Marriage licenses were this forenoon issued to Andrew Kennedy, 44, of Randolph, Rich county, and Mary Morgan, 40, of Almy, Wyoming; Arthur F. Tremelling, 38, and Millie Brown, 28, both of Salt Lake; Zebulon Parkin, 26, and Ada Hatch, 21, both of Bountiful.

The "News" acknowledges, with thanks, the receipt of a complimentary ticket to the Idaho Inter-Mountain Fair to be held at Boise, early in October next. The Fair association has been diligent in its efforts and will make a better display this year than ever before.

Edward F. Sloan, aged 21 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Sloan died of meningities yesterday at his home, No. 1119 Third street. The young man was an enterprising grocer, and his death breaks off what was expected to be a prosperous career. The funeral was held from the family residence this afternoon. Interment was at Mt. Olivet.

The valuable team belonging to Spencer Clawson, which strayed from Brighton several weeks ago, was recovered last week. Mr. Clawson's natural course was to advertise the missing animals in the Semi-Weekly "News." A farmer at the lower end of this county found them roaming about the country and his natural course was to consult the same paper, so that it did not take long for the horses to find their owners.

Mrs. N. W. Sonnedecker passed away at St. Mark's hospital yesterday as the immediate result of an operation that was performed on her last Tuesday. She rallied encouragingly from the operation, but complications ensued with the fatal result. The many friends of this estimable woman mourn her death very much and extend to the bereaved husband their sincere sympathy. The funeral was held from the late residence, No. 502 Eighth street, this afternoon.

A change was made in the Sixth ward Bishopric at the regular Sunday services last evening. First Counselor Jesse W. West having been promoted to the office of a Patriarch his place was filled by Alexander Burt, the second counselor in the Bishopric, while the place thus vacated by Elder Burt was filled by Albert E. Poulton. President Joseph E. Taylor of the Salt Lake Stake was present and delivered a most interesting discourse.

This morning's mail brought the pleasing information from Australia that Mrs. Oscar Ellason, widow of the young and famous Utah wizzard, who was accidentally killed in Australia a few months ago, had given birth on August 10th, to a son, at Sidney, New South Wales. Mrs. Ellason's relatives are highly elated over the tidings, which also state that mother and child are doing well. Mrs. Ellason and children will return to Utah at the earliest date possible.

A general meeting of citizens will be held in the annex of the First ward meeting house next Tuesday night, at 7:30 o'clock, for the purpose of considering the matter of the removal of the Utah Central track from Eighth and Ninth South streets and along the canal. It is hoped that there will be enough present interested sufficiently in the matter to settle it once and for all. The Rio Grande Western has agreed to remove the tracks for $8,000. The City Council has appropriated $5,000, and citizens have raised $2,000. The problem to be settled now is to raise the balance.

A party of young people, composed of F. Smith of No. 525 south Twelfth East street, Miss Smith, the two Misses Olsen and a young man whose name is not known, were the unwilling participants in a runaway yesterday afternoon. They were returning from Parley's canyon, when the neck yoke broke, the horses took fright and broke into a run at the top of their speed. The wagon tongue presently struck a fixed object in the road, and the entire party was hurled to the ground. Miss Smith leaped from the wagon while the horses were running and sustained a badly sprained ankle. The other members of the party escaped with slight bruises.

MINISTER'S HOUSE ROBBED.

Several Hundred Dollars' Worth of Jewelry Stolen from Rev. G. Bailey.

While Rev. George Bailey of the Westminister Presbyterian church was preaching in his church last evening, some bold thief who apparently understood the situation well, entered Mr. Bailey's residence and helped himself to whatever struck his fancy.

He gained entrance to the house through a cellar window and after lighting a lamp went through the house at his leisure. He secured Mrs. Bailey's purse containing three or four dollars and also some small change from the children's purses. Two gold watches, two plain gold rings and two diamond rings were also stolen. The house was ransacked from top to bottom and when Mr. and Mrs. Bailey returned home the rooms presented the appearance of having been struck by a cyclone. The thief made his departure without leaving his card and the police will undoubtedly be at a loss to locate him.

ANOTHER BURGLARY.

L. B. Rogers' House Entered Early Yesterday Morning.

Early Sunday morning the residence of L. B. Rogers, No. 876 south, West Temple street, was entered by a burglar who secured a $60 watch and a pair of valuable cuff buttons. The thief made considerable noise and aroused the members of the household. He escaped through the window he entered.

HE USED A GUN.

Claus P. Madsen Shoots at Boys Who Make Fun of Him.

About noon yesterday Claus P. Madsen, a carpenter, 65 years of age, who resides at 738 east, Third South street, created a small panic at the corner of C and Fourth streets by firing several shots in the direction of a crowd of boys. Madsen was driving along the street in a wagon to which was attached a critter that in some was resembles a horse when a gang of boys began to make fun of the outfit. One of the boys yelled "whoa," and the animal stopped. Madsen became enraged at this and drew a gun from his pocket and fired. The boys thought the gun loaded with blank cartridges and laughed at Madsen. They then learned that the gun was in a condition for business by the whistling of bullets, and they ran down the street with Madsen after them. After firing several shots Madsen got into his rig and drove west. Two of the boys named Shoebridge mounted their wheels and while one followed Madsen the other went to the station and informed the police.

Patrol Driver Cannon soon overhauled Madsen and took him to the station, where he was locked up on the charge of assault with a deadly weapon. Last evening a $500 bond was furnished by A. L. Fekstead and C. G. Madsen.

Madsen says he shot merely to scare the boys who, he said, have abused him on numerous occasions. The boys said they never saw Madsen before in their lives, and that he shot directly at them.

Brinton, by his attorney, H. A. Smith, at once served notice of an appeal and a bond of $100 was furnished, and Brinton was released.

He already has a similar case pending in the district court.

MORMONISM IN BOSTON.

Elder Ephraim Jensen Talks Interestingly of the Work There.

LIBERAL MINDED PEOPLE

Most of the Difficulty is Caused by Sensation Mongers and Newspapers—Elder Talmage's Discourse.

The services in the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon were presided over by President C. W. Penrose and opened by the choir and congregation singing the hymn commencing,

"Praise to the man who communed with Jehovah."

Invocation was offered by Elder James C. Woods.

The services were continued by the choir singing the hymn which begins as follows:

"Great God indulge my humble claim."

Elder Ephraim Jensen, recently returned from a mission to the Eastern States, was the first speaker. He said that he was very glad to again mingle with his friends in his mountain home. Elder Jensen entered the missionary field about two years ago, working in the vicinity of Boston. He determined to travel without purse or scrip as Jesus had instructed His disciples to do. The Lord had given him great strength in this and had sustained him. Later the speaker was called to labor in Boston, where he found many broad minded men and women. The difficulty, said the speaker, between the Latter-day Saints and the people has largely been brought about by the middle men, who work up sensations. But the great bulk of thinking men and women in New England take what fifth-rate preachers, sensation producing men and sensational newspapers spread abroad, with a great deal of salt.

Elder Jensen related his experience in Boston in relation to his being prohibited from preaching on Boston common. There were many people who were put out about it as they believed in fair play, and giving all an opportunity to be heard. During the ten days that his permit to speak on the comom was suspended a great deal of agitation arose. The mayor, however, was very fair, and as soon as he learned that he was under a misapprehension in regard to what the Latter-day Saint Elders were preaching, he renewed the permit. The speaker mntioned a meeting in Fremont temple in which Josiah Strong, the great leader of the Christian Endeavorers, and Eugene Young denounced the "Mormons." The latter while attempting to malign the leaders of the Church was stricken in the pulpit and had to be carried out. His place was taken by a man who had visited Utah and he proceeded to eulogize Utah and her people in the most glowing terms, characterizing Salt Lake as the Eden of the world.

Elder Jensen related the visit of Rev. Nutting, formerly a minister in Salt Lake, to Boston, at which time that churchman, in a public meeting, opened his remarks by saying that the leaders of the Church were the biggest liars in the world. The speaker showed the weakness of Nutting's position by asking him a few questions at the close of the meeting. The congregation unanimously voted to give Elder Jensen an opportunity to present his side of the question the following Sunday, but the minister would not permit it. Elder Jensen closed by quoting a few words from Josiah Quincy in which that eminent man spoke of the Prophet Joseph Smith as one who had exercised more influence over his fellow men than any other American.

The choir sang the anthem, "From Afar, Gracious Lord."

Elder James E. Talmage was the following speaker. He spoke of truth as being so rare nowadays that when it is found it is like a nugget of gold. The creed of agnosticism is becoming most popular in this day. It is a great thing to be able to say, I know this is true. If it is only a bit of truth it is worth saving.

The Latter-day Saints more than any other people possess earnestness and sincerity. Men do not die for error, they are not so eager to become martyr's that they give up their lives for a falsehood. The speaker related an interview he had recently in another State, with a gentleman of education and culture. The latter had heard an Elder on a street in his native city preaching and he stopped to hear him. The man was illiterate, without education, but he spoke not so much from the lips as from the heart, and his words appealed not so much to the mind as to the heart, and this man had received an impression that tempered his feelings towards the Latter-day Saints.

The speaker said that he had little patience with a man who rejected the measure of truth that had been given to him in mercy, because he could not see everything. He does not know how the blush of the peach or the ruddy red of the apple is brought forth by the sun's rays, yet he is willing to plant his trees and eat the fruit that grows upon them.

Elder Talmage declared that the thinking men of the world are beginning to pay attention to the Latter-day Saints. We now see in part, and prophesy in part, but we will soon possess a fullness of knowledge when the perfect day has been ushered in.

The enemies of this church are engaged in promulgating the Gospel, said the speaker. The ground is being torn up, if it is by the plows of falsehood. Thousands are being awakened from their lethargy, and their hearts are being turned to this Church through the efforts of those who are endeavoring to overthrow the work. The speaker closed by earnestly admonishing the people to maintain their unity and their faith.

The choir sang the anthem, "As the Dews from Heaven Distilling." The solo was sung by Miss Luella Ferron in her well known excellence of voice and style.

Benediction was pronounced by Elder Brigham Young.

TRIP UP CITY CREEK.

Mayor and Councilmen Do Not Favor Building a New Reservoir.

On Saturday afternoon Mayor Thompson, City Engineer Kelsey, Chairman Dooly of the board of public works, Superintendent of Waterworks Hines, Councilmen Davis, Canning, Hewlett, Robertson, Whittemore and Tuddenham made a trip up City Creek canyon and viewed the hole in the ground which was dug by the city in 1892. When the hole referred to was dug it was the intention of the city fathers to make out of it a reservoir and the visit of the officials on Saturday was to ascertain whether or not it could now be turned into a combination distributing and storage reservoir at a probable cost of $30,000. City Engineer Kelsey said the excavation would hold between 2,000,000 and 3,000,000 gallons of water, and the success attending the east bench reservoir gave rise to the suggestion that another one of the same kind would be a good thing for the city to have. An examination of the hole, however, convinced a majority of the officials that it would not be wise to spend money on it for the purpose suggested for more reasons than one. The capacity of the excavation is so small as to make it practically unserviceable as a storage reservoir, and it was concluded that the new distributing reservoir was sufficient to meet all needs for the present. Besides, the soil was found to be of such a crumbly and unstable character that the construction of a reservoir, no matter how deeply lined with cement, would be unsatisfactory. The prevailing opinion was the money which it would cost to build a reservoir up City Creek could be spent to better advantage by developing the sources of the city's water supply, in the dredging of the Jordan river to increase the flow from Utah lake, and in building a pipe-line to Big Cottonwood creek to tap the water appropriated a week ago by City Engineer Kelsey in behalf of the city.

The officials made an examination of the high line and brick tanks and found them in excellent condition. Superintendent Hines suggested that the putting in of a settling tank at the intake would improve matters considerably. His views were concurred in by the Mayor and Councilmen and as the cost will not be very great it is possible that something will soon be done in the matter.

OFF FOR MANILA.

Mrs. Lieutenants Wells and Palmer Going to Join Their Husbands.

Mrs. Lieut. Briant S. Wells and Mrs. Lieut. Guy M. Palmer left for San Francisco today to embark for the Philippines. These ladies, in company with their little daughters, have undertaken this long voyage in order to join their husbands, who have been doing valiant service in the islands for nearly two years. The innumerable friends of these young women in this city and elsewhere sincerely wish them a safe and happy voyage, and a triumphant return with their gallant young husbands.

Mrs. Wells is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Jennings of this city, and her husband is a brother of Governor Wells. Mrs. Palmer is a sister of Mrs. Jennings, Mrs. Col. Willard Young, Mrs. D. C. Dunbar, Mrs. Cora Eldredge, and Sidney K. Hooper of this city, and it will be remembered that she recently sustained the loss of her baby, which died in Oregon. Her husband was formerly stationed at Fort Douglas, and was one of the most popular young officers quartered at that post.

KNOWN BY MR. SMITH.

Salt Lake Preacher Acquainted With Victims of the Chinese.

The dispatch from China yesterday announcing the murder of Rev. and Mrs. D. H. Clapp, eight other missionaries, and three American children, came as a great shock to the Rev. Joel Smith, pastor of the Iliff M. E. church of this city. Mr. Smith yesterday stated that Dr. Clapp and his wife were intimate friends, in fact, they were all three born within a radius of three miles in Huron county, O. They went to the same school, and when they grew up were eventually appointed at the same time to labor in the mission field in China under the auspices of the American board of missions. On their way through to their appointed fields in the Orient, Rev. Smith stated that they stopped over in Salt Lake for a couple of days, making the Walker House their headquarters. They labored together in China and Japan. Taken all in all, Dr. Clapp labored in the Orient for sixteen years.

In speaking in regard to the sad affair Rev. Smith stated yesterday that the murdered missionary was generally conceded to be the most highly educated missionary among the Americans in the Orient, and was an earnest and conscientious worker.

ARRESTED FOR BATHING.

Yesterday afternoon the police were informed that a crowd of boys were bathing in Hobo Springs, near the Hot Springs. Patrol Driver Cannon and Officers Bush and Furster drove out to the hole and brought back seven of the alleged swimmers. Five of the seven were boys ranging from 11 to 14 years of age, and they gave their names as follows: Geo. Kingdon, Ed. Jackson, Alvin Peterson, Fred Hottiger and Ab. Davis. They were allowed to go. The other two gave their names as M. F. McCullough, aged 23, and John Welsh, aged 67. They were locked up.

NEW CUSTODIAN.

Ephraim Jensen Succeeds C. J. Thomas as Keeper of the Tabernacle.

Ephraim Jensen, brother-in-law of President Lorenzo Snow, and who won some fame for his fearless preaching upon Boston Common, has been appointed custodian of the Tabernacle. He succeeds Prof. C. J. Thomas, who has had charge of the great historic building for many years, and who in that time has conducted thousands of people through its vast aisles and exhibited to them its wonderful acoustic properties.

Mr. Jensen is now at his post, receiving visitors in the courteous manner which is characteristic of him.

Hereafter there will be an organ recital every morning from 10 to 11 o'clock. Visitors are welcome.

PRESIDENT RICH HOME.

Reached Salt Lake Last Night After Several Months Absence.

Elder Ben E. Rich, president of the Southern States mission, reached Salt Lake last midnight after an absence of several months. President Rich, when seen by a representative of the "News" today, said:

"I am a little bit tired and have come home for a brief rest. During this year I have traveled something over twenty-six thousand miles, and after the October conference I expect to be in the field again."

Speaking of conditions in the mission over which he presides, Elder Rich said:

"We have had a large number of sick Elders in the South this last summer on account of the extreme heat. Only one case, however, I am pleased to report, is really serious now. That is the case of Elder Williams of this city, who is suffering from typhoid fever in North Carolina; and he was better when I left Chattanooga. His brother is now at his bedside and will give him every possible assistance."

As to the progress of the work in the South, Elder Rich said: "It is going steadily on, and many converts are being made. The wide-spread wave of intense hatred that swept over the South last year has almost subsided. Only occasionally is a missionary threatened or mobbed now. We have a total of four hundred and twenty Elders in the South, and all are meeting with success in their labors and, generally speaking, are received with a hospitable welcome by the people."

SALE OF THE WATER BONDS.

A New Set of Bids to be Submitted to the Council Tomorrow.

BETTER PRICES WANTED.

Salt Lake Municipal Paper Should Bring a Good Premium on Any of the Financial Markets.

A good many citizens and taxpayers are wondering just when the two hundred and fifty thousand dollar issue of water improvement bonds will be disposed of. The probability is that a definite understanding will be reached at the meeting of the city council to be held tomorrow night. Meanwhile it is hoped that a better figure will be offered than has yet been bid for the bonds. This hope, it is believed, will be realized. Already the New York bond investment concern of Sheppard & Co., represented by O'Meara Bros., has forced the price substantially upward and the prospects are that still another raise will be forthcoming. Certain it is that Salt Lake City bonds are a good investment and should command a good figure on the financial market of any money center of the world. The new bids which are expected will come as the result of the following report from the committees on finance and municipal laws with the mayor associated, as presented to the city council on August 31st.

"Gentlemen:—Your joint committee of finance and municipal laws associated with the mayor, to whom was referred the bids offered to the council for the issue of bonds for water purposes would report that we have met and considered same, and believing that the bids offered are not as large as the city is entitled to receive for said bonds, and that a better price can be secured by calling for bids again, recommend that all the bids submitted be rejected, and the recorder be and is hereby instructed to return the certified checks accompanying said bids; and further, that the same committees with the mayor associated, be authorized to receive new bids, to be submitted to the next meeting of the council."

FELL DOWN A SHAFT.

Teancum Pratt Meets Death in Mine at Winter Quarters.

Teancum Pratt fell down a shaft in No. 4 coal mine at Winter Quarters yesterday afternoon and was instantly killed. It is not known how the unfortunate man happened to fall, but it is supposed that he lost his footing while at work.

Deceased was a son of the late Parley P. Pratt, whose name is inseparably associated with the early settlement of Utah, and the establishment of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. The news was a great shock to his many relatives in this city. His brother, Nephi Pratt, who is employed in the office of the Improvement Era, and his family, went to Winter Quarters this morning to attend the funeral.

Deceased has been a resident of Emery county for a number of years, where he has engaged in farming and mining. He once owned Helper townsite, but fortune never smiled upon him for any length of time, and his large family is now left in difficult circumstances.

The postponed conference of the Relief Society of Salt Lake Stake was held in the Assembly Hall Saturday, Sept. 8, 1900, meetings commencing at 10 a. m. and 2 p. m., Prest. M. Isabella Horne presiding. The morning was given principally to reports. The statistical and financial reports were read, also the treasurer's report for the six months ending June 30th. Ward presidents from the First to Twelfth gave their reports. They all showed a good condition of the societies, and progress along philanthropic and spiritual lines. In the afternoon Apostles Brigham Young and Heber J. Grant, and Prest. Jos. E. Taylor were present and spoke in a very encouraging and instructive manner to the sisters. The musical exercises were rendered by members of the Temple choir under the leadership of Prof. C. J. Thomas, and were excellent.
