THE GATHERING OF ISRAEL.

The Theme Dwelt Upon in the Tabernacle Yesterday.

FULFILMENT OF PROPHECY.

A Silence Fell Upon the People Except the Influence of the Holy Spirit.

The service in the Tabernacle yesterday was presided over by President Angus M. Cannon. The choir led in congregational singing the morning hymn, "Do, Father, Do." The prayer was offered by Bishop W. B. Preston. Feeling hymn, sixteen, "From Greenland's Icy Mountains."

Elder J. F. Chamberlain, a seventy, stated that from the Eastern States he came to Utah. He described the journey through the mountains of Utah. His subject had been the separation between Israel and the world. The first part of his mission was spent in Elizabeth, New Jersey. The first evening he spoke there there was a great crowd. The people had refused to let him go to preach in the city, but he went out into the country and had good success in baptisms. The rest of his mission had been spent in the city of Paterson, where they had met with bitter persecution. The people who joined the Church were also persecuted. He was glad to be able to say that he had done good work. It gave them a foretaste of what they would have to encounter in Utah. He was glad to be able to say that the agitation was over. The people were doing more good for us now. The Elders were able to mix with people now on the Gospel and talk to them by. Elder Chamberlain said he was glad to be in the Saints to hear such a city, that we have could be with the Saints. He was glad to be in the Tabernacle where Mr. Morris was the speaker. He was empowered with the spirit of God in speaking to the people. He was glad to be in the choir. From Eastern Lord. This had quite by Rich. Those words apply to the Latter-day Saints that are everywhere. We had a remark. Conclusion of this not long ago. He said: "Brethren, I believe that Saints were persecuted. Those who had been prisoners in their prison were persecuted. This was evidence to prophecy. When the time was ordained by the Prophet Joseph Smith, when the Lord revelation was to the effect that persecution would be gathered from all nations to the Lord's house. The Lord fulfilled the commandment, sounded forth to the people, who would not hear it. He spoke of the Jews. A portion from the third chapter of Jeremiah was quoted, in which it was said that the Lord would give the people to Zion, and give them pastors according to their hearts. The speaker said he was glad to be able to bear testimony to the truthfulness of the revelation to Joseph Smith, and they were blessed in the gathering of Israel. Time is fast, that they might be among the saints of God. The speaker said he was glad to be able to bear testimony of the mountains of the Lord's house in the tops of the mountains, in the hills of God. He was glad to be able to say that he was a witness of the truth of God. We are told that it was not by the will of men, but holy men of God spoke as they were moved upon by the Holy Ghost. The inspired words of God will not pass away. Those words may be trampled upon in the time they shall fall. Not one of all the words of Nineveh Tyre and Babylon, all have accomplished. Israel is called in the Bible as a people with all our imperfections. Some of the Prophets, who were not in the Holy Ghost, were inspired in the time of God. It is a great work that has been spoken of by the mouth of God. It is the work of God was being fulfilled. The Lord said, "I will gather my people together." The Lord has the hand and from every land under the sun. The work is going on. It is a great work. The speaker had seen and had joy in their purpose to be gathered. It would naturally be supposed that their hearts would be glad, but it was not so, they were filled with glad hearts.

They came to Zion to give a greater offering to God. Can this testimony be doubted? It is a strange and wonderful testimony, but nevertheless it is true. It is the work of the Lord. It is the work of God. If the promises of the Lord were not in the Bible, "Oh Lord, let me see Zion." Then that prefect and sweet hymn, "Israel's Lament." Then that prefect and sweet hymn, "Israel's Lament." The power of God. It is the power of God. It is the power of God. Yet we are the people of God. It is said that the Lord would gather Israel from the world and from every land under the sun. The work is going on. It is a great work. The speaker had seen and had joy in their purpose to be gathered. It would naturally be supposed that their hearts would be glad, but it was not so, they were filled with glad hearts.
