A PAINFUL HUNTING ACCIDENT.

Greeley, Colo., Sets a Very Humane Example.—Petition to Suppress Gambling Houses.

New Mexico Prohibitory resolution will hold a Mass-meeting at Albuquerque January 13 and 14.

Weather in the Big Horn country, Wyo., is reported pleasant, with just enough snow to indicate Christmas.

At Bethany, Colo., preparations are being made to establish a creamery at that place.

At Conway, in the Arkansas valley, Colo., 70 cows are counted in sight of water for 18,000 bushels of wheat, enough for sheep food.

Windsor, Colo., hosts of a strong industrial league which was organized last week by State Organizer Le Tourneur of the People's party.

Charles Bonham, one of the best known engineers of the Northwest, has been arrested at Spokane, Wash., on a charge of smuggling opium.

James B. Tyler, a clerk in the auditing department of the Southern Pacific Railroad company, has died from the effects of morphine poisoning.

The first coke for the Florence and Cripple Creek railroad have arrived at Florence and will soon be laid for the use of a construction train.

At Greeley, Colo., Mr. C. A. McLeod has just received a present of a 100-pound sack of potatoes. The sack enclosed just thirteen potatoes.

At Cheyenne a mass meeting has been held and resolutions passed by taxpayers approving of a "reduction of city effective salaries to a hard times basis."

Rocky Ford, Colo., flour mill is kept in constant operation and is shipping flour as fast as it can be made. The demand for Colorado flour is steadily increasing.

Thirty five-car lots of the finest Hongkong oranges have been sold in the forward hold of the steamer Gaelic, lying at the Pacific Mail dock at San Francisco. The steamer arrived last Saturday night.

La Veta, near Fort Collins, Colo., has this year shipped 300,000 pounds of honey. The yield of honey in Larimer county is estimated at 600,000 pounds which at $1.25 per hundred netted $7,500 to the county's entire crop in 1893.

The Colorado state board of agriculture has appropriated $200 for the expenses of gentlemen who attend farmers' institutes as lecturers. Farmers throughout the state are being urged to organize institutes and meet during the winter.

Ben Cummings and Jack Hall, woodchoppers, got into an altercation on Tuesday week last, when Hall fatally shot Cummings with a revolver. He then carried the dying man into a cabin, dressed his wound and delivered himself up to the sheriff.

Trinidad, Colo., people have petitioned the city council to suppress gambling houses. Strange to say, the petition contained names which were on a petition asking that gambling privileges be granted. Some of the petitioners signed both petitions.

Greeley, Colo., has set a very humane example to the balance of the state. Dumb brutes left to starve and shiver without food and shelter upon the streets or roads are to be taken up and sold for the expenses of their keep. Horses, goats and cows are to be collected and sold.

Aztec towns of a prehistoric age have been discovered near Estey, N. M. The ruins indicate cities of from 15,000 to 20,000 inhabitants. Drifting sands have covered the ruins, but extensive buildings, streets, squares, alleys are found when the sand is removed.

Mrs. Betty Belanger, a young colored woman, made a desperate but unsuccessful attempt to end her life Tuesday afternoon, at San Francisco, because he abandoned his intention to desert her. Tomlinson is a porter in the employ of the Northern Pacific company.

The Bonanza Bugler (Wyoming) says that a kind of a mug disease has broken out among horses along Owl creek and at Emmar, which in some cases proves fatal. Those that survive are left blind or worthless. The Emmar cattle company have just lost a valuable stallion by the same disease.

Ed. Pinnaing, of opal fame, who swindled a large number of people at the World's Fair with bogus opals and who fled the country has been heard from. Governor Matthews, of Idaho, received a letter a few days ago asking that he was in Atlanta, Ga., trying to work an Idaho delegation in scheme and cancel the governor's site.

Considerable excitement was created a little before midnight on Tuesday at Beatrice, Neb., by the firing of two vacant residences in different parts of the city by incendiaries. The second alarm was sounded about the time of the arrival of the department at the scene of the first fire. The loss in both instances was complete and aggregated about $6,000.

A man named V. H. Kandersell, of Denver, Colo., who had been at Brush, Colo., boasting for some days, met with a very painful accident on Tuesday, which may cause him to lose his eyes. While walking along the river a block or two he had slipped from the bank and in falling his gun was discharged, the load entering the top of his head. Dr. Wilson pronounced the wound fatal but hopes that he can save the eyes.

Charles Sparks, aged 18, has been committed to the asylum for the insane in Blackfoot, Idaho. Sparks has lived with his parents in this city for the last two years. Some time ago he developed symptoms of insanity and commenced to become violent. Officers in charge of the asylum have kindly consented to receive the young man free of charge, and have agreed to place him in a good home where he will be treated with every care and attention. The young man's mother is a poor widow, who is unable to pay the expenses of her son's confinement in the asylum.

The Denver Central railroad will, in the near future, erect an elevator, and build a number of stock cars for the conveyance of our cattle and sheep over. The above is a step in the right direction, and besides will bring in considerable revenue for the company. It will enable ranchers to find a market for their hay by feeding their stock at home on their surplus hay, and being able to ship their fattened cattle to market in good condition, saving the money at home which otherwise would be paid for hay at Lowland, Denver and other points. The fattened cattle at home and those driven to nearby ranches in the Central Platte section have lost a considerable weight, and it is cheaper to ship them alive.

Great indignation has been manifested at Pueblo, Colo., over the absence of the Salvation Army corps. A citizens' meeting has been held to protest against the lawlessness going on in the town, and take steps to rid it of objectionable characters. An energetic committee has been appointed to assist in prosecuting the man who did the shooting as well as all who were in the saloon at the time of the shooting. Ninety-one citizens signed to be ready at call to rid the town of gamblers and toughs. Resolutions condemning the shooting and expressing sympathy with the wounded man will be drawn up. All the expenses of the wounded man will be paid by citizens. Excitement runs high in town. The men who put up the notices calling the meeting have been notified that they are "marked" men.
