PROVO.

J. E. COTTER DISCHARGED.

Not Sufficient Evidence to Convict Him With the Arson Case—Notes.

Special Correspondence.

Provo, March 19.—David J. Thurman of Lehi testified yesterday in the Jensen-Cotter examination that the creamery handled 1,200 to 1,300 pounds of milk daily from May to October, and less the rest of the year. He had been told by Mr. Cotter of the attempt of Snyder and Lee to extort money from Cotter, and had advised Cotter to lay the matter before the county officers, which he did. On cross-examination Mr. Thurman testified that the reputation of Cotter for truth, honesty and integrity was good.

J. H. Holliman was recalled and testified that Jennings had told him that some man, mentioning the name of "Kidder," was back of the scheme to burn the creamery. Holliman said there was no such man in Lehi and had suggested the name of Cotter and Jennings had said, "Yes, that's the name."

County Clerk Bachman testified that the taxes on the creamery for 1903 was $52.61, except $1.36, assessed against the land, had been remitted after the fire. This was stricken out on motion of the defense.

The prosecution rested, and Mr. Evans of counsel for Cotter moved that he be discharged, as there was no evidence to connect him with the crime. The prosecution objected to the motion because the defense had introduced evidence—the evidence of good character—for Cotter, and the prosecution held that the motion was not proper for that reason. The court sustained the objection. Attorney Warner then made a motion to discharge Jennings on the grounds that there was no evidence except the uncorroborated evidence of accomplices. The motion was argued and denied. No evidence was introduced by Jennings in defense and he was held to the district court in $1,000 bonds.

The case was then argued as to Cotter on the same grounds as the motion to discharge Jennings, and Justice Noon held that there was not sufficient evidence to to connect Cotter with the crime, and discharged him.

BIOGRAPHICAL.

William Burgess, son of William Burgess and Violate Stockwell, born March 1, 1822, in Putnam county, state of New York. On Dec. 2, 1832, his parents joined the Church, and in August, 1833, the family started to move to Jackson county, Mo. When they arrived at Kirtland, O., the Prophet Joseph Smith requested them to stay there and help to build the temple. In 1835 he was baptized into the Church by his brother, Harrison Burgess; there were about 30 others baptized at the same time. At the meeting later, when they were being confirmed, they sat on three seats, Elder Burgess being on the back seat and, as the brethren were proceeding with the second row the Prophet Joseph told them to hold on a minute, when he came down from the stand and, with the other Elders, went to the back seat and Elder Burgess was confirmed by the Prophet, who then went back to his seat and told the Elders to proceed with the confirmation of the others. He lived with the Prophet's family for two years, and stayed in Kirtland and worked on the temple until it was finished, and passed through all the persecutions of the Saints in Kirtland. In 1838 he moved to Missouri, and was counseled to settle at Adam-on-Diammon, arriving there in August, and remaining there during the troubles at that place. He was taken prisoner there and greatly abused by the mob, and in the spring of 1839 Elder Burgess, with the Saints, was driven from the state. They had to leave their homes and all other property without getting a cent for it, and were thankful that their lives had been spared. In September, 1840, he married Mariah Pulsipher, daughter of Zerah Pulsipher, and Mary Ann Brown, and in 1841 moved to Nauvoo and was elected captain of the third company, fifth regiment of the Nauvoo legion. He passed through the privations and trials of Nauvoo, and assisted in building the temple.

In May, 1846, he and family started west, remaining a short time in Iowa and in September of this year arrived at Winter Quarters at the time when so much sickness prevailed. He left there in the spring of 1848 and arrived in Salt Lake valley the 22nd of September, 1848, and camped that winter in the old Fort. In the spring of 1849 the militia was organized and Elder Burgess was elected captain of the Fifth company First regiment of infantry and in 1854 he was elected colonel of the Second regiment of infantry. In 1844 he was ordained a Seventy and in 1854 he was ordained a president in the Ninth quorum of Seventy. In the spring of 1855 he was called and went on a mission to Salmon river, was appointed counselor to President Thomas S. Smith. He made three trips to Salmon river, and then settled in Salt Lake City. In 1862 he was called to go to Dixie. He went and settled in Pine valley and put up a saw mill which furnished most of the lumber for that part of the country. In 1880 he moved to Thurber, Wayne county, and in 1885 came to Huntington and engaged in carpenter work and fruit raising. In 1892 his wife Mariah died. The deceased was the father of 14 children, 100 grandchildren, 129 great-grandchildren, and 12 great-great-grandchildren. Seventy-three of his descendants were at the funeral.

COLTON.

RIO GRANDE SPORTS GREEN.

Patriotic Sons of Erin Rejoice—The Strike Situation—Sunday School.

Special Correspondence.

Colton, March 18.—The 17th of Ireland was well remembered here, shamrocks, green ties and rosetts galone. Yesterday an Irishman was elated when he saw three locomotives pass, each displaying two green flags on the pilot and two on ther ear of tank. Not knowing the use of different colored signals of the railroad, concluded the Rio Grande was celebrating in proper fashion, and that the Irish would return the compliment by patronizing the Western railway exclusively.

THE STRIKE SITUATION.

Business is beginning to pick up now that the strike situation has quieted down and many of the striking miners have left the state. The strike agitators, Demolli and Price, occasionally visit the coal camps but with no visible results. The output of the Clear Creek and Winter Quarters mines averages about 70 cars daily. Occasionally a few of the miners quit work and go home on the farm that now needs their attention, but other miners from the valley soon fill the places vacated at the mines.

The coal company still have armed guards at the "dead line" to each mine and on every train to and from Scofield.

The few striking miners remaining, still have hopes of winning out, and that soon.

Elder Pratt of Price has started Sunday school here, the last two have been well attended and a fine program is being arranged for easter Sunday.

The weather about Colton has been delightful for some tome past. Very little snow has fallen here this winter.

POCATELLO, IDAHO.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCE.

Held in New Meeting House—Prominent Speakers—An Interesting Occasion.

Special Correspondence.

Pocatello, Ida., March 7.—The first quarterly confenence of the Pocatello stake, since the completion of the new church, convened here last Sunday after a lapse of six months.

A Sabbath school officers' conference, under the auspices of the Sunday school union, convened at 9 a. m., which merged into the regular Sunday school. A concert exercise in memory drills from the New Testament was led by Prof. E. J. Norton, after which each class was given a special drill in class work, under the inspection of Prof. Henry Petersen, of the L. D. S. university.

The afternoon conference scored a large attendance, filling the house to a capacity of 500, with evening services the same. Elder Geo. A. Smith, of the Apostle's quorum, and Prest. Jonathan G. Kimball, of the Seventies, were the visiting speakers. The choir rendered choice hymns and anthems during service.

Pres. Wm. A. Hyde first reported the Pocatello stake as progressing fairly well. Of the Pocatello ward he said we had about 260 families of which 200 rented houses at a minimum of $10 a month, an aggregate of $2,000 dollars a month, leaving only a marginal fraction to defray expenses of our new church. The general and local Church authorities were sustained without a dissenting voice.

The following changes of officers were sustained: Mrs. Sameda Shumway and Lizzie Cutler were released from the stake primary board, and Mrs. Maria A. Woodland was sustained as treasurer, E. A. Hudson, and M. V. Hall as aids, and Alice Allen as stake missionary. Jos A. Brim, Wm. H. Ellis and Thos. M. Woodland were released from the stake Y. M. M. I. A. board, and Leroy Harrison was sustained as second assistant to Stake Superintendent E. J. Norton.

Apostle Smith gave a stirring address on the real difference between our Church and the world at large, through the medium of revelation the heavens were opened to us but to the world it was as though the heavens were of brass, because of the unbelief in the world. A soprano solo was rendered by little Leathe Tuft entitled "Suffer little children to came unto me."

The evening session was under the auspices of the Young Men and Young Ladies' associations. Mrs. Joseph Pitts gave a lecture upon the last days before Christ's second coming. A ladies' quartette was given by the Misses Izetta and Idabella Clark, Lillian Spillman and Eva Harrison, entitled: "Jesus My Savior." Miss Ida Houts, and Mrs. Joseph Pitts were sustained as stake missionaries, Miss Nellie G. Hansen as stake organist.

Prof. Petersen spoke of the leafing of the fig tree. Apostle Smith spoke of the Young Men's Improvement work, including the Rosetta stone, and the discovery of the Book of Mormon. Elder Kimball spoke of developing the youth into independent speakers, also on chastity and purity.

The conference concluded with a forenoon session Monday, the principal speakers were Elder Kimball and Thos. L. Cox, a recently returned missionary from England, released on account of poor health after an absence of 17 months.

AN HISTORICAL PLACE SOLD.

J. P. Gammon Buys the "T. A. Ranch"—Scene of the "Cattle War" of 1892.

Special Correspondence.

Buffalo, Wyo., March 16.—The "T. A." ranch, one of the historical spots in northern Wyoming, has been sold by Dr. William Harris to J. P. Gammon of Spearfish, the price paid being about $225,000. The "T. A." ranch was established by Dr. Harris in 1881. In the spring of 1892 it was the seat of the much exploited "Johnson County Cattle War." It was near this ranch that the citizens of Johnson county made a final stand against the invasion of the cattle kings, and it was here that Champion and Ray, alleged cattle rustlers, were killed by the invaders, in a pitched battle that waged for several hours. The citizens were rapidly surrounding the invaders when the United States troops from Ft. McKinney, near here, now abandoned, came to their rescue and the cattlemen were taken prisoners and transported to Cheyenne, where they were kept in the "bull pen" until their cases were settled in the courts.

The new owner will move to the "T. A" ranch with his family, and while the property is one of the best in this country, it will be still further improved by Mr. Gammon.
