How to Write and Answer Classified Want Ads

How to Write a Want Ad to get a Clerk

TOO little attention is paid to the selection of clerks. The beginning of the failure of many a business is traceable, directly or indirectly, to incompetent clerks. It takes a GOOD man to make a good clerk. A polite, accommodating and intelligent person is worth most.

Neatness, accuracy, steady habits, good judgment—demand these in your Want Ad for a clerk. Concentration and attention to business are important. A clerk who has his mind continually on other things than his work accomplishes little and wastes your money. He should be a young man that thinks quickly and is not easily confused.

Tell the nature of your business, and suggest the work or department for which you desire a clerk. By naming several of the duties necessary, you will eliminate applicants looking for a "soft snap." What you want is a clerk thoroughly in earnest and one who means business.

Make your proposition as attractive as possible, for you appeal to young men and women. Ask for age, experience, references, education. As much of a clerk's work consists in writing and figuring, neatness and accuracy are important. State highest salary you will start applicant and chance for advancement.

[NOTE—This is the twentieth of a series of Practical Talks on the writing and answering of Want Ads for THE STAR'S Classified Pages. The idea is to make suggestions that any Advertiser can apply to the Want Ad he inserts, no matter what the need. These Talks are for the USER—who wants to increase his results. Watch for future Talks. Save THIS one.]
