The Heights of Jena, Where Napoleon Overcame the Combined Forces of Prussia and Saxony. The Tide of the Present War Is Sweeping Toward the Old Battle Ground Where Germany's Fate Was Decided in 1806. The Russians Coming up from the South and the French from Alsace and Lorraine Might Join Their Forces Here for the Consumation of the Dream of a Siege of Berlin.

(Copyright by Underwood & Underwood, N. Y.)