The colored people of this city are looking longingly towards next Friday, when they will have a big celebration at St. Mark's schoolhouse, the proceeds to go to the Calvary Baptist church. The affair will begin at 11 a. m. and end at 7 p. m. The white friends of the church are cordially invited to be present.

A very pleasing program was given in the Murray Opera House last evening, under the auspices of the ward amusement committee. The affair was well attended and everyone seemed to have thoroughly enjoyed himself. The hit of the evening was made by little Miss McClellan, who was called out three times.

The preliminary plans for the Miner's Home provide for a brick and stone structure with a western frontage of 200 feet. It will be of three stories with attic and basement, with wings at either end. The ministers of the Evangelical churches and their wives will give a farewell reception Monday evening next at Westminster church to President George Bailey of Westminster college, and his wife who leave shortly for Washington, D. C., in the interest of the institution of which Mr. Bailey has been chosen the executive officer.

J. G. Wyatt, a former trumpeter of the English army, is visiting in the city for a few days. He has a long record as a soldier, as will be recognized in the fact that he was in South Africa for five years. He was in the Soudan campaign and was with the party that went to rescue "Chinese Gordon" at Khartoum. He also served in the Sioux war in this country in 1890.

Clifford Calton, the two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Calton, died yesterday afternoon of scarlet fever at his home on Park avenue. The child had not been sick but a short time, and the burial took place later in the day. Two other children of the same family are down with the same disease but their condition is not regarded as serious.

The funeral of Elizabeth Roxburg, the twelve-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Roxburg, of 184 D street, will be held from the Twentieth ward meetinghouse tomorrow at 12 o'clock. The little girl's death was caused by lockjaw, that resulted from a cut inflicted from a rusty stovepipe, which she fell upon about three weeks ago.

Old Glory was displayed for the first time over the "News" building at 8:30 this morning, when a fine new American flag, 12x20 feet, was flung to the breeze by Miss Eva Burton, secretary for Manager Burton, ably assisted by Miss Barbara Swan, and inspired by cheers from the workmen present. The "News" flag is the highest in the city; that is, of all locations below the north bench, and can be seen for many miles.

The Deseret News today received a pleasant call from Miss L. R. Lorenz, editor of the Progress-Review, published at Fillmore. Miss Lorenz is in the capital on business and pleasure combined. She is a young woman of considerable newspaper experience, having worked in and about printing establishments since childhood. She has been at Fillmore for something over a year past and reports conditions as being prosperous there.

The W. C. T. U. of this city propose to make things interesting for the army canteen, if one is established at Fort Douglas, and at their meeting yesterday afternoon, published views of General Miles, General Daggett, and other prominent opponents of the canteen were read, and the members of the union expressed themselves as heartily in favor of the same. A social and refreshments followed the meeting.

The officers and teachers of the Second ward Sunday school held their meeting last night at the home of Counselor Frank Branting, and a most enjoyable session was had. After the business of the meeting was disposed of Mr. and Mrs. Branting served their guests with a bowl of bread and milk each with bread and molasses for dessert. This rather novel menu afforded much amusement for those present, who all declared that they enjoyed it better than if it had been "pate de foie gras."

Corp. Samuel A. Jenkins, of the Eighteenth infantry, has returned to his home in Boston, having secured his release through the efforts of influential friends in the East. Jenkins is of the eldest and wealthiest families of Massachusetts, but like many another son of a noble strain, became the black sheep of the family. His release at this time was on account of the death of his father, and was secured by Senator Lodge.

John H. Lattimer, a workman employed in the interior of the new "News" building, fell 12 feet from a scaffold on the first floor, at 4:30 yesterday afternoon, and was picked up unconscious with his face and legs badly bruised and cut. A plank had become displaced unbeknown to Lattimer, and down he went. The sufferer was sent to his mother's home at 275 Fifth street, where Dr. Richards attended him. He will be able to return to work in about 10 days.

Mr. George Taggart has in his studio two portraits which will add to the already enviable fame enjoyed by that gentleman. They are full length figures of President Joseph F. Smith and Mayor Ezra Thompson, and the work in both if anything excels that hitherto done by the artist. The flesh tints are remarkable in likeness, both in face and hands, the latter being as distinctive in character as the first. It is hard to conceive in looking at these latest examples of Mr. Taggart's art, that anything more excellent could be achieved in portraiture.

The articles of incorporation of the Universal Associates has been filed with the county clerk. The corporation is a fraternal and benevolent organization and its officers are: J. M. Bowman, supreme president; M. Y. Hardy, supreme vicepresident; John James, supreme secretary; L. G. Hardy, supreme treasurer; C. W. Miles, supreme auditor; J. S. Sharp, supreme physician; R. W. Moffat, supreme organizer; H. J. Hess, supreme guide; and J. H. Thorne, supreme guard. J. M. Bowman, A. L. Thomas, J. J. Stewart, B. W. Mayo, Philip Reilly and M. A. Breeden comprise the board of control for the first six years.

A change has been made in the leadership of the orchestra of the Grand theater. Conductor Bryant has signed with the Wilbur-Kirwin Opera company and severed his connection with the theater, and his place has been filled by the appointment of Prof. William C. Clive, the wellknown violinist, who takes active charge on Monday next. As far as is known now, Prof. Clive will make no changes in the personnel of the ochestra. His reputation here as an artist and instructor has been long known, and the patrons of the theater and the professor's man, friends, will learn with pleasure of his appointment.

Those engaged in canvassing Salt Lake for quarters for the visiting Elks next August report that they have met with splendid success and so far have secured a number of contracts for rooms. The ladies of the First Methodist church have also signified their intention of assisting with the entertainment of the prospective guests and have agreed to furnish 500 meals three times a day if necessary in the parlors of the church during the convention week. Word has been received from Richmond, Va., that 250 Elks from that city in addition to over 100 of residents of Virginia are contemplating coming to Salt Lake to join in the festivities next fall.

The fact that this is a national holiday was made manifest this morning by the deserted appearance of the banks and principal business offices in the city, and the appearance of fewer people on the business streets than usual. Many of the minor places of business and markets kept open house part of the day, and although it was reported that the barbers would close early and charge two bits a shave, only a part of them closed before the day was over, and the charges were as usual. Flags were flying from the principal buildings in the city. The day is not as pleasant as it might be, with cloudy, threatening weather, and showers predicted from the weather office.

Funeral services were held last night in Undertaker Joseph E. Taylor's chapel over the remains of Mrs. Ane Birgitte Christoffersen, wife of the late Soren Christoffersen, of Manti. Quite a number of children, relatives and friends were present. The speakers were Patriarch C. C. A. Christensen, President Anthon H. Lund, and President Jos. E. Taylor, who spoke words of eulogy of the deceased and comfort to the mourners. The first two had for years been intimate friends of the departed one and her family. The remains will be taken to Manti tomorrow, where services will be held in the tabernacle. Mr. Enoch Christoffersen of Hilgard, Oregon, and Niels Jensen of Boise, Idaho, two of her sons, arrived in the city last night. They, together with the children living in this city will accompany the remains to their last resting place.

Revival of Story of Union Between Clark and Gould Roads.

BIG SCHEME IS UNDER WAY.

Plans for Fine Depot and Hotel in San Francisco and New Line To Los Angeles.

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 22.—The Examiner says that every indication points to the belief that a big railroad and financial deal is on the tapis by which George J. Gould's Missouri Pacific system will gain an entrance into San Francisco.

Prince Poniatowski, F. S. Bullock, one of his partners in several enterprises, and Sen. Clark of Montana, are represented as being connected with Gould in his scheme to extend the Gould railroad system west from Salt Lake to San Francisco. Gould will make a tour of the coast next month. While in this city he will be a guest of Poniatowski and William H. Crocker.

The alleged railroad scheme is said to contemplate the erection of a fine depot and hotel on Market street in this city. Then, as the story runs, a railroad will be run south to the San Mateo county line, either by means of a tunnel or an elevated line. From there on, a road will be built to Los Angeles to connect with the line Senator Clark is building to Salt Lake. At the Utah capital, Clark's road will connect with the Rio Grande system to Denver. At Denver it connects with his Missouri Pacific to St. Louis. From the Missouri metropolis to Toledo he owns the Wabash road, which is now being extended to Pittsburg. It is rumored that the proposed Bay and Coast railroad to Santa Cruz is involved in the Gould-Poniatowski scheme to the extent of giving the Gould road part of their entrance into the city and county of San Francisco with a branch to Santa Cruz.

When Prince Poniatowski was confronted with the outline of the rumored big deal, he positively denied that he was interested in any such scheme.

"If nothing is published now," he added, "I may be able to give out a definite story."

Mr. Bullock, who is an eastern railroad builder, when interviewed, said he could give no details as publicity was likely to spoil negotiations now in progress.

"Myself and others," he continued, "are acting for other parties, perhaps a syndicate. W. H. Crocker is not interested. While there is something in the story, it is premature at this time."

Mr. Crocker confirmed the statement that he was not interested in the matter.

OREGON SHORT LINE.

Work Being Rushed on Right of Way in Tooele County.

The Tooele Transcript says: The preliminary work on the Oregon Short Line Leamington cut-off is being crowded through this valley as fast as surveyors can cover the ground. They are now at the leveling process, and the next work will be cross sectioning for the graders. An agent of the company has been here all week securing the right of way through the valley, and he is making good progress in that work; in the first two days he had secured about six miles of the right-of-way. We understand that so far there is not much trouble in coming to terms with the owners of the land through which the line passes.

NEVADA MIDLAND.

Engineer E. A. Vail and Assistants To Commence Work Next Week.

Chief Engineer E. A. Vail of the Nevada Midland is hard at work making up the personnel of his corps of surveyors with the intention of starting for Nevada early next week for the purpose of locating the extension of the line. The preliminary survey is already completed for two-thirds of the distance below Austin Junction. President Simon Bamberger of the new line promises that work will be pushed to the limit just as soon as it is possible to complete the survey.

SAN PEDRO.

Engineering Corps of Clark Road Now Camped at Clear Lake.

The Progress Review to hand says: "The engineering corps, twenty in number, of the San Pedro (Clark) railroad are now camped at Clear Lake. Their tents form quite a town.

"The line surveyed from the top of the Leamington hill is a tangent and will run about a mile east of the Oregon Short Line railway at Clear Lake. A short route with easy grades is what a transcontinental line must have in this day and age of railroad competition, and the San Pedro people are now on the right track to gain all these advantages.

"Buy, lease or parallel the Oregon Short Line seems to be the watchword, and whatever the outcome may be, Millard county will be benefited, for we are sure of a through line to California and perhaps two of them."

An Associated Press dispatch from San Francisco, Cal., today says: United States Senator W. A. Clark, Mont., is rapidly completing the final surveys for his San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad. From the reports of Chief Engineer H. Hawgood it is known that the approximate length of the line between San Pedro and Salt Lake City will be 800 miles. Six hundred miles have been surveyed and a portion of the road built. It is estimated that by paying cash instead of raising money by a bond issue, the road can be built and equipped for $20,000,000. Cash is being raised by assessing the stock.

BURLINGTON.

Branch to be Built to Tap the New Oil Fields.

Special Correspondence.

Cody, Wyo., Feb. 21.—There is a growing belief here that the Burlington railroad is about to build a branch, or an extension of its Taluca-Cody line, to tap the Bonanza oil fields and the Kirwin mining district, southwest of this place. Already the richness of the oil and vast extent of the field in which it is found is becoming known to the outside world, and the demand for claims is keeping the county officers busy. It is said that officials of the Burlington have secured some of the choicest tracts near the oil springs, and so confident are they that the rich illuminant exists in large quantities that they are arranging to build into the district.

A line was surveyed last summer from a point near Lovell, on the Taluca-Cody branch, down through the town of Burlington to Bonanza, and on to Kirwin.

A corps of Burlington surveyors is now in the field southeast of Garland station, running surveys.

The several hundred "Mormon" colonists in the Big Horn Basin are in high feather, for with planting and caring for their crops, the building of several big canals, branch lines of railroad and the opening to development of the oil, coal and gold and copper districts, they see plenty of work ahead for years to come.

RIO GRANDE WESTERN.

Men and Teams Leave for Development of Coal Fields.

Special Correspondence.

Emery, Utah, Feb. 21.—Emery seems to be getting in the front. We have surveyors locating the road for the R. G. W. Ry. They have located through Salina canyon and Emery and are now at Ferron; our coal fields are getting thoroughly inspected these days, and to our surprise, this morning there were quite a posse of men and teams with scrapers going up Muddy canyon, to work on the coal fields there, opening them up and making a dump, ready to empty the coal into the cars. There main force of workers is believed to come from Rabbit valley. The project will enhance the value of property very materially.

Pensions for Lackawanna.

New York, Feb. 22.—Announcement has been made by the management of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad that a pension system will be placed in effect March 1, for the benefit of employes. Under the plan, as arranged by President Truesdale, any employe engaged for 25 years in any capacity in the operation of the railroad proper who has performed his duties faithfully is to be retired at 65 years of age and receive a monthly allowance proportionate to the pay which he was drawing and the length of his service.

The fund from which such payments will be made will be appropriated regularly each year by the company and the employes will not be required at any time to pay anything either for the support of the pension system or to add to the fund from which benefits will be made. To meet pension claims for the remainder of the year 1902, an appropriation of $50,000 has been made.

The amount of the pension will, as stated, depend on two conditions: The number of years the employe has served the company and the average of his regular monthly pay for ten years preceding his retirement.

SPIKE AND RAIL.

Traveling Passenger Agent E. E. Drake of the Rock Island has returned from Butte.

General Agent R. Gray of the Oregon Short Line returned from his Idaho trip this morning.

Ogden is now talking about the erection of a smelter for the treatment of the Tonopah and other Nevada ores.

The 150,000 brick for the new round house at Pocatello are on the ground. Two carloads of cement have also been received during the week.

Assistant Chief Engineer H. M. McCartney of the San Pedro has gone to Nevada for the purpose of looking over the joint survey prior to making a final report.

The Sevier and Sanpete county papers are teeming with San Pedro rumors and prophecies to the effect that Salina is destined to become the metropolis of southern Utah.

It begins to look as though the survey made last fall by the Oregon Short Line engineers via the salt works will be utilized in the Leamington cutoff scheme to the abandonment of the old narrow guage track out to Garfield.

Mr. Darlington of the White Knob Copper company has an elegant private car which he uses on the Salmon river railroad. It consists of a neat trolley which is propelled by gasoline and is said to be capable of making 35 miles an hour.

American railroad methods and American locomotives were referred to approvingly by Lord Stalburge while presiding at yesterday's meeting of the stockholders of the London & Northwestern company. "Following the American lead," said his lordship, "the Northwestern has introduced more powerful locomotives and larger wagons, resulting in marked economy.
