THE PROPOSED TENTH CIRCUIT

Bill Before Congress Providing for Its Establishment.

BAR COMMITTEE AT WORK.

Aided by a Committee of Citizens—Will Send a Delegation to Washington to Work for the Bill.

The bar of the state, assisted by leading business men, is now engaged in forming plans to secure the speedy passage by Congress of the bill now pending before that body providing for another judicial circuit of the United States, to be known as the Tenth circuit. This district is to be composed of the States of Utah, Colorado, Wyoming, Idaho and Montana.

As urgent reasons for this it is stated that under existing conditions attorneys from the States named are required to travel great distances to appear before the court, entailing heavy expenses upon litigants. Further, that the States suggested to comprise the new circuit are mining centers, and much of the litigation arising involves mining laws and rights, which should come before a court familiar with them. From the usual litigation in the East.

Recently a committee of citizens has been formed to act with the bar in this matter, and it is proposed to send a representative to Washington this winter to urge the necessity for the passage of the bill, introduced by Senator Wolcott.

DAVIS BURGLARY CASE.

Prisoner Discharged by One Justice and Taken Before Another.

Joseph Davis, the young man who was accepted as constable of Lorin Williams, charged with burglary, had a preliminary hearing before Judge Mac-Master this morning, and was discharged. Davis stated when he was arraigned in the police court that he was as he could easily beat the case. In view of the seriousness of the charge Attorney A. W. Ricks was asked to defend the young man. The prosecution was conducted by Assistant County Attorney W. F. Gustin.

The main point in the evidence was that of identification. Mr. Williams, the complaining witness, testified that he saw the defendant on the night of the burglary standing in front of the store with some others in the street. He saw witness Schwantz dropped, the witness and run. This occurrence was about midnight. Mrs. Davis, the young man's mother, took the stand and swore positively that Joe was in bed at 9 o'clock on the night of the 27th of September 27th, when the crime was committed. The court decided that there was a doubt as to the guilt of the accused and he was entitled to it, and ordered that he be discharged.

Mr. Gunter immediately authorized the defendant to employ counsel, and instructed Deputy Sheriff Sam Davis to re-arrest Davis. Davis was taken before Judge Sutton where he pleaded not guilty to the charge of burglary. Judge Sutton stated to a News reporter that he would not try the case but would call in some other justice or grant a change of venue.

BUSINESS NOTES.

The week has been a good one in commercial circles, the business being confined to E. C. M. I., Saltair Home Fire and Utah Sugar Co. There is an active demand for Union Sugar stock, but very little of it is to be had. There is also inquiry for stock in the Sugar factory in Lehi, and the prices are firm. Home Fire stock is largely held in Ogden and very little of it is to be had. The approach of the time when the sugar factories will close their fall campaign and the effect of increasing the inquiry for their stocks, especially on the Pacific Coast, and the fact that the sugar made at the beginning of the season, and in the case of the Lehi factory will be brought home, the coming estimate of the beet crop in Lehi—was 30,000 tons; already 11,000 tons of beets have been received, and there is a demand for another 1,000 tons of beets in the field. The 12,000,000 pound mark will no doubt be passed, and the sugar has proved equally as good as the best eastern sugars.

The bank clearings for the country for the week ending Thursday are as follows, with comparisons in the press. Not yet can over the same week last year Salt Lake's clearings formed over the first million, the exact figure being $1,000,000 in excess of 1898 for instance, are about as much ahead as which stood on Atlantic, Galveston, Charleston, Los Angeles, Portland, Me., Portland, Ore., Fort Worth, Springfield, Mass., Seattle and Tacoma.

Main street is at the present time the center of the greatest activity in building operations. The Dagmar building being constructed for the Coop Wagon & Machine Co. and consolidated, and Dagmar's will give an idea perhaps to the extent of the business such an enterprise, she could do. Mr. Smith, manager of the Coop Wagon & Machine Co., informs the News that there will be doing business on the lower floor but there will be no fall in the building and loan.

A block of the house of Hemp Fire stock was purchased by a local firm yesterday at 102, the bank taking as a permanent investment.

DIED AT HIS HOME

An Old Resident of Sanpete Passes Away Today.

(Special per Deseret Telegraph.)

Mount Pleasant, Nov. 25.—Elder Benjamin Brinkerhoff, one of Utah's early pioneers, who was among the first to settle Sanpete county, died at his home in this city this morning at 4 o'clock. He had been ill for some time with a lung trouble and had recently lost his wife, who was also a pioneer to the Sanpete valley. Deceased was born in Ontario county, New York, Feb. 1, 1817. He was married to Miss Mary Ann Mills in Nauvoo, Ill., in 1841. He was one of the pioneers of the exodus of saints from Nauvoo to early Church history. He spent eighteen years in Iowa, leaving Mount Pleasant, where most of his family resides, for the Sanpete valley in 1859. He leaves a wife and twelve grown children, nine of whom are married and have families of their own. The funeral will probably be delayed pending in the quarantine.

RECEIVER FOR NEW MAMMOTH

Col. Theodore Bruback Appointed to Take Charge of Property.

SUIT OF JOHN B. FOULKS.

Isabella M. Pitts Also Files Complaint Demanding Judgment on a Note for $2,415.

Col. Theodore Bruback was appointed receiver of the New Mammoth Gold Mining company's property in the West Mountain district today, under a $10,000 bond.

The appointment was made by Judge Hiles upon motion of Day & Street, attorneys for John B. Foulks. The latter filed a suit against the New Mammoth this morning, and, in their motion for a receiver, stated that the company owes him $2,415.00 for the hoarding of ores, which he did for the company at its request. The note of that is claimed for services as secretary, and $10,000 on account of a note and interest.

Plaintiff alleges that the minutes of meetings were manufactured in December, 1898, in that by means of misrepresenting a valid quorum of stockholders, it was found to be the development of its property in the West Mountain district, for some weeks, and that the entire control of the affairs and liabilities, which are claimed to amount in the aggregate to $25,000.

Out of a total capitalization of 500,000 shares, plaintiff says he owns 10,000. The defendant is in subject, is threatened with the filing of liens by employes for their wages, and plaintiff says that without a receiver directing the affairs of the defendant company's property and the hoarding its indebtedness, the property will be dissipated and the ends of justice will be defeated, and the expense of these parties, and other creditors.

The motion for a receiver was argued before Judge H. Hiles filed a suit against the New Mammoth, E. G. Bryant, Frank Nash, as trustee, and the National Bank of the Republic, to recover $1,415 on a promissory note, and $1,000 on a note for services rendered, and to foreclose their interest in the Mammoth and incidental interest in the Northern Pacific and Bonanza, and have property levied in the Oak Brook. Plaintiff prays for judgment for the full amount of the note with interest, and for the money's from and for the usual decree of the sale of the premises under the mortgage.

INDUSTRIAL GEOGRAPHY.

That is What the Future Must Hold Out to Students.

The teachers of the Salt Lake county schools met in one of the large class rooms of the University building this morning to listen to a lecture by Prof. J. McMurdie, who is to delight of the several hundred assembled in the above Prof. McMurdie's address. The subject of Mr. McMurdie's address was "Industrial Geography." The speaker said that the study of industrial geography of the past, had been more a political geography, and that in the future will be industrial geography. The future will be toward the industry of mining, of manufacturing, of farming and of mining, using resources, the land. The speaker specialized upon the geography of New England, he said he would begin with the history of New England, if he were teaching it. He would begin for the pupils to know that Boston is in Massachusetts, but he should know why it is there. The geography of the Pacific Coast. The exhibit of the New England factory should be accounted for. Statistics of the cotton mills of New England, and the cotton fields of North America, as to one time. By means of the map he showed the pupils how the cotton mills were located, how the cotton came from the cotton fields, and the coal was made ready and shipped.

In the manner of a teacher conducting a class, Mr. McMurdie then took up the map of the Pacific Coast and showed how the cities were located where the ice was cleared, where the cotton was found, and the coal was made ready and shipped.

In the manner of a teacher conducting a class, Mr. McMurdie then took up the map of the Pacific Coast and showed how the cities were located where the ice was cleared, where the cotton was found, and the coal was made ready and shipped.

The lecture outlined how the occupations of the people were affected by the physical geography of climate. It was pointed out how the cotton manufacturing was discouraged as a textile industry, because of the humidity of the climate, and how the lumbering industry was encouraged as a textile industry, because of the humidity of the climate. The lecture outlined how the New England people were affected by the climate, and how the industry will be affected by the climate. The lecture was a great one, and the teachers were enthusiastic, indicating themselves, by their attention, enthusiasm and applause, as being in sympathy with the PROGRESS STAMP entire the work of the Society.

MUTUAL LIFE CHANCE.

Rulon S. Wells Takes the 15th Management of the Big Company.

He Assumes His New Duties on December 1, Under the Title of Managing Agent.

An important change has just been made in the affairs of the Mutual Life Insurance company of New York in Utah. Rulon S. Wells has been appointed agent for Utah and has been offered Mr. Rulon S. Wells and accepted by him. A change was made by a representative Grant Schofield, who has been in charge in the city for some time looking the ground over. Negotiations with Mr. Wells have been in progress for some time and at length brought to a satisfactory conclusion and he will assume charge of the business on December 1, under the title of Mr. Rulon S. Wells, managing agent.

Both parties to the transaction are to be congratulated. Mr. Wells, in having obtained the agency for one of the Big Four insurance companies of the world, and the Mutual Life on having secured a man of Mr. Wells' wide acquaintance, sterling quality and extensive business experience. History of the Mutual life, which is one of the great leaders in other communities, has not been pushed aggressively in Utah, but there will probably be but little room for complaint on this score under Mr. Wells' management.

SUIT TO QUIET TITLE.

William L. Welch Appointed Guardian of Jane A. Tennant.

Thomas A. Tennant filed a suit against Jane Alston Tennant in the Third district court today for the purpose of quieting title to a lot in this city described as lot 4, block 40, plat A.

In his complaint plaintiff alleges that he is a British subject, having been born on May 19th, 1855, at Hawkshead, Yorkshire, that his father's name was Thomas Tennant, and his mother's name Jane Alston Tennant, the defendant. In 1883 plaintiff says his parents emigrated to the United States, and while on the way to Utah his father died at Lincoln, Nebraska. In the fall of 1884, plaintiff says he and his mother came to this city. He then alleges that his mother has been incompetent ever since, and that she has been in the care of a Dr. Alston, a brother of her father's death, plaintiff says, he left Hawkshead, one of which was used to buy the property referred to.

Plaintiff then sets out that he is desirous of quieting the property for the purpose of investing the proceeds to support his mother, but objection has been made to his suit on the ground that his mother has an interest in the property and that a bond from plaintiff would not be sufficient to protect her interests. He also has a question to be adjudged to represent his mother and that the proceeds may be fully and carefully stored.

Judge Hiles appointed William C. Welch guardian ad litem for Mrs. Tennant.

The property consists of a vacant lot on the south between Third and Fourth West.

The Wonders of the World will give a free entertainment morning, afternoon and evening at the Grand Theater tonight. Something fine.

Railroads May Get Judgment for Damages Done.

IN THE BIG STRIKE OF 1894.

U. S. Circuit Court Gives Pennsylvania Railway Company $2,500 in Its Law Suit Against the City.

Chicago, Nov. 25.—A verdict for $2,500 was rendered here today in the Circuit court against the city of Chicago in favor of the Pennsylvania Railway company in its suit against the city for damages done during the big strike of 1894. The railroad asked for $25,000. The decision is regarded as important, as being a probable influence on the action of the other roads, which suffered property damage during the strike.

WISHED HE HAD A GUN.

George Howard Said that He Would Not Have to Beg.

George Howard, a sallow looking hobo with a little epidermis, pleaded not guilty to vagrancy before Judge Thompson in the police court this afternoon.

Officer Simpson stated that he watched the defendant "beat" a couple of pedestrians on State street last evening. Witness said that he stopped Howard and told him that a hobo individual like he might to be ashamed to beg, whereupon the fellow said, "If I only had a gun I wouldn't have to beg at all." The officer further stated that he then followed Howard some minutes that he said, "Oh, just you look out for the money! I'll put on here stay in the cold weather."

Howard indignantly denied everything to him: "Look at dem hands, boss," said the accused as he raised his gloves from what, they, Howard stated, as Mulligan to the Bells. "Look at dem work hands, boss—working, pulling hoses, and spraying, all day and night."

Judge Thompson guessed at the accused's hands, and said to the fellow, "You had better go and get another job for the winter and at home. I'll just give you one month."

Howard promptly failed.

J. A. Grombach, who was arrested for drunkenness recently working and subsequently allowed to depart, followed the case of Howard. He said he had way, nonsensical, caused subject. He stated into the court that he was very surprised to "why," he said, "I only had two or three whiskies the morning, and then I went home rather sober." Judge Thompson concurred with the statement of the witness, though seriously fell for disposed the defendant, "Now, I'm sorry, you ought to be more than to argue and "Five dollars."

Stephen Childs, an ex-member of the suburbs of Sandy, also the city jail, was also sorely afflicted by the Dr. Sleep after. Childs was not present to be "sold," consequently the Dr. Sleep case was dismissed, left in lieu of his output, inasmuch as he was not arrested and brought to court, he, of course, was not subject to the statutes providing for the expense of arresting and prosecuting individuals carrying shot.

THE O'MELVENY INSURANCE.

A compromise settlement has been effected between the Fidelity and Casualty Insurance company and the widow of the late J. C. O'Melvenny, by which the latter accepts $1,500 in claims in full on a policy for $5,000. There has been a bitter contest, the company claiming that the insured had committed suicide, and the widow claiming that the insured died from a fall on the way to Utah for Fisher and at Lincoln, Nebraska. In the fall of 1898, the company tendered a check for $1,500 in settlement, which was refused by the widow, who then charged that her husband was murdered by the agents of the company, and that the company was aware of the fact. The company's answer, however, is that O'Melvenny committed suicide while in the state of Utah, and that the insurance of his relationship with Mrs. Mills.
