SATURDAY MARCH 14, 1891.

School Superintendent in his Rounds in the Interest of Public Education.

LAS VEGAS, March 9, 1891.

To the editor of La Voz del Pueblo.

I left Las Vegas at 10 a. m. in my initial trip visiting the various school districts, and having been previously invited to attend an examination of the pupils attending the school of districts Nos. 10 and 71 at Los Alamos. The examination was principally conducted by myself with the aid of the school directors present, and the teaching of rudimental learning which the pupils of both sexes are able to demonstrate shows the indefatigable energy which the worthy Sisters of Mercy have displayed, and deserve the enlistment of sympathy as well as the encouragement of all citizens. The manner in which they have imparted learning to the children in their charge is deserving of higher praise than I am able to express, and I consider Los Alamos specially fortunate in possessing such a competent set of teachers in their neighborhood as the Sisters of Mercy have proved themselves to be.

The children are more advanced in these two districts than any I have heretofore had occasion to examine with the exception of the Las Vegas districts, and this notwithstanding the very irregular attendance, to which I emphatically alluded in the few remarks which I delivered to the people, and am in hopes that this great drawback to the advancement of our youth will be speedily averted and that the children will attend school regularly.

I proceeded to Sapello and inspected the district treasurer's account as well as those of district No. 63, Los Montoyas. The district treasurer, Don Jose de la Cruz Vigil rendered a very good account of the school funds. Thence I interviewed the treasurer of district No. 26, Los Martinez, and found him slightly in debt, but will be able to reimburse the district and willing to do so. The next district I visited was No. 47, but was unfortunate enough to find all the directors absent; however I shall revisit that district again in a day or two. Thence I proceeded to district No. 54, the Cañon of Manuelitas, but being too late to investigate the treasurer's books all the directors agreed to come to my office at Rociada to compare their accounts with my Ledger.

Yours respectfully,
CHAS. RUDULPH,
C. S. Supt.

Growth of Democracy.

One of the best-known gentlemen in the city, but whose modesty prompted him to request that his name be kept out of print, has just returned from a visit to New England, the strong hold of the Republican party for so many years, and in speaking to a Republic reporter of his impressions of the condition of political parties there, said:

"I was perfectly astounded to ascertain that all the young men of brains and activity in New England seem to be deserting the Republican party. The desertion is general and is not confined to the newer and less conspicuous families. In the oldest families the young men are leaving the Republican party, and those whose fathers fought on the Northern side and rendered conspicuous service to that cause are now to be found in the ranks of Democracy, and are even more pronounced in their views than are the old Democrats. There is Sherman Hoar, a nephew of Senator Hoar and son of Grant's Attorney-General, and Dr. Everett, son of Edward Everett, actually went out to his district to fight Cabot Lodge, and, popular as the latter was, reduced his majority from 5,000 to 1,000. Again, John F. Andrews, the son of old Gov. Andrews the war Governor of Massachusetts, was elected to Congress in that State last fall on the Democratic ticket. There is Josiah Quincy and the Choates, Winthrops, Ames, Adams, Endicotts and I could name dozens of others as well known names in the history of New England. A few years ago there were only two Democratic professors at Harvard University, and I understand that at the last election all of them, from President Eliot down, voted the Democratic ticket. While I was at the university one of the two original Democratic professors said to me: "This is getting to be monotonous. A few years ago we used to have a lively time fighting the Republicans, but now there is nobody to talk to on the subject; they are all Democrats." T. W. Higginson made Democratic speeches last fall, and the father of Mayor Mathews of Boston was one of the staunchest of Republicans. In fact all the young men of brains of that country are leaving the Republican party because they see it has outlived its usefulness.

"While I was in Boston there was a good story going the rounds in the newspapers which illustrates the point. It was on Henry Wilson, who was Vice-President with Grant and a most uncompromising Republican. A friend of his was said to have recently gone to the other world where Wilson has been so long sojourning, and meeting him Wilson asked who had been elected last fall. The friend named over a dozen or so of those who had been elected. 'Ah,' said Wilson, that is good. I am glad to see the young men coming out that way; they are worthy sons of worthy sires. But who did the Democrats put up? 'Why' those I have named are all Democrats, was the reply. The story does not say what became of Wilson when the bitter truth was revealed." St. Louis Republic.

Our esteemed contemporary the Optic still persists in proclaiming the republican party (the so-called law and order party) as the best of them all and as the party of public beneficence. We would therefore call the attention of our neighbor and the people in general to the record of the G. O. P. in the matter of legislation for the last twenty-five years, and especially to the record of the same, of what used to be known as the banner republican county in the Territory—the imperial county of San Miguel. During all the past legislatures, outside of the one just adjourned, San Miguel had the largest representation in the assemblies; she always boasted of the most patriotic leaders in the ranks of the G. O. P. Now, will you please show us if during this last twenty-five years all these patriots have done as much for the interest and advancement of Las Vegas—San Miguel county in particular, and the Territory in general—as the People's Party of the county of San Miguel (which the Optic chooses to call the hcodlum party) has done during one single session, in spite of the constant obstruction carried on by the remnant that was left by a scratch to represent the majority in the Council of the last Assembly. Facts prove for themselves and sore-head ascertions will have no effect in the minds of the people.

Now for the incorporation of the Las Vegas Grant. The crowning point of the success of the city of Las Vegas is at hand. Will the citizens regardless of their residence in any section of the said grant or any other consideration join hands for the welfare and advancement of all concerned and have this matter settled as speedily as possible; or will they allow petty jealousies or sectional rivalries to destroy a sure chance of progress, advancement and success. We surely must depend until proved otherwise, that temperate and patriotic counsels will prevail and that agitators or ruin or rule advocates will be effectually sat upon. Let the good work be started.

The report of the condition of the First National Bank of Albuquerque at the close of business, February 26, 1891, shows a phenomenal success on the part of that moneyed institution; its total footings run over $1,000,000, its deposits nearly $900,000. If we are not mistaken we believe t is la the best showing of any banking institution in the history of the Territory of New Mexico.

It is a poor rule that does not work both ways, and the law punishing the fence-cutters, house-burners and land-grabbers equally is one of the best measures passed by the last legislature. Let the law be enforced to its fullest extent, and "let the chips fall where they may."

The editor of the Albuquerque Democrat firmly believes that everything looks All-bright in the matter of the mayorship of the city of Albuquerque. The pliant editor may perhaps find out to his surprise that even in his fertile brain conceit finds a nest.

Every business person through the Territory is of the opinion that the days of New Mexico's prosperity and development are to begin the spring of 1891. If indications amount to anything, there is no doubt of the verification of such opinion.

What do you think of a man that will make a solemn promise to carry into effect certain agreements, but afterwards tries to go back on the same on technicalities. Such a man would not do wrong if he could, would he?

The people of the valley of the Rio Grande may not like to hear it but there is eminent danger of the loss of life and property, and the warning that is given them should not be taken as a joke.

It is probable that by the time this number of LA VOZ is issued that Gen. John W. Palmer will be the U. S. Senator from Illinois. So mote it be.

Mr. J. Crandall has opened an A No. 1 barber shop one door below this office. Give him a call and you will be satisfied.
