ALEXANDRIA.

CITY SCHOOL BOARD MEETING.

The city school board met last night at the Peabody building, President Smith in the chair and ten members present. Much of the time of the board was occupied with details as to the repairs and improvement of school houses. It was agreed that the names "Washington School" and "Peabody School building" should be placed in block letters on the fronts of the Washington street and the King street school buildings. Plans for drainage, &c., at the colored school buildings on Pitt street and on Alfred street were considered and it was ordered that application be made to the city council for the abatement of the nuisance existing in the alley in the rear of the Lee building on Alfred street near Princess so as to get rid of the stagnant water there. An order was made for a contract with Wellington Thomas for the repair of the out houses of the Seaton School building on Pitt street. Bills of Thomas Hoy for glass work, Alexandria Gazette for advertising and Samuel Burke for desks were ordered to be paid. It was ordered that a new permit be granted to Fred Hawes, who had been dropped from the rolls. It was announced that the annual estimates would be ready by the May meeting and the board adjourned.

SCHOOL EXHIBITS FOR THE FAIR.

The Alexandria city schools are now, under the direction of the superintendent of schools, making preparations for an exhibition of work at the Bedford Summer School and at the world's fair in Chicago. The exhibits of educational progress in each school is made up by the teacher and sent in to the principal, who culls the exhibits and sends the best to the city superintendent of schools, who makes selections of the most available and sends them to the state board of education at Richmond. These exhibits will then make part of the public school exposition that is to take place at Bedford City, Va., during next summer. From these exhibits a selection will be made of Virginia's contribution to the world's fair at Chicago. Alexandria will have a fair share at the fair, and the schools are now busy with preparations.

ALEXANDRIA'S OUTLOOK AT HUNTING CREEK.

The Alexandria brick works of Messrs. Park Agnew and M. B. Harlow, in Fairfax county, on Washington street extended to Hunting creek, are now again in operation. The channel of Hunting creek has been dredged, so that scow loads of brick can be gotten from the Washington street wharves in Alexandria and carried to Washington city. The creek fisheries are also busy, and the Patrick street entrance to Alexandria via Hunting Creek bridge is seldom without the passing of vehicles—connecting country and town. When the new bridge of the proposed electric railway is extended from the south end of Royal street to New Alexandria on the south side of Hunting creek the south side of Alexandria will show a more business-like aspect than it has exhibited since the rope walk was removed from Jones' Point. Should the Richmond and Danville railroad utilize its long-constructed roadbed in that section the south edge of Alexandria would have a boom fully equal to that of the northwest section. An extension of the corporation line to its old limit on Hunting creek would be a public benefit to the dwellers on both sides the present unnatural line.

POLITICAL MATTERS.

The republicans have had a glut of meetings in reference to their coming state convention. The democratic organization works more slowly and its meetings will all be held under the regular committee, and the primaries conducted under the regular party rules. No date of these primaries has yet been announced.

NOTES.

The Strider dwelling and lot on Gibbon street near Fairfax has been sold for $650. The Hewes dwelling and lot on Wilkes street between Lee and Fairfax streets has been sold for $750. These sales do not indicate a boom in first ward real estate.

A $2 dividend per share for six months has been declared by the Alexandria Perpetual Building Association.

The remains of Miss Gertrude E. Mason of Georgetown were brought here today for burial in the family lot.

Mayor Strauss has as visitors his charming daughter, Mrs. Phil Leterman of Charlottesville, and his three grandchildren, with the accomplished Miss Hallis Leterman.

Mr. Geo. E. Markell has recovered from his late illness.

The Late Capt. Rath.

The records of the War Department show that Capt. Christian Rath, referred to in yesterday's dispatch from Grand Rapids, Mich., entered the army in September 8, 1863, and was mustered out as captain in the seventeenth Michigan volunteers in October, 1865. He was brevetted major "for gallant and meritorious conduct before Petersburg," and was afterward brevetted lieutenant-colonel "for special and efficient services during the continement, trial and execution of the conspirators."

Col. Christian Rath's regiment was at the close of the war in the division of Gen. John F. Hartranft of Gen. Hancock's corps, and when the old penitentiary building was converted into a military prison for the confinement of conspirators—Payne, Herold, Atzerott, Arnold, McLaughlin, Mudd and Mrs. Surratt—he was with his command in charge of the prison. Capt. Rath was in special charge of the prison and after the trial and conviction of the prisoners he superintended the erection of the scaffold and carried out the details of the execution of Payne, Herold, Atzerott and Mrs. Surratt.

The President Gone Single Shooting.

The President left last evening for New Church, Va., on the Chesapeake, for a couple of days of snipe shooting. He expects to return to the city by tomorrow evening. The President is accompanied by Lieut. Parker and Mr. George W. Boyd, assistant general passenger agent of the Pennsylvania railroad.

A New Method to Promote Efficiency.

A bill introduced in the House yesterday by Representative Haugen of Wisconsin to promote the efficiency of the public service provides that during each year the heads of departments or bureaus shall discharge from the number of employes in the classified service in their offices a number of such employes equal to at least 8 per cent of the whole number of employes. The discharges are to be made from those employes having the lowest standing ability, industry and general adaptability for their work, and their places are to be filled under the provisions of the civil service law.
