situation in cash wheat could hardly be stronger than reported by cash handlers. Supplies are scarce and foreign countries continue to ask for offers, but these are made slowly by exporters owing to their inability to secure enough grain to meet outstanding contracts. The sharp advance in the future market today caused farmers to tighten their grip upon the wheat now in their hands. The May closed with a gain of 5¼ cents. July was up 4¾ and September advanced 3¼c. The stock of wheat held here at Chicago only 179,000 bushels following an increase of 88,000 bushels for the week. With a probable open interest of anywhere from 5,000,000 to 7,000,000 bushels of May wheat, it is obvious that the shorts will be placed in an uncomfortable position when May 1 rolls around, as it is impossible to secure any fair-sized quantities of this grain.

The cash transactions in all positions were restricted today by the small holdings, the seaboard requiring sales of thirty loads. There were no sales reported at Chicago. From a statistical standpoint the situation in wheat is growing more bullish.

Corn and oats both held advance. While the cash interior receivers failed to hold because of poor taking the undercurrent in oats was quite strong, cash sales were 50,000 bushels of corn and 50,000 bushels of oats.

Enormous exports of provisions last week with heavier receipts of hogs and higher prices are the main factors for investors to become free buyers, while shorts covered liberally.

HIKERS DON'T MIND SNOW.

More Than 100 Wanderlusters Take Usual Sunday Walk.

Snow is one of the last things the Wanderlusters worry about, and a little of it scattered here and there did not prevent more than 100 of the fraternity taking their usual constitutional Sunday.

Under leadership of C. M. Stearns and J. R. Greene, two parties left Park road and Mount Pleasant street in the afternoon and "hit the trail" through highway and pike for six miles.

One party passed Pierce Mill in Rock Creek Park, the Carnegie Institute, the Academy of the Holy Cross, Bureau of Standards, Friends' School, the American University, the old Weaver estate, and down to the Glen Echo car line at Chain Bridge.

The sunrise section of the Wanderlusters was led by Titus Ulke. It left the Wisconsin avenue car at the District line at 9:30 o'clock in the morning. Somerset by the Rockville road was gained, and then the Wanderlusters followed the course of the Little Falls brook to the receiving reservoir. After walking around the reservoir, they boarded the car at the District line station of the Cabin John Bridge car line for the trip back to home and dinner.

The committee appointed to arrange lectures has obtained the services of Prof. Wells W. Cook to speak on birds. The time and place of the lecture will be announced later.

The walk next Sunday will be led by John Boyle, jr. The start will be at 2:15 o'clock in the afternoon from Seventeenth street and Pennsylvania avenue southeast.

Tests Revolver, Then Shoots Self.

New York, March 8.—A man registering as A. P. Coulliard, of Ottawa, Ontario, engaged a suite of rooms at a local hotel here today, emptied his grip, took out a revolver, fired two shots out of the window to test it, and then telephoned for a drink. After taking the drink he fired a third shot—this one into his brain.
