
HOME.

No other word brings to our minds more pleasing reflections than the little word home. Forest Dale is intended to consist only of homes. It has attractions that no other addition in Salt Lake City possesses.

In times like the present people look for homes where their rents are likely to be as low as possible, and their other expenses in proportion. Forest Dale, a subdivision of the old farm of the late President Young, is just far enough from Salt Lake City to be free from city taxes. Vegetables and fruit are cheaper, and for building purposes brick can be bought for at least one dollar per thousand less than in Salt Lake City. While it is wise to consider the question of economy, other matters are of even greater importance. Forest Dale has its own water system; the springs from which the supply is obtained producing over 1,300,000 gallons of pure, clear water in 24 hours. The pipes are laid all through the addition; and those who purchase a home own the water piped to their door as well as the land their house stands on. One electric car system passes right through the addition; while another runs within a short distance of it and will also eventually pass through. Good school facilities exist; two teachers being employed in the Forest Dale School; with a high school for more advanced pupils near by. The social enjoyment of the neighborhood is not neglected by the Forest Dale Pleasant Hour Club, being formed for the especial purpose of furnishing at home plenty of harmless yet pleasant recreation. The old farm house furnishes quarters for concerts, dances and socables. These, with the Sunday Schools and kindred meetings giving the young a field for the development of their talents, without which no people can progress. For those who desire a home whether large or small we have property unexcelled anywhere. We desire to sell only to home makers. If you want a home, my agents will be pleased to take you to the property, and let you select that which suits you best. Line of any size can be obtained. Call at room 302 Constitution Building; see plat of the ground and obtain any particulars you wish. No trouble to show property.

DESERET EVENING NEWS.

Thursday, - - October 19, 1893.

FRAGMENTS.

The new S. T. Tuft company building on First south street, seems to be being rapidly prepared for occupancy.

The Eighth quorum of Seventies met in the vestry of the Twelfth ward meeting house on Friday (yesterday) evening, as usual.

The flag which has been suspended over the Daily news for some time, at last got worn disappointed from that position yesterday.

Local sports are arranging for a boxing sparring exhibition for Frank Fitzsimmons, who was recently put in shape by Dodge Williams.

Judge Lafayette Dale, of Tooele, is in the city today. He came in from his home in the "Little Hospital" for the purpose of having a final examination made of his throat, from which a malignant growth was recently removed by Doctors Pierce and Wilcox. The operation seems to have been successful in every respect.

The following is from the Los Angeles Express of the 15th inst: "Judge Adams today heard the evidence in the case of U. E. Appenzy, the arsonist, arrested at the instance of Mrs. Gilson, on a charge of attempting $10,000 insurance. He was triumphantly vindicated, being discharged in short order when all the facts were brought out."

POLITICAL CHAT.

I often wonder whether or not history will truthfully record the political complexion of this commonwealth during the past three years. What wonderful changes have occurred since 1890! Turning back three short years, we find the Liberal party in the height of all the glory that could be claimed for it by its most ardent supporters. Any Liberal would then have declared that the party was organized forever. But there came a day when the Liberals made the most serious mistake of their career, from a political standpoint, and instead of recognizing the failing causes who had placed them in power, instead of giving employment to the masses who had polished the rough stone and shaped, these same men, with wives and children to support, having homes in this community, were refused employment, and in their places they witnessed the employment of men who had no family ties to bind them here. At this juncture a result occurred. And it was a breach which never has been healed, but has grown wider and wider, until today, we now witness that partly healthy talking and sound reasoning with envy.

But to whom is credit to be given, and will the historian of the future truthfully chronicle these events? The writer has on one other occasion referred to this matter, and it probably would not be out of place to do so again at this time. "The leaders of the Independent Workingmen's movement were the men who had shown that they had the courage of their convictions. They were the men who boldly took the lead in behalf of right and truth, who incurred the displeasure and disfavor of all their supposed political enemies and many of their friends, and in behalf of American freedom and justice broke down the bulwarks of the disfranchisement mob, and created conservatism and sinning all along the line. Those were the men who (chiefly composed of prominent non-Mormons) from the stump and through the press had the courage of their convictions to arraign this un-American crowd, to expose the infancy of their methods and their political extinction. They broke the ice and fathomed the stream, and despite ridicule and slander, formulated a platform and organized a political party upon the broad American platform of equal rights to all, regardless of creed."

I am of the opinion that after the defeat of the Liberal party next August a campaign of purely political education will be waged throughout this fair Territory, and that the bright polar star of American freedom will forever guide and light the pathway of our children.

The immortal Lincoln declared that there was an irrepressible conflict between freedom and slavery. The crisis of this community now declares there is a conflict between good and bad government, and that the party of equity and truth must live.

Having no issue on which to stand, Liberalism in Utah must fall. Having nothing to oppose, or rather retard, its exclusive principle will be destroyed, and disintegration will now follow.

"Patriotism is the first element that constitutes a passport to the privileges and rights of American citizenship, and should always dwell in the hearts of the American people." These lines from the Independent Workingmen's platform of 1890 should be placed along side an equal number from the oath taken by the Americans of this community.

After November 7th it will be the duty of our new municipal officers to extract up the credit of this fair city from the enamored gulfs of insolvency and bankruptcy.

The redemption of this city from the hands of the spoiler is a duty we owe our children, and that duty shall be performed, Liberals, do you hear?

An undesirable monument—The past history of the Liberal party.

Charley Stanton will not receive the nomination from the hands of the Liberal party again in the office of city recorder.....James Devine will no doubt be nominated by the Republicans on the Legislative ticket.....San J. Kenyon will not allow his name to go before the Republican convention on Saturday night next.....Dave H. Loughton, of Park City, will probably receive the nomination for the senate on the Republican legislative ticket.....Some Democrats believe that Utah will become a state before another delegate election occurs.....The Liberals will probably not put a legislative ticket in the field.....Pat Morris will not represent the Fourth precinct in the City Council any more.....The Liberal editorials lay complacent a campaign song".....Fifty thousand people in this commonwealth keep their mouth will "solid" Democratic in future to.....The Liberal Fluctuation club is said to be drifting rockily, all for nothing.....The Mayor informed Daniel Hyde to "go to the Dickens" .....The Liberal get the cold shoulder from the Knights of the Liberals, but turn to the republicans who always receive them.....Parsons, Allen and Lawson will be nominated by the Liberals of the First precinct tonight.....Liberal Anderson need not trouble himself about receiving a nomination for anything.....Daly will be ratified and Bloomenberg and Morrison will be the other two nominees on the Liberal ticket from the Fourth precinct.....The columns of the Tribune never were more decent than at present with respect to local politics, but caper has nothing whatever to do with it.....Many people think Alliance will form when the Republicans meet in convention next Saturday night.....There are a number of Republicans who positively object to accept the political wisdom of the Salt Lake Herald. Again the Blue Jay.

The appeal case of Edward Pickering vs the Blue Jay Consolidated Mining company, appellants, was called for trial in Judge Zane's court yesterday afternoon. The plaintiff obtained a judgment for $248.50 in Commissioner Greenman's court for work and labor done, from which the company appealed. A jury was waived, the case tried by the court, and judgment rendered in favor of the plaintiff for $60.00.

A Case Referred.

The case of Edward le Barron vs Edward Rushton et al., the latter being trustees of the Fillmore school district, has been referred to Attorney R. H. Colvin, as referee. The matter was mentioned in yesterday's NEWS, having been called up during the afternoon.

IN THE BRITISH MISSION.

Releases and Appointments.—Notes of Missionary Experience in England and Scotland.

Millennial Star, Oct. 6.

Elder Henry Harker has been temporarily released from his labors as Traveling Elder in the Nottingham conference, to return home, October 14.

Elder A. C. Turnbo has been temporarily released from his labors as Traveling Elder in the London conference, to return home, October 14.

Elder Charles P. Harris has been temporarily released from his labors as Traveling Elder in the Newcastle conference to return home October 14.

Elder Samuel Weston has been temporarily released from his labors as Traveling Elder in the London conference to return home, October 14.

Elder Charles F. Langton has been temporarily released from his labors as Traveling Elder in the Newcastle conference to return home October 14.

Elder Henry Boyce has been temporarily released from his labors as Traveling Elder in the Liverpool conference, to return home October 14.

Elder W. J. Reid has been temporarily released from his labors as Traveling Elder in the London conference, to return home October 14.

Elders W. G. McAllister, George Y. Smith, A. Fletcher and F. M. Lyman write from Banff, Scotland, as follows: "On July 25 we have been tracting in northeast Scotland, about 200 miles from Glasgow, our headquarters. During that time we have distributed 2300 tracts, disposed of a number of Church works and held forty-five open-air meetings. The people have treated us kindly as a general rule, and our meetings have been fairly well attended. At times, however, opposition has been raised and on one occasion we had to call upon the police. Several parties in a religious way called, Friday morning, seeking private conversations on our behalf. September 17, we were visited by a Baptist elder and a deacon, who for two hours sought to convince us of our 'errors.' We are enjoying the best of health and rejoice in our labors, realizing with Paul, that while we plant and water, God will give the increase."

Elder J. D. Owen writes from London of the baptism one week of Fred. Everard. He was 57 years of age. He had been sick a long time and the Elders had visited him for eighteen months. He often said that as soon as he was able to walk he would be baptized. He, however, grew worse, and four weeks before his death succeeded to be baptized. The ceremony was performed and he then declared that if his Father desired to call him home he was now ready to go. He departed this life September 17. Elder Owen relates an incident in Jacobite Hall against Mormonism that may be of interest. He says: "Jarman and three associates had some meetings at Woolwich recently, where they sold much of their anti-Mormon literature. One of the local authors secured some of our tracts, 'Jarman and the Mormons,' and distributed them among the crowd and explained some of the principles in which the Saints by Hatton indexed. The crowd, seeing they had been imposed upon by the slanderer of truth, became enraged and proceeded to roughly handle Mr. Jarman. He and his accomplices were forced to flee into the cars for protection. Just before our meeting on Sunday, September 17, this same crowd assembled near our chapel, and exhibited a picture in which an alleged Danite was about to rever the head of a woman from her body, and they told the people that such was the treatment of the women who emigrated to Utah. The crowd became excited and our people heard some disturbance. We asked God for His guidance, opened our services, and enjoyed a most interesting meeting without any interruption whatever. Four souls were added to the Church last week."

Elders Farnsworth and Kerr, laboring in the Selby district of the Leeds conference, write: "We have tracted eight villages since the first of September, and have held ten open-air meetings, some of which have been well attended. We have sold a number of copies of the Book of Mormon and 'Voice of Warning,' and loaned many other Church works. Although we have met with much opposition several families are investigating the truth, and we trust the good seed sown will shortly bear fruit. While holding a meeting three miles from Selby we were interrupted by an old gentleman and his wife who argued with us on the principles of baptism. After it was over the old gentleman called a vote from the crowd as to who had advanced the best arguments, and the crowd voted unanimously in our favor. They were so sympathy with us, and we feel to praise the Lord for His goodness and mercy thus extended to us."

The Brigham Bugle has this to say: Twenty-eight carloads of stallions and mares to the great Chicago market, have been shipped from the Brigham station this week. J. M. Jensen sent out one Saturday morning, consisting of twelve cars, carrying 1200 sheep. Tuesday Mr. Hill, of Ogden, shipped sixteen cars, heading about 1200 sheep. The two trains have 600 fine building stallions shown. In Chicago these sheep will fetch about $12,000. Brigham city is shipping a good many bushels of sheep, cattle and horses this year, in fact, more than ever before.

ENGAGEMENT AND MARRIAGE.

W. J. Arkell, publisher of "Judge" and "Puck London Illustrated Newspaper, writes:

"PUCK BUILDING,
Cor. Fifth Ave. and Nineteenth St.,
New York, January 14, 1891.

"About three weeks since, while suffering from a severe cold which had settled on my chest, I applied an Allcock's Porous Plaster, and in a short time obtained relief.

"In my opinion, these plasters should be in every household, for use in case of coughs, colds, sprains, bruises or pains of any kind. I know that in my case the results have been entirely satisfactory and beneficial."

Catarrh in the Head.

Is unmistakably a disease of the blood, and as such only a reliable blood purifier can effect a perfect and permanent cure. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best blood purifier; it has cured many very severe cases of catarrh. Catarrh often leads to consumption. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla before it is too late.

Hood's Pills do not purge, pain nor gripe, but act promptly, easily and efficiently. 25c. 3
