A half dozen weddings and a social-ing number of dances comprised the list of events which transpired the past week. Society has not, seemingly, settled in the social season as yet, the bright autumn weather having been too tempting to induce any great number of indoor entertainments. With the first chill, however, will undoubtedly begin a dozen social functions, for the sliding away of dreary days, and dancing parties will begin their away for winter evenings.

One of the prettiest of the week's weddings was that of Miss Henrietta Calder and Mr. Arthur Lane Horsley, which took place on Wednesday evening.

The marriage was solemnized at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Alice Calder, Dean Sidney officiating. The gown worn by the bride was white mousseline de soie over silk, and was covered with a bridal veil of illusion. Only the immediate relatives of the bride and groom were present at the ceremony, but later a reception was held at the home of the groom's parents, Dr. and Mrs. F. A. Vincent, and a large number of friends of the young couple gathered to extend congratulations and good wishes.

The house was most artistically decorated. Autumn leaves festooned the walls and the chandeliers in the hall, and banked the fireplace and mantel in the parlor, and pink and white roses were used with effective grace throughout the rooms. In the dining room, the fireplace and tall candelabra added to pleasing artistic effect. In the parlor Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Fritz, Mrs. Arnar, Mrs. Rickwood and Mrs. Stephens assisted Mrs. Vincent in receiving, and Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. Hoffman, Mrs. Mackland, presided over the dining room. Mr. and Mrs. Horsley will reside at 108 east C street, South Side, where they will be at home after Nov. 1st.

Another pretty event of the week was the wedding of Miss Maud M. Smith and Mr. Andrew J. Gorham, which took place on Thursday. The marriage ceremony was performed at 4:30 o'clock at the First Congregational church, Rev. Clarence I. Dean officiating.

The church was beautifully decorated, autumn leaves and flowers being used in profusion.

The bridal party entered to the strains of the wedding march which was played by Prof. Hamilton—usher, Hermman Hiller, Walter Newman, Earl Williams and Ernest Smith, preceding the bride and her father, who was followed by three little flower girls. The bride's gown was an artistic creation of white silk crepe, and she carried a shower bouquet of white and pink and white roses.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Smith, where the friends of the newly married couple called during the afternoon to extend congratulations. The rooms were decorated with autumn leaves, roses and cosmos, artistically arranged in effective

Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Brown and Mr. F. P. Gorham assisted in receiving, and Mrs. Brown served by Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Miller, Miss Shelley, Misses May and Mary Mayne, Miss Hetty Hulme, Miss Jessie Horsley and Miss Edna Bailey.

Mr. and Mrs. Gorham left on the 5 o'clock train for Colorado where they will be absent several weeks.

An elaborate reception was given on Wednesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. John Dern in honor of Mr. and Mrs. George Dern, who have recently returned from their bridal trip.

The house was most beautifully decorated—the main features being a bed of E. E. Evans, a profusion of flowers, lilies, specials, and smilax interwoven with the cosmos and golden rod. In the hall an artistic effect was made in the staircase, with its smilax banding, and a profusion of cosmos, and in with the mixed reflection of the stained glass window, artistically arranged by the gardener of Governor Dahlia outside. Christensen's orchestra, stationed in the hall, rendered a most enjoyable musical program during the evening. The music and refreshments were served in receiving by Miss Dern, Mrs. Elizabeth Dern and Mr. Fred Dern, Madisons G. S. Peyton, H. W. Dunn, R. R. Milne and T. R. Dern assisted in the dining room, and delicious refreshments were Miss Hattie Parker, Miss Frances Sharp, Miss Bertha Cherry, Miss Claudia Morris and Miss Nellie Dern. The punch bowl was presided over by Misses Clara Lannon and Maje McMillan.

On Monday evening Miss Ellen Chase and Mr. Richard R. Worsley were united in marriage, the event occurring at the home of the bride on West Fourth North street, Bishop Lyman officiating. Immediately after the ceremony, dinner was served to the bridal party and a few intimate friends, after which a reception was held—a large number of friends calling during the evening to pay their respects and offer congratulations and good wishes.

The bride was attended by Miss Gertrude Coburn who acted as bridesmaid, and the groom by Mr. Henry Brain as best man.

The house was pretty decorated for the occasion, dainty refreshments being served during the evening.

Chicago society women—members of the Chicago Women's Athletic Club—are to have a refreshing exercise.

The club-house will be closed for a time off in January at the request exclusive of Michigan avenue. There will be spaces in adjoining as a Dressy Dance—Effect of them, to fact—for the most prominent pioneers.

These gold and silver medals, appropriately engraved, will be given by Mrs. J. Ogden Armour. There will be gold and medals, to begin with, for the best all-round swimming and diving. There will be an all-round gymnastic competition, such as side straps or footing. Most exercise of all however, will be three times a week, and about the fourth, mile and three length of the tank, respectively. The contests, of course, will come in—or some one—for a medal.

It is interesting to know, in this connection, that Regina Sonne are expected through the same course as a swimmer. At Brighton, both, which and, that two are held in accordance. Each of the social swimming features was a 120-yard handicap, an unusually long, which all the contestants had to dive and swim underwater. This is one of the favorite performances of Miss Lillian Sonne, who is a fearless swimmer and a good diver. She is a member of the club, by the way, who not only carries an umbrella for all her, but, what is much more effective, she can dive and swim with it. Miss Sonne is a good friend of the club.

A Chicago club woman has this to say to the women who possess their own club papers.

Say what you have to say and stop. Don't hand out a sheet of the book, or to have a paper. If interesting monitor instead of Hours. Some club women do this and it is the best. Others have an idea that it is as the variety of "Hiawatha." It goes like this:

With the skin by cards his mittens,
Made these with the fur side inside,
Made these with the skin side outside,
He to get the warm side outside,
Put the warm side for side inside,
That's why they have fur side inside,
Why he put the skin side outside,
Why he turned them inside outside.

Minneapolis club women have caught the "clubhouse fever," along with other organizations in the country.

In order to have an abiding place for the clubs, particularly are looking and each organization, and the club woman's hour, they have decided to pay to the housing structure, to cost no less than $100,000 for the site.

This is the plan. One hundred charter members and benefactors will issue bonds to the amount of $100 each, and this company will pay on the building to the downtown part of the city. There will be an auditorium with a seating capacity of 1,000, which can be turned into a ballroom. There will be club rooms, a library, a dining room, a ballroom and dear knows what. And in these women have their best business ability, and they have a good site and a safe investment in the building, with one entire floor set aside for office and display rooms, which will be rented while they plan primarily for a club home, propose to make the undertaking a paying business venture.

And then will, what is more, Club women in other cities have done it, and the Minneapolis women will do it, for instance, inspired by Mrs. Mary Wright Sewall, the Athenaeum in Indianapolis, one of the finest clubhouses in the country are to hold their big biennial and Illinois others at least.

Another city with clubhouse activities is Boston, where only last year ground was broken for the long wished for structure. Clubhouse activities in Minneapolis are spreading all over the country, and it will not be long before every city will have its club home.

Neither New York nor Chicago, it is strange to say, has a specially constructed women's clubhouse.

FEMININE FLOTSAM.

Great are the preparations on the subject of winter gowns. Winter gowns! Just think of it, and the leaves have not all fallen from the trees. To be sure, the fashions for the very cold weather are not yet mature, but, very soon now, the fashions for the delightful opportunity in the backing cutting tracks that are already to be seen in the mind, and quantities of them, East and West. Many of the most successful modes are but variations of others long worn, and the ingenuity in making the past seems that we are loth to part with them. For instance, the dainty bodice with the delightful opportunity could help but admire to the pretty summer fabrics are dressed on position, some of the most fashionable dressmakers the section of the material is fitted, sometimes it is scattered with a perfect with of open work embroidered Bertha at the sides. Applique lace is used to great effect on these bodices, the other effects are obtained by employing together not merely contrasting colors, but contrasting fabrics. Little bonnets are made of lace or net and adorned with swelling velvet bows of silk or satin, edged with lace, or with chenille or smooth satin cord.

Velvet will be worn a great deal this winter, and will be seen working up entirely in tones or for trimming. It is being sold in all gay colors, brilliantly spangled for evening wear. Dressing silks, the real old-fashioned kind, woven all of silk with raised satin flowers, has come back to stay, and is being used for dressing jackets, and for those who can afford to ask in design only in an imported novelty with raised velvet flowers on a ground of satin. Dotted Swiss is a delightful fabric for a dressing jacket, and lining the soft effect of this filmy stuff is marvelous. It is more becoming than the velvet falls, which is enough to

We all need strength and advice it. We look at the marvelous marvelous development of a baseball with very and straightway we begin to wish for a piece of that bulk and get strong at of the secret of strength lies in muscles.

Strength begins in the stomach. It begins there because the food that strength (energy) are manufactured, and from there the energy is distributed to blood, bone, brain, muscle and nerve. If you want to begin to be strong you must begin with the stomach. Put the digestive apparatus, nutritive organs and blood making glands in perfect working order. This is the foundation of strength. Herbine gives to the superintendence of development.

To establish the stomach and the digestive and nutritive functions to perfect health. Once it is medicine so sure and so effective as is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It strengthens the stomach, enriches the blood, invigorates the nerves, and gives the vigorous health of every vital organ of the body.

About twenty years ago there was nothing taken with a good deal of confidence as a stomach medicine or tonic. Dyspepsia was well nigh incurable, even to K. Pierce, M. D., of Buffalo, N. Y., invented his "Golden Medical Discovery." It strengthens the stomach, enriches the blood, invigorates the nerves, and gives the vigorous health of every vital organ of the body.

A Trick for Halloween Fellies.

A game that is not entirely new and yet is comparatively little known, Halloween is known as "Hurtleberry." It is especially suitable for an evening of merriment, and the rules are very simple. Divide in the antimidnight. Take some persimmon pudding which contains the seeds, and let the girls and boys, and send her from the room, as many girls being removed for her sent to the fellows who are to undergo the test. When she leaves the room the seed is distributed upon the rest of the party, a lettuce leaf placed and then the room returns for her task is to tell who the seed is without any questions. She is allowed to use the dishes and the lettuce and other as present are passed in a circle, the Kind words the one who is to undergo the test. Hurtleberry is a game that is not entirely new. The seed, which is to be medle to be tasting with a flower upon the plate and the girl who is to be the seed is sent out of the room to the lettuce to the dishes. For a season with time for the seed, a paper, from time to time is set. When the medium announces the seed successfully, those not know.

Felted White Ribbon for the Neck.

The neckbow here are shaped a whit of that one or outside and with great and conspicuous, they hardly change in shape, and are made of the bow, a broad white wished ribbon. Dipped along the edges and gathered with bow, and the ribbon is then gathered and carried out. This of course is a little expensive, but as we frequently long wants to be worn, the ribbon is not dear are renewed, with its two circles about the neck and knotted on the best ribbon bow down, the ribbon ends are then sent first below the waist line. Every mother's daughter has not taken, in a social delight, the ribbon ends are sold for coat with high necked, dark for wraps.

The Brown Flecked Tempests.

Again is the temperate in at the goal of the mode ahead of all . . . gained with a notion of temperate . . . to run on a whirl of white shelter, . . . models are quite far on the . . . Lavender, Brown Flecked with the pale brown of the mottle cross, is what a carefully dressed individual wants, and that is the brown flecked tempest. A very little gold and a great deal of silver is used in the making of these gowns, and that the effect is rather that of silver with golden shade in it than of gold, and all the brown flecked tempest things are made thinner are engraved or lacy are cleverly simulated by the grazer's tool.

Hallowe'en Tricks on the Skirts.

Quite the latest fad in the making of valid or sick shirts is to have gathered tucks. The effect is very pretty and exceptionally, but is extremely pretty in effect. The tucks are run perpendicularly, but instead of being solid that the effect is quite different, with the result of the tucks finite and stand out a little, which the tucks are made of good and. A shirt of glass silk is and now the tucks every fairly made than, and in the thinner fabrics, the effect is more somewhat better. It is especially pretty in a silk, and the more a silk would, would pleated than when such tucks had to be kept so very fine and smooth.

Hence, it is better to have the tucks so intentional that, except when in the hand they do not look the tucks at all. They are absolutely no wider than the pleated stripes on materials with which we are all familiar. They are not placed very close together, and the general effect is just a trifle irregular, one gets the impression that the material is not so fine and what is it. A query only to be answered when sold is hardest. Then there are the exquisite silks, which produce pretty same effects. Finally the dresses are made of this silk which will take draperies of the silk specially for the trimmings of the front and attending to the waist line.

Cuddings have come greatly into favor of late in trying to the very present tucks. A beautiful blouse from one of the good "houses" in Paris, had yoke of a well cut of imported velvet, which is circular fashion round the throat and is semi-circle down the front. Over it came the yoke, which is trimmed upon magenta silk, and long pointed lace sleeves. The backbone of the velvet was velvet, and the arrangement tailings of lace.

Homes That Are Success.

What are half the homelessness homes in our cities? Is it not because they are nobody manages arrangement? What is it comes? It comes where even the cautious most fear to venture, and the carelessness may cause to grief? Woman is infinite, which is expressing her whims to her home accordingly. Men hate rooms that are overfull, and children are hampered and oppressed by what to them is a forest of a aggregate of things that must be avoided, not touched. The does not truly that children should be allowed to handle all things in the home, for from it but things are to be handled should and proportion in rooms where the family life is lived.

IT IS ATTRACTING THE ATTENTION OF ALL SCIENTIFIC MEN

THE REMARKABLE INCREASE IN KIDNEY AND LIVER DISEASES CALLS FOR SOMETHING THAT WILL STRIKE AT THE ROOT OF THE TROUBLE. THE HUDYAN DOCTORS HAVE DEVOTED YEARS TO THE STUDY OF THESE DISEASES AND HAVE PERFECTED A CURE. THEY HAVE CALLED THE ATTENTION OF SCIENTIFIC MEN TO THE SUBJECT AND THEY ARE NOW ATTRACTING THE ATTENTION OF THE GENERAL PUBLIC. THEY ARE ALSO CURING THE DISEASES.

You Can Diagnose Your own Case If You Will Observe the Following:

Figure 1 denotes headache, which may be nothing or but symptomatic of something. This symptom is common to both liver and kidney disease. Figure 2 represents the pain in either kidney, there is a dullness under the eyes, or the sight of the eye is impaired, or there is a sensation as if something had lodged in the eye. Figure 3 represents the pain in the kidneys extremely. The yellow color may be very pronounced, or slightly tinged. Figure 4 represents the pain in the back, which is very dull and heavy, and is often mistaken for lumbago. Figure 5 represents the pain in the region of the liver. Figure 6 represents the pain in the lower limbs, the ankles may be swollen, and there may be a numbness in the feet. The symptoms are very numerous, and sometimes very obscure. The symptoms are very numerous, and sometimes very obscure. The symptoms are easily cleared up. Your appetite is good. In liver disease you are constipated, and in kidney disease you are loose. Your urine may be clear, or it may be cloudy, or it may be dark, or it may be high colored, or a heavy sediment may be present. Figure 7 denotes pain in either or both kidneys.

There are other symptoms that present themselves when the work of nature is not in harmony with the requirements of the system. Nature is the best doctor, and is invariably correct.
