OGDEN, - - DECEMBER 30, 1899.

RETIRING CITY COUNCIL.

Adjourned Session is Held to Wind Up the Affairs of Old Administration.

District Court—Big Damage Suit—Marriage of Miss Morech—Local News Notes.

The city council met in adjourned session at 8:30 o'clock p. m. last night with all the members present except Councilmen Cullen and Williams. The mayor, attorney and councilmen-elect had been invited and all were present except Messrs Carr and Jones.

After the reading of the minutes John Wheelright appeared and asked $25 as a refund on the amount paid for the use of an city hall square last winter as a skating pond.

On report of the special committee the general expenses and the back salary on the late Capt. W. A. Dixon amounting to $250, were appropriated to full settlement of all claims against the deceased.

City Recorder Anderson presented a list of warrants which had been issued since the last meeting, namely, for the four years ending Dec. 31st, 1897, a total of $18.22. A motion to publish the list in the council's office during the four years ending Dec. 31st, 1897, a total of $18.22. A motion to publish the list was lost, and it was afterwards agreed that.

City Attorney E. M. Allison, jr., presented a lengthy report of the business in the attorney's office for the year 1899, giving a detailed history of fourteen cases pending or settled in the courts in which Ogden city is interested. A long and interesting exhibit of the suits of the state of Ogden city vs the Ben Ivor Irrigation and Ogden Water Works company was read. The report was accepted and ordered filed.

Pol Tax Collector Marcus Poulter reported 19 labor taxes paid and 34 cash taxes collected since the last meeting of November and December, and submitted a list of 267 names of delinquents with the amount of taxes due from each delinquent. He bill, amounting to $9.00, for services was referred paid.

Street Commissioner Jos. Jones reported a report showing the total appropriation for streets for 1899 to be $9,274, which sum was $4,000 less than the amount expended in 1898. He reported 24 miles of streets graveled during the year. There had been paid $1,224 for sprinkling to $1,864, collected in taxes, showing a deficiency for the year of $12 cents, or 8%. The expenditure of cash on miles of streets, including five new sprinklers, had cost for the year $1,149.30, which sum an increase over that of $1,058.18. He recommended that next year additional stand pipes be erected to facilitate sprinkling. The report was accepted filed.

On motion of Councilmen Woolley $10 were appropriated to the mayor's contingent fund.

There being no further business before the council the adjournment sine die was spent in felicitous speechmaking by members of the old and the incoming administration, the last mayor being the first speaker and was followed by the mayor-elect, Matthew S. Dromgoole, and by the presiding officer of the council, Thomas E. Downing. Speeches were also made by Councilmen-elect J. W. Alder, Councilmen E. T. Woolley and Job Pingree, Councilmen-elect Joseph Perry, Councilmen M. L. Jones, Councilmen-elect H. J. Powers, and City Recorder E. H. Anderson. The speeches were full of congratulations to the members of the council who were retiring for the careful manner in which they had conducted the administration for the past two years, and with wishes of success to the members who were about to enter upon their duties.

Councilman Jones took occasion to return everybody present to see the fire department and its witness at work. This was afterwards taken advantage of and the proficiency of the department was fully demonstrated to the great delight of Chief Crane Gray as well as to the visiting dignitaries. The fire, however, had a cold weather time, though they expressed themselves that there were no two hours of time with fire and water at the end of the run.

On motion of Councilman Brewer the President appointed Councilmen Woolley and Brewer a committee to approve the minutes, and at just ten minutes after ten o'clock p. m. another of Councilmen M. L. Jones, the City Council of 1899-9 passed into history by adjourning sine die.

BIG DAMAGE SUIT.

The "Troy Steam laundry," having been placed in the hands of a receiver last September, has caused several law suits, but the largest one was filed yesterday afternoon. Williams against George A. Craig. The complaint alleges that the defendant was appointed receiver of the laundry on September 22nd, 1899, by Judge Hoge, but that he received the appointment as receiver through a fraudulent misrepresentation to the court that William, who was owner of the laundry at the time of the appointment of a receiver, was running the business in a dishonest and incompetent manner, and became so closed the books of the business to Craig, from whom he had bought it, giving a mortgage for it. The court discharged the receiver again on October 5, 1899, and ordered immediate possession of the business, he now alleges that the business has been materially damaged by the mismanagement of the said Craig as receiver, and that through the allegations of Craig neither the good name nor credit has been damaged to the sum of $15,000, and that it cost him $250 to get the said Craig discharged as receiver, therefore he demands damages in the sum of $15,000. Richards and Allison are attorneys for the plaintiff.

DASTARDLY ASSAULT.

Tuesday evening at about 10 o'clock as Mrs. John Blundell was returning home from a friend's, where she had spent the day, and was near home on 2nd street, between Grant and Washington avenues, a man stepped in front of her, with a club in his hand and threw a lap robe over her head, she tried to scream but he had his hand over her mouth and the lady fainted from the brutality inflicted. The lady fought fiercely and succeeding in getting away from the assailant, she fell and the lap robe was cast aside. Mrs. Blundell ran to her home, where she fell in a chair perfectly exhausted and overcome with fright. Her husband started out after the fellow but no trace of him could be found. The police are notified of the affair and are now working on it with only a thread of clue as to who the brutal fiend was.

Mrs. Blundell's face is scratched up considerably, and her left arm bruised by being thrown, the fall and the lap robe, with which the lady was thrown over her head.

LIVELY RUNAWAY.

There was a very lively runaway yesterday afternoon on Washington. At the corner of 25th street the runaway commenced a night of the Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde order. Dr. Jekyll, H. Hines endeavored to stop the horse and had his hand severely crushed. The animal then ran down 25th street and north along Grant avenue, and where it stopped could not be learned.

KANOSH.

Ideal Christmas—Marriage Festivities—Return of the Long Lost A. J. W. Gardner.

Special Correspondence.

Kanosh, Millard Co., Dec. 28—Ah! what a brilliant morning dawned upon the people of Kanosh, every branch and twigs of foliage was silvered over with frost, and the atmosphere was filled with glittering diamond-like specks, which appeared as a divine benison upon the mind day of Christmas morning.

Peace, plenty and pleasure prevail everywhere in our little town.

Marriage festivities and marriage is becoming a frequent occurrence here. Kanosh has always been noted for the attractions of her fair damsels, but this Christmas they have drawn enquiries from the east, the west and the south. One accomplished young woman even sacrificed Paradise in Cache county to the demand of the little Cupid. Alfred, the son of Bishop Anderson, was a few days since married by Justice Jukes to Miss Annie Wilde, an English lass, our renowned choir leader. Professor W. J. Pugh, visited the county seat in company with Miss Sarah Roberts, and they were married by Bishop Callister. John Morrey, another of our good citizens, has robbed the cradle of the old adage, "There's many a slip twixt the cup and the lip." John is about 38 years old, and armed with the necessary recommends he quietly left town for Manti, meeting Miss Laura Bauchman of Beaver county there. Succeeding to be married in the Temple. After about a week's absence, John and the young lady returned here. To our shake and congratulations, John made a very roundabout smile, as he informed us that he was not married. The lady's recommend was defective, the Temple closed during the holidays, and John is still a bachelor, but resolute, and will return to Manti at an early date. Yesterday, the 25th Henry Paxton, son of Anthony Paxton and Miss Mattie L. Turner, were married by Bishop Callister in the residence of the bride's parents, and some two hundred persons partook of the marriage feast.

RETURN OF A. J. W. GARDNER.

During these festivities, our erstwhile lost citizen, Mr. A. J. W. Gardner, arrived at his widowed mother's home. A committee consisting of G. W. Crane, and A. Paxton, jr., who had traveled once a thousand miles in behalf of Alonzo, met half a block and escorted the prodigal son into the midst of the joyous crowd, who had met him with some hours before. Alma expressed his gratitude and are of the fatted calf.

Range cattle and horses are looking well in this district. Bishop and others are bringing in some of the starved out Dixie cattle to winter here.

He therefore asks for possession, awarding the possession, as well as $700 for his deprivation of the premises $100 damages and for costs of suit.

Russell Iole Sentenced to Thirty Days for Battery.

Special Correspondence.

Salina, Sevier Co., Dec. 28—Russell Iole was arraigned before Justice Hansen yesterday and entered a plea to a charge of assault on the person of J. W. Tyler on Christmas day. It is the duty of the peace officer at times, especially when he is full of whisky. It is not the law time he has been before the court which he double accounts for the severe penalty.
