WHALE SPOUTS ON FISHERS.

Sixty-Footer Comes Alongside of Boat Off New Jersey.

Spring Lake, N. J., Aug. 23.—Few fishermen have been so close to a whale as to receive a shower bath when he spouted and live to tell the tale, but that is what happened to a party which went off from here on Saturday and is being told about today.

They had been fishing several hours when some one exclaimed: "There blows a whale!" It is heading for the boat!"

He threw the tiller around so that they could come parallel to the fish if it came their way, and as he did so the whale dived. Then a black shape appeared alongside the boat. It continued to rise until fully sixty feet of it was to be seen, from head to tail, and then turned its spout on and all in the party were hit by the spray.

Not Enough Fire Plugs.

Philadelphia, Aug. 23.—The absence of fireplugs hampered the work of firemen in subduing a blaze which today destroyed the rear portion of the dwelling occupied by Mrs. Emma Amneley on West Stamper lane. The firemen had to draw the water from the ditches near Mrs. Amneley's home.

SECOND DAY AT FAIR CROWDED DESPITE RAIN

1,200 People Turn Out at Rockville and Witness Interesting Races on Heavy Track.

Results of yesterday's racing at the Rockville fair grounds appear on the sporting page of this issue.

By Staff Correspondent.

Rockville, Md., Aug. 23.—The second day of the Montgomery County Fair, at Rockville, Md., drew a crowd of 1,200 people. Although the weather was threatening and considerable rain fell in the early afternoon, the people took advantage of the cooled atmosphere, and began crowding the grounds during the spasmodic drizzle which continued until evening. The people took advantage of the exhibition halls and the dozens of midway attractions during the sprinkles and flocked out when the sky cleared to the live stock pens and the race track.

The feature of the day was the afternoon racing card and the day's events were well up to standard considering the heavy track. Over 500 people took in the races and saw several close finishes in the trots and paces. The heavy track caused the last two events to be called off to prevent accident.

Fine Horses Exhibited.

This morning the judges finished classifying and selecting the winners of all the remaining exhibitions. The horse exhibit was the important part of the morning's judging and brought out the finest thoroughbreds that have ever been entered in the fair. After the stock and fowls had all been judged, President Offutt led a cavalcade of all the live stock entries about the race track.

Considerable skill has been displayed in the arrangement of the fruit, vegetable and culinary exhibits. Hung about the walls of the building are works in art, including oil, water color, charcoal, pencil ink and pastel. The manual training and woodcraft exhibits are interesting, and the children's department unique. The young people have dozens of samples of their thrift in carpetry, woodcarving, copper and brass work, sewing and cooking. The exceptional interest taken in this branch made necessary considerable time in judging.

Tomorrow Biggest Day.

Tomorrow will be the biggest day, and Secretary James Bogley stated that if the weather will only remain settled, the grounds will not be able to hold the crowds. Entries are coming in fast for the auto parade to be held Friday morning, and the committee urges that entries be in by tomorrow night, because only those having signed up will be judged.

Today more than a hundred automobile parties, including many from Washington, motored to the fair. Races tomorrow will start early, owing to a feature card. They are called at 12:30.

The following is the result of the judging of exhibits:

Nikola Tesla Faces Jail for Contempt

(By International News Service.)

New York, Aug. 23.—Nikola Tesla, the electrical inventor, is in danger of Ludlow street jail for alleged contempt of court.

He has been cited to show cause tomorrow in the Supreme Court why he should not appear for further examination in supplementary proceedings and be punished for contempt for failure to turn over assets.

The city of New York obtained a judgment for $935 against Tesla. A receiver was appointed and an examination of the judgment creditor held. Tesla admitted he owned a note for $1,000 from R. Berger, but did not turn it over to the court.

Stomach Troubles Due to Acidity

SAYS NEW YORK PHYSICIAN.

A well-known New York physician, in speaking of dyspepsia and its proper treatment, says that so-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, wind, stomach-ache and inability to retain food, are in probably nine cases out of ten simply evidence that fermentation is taking place in the food contents of the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acids. Wind distends the stomach and causes that full, oppressive feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies largely in the fermenting food, causing the formation of excess acid. Such fermentation is unnatural, and may involve most serious consequences if not corrected.

To stop or prevent fermentation of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the dangerous acid and make it harmless, a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia, probably the best and most effective corrector of acid stomach known, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water immediately after eating, or whenever wind or acidity is felt. This stops the fermentation, sweetens the stomach contents and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments. Fermentation, wind and acidity are dangerous and unnecessary. Stop or prevent them by the use of a proper antacid, such as bisurated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist, and thus enable the stomach to do its work properly without being hindered by poisonous gas and dangerous acids.

ADVERTISING PRAISED BY BETHLEHEM STEEL

Campaign of Paid Newspaper Publicity Will Be Continued by Corporation.

Although Congress has given Secretary of the Navy Daniels authority to proceed with the construction of a Government armor plate plant, the Bethlehem Steel Company, which conducted a nation-wide campaign in opposition to the plant, through newspaper advertising, feels that the money spent was "well worth while."

In a letter to Frank Presbrey, president of the Frank Presbrey Company, which handled much of this advertising, Ivy L. Lee, in behalf of the Bethlehem Steel Company, says:

"You are aware that the advertising campaign of the company contemplated an appeal to the people of the United States, and that to make this appeal we used both dailies and country weekly newspapers, paying the publishers their regular advertising rate and soliciting no free publicity.

"In the course of that controversy the company announced that it would be its policy hereafter to acquaint the people with the details of its relations with the United States Government in the belief that the people, thoroughly informed as to the facts, would in the long run support a policy of fairness and progress.

"I take pleasure, therefore, in informing you that one of the ways by which the company will tell the public about itself will be through advertising space in newspapers."

MISS DE GRAY TALKS TO MOTORMAN'S WIFE

Defendant in $50,000 Love Case Calls on Woman Who Brought Suit Against Her.

It was learned late last night that Miss Edith De Gray, defendant in the $50,000 damage suit for the alleged alienation of the affections of Levi C. Cox, Washington motorman, filed in the District Supreme Court by Cox's wife, Mrs. Edna Cox, paid a personal call on the plaintiff at her home, 505 East Capitol street, yesterday.

The nature of the call could not be learned. When Miss De Gray's apartments were called last night it was said she was sick. When asked the nature of the call on Mrs. Cox, she refused to discuss the matter.

Mr. Cox was asked if Miss De Gray had called during the day. He stated that he did not know.

It is understood that Attorney J. W. Staggers, Mrs. Cox's counsel, was present at the conference between the plaintiff and the defendant at the home of the former, yesterday.

POLICE ARREST BOY; STOLEN GOODS FOUND

When Bicycle Policeman Downe, of the Ninth Precinct, saw a young man yesterday morning just before daylight carrying a large package his suspicions were aroused. He stopped the stranger and asked for an explanation of the contents of the bundle. Failing to satisfy the policeman, the man was taken to the Ninth Precinct station. He said he was J. W. Jerrell, 22 years old, and lives at 615 A street southeast.

The package contained seven pairs of new shoes, twenty pairs of silk stockings for women and half hose for men. Berberich Sons, 813 Pennsylvania avenue northwest reported a robbery of goods that correspond identically with those in Jerrell's bundle.

According to the police, Jerrell made a frank confession of the robbery saying that he went up the fire escape in the rear of the store, to the roof and then through the skylight. He is charged with housebreaking.

ALLIES STRONGER THAN FOE, SAYS JAP ADMIRAL

(By the International News Service.)

Paris, Aug. 23.—Admiral Akiyama, who, as aide to Admiral Togo, planned the battle of Tsuhima, is on the way to New York after visiting all of the Allies' countries.

"I am thoroughly convinced that the Allies are in two-fold superiority to the Germans," said the Admiral before sailing.

"What has made Germany so strong is their organization and preparation in military matters. These advantages no longer exist. The allies by practice and experience have accomplished all the Germans had perfected."

TORN-OFF LIMBS RAIN ON GERMAN SOLDIERS

Teuton Line of Fortified Trenches Now a Ghastly Row of Shell Holes.

Rotterdam, Aug. 23. (via London)—Max Osborn, in a dispatch from the Somme front to the Vossische Zeitung, says:

"Day and night the English and French guns continously hurl their murderous lead. Shells burst all around many exploding before positions where masses of dead are lying. They fling sand and stone splinters over to the defenders. They fling, too, torn-off limbs, so when day comes and the men are able to eat, the very sight of meat is horrible to them.

"The noise tears to pieces all nerves and senses. It continually drums in ones ears. Not a few find their hearing completely gone. The worst of all is the effect of the heavy mines.

"There are times when our men curse and are homesick, but in the moment of fighting all their feelings disappear. The sense of duty and discipline holds them together and they are ready with iron decision and bitter courage."

George Wegener in a dispatch to the Koelnische Zeitung, says:

"The present line held by the Germans consists only of a chain of shell holes instead of a girdle of strongly built and fortified trenches. Immovable men crouch in these holes with no cover from Sun or rain, and not the slightest protection against the shells from above.

FIRE IN UNION STATION QUICKLY EXTINGUISHED

The dining-rooms on the first floor of the Union Station and the general office rooms on the two upper floors of the northeast wing of the building, occupied by the Washington Terminal Company, were filled with a heavy black smoke late yesterday afternoon from a fire started in a defective flue.

The fact that there was a fire in the building was no secret to the passengers but the smoke did not get into the waiting rooms. The corps of police and other employes of the station rendered efficient services. Engine Company, No. 3, nearby, was called out and the flames soon were extinguished. The damage is said to have been $150.

ROUMANIA BRIBED BY ENTENTE, SAYS BERLIN

Charges Allies Secured Support of Balkan State by Using Money and Beautiful Women.

(By the International News Service.)

Berlin, Aug. 23.—That cash bribes have been given to Roumanian politicians by the entente powers to win the support of the Bucharest government is the charge made by a diplomatist interviewed by the Overseas News Agency.

"Roumanian's attitude is a consequence of the country's geographical location," the diplomat is quoted as saying. "It is surrounded on all sides by belligerents. Roumanian statesmen therefore are guided by their desire to spare their country damage which would be unavoidable, if it became a war theater.

"Since the beginning of the present conflagration, the entente has been extremely active in Roumania, especially Russia. All Roumania is flooded with Russian spies and agents of all descriptions. The entente uses money lavishly in order to bribe politicians and buy newspapers.

"The entente further employed beautiful women to influence public opinion and leading men.

CONGRESS TO ACT IF ROADS FAIL TO YIELD suggestion lies in its possible application to the long standing claim of the railroads that the government commission which passes on rates ought to be empowered to sit in judgment on the demands of employes for higher wages and shorter hours.

Following his last conference with the representatives of the railway executives, President Wilson sent yesterday for Chairman Newlands, of the Senate committee on Interstate Commerce, and Chairman Adams, of the House committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce.

At the conclusion of the conference, Chairman Adams said:

"The President talked very frankly with us. He reviewed all that had transpired between the White House and the railway executives up to the present. We believe he is right in his demand for the eight hour day.

"Congress has plenary powers to deal with all questions relating to interstate commerce. It has undoubtedly power to pass an eight-hour day law. Also it may enact any other measure by way of regulating commerce.

"I have not considered any concrete proposition, and will not take the question up until we are convinced the President has failed to settle the strike. I belive from the knowledge of the situation obtained today, the President will gain his point."

Senator Newlands made no statement other than that he had agreed to urge the bill in the Senate to increase the membership of the Interstate Commerce Commission immediately.

While the executives are killing time in an effort to drive a bargain with the President, the members of the brotherhoods are growing impatient. Strike talk broke out among them yesterday. Thomas Donovan, the Boston-Albany chairman, proposed at a morning meeting that the chairmen return to their homes and have the four brotherhood heads here arrange an immediate strike.
