A DISHONEST COURSE

Was Pursued by the Rapid Transit Street Railway Company,

SO SAYS POLICE JUDGE LAZEY.

The Court Decides That the Representatives of the Salt Lake Company Were Illegally Arrested.

Superintendent W. P. Read and Attorney J. L. Rawlins who were arrested by the police officers yesterday under the direction of Marshal John M. Young on a charge of interfering with an officer, were arraigned before Police Magistrate Lazey at a late hour yesterday afternoon. The prosecution was conducted by Assistant City Attorney Eichner while Attorney E. R. Critchlow appeared for the defense. A number of witnesses were examined including the defendants themselves. The evidence adduced was substantially the same as published in the NEWS last evening.

The case was briefly argued by counsel for either side. Mr. Critchlow declared that the police behaved in a disgraceful manner and that to all appearances they were in league with the Rapid Transit company to defraud the Salt Lake company.

In reviewing the case Judge Lazey said that the guilt or innocence of the defendants depended entirely upon the legality of Mr. Reed's arrest. If he was arrested without warrant of law then the defendants had a right to interfere as it was alleged that they had done. One of the inherent and guaranteed rights of the citizens was the right to private property. That property could be lawfully protected even to the extent of taking human life if necessary, the courts had so decided. The Salt Lake City Street Railroad company have a franchise over the disputed street. It was their private property. When it was pounded and being destroyed. Mr. Reed called upon the police for protection to his property, and failing to get it, he did as any other citizen would have done under similar circumstances. His conduct was justifiable beyond question. If there was any blame to be attached to the police, it should be fastened where it belonged. The officers are subordinate to their chief; they were acting under instructions. The head of the department was responsible for all mistakes. It was a suspicious circumstance, criminating to the Rapid Transit people, that they made their way stealthily in the dead of night, like thieves and assassins and robbers, to the street on which the private property of a competitive company was situated. If they had a right to this street, why did they not, like men, go in the broad open light of the day to the disputed thoroughfare and begin work, and not act as a pack of thieves?

About a year ago, the court continued, there was a conflict between the two companies. In that instance the Salt Lake company were charged as being the aggressors. They were laying a track on State street at the time. The police were called upon to stop further operations until the matter could be settled. They did so and the rights of the Rapid Transit company were protected. It seemed strange indeed that they would not act so fairly with one company as another. There should be no such favoritism.

In conclusion the judge declared that there could be no doubt that the arrest of Mr. Reed, and that of Mr. Rawlins, was illegal. They would therefore be discharged.

On this ruling Mr. Eichner asked that the cases against Mr. O. P. Arnold and the other employes of the Salt Lake company be dismissed, which was done.

THIRD DISTRICT COURT.

A Short Session Held by Judge Anderson This Morning.

The following cases came before Judge Anderson today:

W. H. Joy vs. H. S. Lazey. Order for alternative writ of mandate set for the 27th inst.

John H. Hughes vs. Ida Hughes. This is the divorce suit of which mention has been made from time to time in the columns of the NEWS. The motion to increase attorney's fee was now overruled, and an order made requiring immediate payment of alimony and attorney's fee heretofore allowed.

George Collins vs. J. J. Starbuck et al; demurrer overruled; ten days allowed to answer.

Jennie Amy vs. Oscar Amy; dismissed by consent of Attorney C. O. Whittemore.

TO QUIET A TITLE.

George Canning, plaintiff, vs. Rene Barton, Emil Bay, Barton Thomas, James Barton, and Ella Estelle Barton, defendants.

Mr. S. W. Parks appeared for the plaintiff and Mr. C. O. Whittemore for the defendants.

This action was brought to have a decree of the court adjudging that none of the defendants had any interest whatever in a certain piece of land, being part of lot 3, block 52, plat A, Salt Lake City survey, and enjoining them from asserting any claim thereto whatever.

The defendants in answer, through their guardian ad litem, Mr. John E. Booth, disclaimed any interest in the property by virtue of a deed of conveyance executed and delivered to them by George Barton.

After hearing arguments, his honor granted the decree prayed for, quieting the title.

Court adjourned at 11 o'clock until Saturday, at 10 a.m.

Politics and Independence.

A correspondent writes from Midway, Wasatch county, under date of the 13th inst., that national politics are the all-absorbing topic at that place. On Tuesday night a Democratic club was organized with John Huber as president, J. S. Hamilton secretary, and John Murray treasurer. The platform as formulated by the Central Democratic club was adopted.

Active preparations are being made to celebrate Independence day. The entire community are working harmoniously together to make the occasion an unusuous one in the history of Midway. Success to their efforts.

MUSICAL TRAINING SCHOOL.

The Good Work Now Being Done by the Tabernacle Choir.—Admission of New Members.

Over two hundred of Salt Lake City's brightest and most talented young gentlemen and ladies enrolled themselves in the Tabernacle choir training school last Monday night. When all these are prepared to properly take part in the choir exercises it will swell the number of that organization to about 500 voices in all, provided that all now enrolled retain their places, which they can do by proper interest in the organization. It is certainly gratifying to notice that a number of our choicest and best vocalists meet with and aid these young singers in their new and pleasant musical study. It speaks favorably for their devotion to the cause of music, the interest of the rising, and the Tabernacle choir, and doubtless the singers realizing their career of usefulness will some day deeply appreciate the benefits derived from the efficient leadership of such vocalists as Mrs. Agnes Thomas, Mrs. Julia Silverwood, and a number of others who so cheerfully and kindly meet with them under the direction of Mr. Stephens, and then in forming correct lines of singing.

It is especially gratifying to note that so many young men are entering with zeal into the work. We need a band of young musical conclaves throughout this city and Territory.

Mr. Stephens intends forming a class for this special work. Juvenile choir begin their studies Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock, in the Tabernacle. Over two hundred children from eight to fourteen years of age are now enrolled.

The Tabernacle choir work is assuming grand proportions. Few, if any, communities are offered better opportunities for studying the "divine art."

Young men possessing the necessary qualifications will be taken into the training school for another week. Only a few extraordinary alto or treble voices can be accommodated at present. A number of choir leaders have brought their most praiseworthy members with them to the class. It is the duty of every choir leader to do likewise.

Married.

We find the following in the Boston Budget of June 14. We congratulate Utah's sculptor, who is expected home shortly:

MRS. J. C. MURRAY has sent out cards of invitation to the marriage ceremony of her daughter, Vittoria Colonna, to Mr. Cyrus Edwin Dallin, the talented young sculptor. The ceremony will be performed at St. James Episcopal church, Roxbury, at five o'clock, on Tuesday, June 16. Who's in a name? is sometimes the question. Vittoria Colonna! and how would it be possible for a young lady who bears the classic name of Vittoria Colonna, and who, in her dreams, musings and fine literary tastes fully justifies her beautiful and poetic name, to do otherwise than become the wife of an artist? The immortal lives of Michael Angelo and Vittoria Colonna of Italy will be recalled in connection with this beautiful and fitting marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Dallin will go to the far West on a bridal tour this summer, and return to Boston in the autumn, where a multitude of friends will greet and welcome them.

THE SCENE CHANGES.

Another Act in the Street Railroad Melodrama.

HEAVY DAMAGES CLAIMED.

Suits Filed against Marshal John M. Young and His Satellites.

As a sequel to the extraordinary scene witnessed on West Second South street during the small hours of yesterday morning, Attorneys Rawlins and Critchlow paid a visit to Clerk Nelson Milton, of the Third district court, just before noon today, and filed five separate suits for damages against Marshal Young, of the city police force, and several of his officers, the plaintiffs being Supt. Reed, of the City Rail road, and four of the workmen in that company's employ.

In the suit of W. P. Reed vs. John M. Young, O. M. Glenn, and Hugh Thomas, Mr. Reed alleges that "on the 24th of June, 1891, the said defendants assaulted, beat, and imprisoned him for two hours, without any just or lawful cause, to his damage in the sum of $5,000."

Next comes O. P. Arnold, plaintiff, vs. John M. Young and Thomas Mathews, defendants. This plaintiff complains that on June 24th, 1891, the defendants assaulted and imprisoned him for two hours, without cause or excuse. He, too, claims $5,000.

In the other three cases are:

William Downer, plaintiff, vs. John M. Young, Carl Birkner, and Thomas Mathews, defendants;

J. W. Hasbleck, plaintiff, vs. John M. Young, Carl Birkner, Abraham Randall, and Thomas Mathews, defendants;

Edward Manger, plaintiff, vs. John M. Young, Abraham Randolph, and Elmer Tobias, defendants. In each instance the complaint and amount of damages demanded is the same as in the suit of O. P. Arnold.

It is said that the plaintiffs are resolved upon fighting their cases to the bitter end.

The company is organized to carry on a general dairy business at Fillmore, and is capitalized at $5,000 and the incorporators are, O. S. Gillen, J. T. Atkinson, the Midland Investment company, J. A. Amusements.

"The Grab Bag" was given last night at the Salt Lake Theatre to a rather slim house.

Tonight "The Bottom of the Sea" will be presented at the Theatre. The principal part of Mr. Brady's adaption of this play is in the fourth act, which is laid at the bottom of the ocean. There are two tableaux of the different zones of the ocean, shown in so many transformations. The most realistic spectacle is the conflict of a diver, who is descending to the bottom of the sea, with a giant octopus, the enormous horror of the sea, which Victor Hugo describes as "a soft and pulpy monster, with light tentacles of equal length radiating from its central mass, and armed with suckers. Its built is to lurk in some dark cranny in the depths, waiting for an unwary victim to venture within reach. With three or four of its mighty arms it clings fast to a rock, while with the remaining twelve she moves, gliding and feeling about in the water & keeps on the alert for prey."

At "Wonderland" this week is an unusually attractive one. Numbers of people are availing themselves of this opportunity of seeing Mattie Lee Price, the famous magnetic girl from Georgia. She weighs but 37 pounds, yet can lift 500, that is one-quarter of a ton. Her's decided views are also a special feature this week, worthy alone of a visit

REPUBLICAN MEETINGS.

Held in Various Parts of Salt Lake County.

At West Jordan, on Tuesday night, an enthusiastic meeting was held, the speakers being Barlow Ferguson and James Devine. The large hall was completely filled. Music was furnished by the brass band of West Jordan. Speakers of the Democratic party had already visited the settlement and quite a laugh was raised by a voice from the crowd replying in answer to Mr. Ferguson's question as to which party they belonged to "We are all Democrats." Mr. Ferguson, in his forcible way, expounded the Republican views on the tariff question, and was listened to with the deepest attention. As he proceeded it became evident that the interests of West Jordan are most closely interwoven with the tariff question as applied to wool and mining industries. The speaker stated that if the tariff on foreign lead were removed, in his opinion nine-tenths of the mines of Utah would close. An old miner in the audience spoke up and declared that the removal of the tariff meant the closing of not nine-tenths, but ninety-nine out of every hundred of Utah's mines.

James Devine followed and gave many points and endeavored to show why the workingmen should be Republicans and gave a thorough exposition of the principles of Republicanism by his party.

AT SANDY.

An immense crowd gathered at the platform and an outdoor meeting was held. James Cannon was elected chairman, and N. E. Frost secretary of the meeting. George M. Cannon and E. R. Critchlow were the speakers, addressing the meeting in the order named.

The remarks were attentively listened to by the large audience, and the points made seemed to be quite well understood and received. A committee consisting of A. J. Cushing, Samuel Perry and H. E. Frost was appointed to attend to the organization of a club in that precinct.

AT OGDEN.

The people of the thriving little settlement of Union filled the large "Opera Hall" at that place at the Republican meeting Monday night. The Union Cornet band played some patriotic music, and the remarks of the speakers were attentively listened to.

Mr. Willard C. Burgon was elected chairman and Thomas H. Walk, secretary.

Mr. Harmel Pratt was the first speaker and forcibly narrated the history of the Republicans and Democratic parties and showed the position assumed by each. The status of the tariff question was also shown by Mr. Pratt in a way to impress its importance on the minds of all.

E. R. Critchlow, in opening, stated that for the first time he had heard the question raised as to what would be the ultimate action of Republicans who were formerly members of the "Liberal" party. For himself, said he believed he voiced the sentiment of all occupying that position, he could say that believing as we do that the absolute good faith of all engaged in the movement to divide upon National political lines, so far as he and his associates are concerned the movement is here to stay. In a vigorous and effective style the speaker portrayed the views of the two parties, Democrats and Republicans, and asked that carefully weigh the principles of both, and stated that when this is done he felt sure the Republicans would have a majority in Utah. Mr. Critchlow was frequently interrupted by hearty applause.

Mr. George M. Cannon was the closing speaker and alluded to the references which had been made to him and by some that all "Mormons" were Democrats. He also repudiated the idea that every Republican is of necessity a "Liberal." He complained of the treatment of the "Mormons" by both political parties and recognized the fair and also the unfair course adopted by the Republicans. He said the Mormon people were not warranted in expecting more at the hands of the Democrats than at the hands of the Republicans. In comparing the principles of the two parties he said Utah could not honestly accept the doctrine of a practical tariff, and read the expressed views of the fourteen silver bills paying, he claimed, over $100,000 annually for labor alone. The speaker read the following statement of R. C. Chambers, superintendent of the "Ontario" mine:

"If Congress should admit raw materials free of duty, or remove, or materially reduce the present tariff on foreign lead, the effect upon Utah would be most sad." It would, in my opinion, reduce the product so that the profits would be inadequate to pay the operating expenses of the "Ontario." (Report of Utah Ore Producers' Association, 1887.)

He also called attention to the fact that while Mr. Chambers is a staunch Democrat and President of the Salt Lake Herald, he does not fail to ask that the Republican principle of protection be applied to his mine.

At the close of the meeting a roll was opened for signatures of those desiring to join a Republican club. The committee appointed to take the matter in charge consisted of John H. Walker, Wm. Cox and Willard C. Burgon.

WEST JORDAN.

A Republican meeting was held at West Jordan last evening which was very largely attended. Mr. C. D. Haun was elected chairman, Mr. John Jones, secretary, and Mr. J. F. Turner, sergeant-at-arms. Messrs. Barlow Ferguson and James Devine in a very able manner presented the principles of Republicanism to the people.

The Young recruit band was present and rendered several choice selections during the evening. A vote of thanks was tendered the speakers and the meeting was brought to a close.

A Pleasing Event.

On the evening of the 22nd inst. the members of the Y. M. and Y. L. M. I. A., in the upper meeting house at Bedford, Emery Co., gave a party in honor of Brother Talbotte T. Lyman, who is about to leave that place on a mission to Wales. A capital programme had been arranged, consisting of music, singing and recitations and speeches. Refreshments were served to all present. The best wishes were expressed towards Brother Evans, with the hope that he would have a pleasant and successful mission.

THE JOY CASE

Comes Up on An Alternative Writ Before Judge Zane on Saturday.

On Monday last M. H. Joy, the saloonkeeper who was recently convicted of assaulting Mr. E. M. Weller with a stone, was arrested on a charge of exhibiting a deadly weapon. The weapon was drawn in the presence of two public officers, and it is said that he brandished it in a dangerous and threatening manner. The officers instead of arresting him fled from the place and reported the case at police headquarters, where they were severely reprimanded for their conduct and two others, possessing more courage, were sent to arrest Joy which they did. When taken before Judge Lazey he pleaded guilty and was fined $100 and sentenced to thirty days' imprisonment. After receiving this sentence Joy reached the conclusion that he had made a mistake in pleading guilty, and his attorneys, Newton and Green, took steps to take an appeal. Judge Lazey ruled that as the defendant had pleaded guilty, he was not entitled to an appeal under the statute, and yesterday afternoon the defendant's attorneys appeared before Judge Zane and asked for an alternative writ requiring Judge Lazey to allow the affidavit and bond on appeal to be filed, or else appear and show cause for his action. The writ was issued and made returnable next Saturday.

First District Court.

Only one case was disposed of in the First District court at Ogden yesterday. It was that of Adolph Anderson vs. Evenus Olsen et al., on motion of W. H. Snelling by Jacob S. Boreman an order was made appointing Gilbert F. Boreman guardian ad litem for Ellen and Birdie Olsen.

Coined in 1091.

[Correspondence of the DESERET NEWS.

I wish to state through the columns of the NEWS that a very old and interesting coin is in the possession of Brother John A. Jones of Sheffield, Emery county. It is a Welsh halfpenny and bears the following words:

"Deaths Ap Gwygan Trwyngu Hengaeaeg, ffon Llywodraeth ac yn ffiaidd, ac ymlaen yr aeth ac yr Gwygan penre tlawogion A King on the Law."

The little coin is somewhat thicker, heavier and of a mottled color than that of the ordinary English halfpenny. Brother Jones refused $20 for it a short time ago, claiming that the coin has been handed down through generations of the Brother family.

EVAN S. THOMAS.

SHEFFIELD, Emery Co., Utah, June 23, 1891.

The Late Sister Steele.

William C. McGregor writes to us from Parowan, Iron county, Utah, under date June 23, 1891, as follows: "Please make a correction in a letter I sent from here dated the 15th inst. in relation to the death and funeral of Sister Catharine Campbell Steele. In speaking of her daughter, Elizabeth Steele, the first white female child born in Utah, I said that that child was now Mrs. Elizabeth Steele Stapelly, residing at Toquerville, Washington county, Utah. I should have read Kanarra, Iron county, Utah, instead of Toquerville, Washington county, Utah. I knew when sending the letter that Sister Elizabeth Steele Stapelly resides at Kanarra, but somehow made the mistake."

WHAT folly is this, to neglect a child and then later with doubled effort to after years to reclaim him when thoroughly grounded in evil ways! The truth of the saying, "A stitch in time saves nine," may be quoted in its application to moral and reformatory efforts; rather, "a stitch in time saves ninety-nine" is nearer the truth.

On the other, the infinite side, that some of us have expended, even with Divine help, to win a man back from the power of the evil to which for these many years he had pledged himself. Again and again we have seen it been seemingly successful he has fallen away and the work has been in vain. There is no more difficult task to which a human being can be set than to effectually help and reclaim a bad one. But with a boy it is different. Every word seems to tell. It is encouraging and delightful to see the quick response he makes to truth and new influences.

Politics in Rich County.

Silver Deseret News

On June 19th, at a meeting called by Wesley R. Walton, chairman of the central committee of the People's party of Rich county, after discussing the subject of disbanding the People's party of our county, it was motioned and carried that the People's party of Rich county be dissolved. The question of what we are now was asked. Wesley R. Walton replied, "I am a tried and born Republican, and ready to go on the ticket."

Our farmers and stock men are happy. The prospect for hay and grain were never better. Our town is building up and putting on a better appearance. Our four stores and millinery shop, all appear to be doing well. A company of our citizens have purchased a new steam thresher and saw mill. Rich county cannot be equaled for thoroughbred shorthorn, whiteface and black cattle. Bear River valley has a bright future, and Randolph stands in the centre.

"We have an original expression of opinions on things in general by Rudyard Kipling for next week," said the managing editor to the foreman.

"All right," replied the latter, "I'm glad you mentioned it. I'll send out once to the type foundry for some more capital I's."

NOW FOR A GLORIOUS HOLIDAY.

Sells Brothers Millionaire Amusement Alliance Coming.

On Wednesday and Thursday, July 15th and 16th our old amusement friends, the popular Sells Brothers, are to again visit Salt Lake City, making their twentieth consecutive annual tour. The death of Adam Forepaugh leaves them with but one managerial rival in the field, which they have now occupied longer than any other, and public opinion will be fully indorse the assertion that in many respects they are the foremost. To their credit be it recorded that, rich and enterprising as they are, they have steadily refused to "revolutionize the show business" by the introduction of freakishness and indecent spectacles, but keep within the legitimate scope of Zoological and scenic displays, and do not sacrifice the most popular elements of text exhibited to "innovations," which have usurped the legitimate and belong properly to Black Crook times and nightly. This makes their general enormous unity of Hippodrome, Menagerie, Circus, Wild Mountain Caravan and Spectacular Pilgrimage to Mecca; Tropical Aquarium, Arbury, Royal, Japanese Troupe, Arabian Nights, Entertainment and magnificent Free Street Parade altogether the best and most satisfactory of the kind. It includes moreover, many startlingly rare and interesting sights nowhere else exhibited; such as the pair of huge living Hippopotami, a whole flock of Ostriches, the Hadrian Camels, the pair of Liliputian Cattle. Among scores of the greatest performers also appears Oprea, the extraordinary Spanish bareback rider, who startlingly rare and unique emotional presentations have made her the public craze wherever she has appeared. There are also lots of nutshell and funny performances for the special benefit of the little folks.
