LOCAL BRIEFS.

Leon Isaacs, once a resident of Salt Lake, but now of California, where he is secretary of the state horticultural society, paid this city a brief visit on his way home from a trip to Mexico.

Tuesday afternoon an informal reception will be tendered the members of the University faculty and their friends, by the Alpha Pi fraternity, at their house on Twelfth East street.

Dr. James E. Talmage will lecture tonight in the Twenty-seventh ward chapel on "Scandinavia and her People" illustrated with stereopticon views. The lecture is for the benefit of the ward chapel.

The colored Odd Fellows held memorial services last evening at the Calvary Baptist church on First South street which were largely attended. In the afternoon the members of the order paraded the streets headed by the Twenty-ninth Infantry band.

According to the records in the county auditor's office, Edward Morgan, 15 years of age, has established a record for bounty on sparrow eggs. On Saturday, Morgan brought in 81 dozen, or 972 sparrow eggs. He received a bounty of 5 cents per dozen on them or a total of $4.05 for the entire lot. Charlie Barker is second highest, he having brought in 57 dozen on May 10.

Judge Charles B. Bellinger, who died in Oregon on the 12th inst., is said to have been a member of a company that traveled westward with the Pioneers under President Brigham Young, in 1847. Bellinger was a child at the time, and his father and associates parted with the Pioneers at Bear Valley, and proceeded to Oregon, where they permanently settled.

On account of the small attendance at the meeting in the city council chamber yesterday afternoon of the Utah Society of Philippine Veterans no definite arrangements were made for the Decoration day parade. The next meeting will be held on Sunday, May 28, at the council chamber, and a full attendance is desired so that final arrangements for the exercises may be made.

Rev. Frank Fay Eddy discoursed upon the subject of "The Unitarian and Orthodoxy" at Unity hall Sunday morning. The Unitarian was described as being possessor of the two characteristics, love and rationalism. The first of these is the real test of Christianity, and unites the Unitarian with his fellow Christians. Rationalism drives him away fro mthe claims of orthodox Christianity.

WANT HIM TO RETURN.

Prof. McClellan Invited to Give Autumn Concerts at Minneapolis.

Prof. John J. McClellan and wife and John E. Hansen and wife returned from Minneapolis yesterday morning, after an absence of 10 days from Salt Lake. Prof. McClellan gave his final organ recital at the great Minneapolis Auditorium on Thursday afternoon last. His last number was the heaviest in all of his extensive repertoire and was received with marked enthusiasm and applause. The demonstration was such a one that is only witnessed on rare occasions. During the outburst he suddenly started the national anthem, "The Star Spangled Banner," and the scene that ensued was probably never equalled in a Minneapolis amusement house. When the last strains of the grand old air had died away there were shouts of bravo and many an introduction without the formality of an introduction. The praise of the Utah artist's work was of the warmest and sincerest nature and the Auditorium management informed the professor that he must consider himself re-engaged for a series of autumn recitals to be given probably in November.

What you pay for extracts is important, but what you get more important. Ask for Burnett's Vanilla, get the best.

BISHOP WHITNEY AT TABERNACLE.

There is No Necessary Conflict Between Mormonism and Americanism.

THE GOSPEL PROTECTS ALL.

Boundaries of Christ's Kingdom, Yet To Come, Wider Than Boundaries Of Christ's Church.

The services at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon were presided over by President John R. Winder. The hymn beginning, "Author of faith, Eternal Word," was rendered by the choir, and Elder Joseph E. Taylor offered the opening prayer. "We're not ashamed to own our Lord," was then sung by the choir.

Bishop Orson F. Whitney addressed the congregation. He began by saying that before reading certain passages of Scripture, which would form the basis of his remarks, he desired to say that he felt honored at being called to address such a congregation. He had heard yesterday that several hundred ministers of the various Christian sects would be visitors in the city this Sabbath day, and that in all probability some of them would attend the Tabernacle. Whether any of these gentlemen were present, he did not know, but in behalf of those who had appointed him to speak, he extended to them a hearty greeting and a cordial welcome within our gates. He was happy in the belief that those present would go away and tell the truth concerning what they had seen and heard. This was all that was asked of them. The Latter-day Saints rejoice in the means of rapid communication and swift transportation, foretold in Scripture, and now realized by mankind, which made it possible for "many to run to and fro" and for "knowledge to increase." The time is coming when it will not be necessary for man to preach the knowledge of God unto his fellows, for all shall know Him, from the least unto the greatest.

It is not the easiest thing in the world, said the speaker, for men to tell the exact truth of what they see and hear. We find no fault with men and women who try to speak of things as they find them among us, though they sometimes fall short of the truth; but we do blame those whose sole desire seems to be to falsify and malign.

Here Bishop Whitney related the story of the two mounted knights, who met upon a road where a statue had been placed. The statue bore a shield, and one of the knights declared it to be a golden shield, while the other, riding from the opposite direction, maintained that it was not of gold but of silver. The argument became heated, and a personal combat ensued, and soon the twain lay unhorsed and dying in the dust. But the combat had fallen in each other's erstwhile positions, and discovered, when too late, that both were right, and both were wrong—the shield being golden upon one side and silver upon the other.

The speaker appealed to the visitors to survey "Mormonism" from both sides, or from all sides, as the truth concerning it could be determined in no other way.

To the poet there is no poem so sublime as "Mormonism," the great tragic drama of the ages played upon the stage of human existence with mortal men and women as the actors, and Gods and angels as the spectators. The philosopher would find in "Mormonism" a fountain of philosophy, unfathomable and beyond the comprehension of finite man. To the philanthrophist it is a system of benevolence, succoring the needy and lifting the fallen. To the patriarch it is a grand patriarchal family, with God the universal Father at the head and the whole human race as His sons and daughters. But to men whose ideals go no higher than material things calculated in dollars and cents, whose only aim is to get and keep all they can, "Mormonism" is naught but a system of commercialism. Such a one cannot comprehend it. The licentious man sees in "Mormonism" a system of licentiousness. And thus it goes. It assumes a variety of phases, according to the spirit in which it is viewed. How needful then that we should investigate it by the Spirit of God, which alone can comprehend and interpret the things of God.

The speaker then read the forty-fourth verse of the second chapter of Daniel as follows:

"And in the days of these kings shall the God of Heaven set up a kingdom, which shall never be destroyed; and the kingdom shall not be left to other people, but it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand for ever."

He also read the twenty-seventh verse of the seventh chapter.

In commenting on these passages of Scripture, Bishop Whitney reminded those present, that the Latter-day Saints in times past had been accused of treason against the government, because they believed in the literal fulfillment of the words that he had read. A charge of treason, based upon these prophecies, once sent the Prophet Joseph Smith to a prison cell. The speaker said he was not fearful that the intelligent congregation before him would accuse him or his fellow religionists of treason for quoting the words of Daniel and presenting an interpretation thereof. The "Mormon" people had given too many proofs of their loyalty and devotion to their country to be honestly accused of treason by reasonable and well informed men and women. Joseph Smith taught his people that the Constitution of the United States was inspired of God, and that when the time should come that evil and designing men would seek to overthrow it, the Saints would be among its foremost defenders. There is no disloyalty in "Mormonism." Its adherents are loyalty and devotion itself. The Utah boys, upon a hundred battle fields in the Philippines, demonstrated that fact, as the "Mormon" Battalion boys had done before them. This false charge of treason was the cause of much of the persecution visited upon the Saints in Ohio, Missouri and Illinois.

The Latter-day Saints are not the only people who believe that the words of Daniel relative to the setting up of the kingdom of God will be fulfilled. With the orthodox sects of Christendom, that kingdom is believed to have been set up already, while to the "Mormon" people the fulfillment is still an event of the future.

An analysis of the dream of Nebuchadnezzar and its interpretation by Daniel, were then given by the speaker, to prove that the kingdom of God was not established by Christ when He came to earth in the meridian of time. A very important move, looking to the establishment of the kingdom, was doubtless made by the Father when He sent His Son to atone for the sins of the world but this was the case also when He placed Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden, when He called Abraham, and at other periods were only preparations for the kingdom yet to come. Our Christian friends cannot go further than we go in honoring Jesus Christ as the King, but the establishment of His dominion is an event yet to be. Wherever the Priesthood is, there are the keys of God's kingdom. The Gospel has been restored to the earth in latter days, as another event preparatory to the setting up of the kingdom.

Who was this Joseph Smith of whom the Latter-day Saints speak? He was a Prophet of God chosen and sent to open the last dispensation—the dispensation of the fulness of times. The congregation were admonished not to reject a Prophet because of his name, of what his enemies might say of him. You cannot lessen the value of a diamond by covering it with cobwebs and dust. A tree must be judged by its fruits, a fountain by the water that issues from it. You cannot dispose of this Prophet by calling him "Old Joe Smith."

Through this man's instrumentality the Gospel has been restored to the earth. This same Gospel had no doubt saved other worlds, as this earth, according to "Mormonism," is only one of many that God has created, peopled and redeemed. Hence it was the everlasting Gospel.

Referring again to the setting up of the kingdom of God, the Bishop said he believed the Lord had that event in view when He sent Columbus to uncover a new world, and also when He inspired the pen of Jefferson to write the Declaration of Independence, and provided the sword of a Washington to defend it. This was the only land upon which the Gospel standard could have been raised, and there is no necessary conflict between a government and a church both of which insure the fullest measure of liberty to the humbliest citizen or member, both of which recognize and practise the great principle of common consent. When the kingdom of God shall be established on earth all its subjects will not be Latter-day Saints, though necessarily all the members of this Church will be. The boundaries of the kingdom will be wider and more extended than the boundaries of the Church, and all God's children will be protected in their rights and privileges, irrespective of belief or unbelief in the doctrine that any church may advocate.

The "Hallelujah" chorus was rendered by the choir, and the benediction was pronounced by Elder Rudger Clawson.

Why Suffer From Rheumatism?

Why suffer from rheumatism when one application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm will relieve the pain? The quick relief which this liniment affords makes rest and sleep possible, and that alone is worth many times its cost. Many who have used it hoping only for a short relief from suffering have been happily surprised to find that after awhile the relief became permanent. Mrs. V. H. Leggett of Yum Yum, Tennessee, U. S. A. writes: "I am a great sufferer from rheumatism, all over from head to foot, and Chamberlain's Pain Balm is the only thing that will relieve the pain." For sale by all druggists.

ONE MORE SESSION.

Interesting Sunday School Lecture Series Nearly Finished.

The work for this year in the University Sunday school is drawing to a close, there being only one more session in the term. The Sunday school convened as usual yesterday and interesting lectures were delivered in the respective classes by Dr. Talmage and Prof. Mills.

After a brief review of the last preceding lecture Dr. J. E. Talmage presented the subject of the call to the apostleship in the days of Jesus, under the title of "The Chosen Twelve." Preparatory to the official act of calling and ordaining the Twelve, Jesus spent the entire night in prayer, communing with His Father in the solitude of the mountains. Then in the early dawn He called 12 from among those who had attached themselves to Him as disciples, and these 12 He named Apostles. We are told that He ordained them, in order that they might have the requisite authority and power when He would send them out to preach and administer in the ordinances of the Gospel. The personal characteristics of the several Apostles were given by the lecturer and much valuable information thus imparted.

On Sunday next the last lecture of the course in the current session will be given.

Prof. Mills, in his lecture on the Book of Mormon, discussed his subject from the question "Who Wrote the Book of Mormon," dwelling particularly on the Spaulding story.

During the general exercises Miss Edith Grant sang a sacred solo, "Who Are These Arrayed in White," which was very pleasingly rendered.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Very Best.

"I have been using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and want to say it is the best cough medicine I have ever taken," says Geo. L. Chubb, a merchant of Harlan, Mich. There is no question about its being the best, as it will cure a cough or cold in less time than any other treatment. It should always be kept in the house ready for instant use, for a cold can be cured in much less time when promptly treated. For sale by all druggists.

The Kidneys and the Skin.

In the spring, the kidneys have much to do. If they are weak or torpid, they will not do it well, and the skin will be pimply or blotchy. That is telling the story in a few words.

Hood's Sarsaparilla strengthens and stimulates the kidneys, cures and prevents pimples, blotches and all cutaneous eruptions.
