

BIG SHOW AT ORPHEUM FOR COMING WEEK

The Orpheum will offer for the coming week, starting Sunday afternoon, joint headliners for the top of the big-time vaudeville show. Nellie V. Nichols, one of the most popular and charming singing comedienne on the stage today will offer her striking series of song impersonations; the other big headliner will be Sylvia Jason and Willis Hays, the sparkling juvenile pair in "The Book of Vaudeville", rightly named, as they present songs, dances and dialogue as only leaders of the present day vaudeville stage can. The other acts will be the feature pair, Burns and Frabito in "Shoe's", this comedy duo specializes in laughs; Harry Cooper in a songologue. Cooper is a singer with an exceptional voice; Maria Lo, the famous poseuse in her new artistic creations, "Art Studies"; Polly, Oz and Chick, those novelty entertainers with speed as their motto; the Hughes Trio offering an up-to-the-minute musical turn. Together with the seven acts the latest screen pictures and sayings are offered to the tunes of the justly popular orchestra. Don't forget that Duluth boasts of a big-time vaudeville theatre, the Orpheum, a credit to Duluth and is proving the right that Duluth claims with other foremost cities of America, to be an Orpheum City. A daily matinee at popular prices at 2:15.

STOPS PICKETS; STRIKE IS OVER

Toledo Judge Takes Peculiar Stand in Ruling Against Overland Auto Employees

TOLEDO, OHIO, Jan. 8.—Federal Judge Killets has made another record as an injunction judge by declaring that the strike against the Overland Automobile company is over and that pickets will not be permitted.

The court ruled that strikers who remained off the pay roll could not be classed as employees of the company.

Judge Killets had previously intimated that he would take this action because, he said, he did not desire to continue to be responsible. Trade unionists have let this court know that the best way he can acquit himself of responsibility in the Overland strike is to cease usurping the functions of public officials and permit workers to control their own affairs.

The strike started last May when the company attempted to lengthen the work day. Previously the company had attempted to install an alleged profit sharing scheme. Other working conditions were also objectionable.

One of the company's selling agencies appealed to Judge Killets for an injunction on the ground that its business was interfered with. The court complied by limiting picketing and placing a court official in charge of the plant. Several citizens have been killed by company guards. Now Judge Killets again steps to the front and officially declares the strike off.

HOUSE PASSES GOOD BILL FOR DISABLED SOLDIERS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The house bill increasing war risk insurance allowances of American service men disabled in the great war has been passed by the senate. The bill provides for additional payments to war risk beneficiaries of about $80,000,000 annually, and the war risk insurance bureau is authorized to make December payments on the increased basis.

AT THE LYCEUM

The Gallo English Opera company will open a run of one week at the Lyceum Theatre on Monday evening, January 12, with Gilbert and Sullivan's immortal comic opera, "The Mikado." It is conceded that this is the gem of comic opera production, both in the beauty of the music and the keen humor of the words, which satirize certain human weaknesses indigenous alike to Japan, England and America, besides telling a really funny story. Above all, it will be a relief to hear a comic opera which may rightfully be classed as both opera and comic, instead of most of the stuff which has been brought before the public under this name for the past few years, where the music consists of one tune, preferably a waltz, and the words are a collection of thinly disguised vulgarities. Sir Arthur Sullivan has poured out a wealth of melody in "The Mikado," with accompanying fine harmony and an instrumentation which is unheard of in one of the so-called modern "comic operas." Every one of the principal songs has real lyrics, something one rarely finds nowadays.

Of course all curiosity will be centered on the little Japanese prima donna, Hana Shimozumi, whose stage appearance is said to be charming and singing delightful. Miss Shimozumi is reported everywhere as being the find of the year. The sterling comic opera comedian, Jefferson De Angelis, will be the Ko-Ko, and the balance of the characters will be cast to Mr. Gallo's fine company.

The orchestra, under the direction of Theodore Stearns, is said to be a great feature of the performance, and the scenery is described as being beautiful in the extreme.

LITTLE GOLDIE LICHEN DIES OF DIPHTHERIA

Death visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Lichten, 2118 1/2 W. 4th St., at midnight Sunday and plucked therefrom its fairest flower, claiming their daughter, Goldie, age seven.

Goldie was stricken with diphtheria several days before and died from its effects just at the time when it was believed the crisis had passed.

The sympathy of their many friends goes out to the Lichten family.
