STOCK PRICES ARE LOWERED

Steel Common Dividends Cause Speculators to Sell Their Holdings.

STRENGTH AT OPENING

Net Losses Are Shown at Closing. Railroad Labor Trouble Probably Will Be Settled.

New York, Jan. 26.—Except for a flash of strength at the opening, the best quarterly statement of earnings ever published by the United States Steel corporation and the resumption of dividends on the common fell flat as a tonic to the stock market today. The momentary beneficial influence on prices was seized by speculators as an opportunity to get out of stocks, which they believe will sell lower on account of the changed technical conditions marketwise. Initial prices were the best of the session. Offerings were steady and continuous with the result that closing prices were around the lowest and showed substantial net losses.

The effect on sentiment of the steel earnings and dividend action was found in an excited opening, first prices being well above the previous closing with steel common the center of interest. There was a wide opening in this issue at prices ranging from $5 3-8 to $8 for transactions of 15,900 shares against $4 1-2, Tuesday's close.

For about ten minutes a large amount of stock changed hands in the vicinity of 85 1-2, but the price subsequently gave under the steady coverings. Rails were strong at the outset but later sold off with the balance of the market.

Although the rails average nearly six points under the range prevailing at the beginning of the year, brokers who carefully analyze the technical market position of the speculative account was advising customers to get out of stocks. They contend, and this is confirmed by local bankers, that the commission houses are carrying unusually large loans, which means that the public is tenaciously holding on to securities purchased at much higher prices. This, they say, is evidence of the speculative position which must be eliminated either by declining prices or the development of very favorable news. The latter is not expected, in view of the unresponsive way in which the Steel corporation announcements were received, the rejection of Germany's offer of settlement in the Lusitania case, and the possibility that Sweden may enter the war. The dispute between the railroad managers and employes is expected to be one of the important factors in shaping stock prices in the immediate future. Any interruption to railroad traffic at this time is to contended, would be very embarrassing to general business. A compromise is therefore expected by financial interests.

The steady liquidation by foreigners and the possibility that it may be increased by another home loan by Great Britain, is also dampening enthusiasm with regard to higher values.

HOME SAVINGS STOCK RISES.

Ten Shares Sold at 450, an Advance of 45 Points.

The only feature of a light day on the Washington Stock Exchange yesterday was the sale of ten shares of Home Savings Bank stock at 450, or forty-five points above the last sale of this issue. The bid for the issue then was raised twenty points to 430, but there were no further offerings of the stock. Norfolk and Washington Steamboat stock was bid up to 158.

Thirty shares of Capital Traction stock, which has been active for several days, sold at 88 1-4, or one-quarter of a point above the price of the last sale of the stock. The only other sales were ten shares of Mergenthaler Linotype at 171 and a Capital 5 per cent bond at 107.

NEW YORK MONEY MARKET.

New York, Jan. 26.—Call money today opened at 1¾ per cent; high, 2 per cent; low, 1¾ per cent; ruling rate, 1¾ per cent; closed at 2 per cent.

An easier tendency was noted in time money and trading for the most part was only in small lots. Rates, however, were not quotably lower, being 2¼@2¾ per cent for sixty days, 2¾ per cent for ninety days, 2¾@3 per cent for four months, 3 per cent for five and six months.

High grade paper continued to be readily absorbed at 3 per cent, but the volume on offer was small and showed little signs of increasing.

COTTON MARKETS.

New York, Jan. 26.—Following steadiness, cotton broke sharply in the final hour today under general liquidation led by New Orleans and Wall Street houses. Weakness in securities and at New Orleans furnished the basis for the selling. New Orleans reported a break of 12 points in spot cotton, which, according to a private message, was unexpected and promoted heavy selling. The close here was barely steady at a net decline of 4 to 8 points.

At the outset prices were 2 to 6 points higher, influenced by the strength of securities and an advance at Liverpool. Spot interests were buyers of May and October. There was purchasing of the summer months, believed to be for German account. The traders usually active for Russian interests took some of the middle and late options.

Port receipts were 23,285 bales, against 70,389 a year ago. New York warehouse stocks are 241,474 bales, compared with 66,450 last year. Exports for the day aggregated 7,046 bales, against 29,838 last year.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET.

Chicago, Jan. 26.—The bear shorts in wheat showed further signs of becoming more and more desperate as additional high prices were recorded for May and July futures today. As a disturbing element in the market, the seaboard betrs sent out messages to the Chicago wheat pit saying that 300,000 bushels of No. 1 northern wheat was sold there today by exporters and that an additional amount of the same grain was offered later. This piece of news was accepted here by scattered interests as a bonafide transaction and considerable wheat was sold on it. The man who sold the wheat at the seaboard secured a handsome profit on it. There is a likelihood that he was unable to secure vessel room for the immediate shipments of his wheat and the only channel open to him was to sell it and get it off his hands.

Wheat closed with losses of ¼ to ⅝c today, and twice so far in the day showed reactions and decline of 1¼@2⅝c from the best levels.

The wheat news from abroad was more bullish than on any day of the present week, as it reported advances of 1¼@2½ pence for spot at Liverpool. Both public and private cables from that market represent cash wheat situation acute, and there is great urgency in the demand for winters and Manitobas. Millers are absorbing the wheat in that market, stocks are not increasing and the more conservative English grain merchants say that unless supplies become larger, prices are likely to continue upward.

Oats were irregular, closing ⅛c higher to ⅛c lower. The seaboard reported 300,000 bushels bought at Chicago for export, but the sales reported here were only 70,000 bushels.

The decline in hogs at the yards caused a price setback in pork and ribs, while lard was fairly well sustained.
