STANDARD GAUGE OPENS MONDAY

Park City Branch to be Abreast of the Times.

OFFICIALS GO OVER ROUTE.

If Improvements Pass Inspection Today the Utah Central Will be Operated at Once.

Superintendent A. E. Welby, accompanied by Chief Engineer Yard, of the Rio Grande Western, took a trip up the Park City branch this morning with the idea of inspecting the Altus tunnel prior to the opening of the road to standard guage traffic on Monday.

After a careful survey of the situation Mr. Welby is scheduled to return to this city at 4 o'clock this afternoon when he will be in a position to definitely state whether the line will be thrown open to business on a standard guage basis on that day.

It was the original intention to have the broad guage rolling stock running over the road two weeks ago, and everything was in readiness for the transfer when, at the last moment, the chief engineer decided, as a further precaution, to put in extra timbers and cement work prior to the running of heavy train through the excavation.

It if should be decided today to open the road it will be but a matter of a few minutes to make the connections at the points affected in the cut-off, as the third rail has been down the entire distance between Salt Lake and Park City for some ten days past. All the narrow guage rolling stock has been brought down from the various points on the line and the extra coaches are being furnished with standard guage trucks to be utilized temporarily after the change goes into effect.

Just as soon as the first train, under the new order, makes the trip to Park City a big force of men will be put on to take up the remaining light rail that is down. These rails will be loaded up for immediate transferrance to Belnap, whence the major portion of the men now employed on the Utah Central improvements will also go with the result that the extension to Marysvale will immediately be pushed forward.

The Park City branch, or as it is better known, the Utah Central, improvement was commenced at the end of last winter and has been pushed with vigor to completion with the result that some eight miles of new grading in the vicinity of the summit has been built which embraces the erection of three trestles and the boring of the Altus tunnel.

A RECORD MONTH.

Saltair Continues to Do a Big Business—Bookings.

The month just drawing to a close has been from a financial standpoint the best in the history of Saltair Beach. July has been essentially marked by big crowds every day throughout the month that have gladdened the hearts of the officials to an appreciable extent. The weather has been of an ideal nature for bathing in the briny with the result on several occasions the supply of bathing suits has given out. However, heretofore August has been looked upon as being the star month for resort business generally, and indications point to the fact that nothing short of a spell of bad weather can make the coming month even a better one than the one now drawing to a close.

A glance at the following bookings for Saltair shows that every single day, with the exception of the initial, has been snapped up:

FLATTERING STATEMENT.

Remarkable Increase in Financial Returns of Union Pacific.

Indicative of the remarkable financial recovery of the Union Pacific system under the administration of President Horace G. Burt, the following is culled from the current number of the Financial Chronicle:

"The approximate results of the Union Pacific Railway Company for the fiscal year ending June 30 were as follows:

Net income of system, exclusive of land sales	$20,300,000
Fixed charges, about	7,500,000
Available surplus, about	$12,800,000
Dividend, 4 per cent on preferred stock	3,800,000
Balance, equal to 9 per cent on common stock	$ 9,000,000

"In view of this balance, equal to about 9 per cent on common stock, the directors, it is asserted, feel justified in putting the common stock on a 4 per cent basis, and it is expected they will meet the first week in August to take action in the matter. The company now has more than $5,000,000 cash on hand, besides $12,000,000 worth of unsold lands and a large amount of securities in its treasury. It also owns 1,000 miles of road free of mortgage. The proceeds of recent sales of nearly 1,500,000 acres of land in different states was said to be $2,200,000."

TROUBLE BREWING.

Labor Organizations on U. P. to Fight Watch Order.

A Denver, Colo., dispatch to the "News" today gives the following: A Republican special from Cheyenne, Wyo., says:

It is learned here that the several labor organizations on the Union Pacific, including the O. R. C., B. of L. E., B. of L. F., O. R. T. and Switchmen's union, will fight the new watch inspection and physical examination orders which will go into effect on the overland on August 1.

Representatives of the orders named have traveled over the road, and have visited the various lodges. Meetings have been held, and it has been the unanimous opinion of the employes that the company has no right to coerce them into buying watches of a certain make; that the employes should unite and make a stand against the order, and, if necessary, go on a strike. Committees have been appointed from the several organizations and these will wait upon the officials of the road during the next two or three days and protest against the new orders.

P. Simons, western traveling agent for the Hamburg-American steamship line, returned to Chicago this morning.

Donald Rose, of the Illinois Central, is back at his desk. He reports the wool situation in Montana as being a counterpart of that of Utah at the present time.

Among the other excursion dates that G. W. Hientz has on hand for the Western is Anugust 2, Woodmen's excursion from Provo to Heber; Aug. 3, Weber Stake Sunday schools, Ogden to Saltair.

On Monday a large force of men and teams will be put at work repairing the grade of the Idaho Midland between Caldwell and Boise, preparatory to the laying of steel in the near future.

The Rock Island is advertising one fare for round trip on August 23, 24, good till Sept. 30, to Chicago and return on the occasion of the National G. A. R. encampment, Aug. 27 till Sept. 1. Five berths have already been secured for the occasion.

Traffic at the R. G. W. depot was practically suspended for the space of an hour this morning by a heavy freight engine leaving the track in front of a big train of cars. Beyond blocking the main line for the time indicated no damage was done.

The first section of the train carrying the Fifteenth infantry from Fort McPherson, passed through this city over the Rio Grande Western this morning. The Third cavalry from Washington also went west over the Union Pacific. The troopers are en route to China under rush orders.

The expected migration of Americans to the Paris Exposition apparently has not reached the limit anticipated by the transportation companies. As a consequence the local ticket agents were yesterday notified from New York that on and after August 1 trans-Atlantic winter rates would be in vogue. This step comes a month earlier in the year than has been the custom heretofore.

Executive officers of western railways met in Chicago yesterday to consider ways and means of harmonizing rates and distribution of traffic in the northwest, but their deliberations were kept secret. The Northern Pacific has refused to consent to any arrangement whereby a division of traffic could be made on any fixed basis. The Great Northern is also reported to be displeased with the plans laid down by other interested roads.

The San Pete Valley trainmen had quite an exciting experience a few evenings ago. While coming over with a train a cattle car took fire from a live cinder, near Nebo junction. The car was cut out of the train before doing any damage, and was sidetracked, where it burned down to the trucks. Adjoining the burning car in the train was a car containing several hundred pounds of giant powder and the boys lost no time in cutting it loose.—Democrat.

One of the big engines recently ordered by the Western was too much for the light track over which it was being hauled in the vicinity of Seventh and Laramie streets, Denver, on Wednesday. It struck a weak steel rail with the result that the metal was crushed like putty under the heavy engine. The ties were clipped off as if with a knife, and rolling on the drivers tore up the track for twenty feet ere the locomotive was brought to a standstill. Fortunately the giant did not topple over, and, after some hours of work, was again placed upon the track to proceed on its journey west toward Soldier's Summit where, upon its arrival, it was placed in active work.

CHOIR GOES TO SALTAIR.

On Friday, August 3, the Tabernacle choir will go to Saltair for an outing, and the members are expecting to meet all their friends there on that day. Director Ensign says that a program will be rendered by the choir and that as a special feature there will be several selections from the polyphone under the manipulatiin of Prof. H. S. Mills.

Land Consists of Thirty-Nine Acres, and is Situated in West Jordan Precinct.

John Johnson, by W. T. Gunter, guardian ad litem, filed a suit against his mother, Emma E. Johnson, in the Third district court today to have declared null and void a certain deed to about thirty-nine acres of land, situated in West Jordan.

The complaint sets forth that on Oct. 19, 1899, Peter Johnson, plaintiff's father, died intestate in Salt Lake county, Plaintiff, who is only twelve years old, and his mother were the sole heirs.

Mr. Johnson was taken ill on October 17th and died within forty hours thereafter. On the day of his death, Andrew Shulsen, a neighbor, prepared a warranty deed conveying from deceased to the defendant the land referred to. This act on the part of Mr. Shulsen, the complaint says, was without authority and was not even requested by the deceased. Shulsen then, it is alleged, got Justice Joseph Williams to go to the Johnson house and succeeded in getting the deceased, who could neither read nor write English, to make his mark on the deed of conveyance. Plaintiff, by his guardian, now asks to have the deed cancelled; also that he be declared the owner of one-half of the land.

CRUELTY ALLEGED.

Mrs. Alice Healy Wants a Divorce from James A. Healy.

Alice Healy filed a suit for divorce against James A. Healy in the Third district court today, alleging that the marriage took place in this city on March 15th, 1898, and that defendant ever since has treated his wife in a cruel and inhuman manner. Upon one occasion, it is alleged, the defendant struck his wife in the face and on the breast with his clenched fists and wound up by kicking her. It is further set forth that for more than a year past the defendant has failed to provide for plaintiff and five minor children, by a former marriage. Plaintiff's former name was Fairclough, and, in addition to a decree of divorce, she asks that she be permitted to assume that name again.

GUILTY AND NOT GUILTY.

The Men Arrested by Officer Davis Arraigned on Serious Charges.

Harry Alger and J. H. Holmes, who were arrested late yesterday afternoon by Officer Ed Devies, were taken before Judge Timmony this afternoon, the first charged with having in his possession burglar tools, and the latter having in his possession a sling shot. Alger pleaded not guilty, but Holmes said: "I plead guilty to having the sling shot, but that's all I plead guilty to." "Well, that's all you are charged with," said Judge Timmony.

Both defendants were then remanded until late this afternoon when Assistant County Attorney Gunter will take up Alger's case and Holms will receive his sentence.

ABE MAJORS' CASE IS HEARD AGAIN

Additional Affidavits Filed by Both Sides are Read.

DECISION NOT YET REACHED

Talk of Attorneys Allison and Fitch Made Before Board of Pardons Today.

The board of pardons met pursuant to adjournment in the supreme court rooms this morning and considered additional affidavits and heard further arguments in the case of young Abe Majors.

Up to a late hour this afternoon no decision had been reached, but the prevailing sentiment outside the executive chamber was that the death sentence would be commuted.

It was 10:15 when the board convened this morning. Gov. Wells instructed Clerk Stephens to read the new papers filed in the case, at the conclusion of which Attorney Allison and Attorney Fitch were heard again.

The first affidavit read was from Prosecuting Attorney B. H. Jones, who denied that he had ever told Constable Wells to keep quiet and not tell what he knew about the case. Wells, Mr. Jones said, testified at the coroner's inquest, but the prosecutor did not deem his testimony of sufficient importance to put him on the stand at the regular trial. The constable, it will be remembered, said he was watching the chase between the Majors' boys and the officers through a field glass and he was positive that Archie Majors, and not Abe, fired the shot that killed Captain Brown.

Juror Fosgren denied that he had ever expressed himself by saying "Majors ought to hang," but Vern Phillips, James Boden and wife, Reese Richards and J. L. Robinetti averred that he did.

Letters were read from the condemned youth, his mother, Miss Lulu Johnson and Henry A. Melvin, chief prosecuting attorney for Oakland, Cal. The latter said Majors' record was a decidedly bad one. Mrs. Wagner and Miss Johnson implored the board to spare the youthful murderer's life by commuting his sentence.

Majors' letter was an appeal for clemency and the preservation of his life. He claimed that there were extenuating circumstances surrounding the case, which, he said, "were obscured or misrepresented at the time of my trial." He thought he was worthy of the life God had given him and advanced several arguments in supoprt of his position. He referred in loving terms to his beloved deceased brother, and complained of the hasty manner in which he was placed on trial. He also said he would have been shot by Sheriff Belnap at the time of the tragedy had it not been for the interference of Sheriff Cardon.

MAJORS DID NOT DENY KILLING.

Attorney Allison made another vigorous talk in opposition to a commutation of the death sentence. Council for Majors had failed to advance one good and sufficient reason to entitle the youth to executive clemency. The board of pardons did not sit as a board of review. Majors had not denied firing the shot that killed Capt. Brown. True, he claimed to be innocent. He said as much when he pleaded not guilty before Judge Hart. Claiming he was innocent meant nothing. It might be the prisoner thought he was justified in killing Capt. Brown; that it was in self defense and the murder a justifiable homicide.

Referring to the statement made by Majors that he had moved for a continuance of his case Mr. Allison said it was an absolute falsehood. Majors' own attorney, he said, requested an immediate trial. Counsel then took up the Belknap incident, and said "When Abe Majors says that Cardon prevented Belknap from killing him he lies." For the purpose of showing the desperate character the board had to deal with Mr. Allison cited the attempt of the prisoner to gain possession of the gun and cartridges from off the prosecuting attorney's table at Brigham City during the trial. "Had he succeeded," said Mr. Allison, "he could have entered a side room and stood off the crowd as long as he had a mind to." He concluded by expressing the hope that the board would deny the application for it was not a case calling for the exercise of the least bit of mercy or sympathy.

Mr. Fitch replied to Mr. Allison and in conclusion said he felt confident the board would commute the young man's sentence to life imprisonment. Majors was entitled to this for the most it could be said he was guilty of was murder in the second degree.

At 11:40 the board went into executive session, and at 12:30 took a recess until 2:30 without considering the Majors case.

THREE ARE PARDONED.

In executive session this afternoon the board pardoned W. Leo Boyle, Jens T. Rhode and John A. Livingston.

Boyle was convicted of burglary and sentenced at Provo, December 14, 1898, to fifteen months.

Rhode was convicted of adultery and sentenced at Brigham City, February 20, 1899, to eighteen months.

Livingstone was convicted of being an accessory to crime of adultery and sentenced at Ogden February 5th, 1900, to eighteen months.

PARDON DENIED.

The application of Shadrack E. Green, convicted of housebreaking, and sentenced by Judge Norrell in this city December 10th, 1898, to two and a half years, was denied.

The cases of Robert A. Atwood and James B. Lockwood were continued one month.

TEACHERS' CERTIFICATES.

At a meeting of the State board of education, held in the city and county building this morning, State grammar grade certificates for teaching were granted the following parties:

Helen Rhees, Pleasant View Weber county; Lulu M. Rudy, city; George M. Thomson, Richmond, Cache county; F. M. Poulson, Payson; John W. Wintle, Wilson, Weber county, and Estella Engilman, city.

AMUSEMENTS.

At the Salt Palace theater, during the coming week, opening Monday night, a complete change will be made in the character of the performances. Instead of strictly vaudeville performances, the specialties will be introduced in the course of a roaring two act farce, entitled, "Little Miss Frisco." To say that the piece is full of fun and ridiculous situations is putting it light. The skit is modeled after Hoyt's famous production, "A Bunch of Keys," with new trimmings and new jokes. The plot outlines the ownership of a hotel by two swagger dandies who have made a fortune in the Klondike. Both of the mine owners fall in love with their typewriter, with the result that she casts them both aside for Togs, the hotel clerk. McDonald Bros., Kalacratus, Green and Daly and Miss Lake, together with ten other artists, make up the cast, and with such a coterie of high class performers, "Little Miss Frisco" should be famously good. Tomorrow night in the theater a refined evening vaudeville performance will be given.

VETERAN ARTILLERYMEN.

The Association of Veteran Artillerymen will hold their regular monthly meeting, in the armory, on Wednesday next Aug. 1st, at 7:30 p. m.

UNIVERSITY CHRONICLE.

The commencement number of the University Chronicle is out of the press and, with its deep red cover and black letters, presents a neat appearance. A look under the cover reveals the fact that the attractiveness is not all upon the outside, for it is full of well written matter worth the perusal of anyone. It is an especially credible number.

PERSONAL.

W. L. Candland of Mt. Pleasant is stopping at the Cullen.

R. Guhl is among the residents of Mt. Pleasant who are in town today.

Manager L. M. Walden of the Postal Telegraph company in Phoenix, Ariz., is among the guests at the Kenyon. He reports that torrid Arizona is in dire need of a good rain storm, as not a drop has fallen in the vicinity of Phoenix for the past seven months. To add to the trials and tribulations of the residents there, the mercury for the past month, he says, has persistently stood in the vicinity of the 100 mark with occasional excursions up to 112 and 114 in the shade.

Senator Clark of Wyoming was a guest in Salt Lake last night. He went to Saltair with some friends and took a bath in the lake, something he enjoys very much and which he never fails to do when here during the bathing season.

In the shrievalty race on the Republican side these candidates are talked of by their friends: James Rae, Arthur Pratt, Wm. Elliott, George W. Gibbs, Harvey Hardy and David P. Thomas.

Thomas Homer is being put to the fore by his friends for the position of county recorder. He is an abstractor by "trade," and that is a quality which his chaperones advance as desirable.

Attorney General Bishop is said to be seeking re-election to his present position.

Chairman Wesley K. Walton of the Republican State committee returned from the East in time to participate in today's committee meeting.

Brigham West has very many friends and they don't hesitate to say that he shall be the next Democratic nominee for sheriff, provided anything they may be able to do will get him there.
