OGDEN NEWS.

OGDEN, - APRIL 16, 1900.

FRANK BERRY ACQUITTED.

Interesting Address by Dr. Maeser Before Sunday School Union.

Disastrous Fire in Gilbert Belnap's Store—Narrow Escape of Miss Belnap—Wedding Licenses.

The case of Frank Berry, charged with attempted rape, went to the jury at about 6 o'clock Saturday evening, and in three hours they returned with a verdict of not guilty.

SUNDAY SCHOOL UNION.

Sunday School Union meeting was held yesterday afternoon at the Second ward hall. After the usual devotional opening exercises, Dr. Karl G. Maeser of the Deseret Sunday School Union Board spoke for about thirty minutes upon the vast importance of Sunday school officers and teachers planning their work and living up to the plans laid out and studying the lessons thoroughly before coming before their classes, so that they may be able to present the studies intelligently to the students. The classes then adjourned to their various departments and went through their regular routine of study; returning afterwards to the lecture hall when Dr. Maeser again addressed the teachers upon the proper method of arranging the seats so that all the pupils are directly under the eyes of their instructors.

Prof. Ballantyne's children's and male choruses furnished the music.

DISASTROUS FIRE

On Saturday evening, what came very near becoming a disastrous fire, occurred in the grocery store of Gilbert Belnap on Washington Avenue next to the Utah Loan and Trust company's building. It was about 10:15 p. m. In attempting to blow out the light in a coal oil stove, with an old hat, Miss Sarah Belnap hit the stove and knocked it over; the oil ran out on the floor and in a moment the young lady was encircled in flames; her screams brought her father, who dashed out the flames from her clothing, saving her from being burned. The flames soon spread up the petition wall, destroying some papers and burning the north shelves badly, but the account books and coupon ledger were not destroyed as was reported in the morning papers. Miss Belnap put them in the safe a few minutes before. The damage is greater than was at first anticipated, the smoke and heat having destroyed a great deal of the stock. It is now thought that about $2,500 damage was done to the building and merchandise; all covered by insurance. It will be three or four days, if not longer, before Mr. Belnap will be able to open up his business again. The department did efficient work in promptly subduing the flames.

LICENSED TO WED.

Marriage licenses were issued to Chas. R. Critchlow, 22, and Miss Juli Cole, 20, both of Ogden; Richard S. Watson, 50, and Mrs. Amelia Maxfield, 50, both of Salt Lake.

PROVO.

UTAH STAKE CONFERENCE.

Stake Presidency Reorganized—Sad Occurrence—Funeral of Suicide.

Special Correspondence.

Provo, Utah Co., April 15.—The members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints of the Utah Stake, have had a spiritual feast at the quarterly conference held at the Stake Tabernacle Saturday and Sunday. At the afternoon services, Sunday, when the Stake authorities were being voted upon, Apostle Grant arose and presented the name of Elder Stephen L. Chipman for the position of second counselor to Stake President Partridge, to fill the place made vacant by the promotion of Elder Reed Smoot to the quorum of Apostles.

Elder Chipman is a well known and popular young man of American Fork, and a son of State Treasurer James Chipman.

The choice is well received by the people of the Stake.

There was also a change in the Stake superintendency of the Y. M. M. I. A. Supt. B. S. Hinckley resigned and his first assistant, John D. Dixon of Provo, was chosen in his place with Heber C. Jex and Josiah H. Hickman as assistants.

One of the most pleasing features of the conference was the report of President Partridge, as to the condition of the Stake, showing a very marked improvement.

Apostles Lyman, Grant, Clawson and Smoot, besides a good representation of the Stake Priesthood, were in attendance.

A SAD OCCURRENCE.

There was a very singular death at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Thompson, of the Fourth ward, Saturday. During the forenoon the mother put their little six-months-old son in its cradle to sleep, and as the child did not wake up at the usual time the mother went to the cradle to see what was the matter and was horrified to find the little one dead.

The child had not been feeling well for some days, but nothing was thought of it, as it was believed to be a slight cold. The cause of the little one's death is thought to have been heart trouble. Another child, about two years of age is very low with bronchitis and whooping cough, and is not expected to live. Mr. Thompson had started for his sheep herd in eastern Utah, but has returned home. An older child died recently from diphtheria.

FUNERAL OF SUICIDE.

The funeral of Simon H. Adler, who committed suicide in the city on Thursday last, to escape trial on the charge of embezzlement, was held Saturday afternoon from Graham & Jones' undertaking parlors. The remains were laid away in a nice coffin and taken to the Provo cemetery in the hearse. The only mourner to follow the remains to their last resting place was Mr. J. D. Stack, a brother-in-law of deceased, who lives at Eureka. There were no religious services held. Mr. Stack speaks well of the departed young man, but says liquor was the ruination of him.

DISTRICT COURT NOTES.

The following probate orders have been made in the Fourth district court.

Estate of R. S. Harris, deceased; motion for new hearing of contest heard and taken under advisement.

Estate of A. O. Smoot, deceased; sale of real and personal property confirmed.

TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

The Utah County Teachers' association held an interesting session at the Parker school today. The lecturer was Supt. F. A. Cooper of the Salt Lake City schools, the subject being, "Classification of Teachers and Pupils." Short talks were also made by Prof. W. M. Wolfe, upon "Flowers;" Mrs. Elliott, also of the Salt Lake schools, on "Art in the Schools," and Prof. G. H. Brimhall on "Five Stages in Teaching."

NOTES AND PERSONALS

Judge Booth was transacting court business at Heber City Saturday.

The six-months-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Hite Smith of Colton was buried in the Provo cemetery Saturday.

The members of the B. Y. Academy South American expedition are out in force each day drilling in the art of packing, tent pitching, etc., and are making fine progress. Tuesday, the day set for their departure, there will be no school, but the party will be given a royal send-off. They expect to leave Provo about 1 o'clock p. m., and camp at Spanish Fork the first night.

HUNTINGTON.

Serious Stabbing Affray—Victims are George and Dan Black.

Special Correspondence.

Huntington, Emery Co., April 13.—Quite a serious cutting affray occurred here last night about seven o'clock, as a result of which George Black, age 18 years, and Dan Black, age 13 years, are seriously wounded. It appears that Dan Black and Frank Guymon (Frank is 17 years of age), got into a fight; George, Dan's brother, came to separate them, when young Guymon drew a knife and commenced cutting. He cut Dan across the left arm clear to the bone just above the elbow, and stabbed him once just over the shoulder blade, he cut George across the left shoulder, a gash over three inches long; stabbed him in the left breast and twice in the left arm. William Howard and H. A. Fowler sewed up the large wound on Dan's arm, and Doctor Pearson sewed up the large wound on George's shoulder and the wound in the breast. The two wounds on the arms were in such a bad condition from bleeding that the doctor thought best not to disturb them. George bled from 7 o'clock p. m. until 2 a. m., and he is now very weak. The doctor says that while some of the wounds are dangerous, they are not necessarily fatal, and he thinks the boys will get along all right. Young Guymon is now in custody awaiting examination.

We are having considerable sickness here with la grippe and colds.

On the 5th inst. about two inches of very wet snow fell. We have also had a couple of nights of hard frost, that has killed most of the apricots. It is still stormy and wet, but the farmers are busy putting in crops; the prospects are bright now for a good harvest.

SCANDINAVIAN JUBILEE.

Much interest is being taken among Scandinavians of this county, in the coming jubilee at Salt Lake City. Local committees are working to make our part of the exercises a grand success. Enoch Jorgensen of Manti is in charge of the musical part to be contributed by this Stake, and he reports a quite ready response from talented people in the different towns. A committee appointed to convass the situation, considers five hundred a very moderate estimate of the number who will attend the jubilee from Sanpete county, provided the railroads will make reasonable concessions.

HAPPY SURPRISE PARTY.

A great many friends of Mrs. Serina Jorgensen of Ephriam gave that faithful sister a most pleasant surprise last night by gathering at her home with good cheer and plenty. Manti furnished her quota of the guests and a real enjoyable evening was had by every one. Sister Jorgensen has for many years been one of the faithful, exemplary women of Ephraim North ward, but the last two years she has been an invalid, and it was to show their appreciation of her worth that friends arranged this party.

FAIRVIEW.

Will Build Fine Central School — Wedding—Sheep Prospects.

Special Correspondence.

Fairview, Sanpete Co., April 13.—On Tuesday, the 10th inst., a school meeting was held to consider which plan would be most profitable for the community either to make an addition to our present school building, or to erect a new and commodious central building in harmony with the spirit of the times. The vote of the taxpayers showed in favor of the last proposition by 110 votes against 17. The estimated cost of the proposed building is $12,000 to be raised by taxation and bonding. At last year's meeting for the same purpose the people agreed by vote to be taxed one per cent on all taxable property, which amounted to some over $2,700, which is now on hand, and voted for the same amount to be assessed this year, and then bond the district for a similar amount.

THE IDOL OF THE TURF.

The Most Popular Jockey in America and England Recommends Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

No jockey has ever appealed so strongly to public favor as Tod Sloan. He has achieved more than his most noted predecessors ever attempted and stands in a class by himself.

Not satisfied with his success in his native country, he went to England and now his fame as a successful horseman is on the tip of every tongue not only in this country and England, but in every section of the globe where racing has found favor.

When Tod first went to England his temerity was openly laughed at, but the little American played skittles with his English rivals and his victories made all England gasp.

Having the stamp of royal approval, society both at home and abroad "lionize" him and he is feted and petted to an extent that would turn an ordinary mortal's head.

The great jockey was in such demand socially and dined and wined to such an extent that it was feared his health would give way. Too much society and the nervous strain of racing told on him.

A two week's trip to America made him acquainted with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and their remarkably restorative effects on a depleted digestive apparatus and he recommended them in unstinted terms to a friend, saying "Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the best thing I know of for keeping the stomach in condition and appetite in good repair."

Thousands of former dyspeptics can vouch for the truth of Tod Sloan's words, as "Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets" have become a household word in America, and few families are without them. One or two taken after meals keep the stomach sweet by causing prompt and healthy digestion of the food.

Perfectly healthy people use them after heavy dinners to keep their good health and to make sure that no ill effects will follow an unusually hearty meal.

Your druggist will tell you or your doctor either that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are composed only of digestive ferments, Asceptic Pepsin, Hydrastis, fruit acids, etc., and for the strong stomach as well as the most delicate, constitute a safeguard against indigestion and stomach troubles.

HOPE, IDAHO.

DISASTROUS FIRE.

Boy Killed and Others Injured, One Fatally—$25,000 Damages.

Special Correspondence.

Hope, Kootenai Co., Ida., April 13.—At 2:30 today a fire broke out in Chase's saloon, resulting in the complete destruction of the following property: Chase's saloon, Leet's restaurant, W. J. Quirk's store and the post office, a barber shop, Davis' saloon, Meade's restaurant, Horning's house, Mrs. Lemley's house and a church.

By blowing up a number of adjoining buildings Wanamaker's store was saved, thereby preventing total loss of the western portion of the town. As a strong wind was blowing from the southeast, the danger of the eastern portion of the town was considerably lessened, although it took the mighty efforts of the townspeople to check the flames even then. The railway company's hose and waterworks were brought into service and rendered valuable assistance.

As Harry Luxer was going to see why a charge of dynamite, which he had placed in the barber shop, did not explode, it suddenly went off, throwing him clear off the bank and below to the railroad tracks. He is seriously injured about the head and his life is despaired of.

After the fire was under control some boys were walking about the ruins, when Willie Munroe found a loaded pistol near the Horning house and, while handing it to one of his comrades, it exploded, hitting Willie in the breast and killing him instantly. The pistol was hot at the time and it is believed the cartridge was exploded by the heat.

Mrs. Meade and her son Harold were slightly injured by flying debris. The total loss is estimated at $25,000. No insurance.

Hope is a town on the Northern Pacific, in the extreme northern end of Idaho.

BROMUS INERMIS.

The Most Promising Pasture and Meadow Grass for Dry Farms.

Of all the varieties of the cultivated grasses, this can be considered the best and most promising for this country. It is a native of Europe, but it is not a new and untried variety in this country any more. It is not only a grass for the prairies of the West, the cold regions of the North, or sections of the country suffering from severe drought, or the grass for Utah, Idaho, Montana, Colorado, Mexico, Texas, Kansas and Nebraska, but well adapted and profitable to grow in the Eastern or Middle States; in fact, everywhere whenever a luxuriant, heavy and sure growth of grass is wanted. It it well adapted for either hay or pasture, and will produce a very heavy yield of both. It comes up early in the spring, makes a rapid growth, can be cut for hay early, and used for pasture afterwards, making abundant pasturage. It remains fresher and greener during a larger part of the year than almost any other grass. It is thoroughly permanent and very hardy, enduring very low temperature in the winter and having great power to resist drought, and thrive and give abundant pasture and hay crops in dry seasons, when everything else would fail. It will grow on all kinds of soil. All kinds of stock will eat it greedily, and is very rich in nutrition value or flesh forming ingredients. It is easily cultivated, since it is suited to all soils. It is sown in the early spring in the same way as other grass seeds, and since it is rather slow to start and does not make much growth the first year, is well suited to sow with grain for a nurse crop. It grows three to four feet high, flowering in June, and is a true perennial.

AUG. H. VOGELER.

FOREST RESERVES VS THE SHEEPMEN.

Washington, D. C., March 23.—Secretary Wilson, of the department of agriculture, has received a communication from Secretary Hitchcock, of the department of the interior, asking his aid in solving the problem of grazing in the western forest reserves. The division of forestry will commence immediately an investigation which will last several months.

The controversy over the alleged evil effects of sheep grazing has involved western cattlemen, woolgrowers, and farmers in a bitter war for many years, and the recent increase of irrigation has added to the bitterness. Government action in the matter has been hastened by the establishment of forest reserves. In view of the injury to the forests in many sections from overgrazing, all reserves except those in Washington and Oregon, and the Black Mesa reserve, in Arizona, which is to be opened to 300,000 sheep at 3 cents a head, are closed to sheep by an order issued last May. This step has raised a storm of protest from woolgrowers, who insist that no harm is done by grazing under proper restrictions. Many are reported to have driven their herds into the mountains last summer in defiance of the law.

Against the sheep owners are arrayed the cattlemen and farmers, and especially the irrigators, who claim the practice means disaster to agriculture in the lowlands. These argue that sheep destroy the forest cover in the mountains and thus diminish the water supply. They are said not only to eat the young growth which is to perpetuate the forest, but to tramp down innumerable seedlings and destroy the layer of leaves necessary to keep soil in good condition. Sheep herders are accused of burning large areas in order to secure a growth of grass. While the government will decide the matter only in case of the forest reserves, these include a large part of all the summer ranges of the western sheepraising States, and the results will be of great importance to the American woolgrowing industry.

As no general rule can be applied, each reserve will be studied separately. The first step of the division of forestry will be to collect impartially the testimony of both sides. Lists of questions will be sent to thousands of sheep men and their opponents. About July 1 an examination of the reserves will begin. A number of botanists, irrigation experts, and similar scientific men will be secured from all parts of the United States, and they will spend several months in the field. In addition, all field parties of the division of forestry engaged in other work in the interested regions will be required to give time to the sheep question also. Secretary Hitchcock has asked the department of agriculture to give special attention to the following phases:

Relation of grazing to taxation and the general prosperity of specified localities.

Relation of grazing to forest fires.

Relation of grazing to the preservation and reproduction of forest.

Relation of grazing to irrigation and water supply.

Effects of grazing by different kinds of stock.

Moderate grazing and overgrazing.

NOTES FROM A PEACH ORCHARD.

In the northern part of Monroe county, N. Y., three miles from Morton and one-half mile from the shore of Lake Ontario, there is a ridge of land about one mile long and one-half mile wide on which the cultivation of peaches has been so successful that it is known as the "Peach Belt." The soil on this ridge is sandy and naturally well drained, the latter a prime necessity in the cultivation of peaches, even to the sub-soil. Several large orchards are located on this ridge, and from the owner of one of the finest of them, Mr. James Austin, the following notes were obtained.

The orchard in question was started about fourteen years ago by setting out 500 Early Crawfords. Now there are about 4,000 trees in the orchard, one-half Early Crawfords and the rest later varieties. The first trees were planted 19x16½ feet apart, but 19x19 or 20x20 is the practice followed in the last few years. At first hoed crops were planted in the orchard, but for the last ten years this has not been done; just the trees are grown, but cultivation of the soil is kept up almost to the time of picking.

Great quantities of fertilizer are used, chemicals exclusively. In order to have a pure article and to know more nearly what he is using, Mr. Austin procures the materials in bulk and does his own mixing. Muriate of potash, bone dust and acid rock (to get phosphoric acid) are the materials used, every other year changing from phosphate rock to bone dust. Nitrate of potash is also used, but not every year. Cover crops have been tried, but are not as satisfactory as keeping the soil stirred; it is a question if they do not take moisture which the trees need.

A few years ago a warning came from the California coast to look out for the curl-leaf, and close upon the warning came the trouble. The Early Crawfords are not subject to this disease, but later varieties are. Spraying should be done twice before the foliage starts. The leaves of peach trees are more tender than those of the apple and will not stand spraying.

Twice a year the trees are looked over for borers and the bark scraped. The practice is to keep the earth heaped up around the trees. In scraping the bark a peculiar sound will sometimes be noted, indicating the presence of the borer, although it is often found at some distance from this point; remove the dirt and dig out the borer, replacing the earth again. Digging them out is the most effectual remedy; applications may kill the borers, but they are apt to kill the trees as well.

Climbing cut worms sometimes cause great havoc in young orchards. They work entirely in the night and for this reason are hard to combat; the best remedy yet found is to make a ring in the earth close around the young trees and in this put a mixture of bran, Paris green and molasses.—Vick's Magazine.

RIO GRANDES DEFEATED.

In the First of the Utah-Idaho Games.

The first of any of the Utah-Idaho games was played yesterday afternoon at Ogden between the Rio Grandes and the Ogdenites.

Eight innings and a half were played at the end of which the Salt Lake team found themselves defeated by a score of 7 to 2.

Both teams showed up well but the Ogden team simply surprised everybody.

There were probably 500 people on the ground to witness the game, and a great deal of interest was manifested throughout the same.

Following is the summary and score by innings:

BALL GAME TODAY.

Bankers and City and County Teams Meet on the Campus.

A rattling good game of ball between the bankers and the city and county teams was expected for this afternoon on the University campus. Arrangements were made some time ago to have the game pulled off at Walker's field, but the recent storms have made it so muddy that it was impossible to play there with any degree of satisfaction.

ADMISSION PRICE REDUCED.

Thirty-five Cents for Grand Stand in Ogden.

Among other matters that had not been passed upon by the managers of the Utah-Idaho league teams was the price of admission to the games. So after the game yesterday a meeting was held for the purpose of settling the question. After some discussion it was agreed to fix the price at 35 cents to grand stand at Ogden and 50 cents in Pocatello and Salt Lake.

TENNESSEE RACES

Run at Montgomery Park in Memphis This Afternoon.

Memphis, Tenn., April 15.—The Tennessee derby at a mile and an eighth will be run at Montgomery park tomorrow afternoon, and indications tonight are that the blue ribbon event of the Memphis Jockey club will be decided over a fast track. The probable starters are as follows: Glen Lake and Thrive, J. C. Cahn's entry; Arthur Behan, Parmecen, Florizar, F. W. Brode, Dramburg and the Conqueror, all carrying 122 pounds.

It was announced a few days ago that John F. Scherr would not be represented in the classic, but upon the good showing made by F. W. Brode in yesterday's race at a mile and a sixteenth, when the colt easily disposed of Thrive and The Conqueror, the young Memphistan decided last night to place Brode's name on the program. The race seems to be an open one. It is the general opinion that Brode will be favorite, with The Conqueror, Cahn's entry, and Florizar ranging in the betting as named. The race will be worth about $7,000 to the winner.

The Grass Rolling stakes for 3-year-olds and up, $1,250 added. One mile and a sixteenth on turf.

The Bay hurdle for 4-year-olds and up, $800. Two miles over eight hurdles on turf.

The Independence steeplechase for 4-year-olds and up, $1,200 added. Full steeplechase course.

PAST THE AGE OF FLATTERY.

(From the Chicago Post.)

"That boy," she said, when her husband reached home, "is just like you."

"Been naughty again, has he?" he returned.

Long experience had taught him the circumstances in which she noted the resemblance between father and son, and years ago the remark had ceased to flatter him.
