NORTH DAKOTA LABOR MEN HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

Federation Reaffirms Loyalty to President; Pledges Support to Nonpartisans.

The best attended and most successful convention of the North Dakota State Federation of Labor was its seventh annual meeting which was held at Fargo last Sunday and Monday, June 2 and 3.

A resolution was unanimously adopted reaffirming the federation's unwavering loyalty to President Wilson and pledging the full support of the workers of North Dakota, stating that "no sacrifice is too great for us, no struggle too hard, no effort too mighty to settle this Prussian military menace to the world."

A telegram was sent to Secretary of Labor William B. Wilson, complimenting him on the efficient manner in which he is conducting the affairs of the Department of Labor.

The federation appealed to President Wilson to intercede in behalf of Thomas Mooney of San Francisco, and a telegram was sent to Mooney, assuring him of labor's support.

In a set of resolutions pointing to the loyalty of organized labor as shown in the large numbers of labor union members now serving in France and in training in American cantonments, the federation reasserted its right as an organization and that of each individual member "to speak out for the oppressed in our own land in the field, factory, mills and mines."

Other resolutions adopted affirmed the federation's loyalty and that of the people of North Dakota and condemned and deplored "the ill-considered attempts of big business and old gang politicians to capitalize patriotism at the expense of the common people of North Dakota."

Indorses League Ticket.
Resolutions were also adopted affirming the unity of interest of the laboring men and the farmer and that "the North Dakota Federation of Labor herewith affirms its friendship for and confidence in the organized farmers of North Dakota and pledges its support of the congressional, state and legislative tickets of the Nonpartisan league."

The following legislative program was outlined for the next legislature:

A minimum wage and hour law, making eight hours the working day.
A child labor law forbidding street work for a boy under 16 and a girl under 18.

A state provision for a home for unprotected children.

A labor lien law.

A factory inspection law.

A compensation law.

Mining laws as recommended by the United Mine Workers.

Police open from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m.

State printers' contract bill.

Anti-injunction law.

A law requiring car sheds for repair men at certain division points.

A state plumbing law.

President's Report.

In his annual report President S. S. McDonald reported that the federation was in a prosperous condition, both numerically and financially; that there had been virtually no labor controversies during the year, and made several recommendations among which were the following:

"That a campaign committee be appointed or elected to look after the interests and advance the cause of labor's candidates, and candidates friendly to the men and women who toil, both at the primary and general elections."

"That steps be taken by the workers in each city to launch a local branch of the American Alliance for Labor and Democracy, for the purpose of disseminating patriotic literature and creating a whole-hearted spirit of loyalty to our government in the prosecution of the war."

Many prominent speakers addressed the convention, including Congressman John M. Baer.

Minot secured the 1919 convention and the following officers were elected: S. S. McDonald, Grand Forks, president; Con Meyers, Fargo, secretary-treasurer; vice presidents and members of the board of directors—Frank Milhollan, Bismarck; Harry Pitts, Burlington; Lee Brundage, Minot; Peter Morgan, Grand Forks, and J. M. Johnson, Fargo.

FEDERAL EMPLOYMENT AGENCIES IN DULUTH

R. D. Beard, a representative of the Federal government, visited Duluth last week to make arrangements for the establishment here of two free government employment agencies. One of the agencies, if present plans are carried out, will be housed in a two-story building somewhere in the downtown district, and officials in charge will procure employment for skilled laborers and trained workers, both men and women. The ground floor office will take care of the needs of men applicants, and the second floor will be used by women. The work of the second office will be devoted entirely to procuring men for work in those branches of railway service requiring unskilled men. It will occupy but one floor and will be located, preferably, in the vicinity of the depot. It is understood that final arrangements for procuring office space have not been completed.

FOOD ADMINISTRATION URGES HOME CANNING

The food administration is urging that the sugar regulations providing sugar for canning be taken advantage of now and the maximum of kinds of food preserved in every household for future use. The preservation of home-grown vegetables is one of the greatest possible aids to food conservation and the possibility of furnishing of quantities their required amount of food. Food grown and preserved at home guards against a possible food shortage; food grown and preserved at home requires no railroad transportation to bring it to the family table and it releases for export shipping that railroad transportation that would be necessary to bring food in that it replaces.

These are the reasons why the food administration has announced that so long as sugar is available it may be purchased by householders in quantities for canning and preserving only upon certificate signed at the store upon purchase. Sugar distributors report big supplies on hand now and the home canner should take full advantage of the opportunity, the food administration states.

OPPOSE RENEWAL OF UTILITY GRANT

Superior Trades Assembly Declares in Favor of Municipal Ownership.

The Superior Trades and Labor assembly at its meeting last week went on record as opposing the renewal of the charter of the Superior Water, Light & Power company.

This action was taken after a report by a committee which has been investigating the matter of renewing the charter for some months. The committee brought in a report showing the success that municipal ownership has met with in other cities.

A resolution introduced by Frank Metcalf of the Trades Union League urging the assembly to militate against the passage of the proposed food administration bill which is aimed, among other things, at the liquor traffic, was defeated after a considerable discussion.

Organizer J. B. Campbell reported that the fire-fighters of the city have completed an organization and that a charter has been issued to them and will arrive in a few days. The department men hereafter will be represented in the assembly.

One dock workers are about organized, Mr. Campbell reported and a charter is on the way. Flags which were expected to arrive to be hung in the hall did not come and the ceremonies which were planned to accompany their dedication were postponed.

URGE INCREASED USE OF POTATOES

Reports to the state food administration from throughout the state indicate that the campaign for greater consumption of old potatoes is having excellent results. Late in March prospects indicated that in the absence of a special effort to secure large consumption of potatoes, farmers would have more than 10,000,000 bushels which they could not sell. This condition resulted from the small movement of potatoes from farm to market last fall, car shortage and the unusually severe winter which further

These are the essential things which Frank G. Scribner, candidate for the Legislature from the Fifty-eighth District, stands for and insists upon.

"A square deal for Duluth and St. Louis County."

"Complete loyalty for America on the part of every resident of the country, not only in war time, but in times of peace; but especially now."

"Economy and efficiency in county, state and national administrations, for in conservation lies the power to win the war and in times of peace to prepare the nation for other emergencies."

"That Duluth be given a square deal in railroad affairs, in manufacturing opportunities and in everything else, believing that this city is destined to become a great center if not retarded by ulterior influences."

Mr. Scribner is not unacquainted with legislation, and his wide knowledge of public matters, as well as previous connection with the state administration, are looked upon as eminently fitting him for the office for which he has filed. He seeks the office purely on a patriotic basis, believing that he can best serve his people there, for the reason that his definite ideas on public matters and his experience fit him for the place.

interfered with shipments.

As soon as weather conditions moderated so that it was possible to ship potatoes in box cars without danger of deterioration an educational campaign was put on. The press, libraries, retail and wholesale stores, the movies—all urged the free use of the old potato as a patriotic measure.

Results now being reported to the food administration show that during April the farmer's price for potatoes increased materially and at the same time retail prices have been kept down very well. The spread between the amounts received by farmers and paid by consumers for potatoes was less early in May than at any time last winter.

The food administration continues to urge the wide use of potatoes every day and every meal, as a vegetable, as an ingredient in bread and camouflaged in various ways to tempt the appetite.
