LABOR UNION DIRECTORY HOUSE U.S. ENVOY IN PEACE MEET?

Wilson's Personal Adviser Heads Peace Information Bureau.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4 .- The United States government has established a peace information bureau, with Col. E. M. House heading it, the state department declared Friday.

At the same time the department de clared emphatically that the purpose has absolutely no connection peace negotiations at this time.

This indicates that President Wilson intends to have Colonel House, his friend and confidential adviser for five years, head representatives of the United States government at the world peace conference when that time

House will collect historical, com mercial and geographical data such as England and France have been gathering for the past three years. information is designed solely for use at the peace conference when that comes, but state department officials were careful to indicate that the House appointment by no means indicates any peace negotiations are in prospect now.

abroad or to sound out either the allies or the Teutons on the subject of peace, it was stated. The department said his work will be similar to that of a group of college professors and others in England and France who have been collecting information for the allies ever since the war started.
