THE MICHIGAN SENATORSAIP.

Three Candidates Are Now in the Field and an Interesting Contest Looked For.

Correspondence of The Evening Star.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Dec. 27, 1892.

Statesmen of high and low degree, members-elect of the legislature, the state officers-elect, politicians, men of real and fancied influence and citizens who like to be around when there is any fun going on are buying their tickets for Lansing and by Saturday the state capital will be well filled and on Monday will be crowded. The various candidates for speaker of the house, chief among whom are Wm. Aldrich Tateum of this city, J. F. McKinley of Wayne, D. D. Buell of Branch and Geo. Wagner of Marquette, will open their respective headquarters on Saturday and be ready to extend fraternal greeting to the brethren as they arrive. The speakership preliminaries have been spirited but good natured, and from present indications the choice seems to lie between Mr. Tateum and Mr. McKinley, with the former in the lead. The candidates for United States Senator will not arrive at Lansing before Monday or Tuesday, but their representatives will be on the ground much earlier and will begin the contest as soon as they land in the capital city.

NEW OFFICIALS TO TAKE CHARGE.

On Monday the new state officials from Gov. Rich down to the humblest state official will enter upon their duties. The inaugural ceremonies will be simple and unassuming, consisting chiefly of exchange of greetings between the old officials and the new and the retirement of the former. On Wednesday the legislature will assemble and then the new officials will deliver their inaugural addresses. The inaugural will be read and then the legislature will adjourn. On Wednesday night the republican members of the legislature will go into caucus to effect an organization and the next day the choice of the caucus for speaker and the other elective officers will be duly elected and installed. On Thursday night the senatorial caucus will be held and the liveliest interest will surround that assembly. If all the republican members-elect go into caucus and the time-honored caucus rule prevail the friends of Senator Stockbridge are confident that he will be elected by a decisive majority of the caucus. If, however, twenty-two members stand out against Stockbridge and either refuse to be bound by the caucus or decline to enter in to the conference then the result will be different.

THREE CANDIDATES FOR SENATOR.

Three candidates are openly in the field for senatorial honors and several more are standing back trusting and praying that lightning may strike them. Senator Stockbridge, who wants a second term, and ex-Gov. Luce, who would like to round out his political career in the Senate, have been rivals for two years past and both are in the race upon the present occasion for all there is in it. The new candidate to openly announce himself is Jay A. Hubbell of Houghton. Mr. Hubbell's career has been picturesque. He was born in Michigan, graduated from the state university, was admitted to the bar and in '55 settled on the upper peninsula. He was district attorney four years, prosecuting attorney of Houghton county six years, was five consecutive times elected to Congress and then served two terms in the state senate. He was chairman of the national congressional committee and his name became famous throughout the country in connection with the 2 per cent assessment upon government employes for campaign purposes. In '83 he led the fight against Senator Ferry and more than any other man kept the 18 anti-Ferry members from entering the caucus so long as Ferry was a candidate. He is now a candidate for the United States Senate, and announces that he has the twelve upper peninsula votes solidly at his back. His candidacy is not looked upon as anything serious by the lower peninsula politicians, but it is thought that the upper country statesmen want something, and have combined to make the best terms possible with one or the other of the leading candidates. If in earnest and if his backers are sufficiently tied down to him and stick Hubbell's candidacy will cut into Stockbridge rather than Luce, as Stockbridge has been depending upon the upper peninsula vote to help him through.

MR. LUCE'S CAMPAIGN.

Mr. Luce's campaign throughout has been on his farmer record and that he is a farmer is the strongest card in his hand. But whether or not the farmer game can be successfully worked this year remains to be seen. In the matter of avocation there will be fewer farmers in the next legislature than ever before. Of the twenty-one republican senators only two are farmers and one of these combines farming with mercantile business. The others are: Seven lawyers, four merchants, two real estate men, two manufacturers and others scattering. In the house there will be eighteen farmers, eleven merchants, eight lawyers, three insurance men and the rest scattering. Only twenty out of a total of eighty-nine members are farmers and the farmer will probably not cut quite so large a figure as usual. In the legislature of '91 in the total membership of 132 on joint ballot, both democrats and republicans, there were seventy farmers. In 1889, when Senator McMillan was elected, the farmers numbered forty-five. In 1887, when Stockbridge was first elected, there were forty-five farmers. In 1885 the farmers were fifty-three and 1883, the memorable year when Ferry was defeated, forty-one farmers participated in the deliberations.

The next legislature will contain but twenty republican farmers and not above thirty in all and an appeal to less than a quarter of the total membership will not make much a impressive chord.

The Luce managers have been very busy circulating petitions addressed to the republican members requesting them to vote for Luce, and it is possible this mode of campaigning may have an effect upon the minds of the law makers. It is expected that a member will hesitate a long time before acting against the wishes of his constituents as expressed in a petition containing the names of nearly every one of them, although everybody knows how easy it is to get signatures to a petition of any kind.

BURROWS WILL WORK FOR STOCKBRIDGE.

Congressman Julius Cesar Burrows has been mentioned as a possible dark horse. He will be in Lansing next week doing all he can for Stockbridge and will not for a moment consent to allow the use of his name in senatorial connection. If Mr. Stockbridge, however, finds that the fight is against him, that he cannot possibly pull through, it is more than possible that he will throw what strength he has to his fellow townsman and thus insure Mr. Burrows' election. Any motion of this kind would come from Mr. Stockbridge voluntarily and freely and not at the instance of Mr. Burrows. Congressman Belknap of this city will also be in Lansing and he will exert himself against Stockbridge, because the Senator unwillingly became involved in the post office fight in this city four years ago. Congressman Stephenson will be on hand to do what he can for Hubbell. Congressman O'Donnell is expected and will not decline to appear as a dark horse. Every part of the state will be represented in Lansing next week and the town will have the biggest crowd to take care of it has ever yet tried to accommodate. Mr. Luce has engaged a modest suite of rooms at one of the hotels for headquarters and Mr. Stockbridge has engaged pretty nearly everything else in sight for the accommodation of his friends and will be in a position to heap coals of fire upon the heads of those who come to work against him by giving them a place to sleep.

BIG BLAZE AT OMAHA.

Several Hundred Thousand Dollars Damage Caused by Fire.

The Continental block, a four-story brick building located at 15th and Douglas streets, Omaha, was visited by fire last night and almost completely destroyed. The loss to the building and contents will reach fully $200,000.

The immense carpet and furniture establishment of S. A. Orchard & Co., situated at 1414, 1416 and 1418 Douglas street and occupying four floors, was completely gutted, not a dollar's worth of goods being saved from the ruins. The loss here will, it is estimated, reach fully $120,000, of which about $95,000 is covered by insurance.

The Continental Clothing Company suffered severely from fire, smoke and water. The firm carried about $125,000 worth of stock and was insured to the extent of $85,000. At midnight the fire was still in progress and it is safe to say that the loss will reach fully one half of the value of the stock.

The origin of the fire is unknown, but it is supposed to have started in the basement of the carpet store from an explosion of some kind.

An Evangelist Sent to Jail.

Joseph Best, an evangelist, was arraigned before a police magistrate at Hamilton, Ont., yesterday on a charge of assaulting his wife. It appears that Best remonstrated with his wife for allowing a servant to wash potatoes on Sunday. Mrs. Best claims that her husband struck her and shoved her into a closet. The magistrate fined the defendant $10 and in default of payment committed him to prison for two months.
