HER HEARING RESTORED.

FOR FIFTEEN YEARS MISS MAMIE SPENGLER HAD RUNNING FROM THE EARS, COMPLICATED BY CATARRH—THE TROUBLE REMOVED BY DR. JORDAN.

Miss Mamie Spengler, a young lady in her teens, residing with her parents at 1008 5th st. n.w., has had trouble with her ears for fifteen years, the outcome of scarlet fever, which left her with running from the ears, which discharged continually, producing slight odor at times. Each ear drum was perforated, which prevented the transmission of sound to the inner ear mechanism. She also had ringing in her ears, which disconcerted her a great deal and caused confusion of such sounds as otherwise would have been audible. Together with condition of her ears, her nose would stuff up, especially at bed time, her throat felt full and uncomfortable, producing a desire to clear her throat constantly.

"Having read of the success of Dr. Jordan in similar cases, mother decided to take me to him and see if anything could be done in my case. After a thorough examination the doctor informed us that at least the case could be benefited. The result was that I went under treatment, with the result that there has been marked improvement in my case in every way. The discharge has lessened to a short time, my hearing commenced to improve and after the discharge was overcome Dr. Jordan inserted a little apparatus in my ear to close up the perforation in the drum, which was remarkably successful, for from that time my hearing was greatly increased, and am now perfectly satisfied with the condition as it now stands. My nose is quite clear and my throat cause me no inconvenience. I am highly delighted with the result in my case and can cordially recommend Dr. Jordan to all sufferers from kindred troubles. He furnishes all medicines and his charges are so reasonable that they are within the reach of all."

TWO GAMES WITH PITTSBURG TODAY.

Nationals Return to Play Cleveland Here Tomorrow.

No games were scheduled for today, consequently under the rules the Washingtons had to stay at Pittsburg and play the two games with the Pirates set for yesterday and which were prevented by rain. Washington has an excellent opportunity to improve its percentage now and its relative position with the other clubs, its nearest opponents, New York, Baltimore and St. Louis having suffered defeat yesterday.

Cleveland opens here tomorrow.

Capt. Richardson is evidently not much impressed with Pitcher Abbey, having determined to put in Meekin and Killen today.

Yesterday's games resulted as follows:

SHORT HITS.

Capt. Richardson has released Berger.

President Wagner has gone to Philadelphia. He will probably bring Jack Mulvey's name on a contract.

Milligan has evidently decided that his hand is fit for playing, and he will go behind here after instead of Berger.

The Nationals have been weak at third base ever since last winter, but had Hardy Richardson been kept there the team would have been many points better off than with all the experiments with Dowd, Radford, Ulrich and Robinson there.

Those who believe that President Wagner is going to rest content with the present club and its present standing don't know the man.

George Wood is doing pretty well for a "has been." His batting, fielding and base running are winning games for Cincinnati. Washington wise acres scorned this man.

Pitcher Sullivan gave Baltimore ten bases on balls yesterday. Had the Orioles been able to do any batting they would have won with ease.

Chicago played two errorless games yesterday—an unprecedented feat.

Perry Werden has gone back to first base for St. Louis.

Von der Ahe has a "promising player" named Camp and called the "Kangaroo" on third. His playing is prolific of errors. If the Browns can carry such a load and keep out of last hole they will do better than is expected of them.

Quebec's Stringent Regulations.

The following regulations, which are now binding in Quebec, have been passed at a meeting of the provincial board of health:

"It is forbidden until further orders to bring, either by water or land, emigrants or effects of emigrants within the limits of the province of Quebec.

"It is forbidden any vessel, coming from a port infected with cholera, to land at any place in the province of Quebec, or to disembark either passengers, crew, baggage or merchandise. It is forbidden for any vessel, having had during the passage any case of cholera on board, to land at any place in the province of Quebec, or to disembark either passengers, crew, baggage or merchandise.

"Inspectors under control of the board will be appointed immediately to carry out these regulations."

Quickness of His Hand Deceived the Eye.

Charles Edwards, a well-known prize fighter, went to the Col. Sellers mine at Leadville, Col., with the intention of killing a man known as "Red" Briggs, who was working in the shaft house at the mouth of the mine and who was lowering three men to the bottom. Edwards came upon him while he was holding the rope and placing a pistol at Briggs' head told him to get ready to die. Briggs protested that if he let go of the rope it would kill the three below by dashing them to the bottom, told Edwards how the matter stood and asked for time. Edwards allowed this, all the while keeping the revolver at Briggs' head. When the men in the shaft safely reached the bottom Briggs suddenly grabbed an iron bar and, striking Edwards over the head, fractured his skull and he will probably die. Briggs has not been arrested.

ALONG THE WHARVES.

Notes of the Craft Lying There and Those Who Command Them.

Capt. Courtney of the Tappahannock schooner Columbia F. C. brings tiding of the sudden death of Capt. Frank Green. This occurred Friday aboard the Crisfield schooner Angie McNamara, lying off Kinsale, Va. Capt. Frank Green had been sailing in the Angie McNamara for years, and both ship and master were familiar figures in this port. He was of a jovial nature and many good stories of him are being told today along the docks. At the time of the death of the captain the McNamara was loading poplar poles for Philadelphia. Friends took the body to his home on the eastern shore. Deceased leaves a widow and one child.

The Tappahannock schooner Columbia F. C. is the old craft of the Columbia Fishing Club and was built by the society several years ago for summer cruises. The schooner is now handled by Capt. Courtney and runs wood and lumber from the Rappahannock to Baltimore and Washington. She is a comfortable and handsome craft and a good sailer.

The Columbia Fishing Club is spending a period at Mundy's Point, Va., and on the last trip of the Maryland and Virginia Company's steamer Sue to that port waited on Capt. Simmonds and escorted him to camp, where refreshments were dispensed and speeches made.

Workmen are busy repairing the Philadelphia barge Annie McNally.

E. E. Jackson No. 6, Crisfield, Capt. Hanson, after discharging will return to Newberne, N. C., in tow of Dougherty tug.

Schooner Mary E. Denty, Alexandria, Va., Capt. Wm. H. Blackburn, will go on the railway at Bennett's yard for repairs to hull. It has been a long while since any attention in the way of repairs has been paid to the Mary.

The three-mast schooner Harry Messer, Boston, Capt. Pierce, an old-timer at Washington docks, has just made Baltimore from the Kennebec.

The three-master Childe Harold, Capt. Sweeney, also a favorite here, is at Baltimore from Bath.

Four-mast schooner Lydia M. Deering, Bath, Me., Capt. Hamilton, hence light in tow, has made Baltimore, loaded coal and cleared for Boston. She is to sail today.

Yesterday was a slow Monday with most of the excursion steamers.

Work on the Willie Clark continues.

Boston and Providence freight appears conspicuously on the manifests of the propellers Norfolk and Washington.

The Virginia Dare, Baltimore, Capt. White, has sailed from her hailing port for Petersburg, Va., to load lumber for this port.

Schooner Lena Willing, Baltimore, Capt. North, is reported per Baltimore papers to have sailed Saturday. She arrived at Givens' dock Sunday noon.

Three-master Henry Sutton, Capt. Pearce, is at Baltimore.

Schooner Ocean Bird, Capt. Corderey, is at Seaford, Del.

Schooner Catherine D. Perry, Capt. Garfield, is at sea for Baltimore.

The Estelle Phinney, a four-master who made her last ice trip here to the Independent Company, is this time out from Bath for Baltimore.

The Elm City, New Haven, Capt. Etheridge, passed through Hell Gate on the 3d instant.

The three-mast schooner Albert Stearn is discharging at Georgetown.

The Moonlight has sailed from Norfolk for Philadelphia.

The William H. Mohler was to have gone in commission September 1. Another week and she will be there.

Capt. Robinson brought the familiar propeller Tygert up yesterday, with good freight and passenger list and took her out last evening.

Sailmaker Waddy has completed his canvas fittings for the Florence and accepted and order to rig out the Stella.

Capt. Tulle of the Pentz swears sweetly at one of the Norfolk and Washington captains for taking up too much of the river at Alexandria.

Mr. Charles Ketchum of the steamer Law has returned to duty.

Engineer Davis of the Joe Blackburn is polishing up the decks.

The Lovie Randall is dismantled at Ritchie's. The June is still in the south slip of the American Ice Company's dock.

All the ice brought in by the four-master Ebenezer Haggett has been sold.

Most of the baths brought down from Bangor by the Deering are disposed of.

The Boston barkentine Chestina Redman will probably begin to discharge tomorrow.

Three-mast schooner S. G. Haskell, Deer Isle, Me., Capt. Richardson, is discharging.

Schooner May Brown, Vienna, Md., Capt. Russell, from Dorchester county, Md., with canned goods, is being lightened.

Schooners Shining Light and Model of Georgetown both have their cargoes still aboard.

The oysters received today sold at 50 cents per bushel.

Sloop Southern Beauty is hemmed in at Riley's.

Schooner Vigil, Crisfield, Capt. Bell, with watermelons, is selling out fast.

Steamer Arlington went down to Broad creek today.

Schooner Edith May, Georgetown, D. C., Capt. Kendrick, is discharged and expects to sail today.

Schooner Ida, Baltimore, Capt. Andrews, from the Saint Mary's river, with lumber, has made dock.

Schooner Lena Willing of Baltimore, Capt. North, coal laden, is discharging at Givens' dock.

There are three coal-laden schooners at Givens'—the Lena Willing, the Spedden and the E. K. Hart, all of and from Baltimore. The Hart is a three-master.

The sloop yacht Lotus, Capt. Matchett, is fitting out for a cruise.

Engineer McIntosh of the De Boss Lenox is off duty, owing to sickness.

Capt. Marmouke of the City of Alexandria is all right once again.

The good southerly winds continued yesterday.

Some of the river craft are said not to show a riding light at night while anchored in the upper port of the harbor.

The George Leary, Capt. Beacham, did a good Piney Point and Colonial Beach trade Sunday.

The Arrowsmith, Capt. Entwisle, took down a fair freight yesterday.

The three-master Jennie N. Huddle of Philadelphia expects to sail this evening.

Schooner Damascus, Georgetown, D. C., Capt. Daniel Perry, is light.

Sloop Belvedere, Alexandria, Va., Capt. Johnson, is out.

AT THE RIVER FRONT.

ARRIVED.

Three-mast schooner James B. Pace, Dennis, Me., Capt. Garfield, eight days from Gardiner, Me., with 1,018 tons of Kennebec ice. Schooner Zemora Dove, Georgetown, D. C., Capt. Kendrick, from Nanjemoy creek, Md., with 65 cords of pine wood. Schooner Silver Spray, Alexandria, Va., Capt. Robey, from Nomini, Va., with 200 bushels of oysters. Schooner Mary E. Gandy, Washington, D. C., Capt. Schivels, from Mechodoc, Va., with 150 bushels of oysters. Sloop Daniel Lockwood, Crisfield, Capt. Lee Ferguson, from the eastern shore, with 100 bushels of oysters. Schooner Elizabeth, Georgetown, D. C., Capt. Wm. F. Bennett, from St. Mary's river, with about 50 cords of pine wood. Schooner J. P. Robinson, Baltimore, Capt. Returned to the British Princess.

Ex-Councilman John A. Clark, who was prematurely released from the British Princess while still in quarantine at Philadelphia, was returned to that vessel, now lying at Washington avenue wharf, yesterday. Mr. Clark has been sought after for the last few days by Clerk Ward of the health bureau, but could not be found after dilligent search. Knowing that Health Officer Veale desired him, Mr. Clark appeared at the city hall yesterday morning. After a consultation Mr. Clark went back to the British Princess in company of Mr. Ward. He will not remain on board long, as his release will follow as soon as Surgeon Purviance of the marine hospital service, together with United States Immigrant Commissioner Rodgers passes him as being in perfect health, which he is. Mr. Clark was released by Dr. Keyser of the board under a mistaken assumption of authority, contrary to law, and the case has created more or less of a sensation for some days.

McAULIFFE THE CHAMPION.

Billy Myer Knocked Out in the Fifteenth Round.

A heavy right hand swing knocked out Billy Myer, the "Streator cyclone," last night in New Orleans, and Jack McAuliffe retained the title of champion light-weight prize fighter. The fight ended in the fifteenth round. McAuliffe got the best of it for fourteen rounds, though Myer occasionally landed a hard blow. But the Illinois man was frequently knocked down and it was plain that he was no match for the man whom he had fought to a draw at North Judson, Ind., February 13, 1889, after sixty-four rounds. Either he had gone back or McAuliffe had much improved.

Ex-Mayor Guillot entered the ring of the Olympic Club last night at ten minutes to 9, and, as master of ceremonies, made a speech, admonishing the assemblage to remain perfectly quiet, and declaring that the first man who interfered with the arrangements of the club or the comfort of his neighbor would be unceremoniously put out. He was cheered to the echo. Immediately after this speech Prof. John Duffy, who acted as referee, entered, followed closely by Capt. Wm. Barrett, who was, as usual, in charge of the contest. Myer and McAuliffe were weighed in, Myer at 187½ pounds and McAuliffe at 137¾.

Capt. Barrett arranged the scales upon which the gloves were weighed, and finding them according to law, full five ounces, nodded his consent that the gloves would do. The gloves were of a pea-green color, laced with red woolen tape. They were thrown into the center of the ring by the captain.

Sixty-five hundred persons were said to be present, and even that number failed to fill the mammoth arena, which even despite the rainy weather was held accountable for. Professor Duffy announced that James Colville of Boston would act as time keeper for McAuliffe, and George B. Clark of Chicago did like service for Myer. Reuben M. Frank acted as official time keeper. McAuliffe was the first to enter the ring, which he did at 9:15. Myer came a moment later. Both men received ovations.

The men were called to the center of the ring by Referee Duffy, who, together with Capt. Barrett, instructed them as to how they should abide by the Queensbury rules and the Olympic rules as to breaking away. Joseph Choynski and Prof. Robertson were McAuliffe's seconds and James Nelson held the bottle. Edward Myer, Alfred Kennedy and John Eckert seconded Myer and Kennedy held the bottle. At 9:20 everything was in readiness for the battle to begin and both men sat in their corners eyeing each other closely. The men were ordered to shake hands at 9:25 and the gong for the first round was sounded.

RECORD OF THE FIGHTERS.

Jack McAuliffe, the light-weight champion, has the following fine record:

Won amateur tournament at Madison Square Garden 1884.

Won 124-pound amateur championship February 19, 1888, New York city.

Won light-weight tournament, New York Athletic Club, March 28, 1885.

Won his first professional fight February 27, 1886, defeating Jack Hopper; 70 rounds.

Defeated Billy Frazier October 20, 1886, for the light-weight championship; 21 rounds.

Defeated Harry Gilmore January 14, 1887; 28 rounds.

Drew with Jem Carney of England at Revere Beach, Mass., March, 1887; 74 rounds (four hours, fifty-eight minutes).

Drew with Pat Kerrigan of Boston September 25, 1888; ten rounds.

Defeated Billy Dacey at Dover October 10, 1888; eleven rounds.

Defeated Jake Hyams December 10, 1888; nine rounds.

Drew with Billy Myer at North Judson, Ind., February 13, 1889; sixty-four rounds.

Drew with Mike Daly of Bangor at Boston April, 1889.

Defeated Jimmy Carroll at San Francisco March 21, 1890; forty-seven rounds.

Defeated Austin Gibbons at Hoboken; six rounds.

Billy Myer, the "Streator Cyclone," has been a prominent light-weight boxer for almost ten years. His record:

Defeated Manning at Streator, 1883; four rounds.

Defeated George Murphy, 1883; six rounds.

Defeated Charles Lounasney, 1884; three rounds.

Defeated Paddy Welch of Chicago, 1885; one round.

Defeated Paddy Welch, 1885; three rounds.

Defeated Charles Daly of St. Louis at Woodford, Ill., 1886; thirty-one rounds.

Defeated Jack Gallagher of Buffalo at Pana, Ill., 1887; three rounds.

Defeated Harry Gilmore, champion of Canada, at Lacrosse, Wis., 1887; five rounds.

Defeated Harry Gilmore at North Judson, Ind., 1887; one round (28 seconds).

Defeated Danny Needham of Minneapolis at Minneapolis, 1888; twenty rounds.

Drew with Jack McAuliffe at North Judson February 13, 1889; sixty-four rounds.

Fight with Harry Gilmore at Chicago January 15, 1890, stopped by police in the fifth round. Gilmore was about gone.

Defeated Jack Hopper at Alexandria, Va., April 30, 1890; six rounds.

Whipped by Andy Bowen at New Orleans May 22, 1890; twenty rounds.

Draw with Andy Bowen at New Orleans May 19, 1891; drawn on account of fouls.

Defeated Jimmy Carroll at New Orleans; forty-four rounds.

TONIGHT'S FIGHT.

George Dixon and Jack Skelly fight tonight for the featherweight championship.

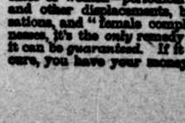
George Dixon, who claims Boston as his home, was born in Halifax, N. S., July 29, 1861. He is five feet three inches high and weighs about 116 pounds when he is in training. On September 21, 1887, Dixon fought his first battle as a professional with young Johnson and defeated him three rounds. In December of 1889 Dixon defeated Eugene Hornbacker in a fight which did not last two hours. Then Cal McCarthy and Dixon fought a seventy-four-round battle, which resulted in a draw. The fight took place at Boston on February 7, 1890. Dixon's next battle was with "Nunc" Wallace, the bantam lightweight of England. The men met under the auspices of the Pelican Club of London, England. The battle was decided on June 27 of that year, and, contrary to general expectations, Dixon won. Dixon's last battle was with Cal McCarthy of Troy, N. Y., March 31, 1891. He won in twenty-three rounds. The prize for which the men battled was a purse of $5,000.

The full list of the men Dixon has whipped is as follows: Young Johnson, three rounds; Sam Cohen, nine rounds; Jimmy Mack, four rounds; Barney Finnegan, seven rounds; Fred Morris, four rounds; Patsy Kelly, fifteen rounds; Jim Brackett, five rounds; Billy James, three rounds; Eugene Hornbacker, two rounds; Johnny Murphy, forty rounds; Cal McCarthy, twenty-seven rounds; Abe Willis, champion of Australia, five rounds; Jack Hamilton, eight rounds; Charley Parton, six rounds; Nunc Wallace, champion of England, ten rounds; Fred Johnson, champion of England, seven rounds.

He fought draws with the following: Tom Dougherty, ten rounds; Cal McCarthy, seventy rounds; Hank Brennan, ten rounds; Hank Brennan, nine rounds; Hank Brennan, fifteen rounds; Hank Brennan, twenty-seven rounds.

Jack Skelly was born in Brooklyn and is twenty-two years old. He has been successful with all the amateurs he has met so far. This is his first professional battle. He is taller than Dixon and has a longer reach. He is said to be a scientific boxer. The men whom he defeated are Bibby Jones, Tom Hickey, Don Chenevick, Johnny McTiernan, Henry McAlister, Henry Kellerman, Mike Leonard, Frank Neager (twice). He will fight at about 118½ pounds.

A. L. Smith of Washington observatory and W. C. Power of Chicago, a member of the United States geodetic survey, are conducting a party of engineers through the central part of Pennsylvania for the purpose of locating a site for a national observatory.



Well, instead of sick and suffering; healthy and vigorous, instead of worn-out and weak; bright eyes, clear skin, rosy cheeks — you wouldn't think it was the same woman, and it's all due to the use of a few bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

What this medicine has done for thousands of delicate women, it will do for you. If you're overworked and debilitated, it will build you up—if you're borne down with the chronic aches, pains, and weaknesses peculiar to your sex, it relieves and cures. It regulates and promotes all the proper functions of womanhood, invigorates the system, purifies the blood, improves digestion, and restores health, flesh, and strength.

For all the painful irregularities and diseases of women—periodical pains, prolapsus and other displacements, bearing-down sensations, and "female complaints" and weakness, it's the only remedy so effective that it can be guaranteed. If it doesn't benefit or cure, you have your money back.
