Strikers Are Bayonetted.

Troops Active in Quelling Disturbances and Protecting Non-Union Men—Maj. Gearheart Will Ask Military Authorities to Place Town of Lansford Under Martial Law—Gen. Gobin Will Make Investigation.

Tamaqua, Pa., Aug. 29.—In an encounter between troops and strikers at Lansford this morning, Capt. W. H. Heim, of company K, Twelfth regiment, was slightly injured. A half dozen strikers were bayonetted by the soldiers in the fracas. Maj. Gearhart, in command of the troops here, states that he will appeal to the military authorities to put the town of Lansford under martial law.

From daybreak the troops were active in quelling disturbances and protecting non-union men on their way to work. The troops were jeered wherever they went.

At 5 o'clock companies K and E were placed on two trolley cars. One of the cars preceded that which carried the non-union men to work and another took up the rear. At Summit Hill about double the usual number of men availed themselves of the protection of the soldiers and went to work. The news that more men than usual were reporting for work spread through the lower part of the valley like wild fire and in a short time the streets were almost blocked with people. When the cars stopped in Lansford to allow several non-union men to get off, the mob made a rush for them. A half dozen soldiers with leveled guns forced the strikers back, making a passage way for the non-union men.

When the soldiers returned after escorting their charges to a place of safety, the mob commenced to close in around the cars, yelling loudly. As Capt. Heim, of Company K, was about to jump from the car he was seized around the legs and thrown to the ground, being severely bruised. Half a dozen privates who followed him were roughly handled. Maj. Gearhart then ordered his men to disembark.

With clubbed guns and fixed bayonets the soldiers forced the crowd back. Many of the strikers stood their ground and would not move until the soldiers jabbed them with their bayonets. Some of the strikers, fearing that the troops would fire, rushed into the opera house on the corner and there was a wild scene of confusion. In five minutes the crowd had been pushed back to the curb line. In the melee several of the strikers were knocked down while others suffered slight bayonet wounds.

Last night a carload of timber standing on the Lehigh Coal & Navigation company's tracks at Summit Hill was started down the steep stretch of road that leads to Lansford. The car leaped the track at a sharp curve and was buried to the bottom of a mine breach.

At midnight the governor's troop, Capt. Weaver, was sent to Summit Hill to protect the home of William Henry, a non-union man. It was reported that the strikers were firing on the house. A part of the troops remained on guard all night.

GOBIN WILL INVESTIGATE.

Shenandoah, Pa., Aug. 29.—Gen. Gobin returned to headquarters today and after going over the situation with Col. Clement who was in command during his absence he decided to proceeed to Lansford and make a personal investigation of conditions there. He left this afternoon on a special train for the Panther region. It is probable the first battalion of the Twelfth regiment will be sent to this region this afternoon as Maj. Gearhart has made a request for assistance.

STRIKE SITUATION REMAINS UNCHANGED.

Philadelphia, Aug. 29.—While both mine operators and officials of the United Mine Workers state that the strike situation in the anthracite field remains unchanged, it is evident that there is greater activity at present in the coal region than at any time since the inauguration of the strike. Coal is daily being shipped from various sections of the field and several washeries are known to be in operation.

It does not follow, however, that any of the companies are cutting coal. When the strike was declared a large quantity of cut coal was left beneath the surface, ready for the breaker. According to miners' union officials it is this coal that is now being brought to the surface by the special deputies, foremen and others employed about the collieries during the strike. It also is said the big coal carrying companies are drawing on their reserve supply to satisfy the more pressing demands. What is considered a significant move on the part of the operators, is the return of the many mules from pastures to the mines. Hundreds of mine mules were taken to Lancaster and Chester counties soon after the strike began and put to graze. These are now being shipped back to the coal regions.

DEMAND REMOVAL OF NON-UNIONISTS.

Lebanon, Pa., Aug. 29.—A committee of the striking employes of the American Iron & Steel Manufacturing company called at the office of Gen. Mgr. Lord today and demanded that the colored non-union workmen from Reading and other men who had been sent here be removed and the old hands be taken back. This was refused.

A few moments later the men still at work, some 1,800, were ordered to come out. The order was obeyed almost to a man. Each carried a small American flag. Only the foremen of the different departments and a few blacksmiths remained at work.

The plant, when in full operation, employes nearly 3,000 men and boys. When the first strike occurred, 16 weeks ago, about 800 men quit. The others remained at work. Now the entire plant is idle with the exception of the portion manned by the newcomers.

MEN PATROLLED STREETS.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Aug. 29.—The strikers heard a rumor last night that the Lehigh Valley Coal company intended to concentrate all its employes at the various mines into one working force and operate the Dorrance colliery, and it is said that over a thousand men turned out this morning and patrolled the roads leading to the mines. Sheriff Jacobs went to the scene, accompanied by a large number of deputies, but no attempt was made to place any additional men in the Dorrance mine, and trouble was averted.

AN OLD MURDER MYSTERY.

Supposed Victim Turns Up After Thirty Years.

New York, Aug. 29.—Mystery surrounding a supposed murder, believed to have been committed near here 33 years ago, has bene cleared up, says a Waterloo, N. Y., dispatch to the Herald, by the discovery of the "victim" hale and hearty in Minneapolis, Minnesota. He is now on his way from that city to join the remaining members of his family.

Thomas Frederick was a lad of sixteen 33 years ago when he was employed on the farm of Charles Pickett, near Redwood. After a disput over milking, Pickett knocked the boy down. Frederick disappeared. There were no witnesses of the occurrence and no arrests were made. Pickett grieved over the suspicion directed against him and died a few years later. The boy's parents also are dead and his brothers and sisters only recently learned of his whereabouts through a letter which he addressed to the postmaster at Redwood.

The damage was widespread, but few fatalities were reported. No reports, however, have been received from parts of the island, where it is feared a serious volcanic eruption has occurred. The most serious shock was experienced the first day. It lasted one minute. At Camp Vicars the shocks overturned a cannon and rolled heavy ammunition boxes about. Collins Murder Case In Court.

Probability That Clyde Felt Will Never Be Tried For the Gruesome Hell's Hollow Tragedy—Kaighn-Haynes Murder Case Set For September 9.

From statements made by District Attorney Eichnor this mornng durng the setting of criminal cases in Judge Morse's court, it is more than probable that the case against young Clyde Felt, charged with the murder of Samuel Collins in Hell's Hollow several months ago, will be dismissed. When the case was called for setting, Mr. Eichnor stated that he had fully investigated the case and he did not know whether or not it would ever be tried. He therefore asked that it be passed for the present with the understanding that it would either be tried or dismissed at this term of court.

The case was accordingly passed by the court, and, from the stand taken by the district attorney, it is believed that Clyde Felt will never have to stand trial for the crime with which he is charged.

DISMISSED FROM GERMAN ARMY

Berlin, Aug. 29.—Capt. Von Frankenberg and First Lieut. Numbauer, of the First regiment of field artillery, have been dismissed from the army on account of the ovation given some time ago at Gumbinnen, East Prussia, to Lieut. Hildebrand, the pardoned duelist. Another officer who commanded Hilderbrand's cavalry escort the day of the manifestation has been transferred to the commissariat corps and Hildebrand's regimental commander, Lieut.-Col. Weiss, and Maj. Dieckerhoff, have resigned upon demand, although they did not participate in the demonstrations and were unaware that they were projected. The dismissals of Von Frankenberg and Numbauer were so sudden that they had to be recalled from the maneuvers when they were on duty.

THE FIGHTING AT CARUPANO.

Kingston, Ja., Aug. 29.—The German steamer Polaria, which arrived here today from Venezuelan ports last Friday, Aug. 22, reports that while at Carupano, Vz., 700 rebels attacked the place stubbornly, and got inside the town, where they were met by a thousand government troops under Gen. Velutini. Severe fighting, lasting the whole day, followed, and ended in the disorderly retreat of the rebels, several of the latter being killed or wounded. Bullets repeatedly struck the steamer and the lives of her crew being in danger, Capt. Hoff, her commander, communicated with Gen. Velutini and asked for protection. The general replied that the Polaria must clear out as she had no right to be there. Her captain refused to leave the port and telegraphed the German cruiser Gazelle, Capt. Graforcola, at La Guayra, asking for immediate protection. The Gazelle arrived at Carupano, Sunday morning, and protected the Polaria while the latter proceeded to take on cargo. This work was completed on Monday night and the Polaria sailed under the protection of the German cruiser, which also left Carupano.

When the Polaria left Carupano the Venezuelan government officials there were in fear of another and more serious attack on the place. Trade was completely crippled and many atrocities were reported.

A dispatch to the Associated Press from Willemstad, Island of Curacao, Monday, Aug. 25, announced that details had been received there of the reoccupation of the port of Carupano, Vz., by the Venezuelan government forces. It would therefore appear that the fighting referred to by the Polaria followed an attempt on the part of the insurgents to capture Carupano.

ACTIVITY ON THE WAR FLEET.

On Board U. S. Ship Alabama off Menamsha Light, Martha's Vinyard, Mass., Aug. 29.—As the first period of the war maneuvers in which the white squadron is to contend against the army is arranged to begin at midnight tonight, there was much activity today on board each warship of the fleet. Just when the battle ships, cruisers and other boats will leave this anchorage is not known, except possibly by Rear Admirals Higginson and Coghlan, the officers in command.

Although the period which starts at midnight is known at the period of preparation, it is believed that very soon after the opening hour arrives, the squadron or some part of it, will get under way and proceed to an investigation of the situation in the "enemy's" country. It is understood that during the period of preparation there may be actual bombardment or feints for the purpose of testing the efficiency of each part of the line of forts.

The squadron was augmented last night by the arrival of the converted yacht Mayflower, the Gloucester and the Leydon.

The 250 or more marines who have been camping on Martha's Vinyard returned to their ships today. Tents had been put up since Monday and the shore service had put the men in excellent condition. The army observers who are to co-operate with the navy umpires in rendering decisions as to the results of the various maneuvers also joined the fleet today. About 15 observers in all reported and, under orders from Rear Admiral Higginson they were distributed among the various ships.

Troops Will Assist Sheriff.

Charleston, W. Va., Aug. 22.—When the state troops reached Thurmond to preserve order and protect property in the mines region a request was made of Asst. Adjt.-Gen. Hutson, in command, to report to the operators at Rush Run for instructions. He refused point blank and said he was there with troops to act under instructions from the sheriff of the county to preserve order and not to take instructions from operators. Sheriff Daniel then took three companies and the signal corps to Rush Run to guard the public roads and then took three companies and the signal corps to Rush Run to guard the public roads and protect people. The remainder of the troops bivouacked at Thurmond. No outbreak of any kind occurred today. The entire strength of the regiment, 300, would be entirely inadequate in case of violence. The output in the New River field yesterday was 3,300 tons, about one-tenth of the usual amount.

Cantwell, secretary, from Washington, and Wilmot Dunn, of Nashville, Tenn., chief collector of the insurance department. Chief among the questions to be considered is the proposition to hold a biennial, instead of an annual convention. Should this plan be adopted the next convention will be in 1904 and St. Louis will probably be chosen as the meeting place although, Minneapolis and Columbus, O., are also contesting for the honor.

SMALL AND SALT LAKE.

How the Disabled Temperance Advocate Behaved While Here.

The Rev. Sam Small, whose liquifying effect performances during his "temperance" lecture tour in Vermont has brought him into special prominence as a religious fakir, was in 1889 or 1890 a resident of this city. The occasion of his being here was his election as president of the Utah Methodist university, the creation of Rev. Dr. Iliff's brain and vigorous enthusiasm. The "university" was located at Ogden after a lively hearing at Davis' hall in this city when there was a royal discussion before a specially appointed board, between Salt Lake and Ogden real estate talent. The latter promised pretty much the entire earth, but when the time came to deliver the goods, their Humpty Dumpty fell off the wall, and all the kings, horses and all the king's men could not put Humpty Dumpty together again. Moreover, the good Methodist brethren got into the liveliest kind of a squabble among themselves, in which Rev. J. Wesley Hill soared through the hurricane like a stormy petrel, and it was believed that the spray he kicked up over the birth of that "university" was largely instrumental in its very early and untimely demise. Rev. Sam Small was chosen president, and conducted himself with propriety, but the row was too much for him and he finally threw up and quit in disgust. He preached here a number of times, and became quite well acquainted in educational circles.

WYOMING OIL FIELDS.

What Chicago Owners and Experts Have to Say of Them.

Dr. S. S. Spencer and F. R. Holmes of Chicago who are much interested in the Evanston oil fields, were at the Knutsford this morning. They represent the Holmes Oil company operating on section 32, 1½ miles from Leroy station on the Union Pacific, and have a well down 830 feet. Already it has yielded 100 barrels of oil, and Dr. Spencer shows a pint bottle of the product which he says analizes 9 per cent pure. It has a paraffine base, and contains 5 per cent of rigoline, the doctor states which is worth $6 per ounce. The value of the oil is placed at $10 per barrel, and the company will sink two additional wells, and lay a pipe to the railroad station, where a tank will be built.

Both Dr. Spencer and Mr. Holmes are enthusiastic over the oil prospects in southwestern Wyoming, and say that section is destined to become one of the great oil producing centers of the earth. There is no trouble getting money now for investment there from eastern money centers, as the quality of the oil has been so clearly demonstrated that the matter is beyond the experimental stage.

The pipes have been recovered, and the prisoner says he will disclose the other articles to the police.

CHAIN GANG INCREASED.

Police Round Up a Large Crowd of Vagrants.

Last night, the police rounded up a big crowd of vagrants, and as a result, fourteen Weary Willies faced Judge Diehl this afternoon. They all told the same story about having worked on the railroad. ROTTEN EGG ASSAULT.

Young Hoodlums Continue Nuisance That Should be Effectually Abated.

Manager Copp of the Associated Press offices in this city, complained to the police this afternoon of the depredations of a gang of young hoodlums who pelted the office windows with an assortment of aged eggs. Had the windows been raised, no doubt considerable damage would have been done. The rear of the Tribune building was also adorned with great dobs of yellow, according to the police. Just why the crowd acted in such an outrageous and unwarranted manner, is not known, and it is difficult to understand just what grievance these boys have against Mr. Copp or his office.

Patrol Driver Armstrong was detailed to make an investigation, but no arrests were made.

Colombia Will Make a Demand

Nicaragua Must Explain Her Alleged Participation in the Revolution Against the Colombian Government—Demand Will Be Backed Up With Formidable Land and Naval Force—Much Surprise in Washington Diplomatic Circles.

Washington, Aug. 29.—Colombia will formally demand of Nicaragua an explanation in regard to the latter country's alleged participation in the revolution against the Colombian government and back up her demand with the most formidable land and naval force she can muster, as soon as the present rebel activity on the isthmus has been crushed. Information to this effect was received from an authoritative source in Washington today.

The above intelligence causes considerable surprise in diplomatic circles, for but a few weeks ago it was announced that Mr. Concha, the Colombian minister, and Mr. Corea, the Nicaraguan minister, had established an entente cordiale between their respective governments; that bygones were to be regarded as bygones, and that the time was ripe for a satisfactory understanding by the two governments. It is now learned that the initial move toward the establishment of an amicable understanding between Nicaragua and Colombia was made by Mr. Corea, who also proposed to Mr. Concha an adjustment of the difficulties which have so long been pending over Colombia's claim to the ownership of a strip of what is claimed by Nicaragua to be part of her coast line. Minister Concha declined to accede to the latter proposition, declaring that a claim which Colombia had brought forward for so many years could not be adjusted, or in fact brought to any material degree toward adjustment by the methods suggested by the Nicaraguan minister. However, Mr. Concha was entirely willing to join Mr. Corea in the establishment of an entente cordiale.

Shortly after Minister Corea's arrival in Nicaragua, where he went some weeks ago on a leave of absence, the Colombian minister here, it is stated, received information to the effect that arms and ammunition for the Colombian rebels on the isthmus were being shipped from Corinto. The Colombian legation here had been receiving reports of this character continually and in view of the arrangement effected with the Nicaraguan minister before he left Washington, Senor Concha lost no time in calling Mr. Corea's attention to the matter. The latter official replied that President Zelaya would immediately institute an investigation to ascertain if the reports were well founded. A short time ago, however, more reports were received in Washington, to the effect that Nicaragua still continued her material support of the revolutionists on the isthmus, and Colombia now, it is stated, finds her patience exhausted and decided to present a formal demand for an explanation. Meanwhile, it is understood the entente cordiale has only a nominal existence. It is not anticipated that the affair will lead to an actual war with Nicaragua, but nevertheless Colombia is making preparations to back up her representations with a reinforced army and navy. It develops that the purchase of the well armed war vessel at Seattle, as well as several prospective purchases of warships for the Colombian navy, have Nicaragua rather than the present troubles on the isthmus in view.

MR. LAMBERT'S SPECIMENS

Are Presented to the Museum of the L. D. S. University.

Mr. Richard G. Lambert has a genius for collecting specimens that are interesting from a scientific or antiquarian standpoint. He has lately presented to the museum of the Latter-day Saints' university a box of valuable specimens secured at different times during his various trips through southern Utah, Arizona and New Mexico. This set of specimens is of peculiar value to the university for class illustration. It consists chiefly of metal-bearing ores, miscellaneous minerals, and plant and animal fossils. The collection will be given a special place among the museum cabinets and will bear Mr. Lambert's name. It is his intention to add to this collection from time to time, so that it may serve as a nucleus around which will grow the evidences of his industry and ability as a collector. Prof. Paul is highly pleased with the gift, and will report it to the board of trustees.

CLEVER ESCAPE.

Boy Outwits Officer Smith and Climbs On a Car.

Deputy Sheriff Smith on the Saltair police force has been busy explaining how it happened today. Smith says he left his prisoner in the baggage car on the last train in to Salt Lake last night while he went to get a drink of water. When he returned the youth had vanished and a subsequent exploration of the train failed to materialize the erstwhile prisoner.

It appears that early in the evening the boy had developed a stout and venement hunger. To alleviate this distressing state of affairs he is alleged to have prospected among the lunch baskets with great aplomb. In due season the owners of the aforesaid viands discovered the state of affairs and a prolonged wail went up that eventually reached the ears of the deputy. After a due amount of sleuthing Smith made for the youth, while the boy promptly sprinted for the train. An employe at the beach, however, checked him in his mad career by a timely low tackle. He was brone in triumph to the baggage car where Smith and he indulged in a catch-as-catch-can bout. Smith is said to have registered a throw and then to have sat on his chest to ensure both shoulders touching the mat for the prescribed time. When the train pulled out Smith made his prisoner sit in a chair and behave. Finally, the officer being thirsty, he asked an interested spectator to watch the boy while he went back to get a drink. The scheme would possibly have been all right had not the stranger happened to be a bosom friend of the prisoner. No sooner had Smith disappeared than the prisoner duplicated the performance. The only difference was that the boy climbed on to the roof of the car and remained there until the train reached Salt Lake when he slid off and escaped in the darkness.

A FARMER'S MISFORTUNE.

Suffers Heavy Loss by Fire and Attempts to Drown Sorrow by Drink.

Andrew Lundgreen, an old farmer residing out near Mill Creek, is in dire distress. Wednesday afternoon, Chris Nielson, a neighbor, unintentionally set fire to some dry grass on Lundgreen's place, but carelessly went off and left it to burn itself out. The result was that Lundgreen's place was practically destroyed. His barn, a cow, wagon, mowing machine, fence and 16 tons of hay were all burned up. Lundgreen made a gallant fight to save his place and succeeded in preventing the flames from reaching his cabin. He felt so badly yesterday, he concluded to come down town and take a few drinks. He took too many and last night was arrested by a cruel, unfeeling policeman and thrown in the drunk house. The old man stated this morning that it was the first time in three years that liquor has passed his lips. He was discharged by Judge Diehl this afternoon.

CLIFFORD JAILED AGAIN.

May be Charged With the Offense of Perjury.

Harry Clifford, who was acquitted by Judge Diehl on the charge of vagrancy, was re-arrested by Detectives Chase and Gillespie last night, and locked up on the charge of perjury. It is alleged that Clifford was sworn and testified during his trial, that he did not and had not lived at a house of ill-fame on Commercial street. Some of the inmates of the joint have told the officers that Clifford was there for some time. The prosecution is undecided just now, what to do in the matter. If a complaint charging perjury is not drawn up, then Clifford will be charged with vagrancy under the state law.

SIX MONTHS FOR BAXTER.

Pleaded Guilty to Petit Larceny—His Wife Discharged.

In Judge Diehl's court this morning, H. P. Baxter and his wife, were arraigned on the charge of petit larceny, it being alleged that they stole a silk raglan coat from G. S. Hoogland. Both entered a plea of not guilty and were committed to the county jail. As they were about to depart in charge of an officer, Baxter said he would plead guilty if they would discharge his wife. The county attorney agreed to this order of things, and the plea was accordingly changed. Judge Diehl sentenced Baxter to 60 days in the county jail, and ordered the woman released. She has promised to leave town and stay away. They are the persons who were arrested on the charge of shoplifting and charged with grand larceny. On habeas corpus proceedings before Judge Morse, they were given their liberty, but were immediately re-arrested on the charge for which they were in court this morning.
