me was unfair, and was for more than the value of the clothes. I then offered to pay all the costs, and get the judgement vacated, provided he would deliver the clothes, which was all Mr. Rumel wanted. Nothing was said about the maliciousness of the suit."

In taking up the subsequent suit for the receivership of the company, Mr. Moyer explained that Innes had bought a half interest in the business established, and put on a successful basis by Smith, and had secured the shares from Smith upon representations that he was a desirable partner, and was familiar with the clothes cleaning business. Smith found he was not desirable, and quarrels resulted. Innes bought more shares, securing a majority of the stock, elected himself manager and seemed in a fair way to squeeze Smith out of the business. Smith held the note of Innes for $250 in part payment of the shares, and he refused to pay this, so Smith brought the case to Moyer. When called in to the lawyer's office on the matter Innes said "I'll follow you and Smith to h— before I'll pay this note, if you sue on it." Innes then had Smith arrested for collecting money due the firm, but Smith was dismissed on the testimony of Innes himself. He then placed a chattel mortgage on the business with Peters, and convinced that this was wrong and intended to defraud Smith, Moyer called Innes in. He offered to compromise by paying Innes all he had put into the business if he would turn it over to Smith, and get out of it. Innes replied that he would be d—d if he would do this, so Moyer went ahead and asked for a receiver. The petition was granted by Judge Morse, and Paul Smith was appointed. In less than 24 hours Mr. Smith was objected to by Innes on account of his being interested in the business, through his wife, who now held his shares. As a consequence he was removed and Cyrus Gatrell was appointed. This item was followed by the filing of charges against Moyer.

ENCAMPMENT OF ARMY VETERANS.

(Special to the "News.")

Ogden, May 15.—The state encampment of the G. A. R. is being held in Ogden today. Public buildings and many business blocks and residences are artistically decorated with the Stars and Stripes. But by far the most attractive feature was the appearance of about 5,000 school children, who assembled along the line of march, near the city hall park. The public schools were represented, as were also the Weber Stake academy, who turned out in force, the deaf and blind school and other institutions of learning. As the veterans marched eastward on Twenty-fifth street, the children waved the flags they carried and sang national hymns, which thrilled the hearts of the old soldiers. The order of procession was first, a platoon of police; Nichol's band; Spanish war veterans, members of the National Guard; National Commander-in-Chief Blackmar and staff; department commanders and staffs; department commander of Utah and staff; past department commanders in carriages; the posts of McKean, Hancock, Maxwell, Sherman, and Dix-Logan; ex-Confederate soldiers; Blackhawk war veterans, the Women's Relief corps of McKean, Maxwell and Dix-Logan, Reynolds and Lincoln circles.

The procession was formed at the Union depot and marched eastward on Twenty-fifth street to Washington avenue, thence north to Twenty-fourth street, where they countermarched and proceeded to the Grand Opera house. Here a short session was held. The opera house was profusely decorated with the national colors, and a large picture of Lincoln was placed in the center of the stage. Upon the platform were seated National Commander W. W. Blackmar and wife, the latter's sister, Miss Brewer; Adjt.-Gen. Gilmon and wife; Asst. Adjt.-Gen. Dan Black, of the departments of Colorado and Wyoming; State Department Commander Burns, and other prominent G. A. R. officials of Utah; Mayor Glassman and officials of the Women's Relief Corps.

COMRADE BLACKMAR.

The house was crowded with prominent citizens, and after music by the band, Judge H. C. Wardleigh introduced Mayor William Glasmann, who delivered an address of welcome. He was followed by Commander Blackmar, who spoke enthusiastically of the welcome that had been accorded the visitors by the loyal and patriotic citizens of Weber county. He expressed his special delight at the assembly of the multitude of children, whose songs bespoke a welcome that was echoed by the snow-capped mountains. He referred to the G. A. R. men as "the dear old boys in blue," and said that he believed that when the last one of the veterans had crossed the great divide that separated the mortal from the immortal world, the American children would carry aloft the glorious Stars and Stripes and preserve them stainless before all nations and people.

OTHER SPEECHES.

State Commander Burns thanked the mayor and citizens of Ogden for their kind hospitality and welcome greeting. Gen. Gilmon said that the spectacle presented by the children and the privilege of listening to the songs they had sung was well worth the journey of thousands of miles which some of the visitors had taken in order to be present.

After various committees were appointed, the meeting came to a close. This afternoon an executive session is being held, and before an adjournment officers will be elected and other business transacted.

NEW BANKING COMPANY.

The National Bank of Leyton, with a capital of $25,000, opened its doors for business at that place this morning. James Pingree is president; E. P. Ellison, vice president; R. Allen, second vice president; and they, with the following form the board of directors: Jesse M. Smith, John Flint, John H. Layton, George V. Stevenson, Elias S. Adams and Thomas F. Smith. James E. Ellison is cashier and L. E. Ellison is assistant cashier.

BURGLARY CHARGED.

This morning the officers arrested T. J. Malone, Dan Sullivan and C. C. Chambers, for the alleged crime of breaking into the conductors dressing rooms at the Union depot, some time last week. Several articles of clothing, consisting of coats, caps, etc., were purloined and taken to Salt Lake, where they were disposed of at a secondhand store.

COURT NOTES.

Two jurors failed to show up in Judge Lewis' court this morning so the court issued an attachment for them and they will be brought in by the sheriff and will be given an opportunity to explain. The men are Daniel Densley, Jr., and Joseph S. Hyde.

At the conclusion of the testimony in the case of the State of Utah against W. E. Crockett, who was charged with obtaining money by false pretenses, District Atty. Loofbourow asked that the case be dismissed but Atty. J. M. Hamilton insisted upon a verdict of acquittal, so Judge Armstrong instructed the jurors to return a verdict of not guilty, which was done.

SOME CHANGES ON RAILROAD ROW

Promotions and Resignations on Burlington and Chicago & Northwestern.

WILLIAM DARKE FREIGHT MAN

C. B. & Q. Employe Promoted for the Second Time Within a Few Months —Railroad News.

Several changes have been announced on Railroad row which involve the Burlington and the Chicago & Northwestern general agencies here. All of the young men promoted are well known locally, and their friends will be glad to hear of their advancement.

First and foremost William Darke, traveling passenger agent, has been promoted to traveling freight agent, being succeeded by R. N. Russell of the Chicago & Northwestern, who will now look after the passenger business. He in turn has been succeeded on the Northwestern by A. L. Armstrong, formerly clerk for the Burlington, whose place has been filled by Walter Handin.

This makes the second promotion within a few months for Mr. Darke.

WESTERN PACIFIC.

Surveyors' Camp Pitched on Kessler's Ranch—Construction Plans.

Once more is Kessler's ranch to the front in railroad matters, and at the present time there are three big tents on the premises adjacent to the springs, which are the headquarters of the surveying party of the Western Pacific under Engineer B. F. House.

The engineers are now actively engaged in the vicinity of Garfield beach running final surveys and cross sectioning prior to commencing work.

A representative of the Deseret News, who was in San Francisco on Saturday, learned while there that the Western Pacific officials located in that city confidently looked for work to begin in earnest from this end of the line within the next 30 days.

FREE ORANGES.

San Pedro Will Distribute Fruit to Ladies Tomorrow.

Tomorrow between the hours of 10 a. m. and 3 p. m. every lady calling at the ticket office of the Salt Lake Route will be given a bag of fine California navel oranges, with the compliments of the new road.

CONDUCTORS HERE.

Visiting Members of the O. R. C. Taking in the Sights.

A special car "Beauregard" from Boston, with a lively shipment of Boston and Maine conductors, arrived in this city Saturday evening, and are the guests until this evening, of the Salt Lake lodge of the O. R. C. In the party are A. H. Brown and wife, H. G. Weeks and wife, F. L. Carter and wife, H. W. Cook and wife, A. P. Odell and wife, George Kennard and wife, Gilman Marston and wife, A. P. Dority and wife, J. C. Harris and wife, J. E. Small, G. L. Gilman, E. E. George and W. J. Webster.

A. H. Brown, the Nestor of the party, has been 42 years railroading, and has been west before; but the rest are of the genus tenderfoot, and are being broke in to the ways of the "Wild and woolly west." The visitors tended church yesterday morning, went to Saltair after lunch, and then attended the Tabernacle and a special organ recital in the afternoon. After seeing the sights further today, the visitors will leave on tonight's Los Angeles express for the prospective capital of the future state of southern California, where the order is to assemble in convention. The local conductors are doing the handsome thing by their guests.

SPENT SUNDAY HERE.

Senator and Mrs. Clarke Stopped Over En Route to Butte.

Senator W. A. Clark of Montana and wife spent yesterday in this city, as the guests of ex-Senator and Mrs. Thomas Kearns, leaving for Butte last midnight. Senator Clark expressed his gratification with the way traffic is opening up over the new line to Los Angeles from Salt Lake. He expects to be back in this city June 12, when the Los Angeles people will be in town to do their share in the celebration at this end of the line. The visitors were given a drive about town yesterday afternoon.

SPIKE AND RAIL

It is given out that work on the proposed branch line from Caliente to Pioche will begin July 1.

General Western Livestock Agent Nevins of the Denver & Rio Grande returned from a trip to San Francisco this morning.

City Passenger Agent C. B. Boys of the Missouri Pacific at St. Louis is with the Presbyterian special, en route to the Fresno convention.

The steamboat between Blake City and Moab is now making the 200 miles run on the Green and Grand rivers, and the trip is said to occupy five days.

Twenty local business men left last night, for Las Vegas, on the $20 round trip rate excursion, in attendance on the auction sale of the lots in Las Vegas township. A goodly sized bunch will leave tonight, on a similar errand.

A Mitchell, S. D., dispatch says that a member of President Earling's party, which went to Chamberlain Thursday to look over the Chicago, St. Paul & Milwaukee line has stated that President Earling has authorized the announcement that the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road would build from Chamberlain to the coast and would likewise build an extension of the Evarts line across the reservation to some point in Wyoming.

A Washington dispatch states that the appeals of the Union Pacific and Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad companies in the Nebraska cases involving the tax levies on the roads in that state for 1904, were docketed in the supreme court of the United States today. The levy was sustained by the circuit court of the United States for the district of Nebraska.

H. H. Shepperd, the general agent of the Chicago & Alton at Denver, and who has been in the railroad business since the days when the world was young, and the Brontosaurus reared his festive head above the rush bound shores of Lake Bonneville, is in the city chaperoning assistant passenger agent for the C. & A. at St. Louis. He is afraid Mr. Bowes will get lost if he does not watch him closely.

RETURN OF THE UTAH PILGRIMS.

Salt Lakers from Southern California Get Back to Work Once More.

CHURCH OFFICIALS ARE HOME.

Loud in Praise of Hospitality of Senator Clark and the Railroad Officials.

The Church officials and their ladies returned from southern California at 6:30 yesterday morning. With the exception of Hon. Angus M. Cannon and wife and W. J. Beatie and wife and one or two others, who remained in Los Angeles for a still longer visit, the original party which started out as guests of Senator W. A. Clark and the San Pedro road 10 days ago is now practically home again and has rested up after the week of sightseeing.

One and all expressed themselves this morning as having spent a most enjoyable time and were loud in praise of the courtesies extended by the railroad company in general and Senator Clark and District Freight and Passenger Agent Moore in particular. Both going and coming a special car was placed at the disposal of the party and returning the matter of storing and placing on the train all baggage was taken charge of by Mr. More who saw that the visitors were picked up by the limited at San Bernardino at 9 p. m. Arrangements were perfect, so much so that when one and all climbed on to the car at that point tired from a most strenuous day, they found that all berths were made up and the right baggage, even down to small parcels, was at hand.

The only incident to mar an otherwise glorious trip was the untimely death on the train of Miss Tessie Hines of Provo, who passed away near Tintic Junction on the Leamington cut-off early yesterday morning. Miss Hines had been a sufferer from rheumatism for some time and was taken to Los Angeles some months ago by her mother, Mrs. K. A. Hines, in hopes that the change would do her good. Last week the young lady was taken decidedly worse, and her relatives were notified. The result was that Mrs. C. A. Hedquist and Dr. J. H. Slater arrived in Los Angeles from Provo and in the evening the party left for home. Early yesterday morning rheumatism attacked the heart of the young lady and death followed, as indicated.

Miss Hines was the youngest daughter of the late R. S. Hines and was born in Provo in 1881. She was both lovely and accomplished, and her death came as a great shock to all who knew her.

Prior to boarding the limited for home the party visited Riverside and San Bernardino. At the first named place they lunched at the famous Glenwood hotel, drove into the country and raided the orange groves for trophies.

After a most enjoyable morning the Santa Fe train for San Bernardino was boarded. Here the board of trade got busy and rustled up a tally-ho and vehicles and took the visitors around the city, showed them the famous arrowhead on the mountain side and then drove to the Stewart hotel, where a good repast awaited them.

In San Francisco a number of the original "Mormon" settlers were encountered, in fact there is a society of pioneers organized in that city. John Brown, secretary of the association, and a son of one of the original pioneers, acted as guide for the party. In the evening there was an informal reception held at which addresses were delivered by Senator Reed Smoot, Hons. John Henry Smith and C. W. Penrose and Mr. Brown. Oldtime "Mormon" hymns were also sung and a most enjoyable time resulted.

Some of the old pioneers who attended the Pioneer Jubilee in Salt Lake in 1897 were there and were very proud of the badges they were presented with on that memorable occasion and which they treasure as heirlooms to be passed down from father to son. A number of the people present expressed themselves to the effect that they intended to visit Salt Lake when the Los Angeles chamber of commerce paid its return visit to the City of the Saints.

A very good run to Salt Lake was made, the train arriving on time—in fact this seems to be the rule rather than the exception on the new road. Senator Clark's private car was attached to the same train and the Montana railroad builder paid a visit to the party in their car, a most pleasant time being the result.

Aside from the social features of the trip it is generally recognized that the recent outing of representative business men will have the effect of opening the eyes of investors to splendid opportunities. In every large city in southern California Salt Lake was on every tongue, while people who came home via San Francisco report that in some mysterious manner residents at the Golden Gate were laboring under the impression that a big boom was about to hit Salt Lake. In Sacramento it was the same story—all eyes are on Salt Lake.

All of the pilgrims to California, without an exception, affirm that the trip will have a good effect on the business interests of Salt Lake. Already signs are in the air of a disposition on the part of all to pull together for Utah and take a leaf out of the book of the upbuilders of Los Angeles and other cities whose growth during the past few years has been phenomenal.

CONVENTION OF SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Workers of Pioneer, Liberty, Granite and Jordan Stakes Get Together.

COMPREHENSIVE DISCUSSIONS.

Papers Read Dealing With Different Phases of the Work in Hand—Prest. Smith Speaks.

One of the most successful district Sunday school conventions yet held, was that which convened in the Granite stake Tabernacle Saturday night and continued its sessions yesterday morning and afternoon. The convention was held under the auspices of the Pioneer, Liberty, Granite and Jordan stakes, and opened at 7:30 o'clock Saturday night with a fair attendance, and Elder J. W. Summerhays of the general board conducting.

After the opening exercises, and a song service conducted by M. Elner Christopherson of Granite stake, Supt. George M. Cannon of Granite delivered an appropriate address of welcome. He was followed by Elder William A. Morton, who dealt with the subject, "The Spirit and the Letter," giving some very excellent instructions along this line. Prof. Evan Stephens made some timely remarks on the subject of "Special Music," after which "Practical Talks" were responded to as follows: "Preparation and condition of the Sunday School Rooms," Carl J. Larsen, (Pioneer); "The Social Side of Sunday School," Joseph Merrill (Granite); "Home Co-operation in Sunday School Work," Clifford L. Goff (Jordan); "The Usher," Hugh B. Folsom (Liberty). The congregation sang "Memories of Galilee," after which remarks were made by Elders George D. Pyper and J. W. Summerhays of the general board, followed by singing, and benediction by President Frank Y. Taylor. At the close of the meeting handshaking and social converse occupied the attention of the delegates for half an hour.

SUNDAY MORNING.

Sunday morning, promptly at 9:30, the convention was called to order, with the spacious building well filled. All joined in singing the hymn, "Come With Tuneful Voices," conducted by Clarence W. Poulton of Pioneer stake. Prayer was offered by Supt. George H. Wallace of Ensign stake. Short addresses were made by Elders George M. Cannon and J. W. Summerhays, after which the officers and teachers separated to their respective departments, where most excellent programs were carried out, papers on different phases of the work in hand being read and thoroughly discussed by those present.

NOON LUNCHEON.

At noon all repaired to the basement of the Tabernacle where tables had been arranged for the convenience of the visiting delegates. Here each school partook of a delicious luncheon and spent the time most enjoyably. Later, the day being delightful, officers and teachers viewed with admiration the well kept grounds surrounding the stake building, and took advantage of the opportunity to stroll through the green lanes of Granite stake.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The afternoon session began at 1:45 with Presidents Jos. F. Smith and Anthon H. Lund in attendance. After prayer, Elder Geo. D. Pyper rendered the solo, "Count Your Blessings," and later the convention separated for department work. On reassembling at 4 o'clock, short talks were made by Supts. Goff, Lambert, Horne and Folsom, Presidents Hugh J. Cannon, William McLachlan, Frank Y. Taylor and Hyrum Goff, who referred in glowing terms to the work of the convention and expressed pleasure with the outlook for future success.

PRESIDENT SMITH SPEAKS.

Remarks were also made by President's Joseph F. Smith, Anthon H. Lund and Asst. Supt. George Reynolds, who commended the Sunday school workers of the four stakes for the diligence displayed in arranging the details of the convention. President Smith referred to the importance of being guided by the right spirit in Sunday school work, and said the officers and teachers should use the abilities which God has given them for the upbuilding of His kingdom upon the earth. He spoke of the effect of these conventions and in referring to a remark made by President Goff of Jordan stake, said that children of the Saints should be baptized on their eighth birthday, or as near thereto as it was possible.

At 5 o'clock the convention adjourned, after singing the "Parting Hymn" and benediction by President Joseph F. Smith.

AMUSEMENTS.

At the Theater tonight the benefit to Phil Margetts occurs. Manager Pyper was pleased to receive a telegram yesterday from another old friend of Mr. Margetts, Howard Kyle, who telegraphed that he had sent a check for a number of tickets for tonight's event, and congratulated the veteran actor on the approaching testimonial. The curtain will rise at 8:15.

The Mack Swain company opens its final week at the Grand tonight with a presentation of "Out of Darkness."

The announcement in today's dispatches of the death of Jessie Bartlett Davis will create a feeling of sadness among old timers who have been familiar with her operatic career. Mrs. Davis, then a girl with a sylph like form, made her first appearance in Salt Lake over 20 years ago, singing in the Carleton Opera company in "The Drum Major's Daughter." After that she joined the "Bostonians" and shared their phenomenal success. Owing to internal disagreements she retired from that company a few years ago, and it can be said that the organization was never the same from that time. Mrs. Davis will be chiefly remembered in Salt Lake for her Alan A'Dale in "Robin Hood," and for her singing of "Promise Me," a song written specially for her. She also had a beautiful part in "The Serenade," and her rendition of "Fatinitza" is one that has seldom been approached on the American stage. She is said to have been deeply troubled by her husband's connection with the great Iroquois fire disaster, he having been manager of the house at the time, and now being the only party against whom an indictment stands for the loss of life by the terrible event.

GOLDMARK CLOSES.

Appreciative Audience Attend Saturday And Sunday's Recitals.

Prof. Rubin Goldmark delivered his final musical lectures Saturday night on "The Parsifal," and last evening on "The National Elements in Music" before large audiences. The interest maintained was undiminished throughout, and the savant leaves Salt Lake satisfied that his efforts here as a musical missionary have not been in vain. Yes, Prof. Goldmark was appreciated. He is regarded as the head of his special department of the profession, and a recognized authority the world over on the Wagnerian opera. He is the absolute master of his work, technical and otherwise. The appearance of such a man in any community is an event to be taken advantage of, and it is to be hoped that his visits to this city will be made regular annual affairs.

Next season the Unity club would do well to sell half price tickets to school children, and music students generally under a certain age. Such lectures as Prof. Goldmark alone can give should be heard by every music lover in Salt Lake, for as Henry T. Fink, the New York Evening Post critic remarks, "Richard Wagner is now acknowledged as the greatest of all dramatic composers and his works are the chief source of income in the opera houses not only of Germany, but of France, Italy, England and America. Acquaintance with them is, therefore, considered a test of musical culture in amateurs as well as in professionals."

"The Parsifal," the subject of Saturday evening's lecture, "has the floor" on the boards of the operatic world at present, and in comparison with it Italian and French opera, like the glow worm in "Hamlet,"

"Gins to pale its ineffectual fire," before the morn of the new operatic day. Dr. Hanslick, the noted German critic says: "Anyone who can write pieces of the enchanting, melodious charm of the flower girl scene, and of the energy of the final scene of 'Parsifal,' still has control of a power which his youngest contemporaries may envy;" and many share the opinion of Ernest Neumann that "'Parsifal' is in many ways the most wonderful and impressive thing ever done in music."

Prof. Goldmark's representation was fully equal to the requirements of so important a work; and particularly notable was his exposition of the Bell theme and Grail motif, and his explanations as these two remarkable movements appeared, disappeared and reappeared throughout the score like strands of gold in a woof of other precious metals.

The lecture of last evening, covered as much of the general musical field illustrating national elements in music, as could be crowded into a two hours' lecture. This lecture was of so popular and instructive a character that a verbatim report would be required to do the matter justice; and owing to lack of room today, a more extended review will appear next Saturday, on the music page of the "News." Miss Berkhoel ably assisted the professor in singing folk songs, selections representing different nationalities, Prof. Goldmark accompanying on the piano.

The artist left for Ogden today, where he will give two lectures, and expects to spend part, if not all of the summer at Colorado Springs.

FIRE AT LOGAN.

R. K. Thomas Building Came Near Being Destroyed at Noon Today.

(Special to the "News.")

Logan, May 15.—At 12:30 p. m. today fire broke out in the basement of the R. K. Thomas building, corner Main and First North streets, and for some time it looked like the building might be endangered owing to difficulty in locating and getting at the fire. However, the firemen succeeded in getting a stream into that part of the basement where the fire was, and extinguished it before any great damage was done. Some articles stored in the basement were burned and the upper floor joists were partly consumed. The origin of the fire is not known, but it is supposed to have been caused by the heating aparatus. The building is occupied by the Logan Dry Goods company and the Hanks hotel, and it is thought some damage has been done by water and smoke, although it is difficult to estimate the exact amount. The damage, however, will not exceed $500.

YOUNG FAMILY REUNION.

The general public are hereby notified that the Young family have made arrangements to celebrate the Brigham Young birthday at Logan on June 1, 1905, and by invitation of the B. Y. C. faculty and students, will be the guests of that noble institution. Any and all friends of the family who wish to share in the benefits of the reduced rates of this special excursion, viz. $2.50 per ticket for the round trip, are kindly invited to purchase as many tickets as they may wish at the above rates. On arriving at Logan, those excursionists not numbered with the Young family will find their own entertainment. SEYMOUR B. YOUNG, Prest. Young Family Association.

YSAYE AND WEIHE.

Salt Lake Violinist Joins Delgrau in San Francisco.

The article in the Saturday "News" announcing that there was a probability that Ysaye and Willard Weihe might be heard in conjunction at the Salt Lake Theater, excited no end of interest among the musical fraternity. Nothing positive as yet is known, but Mr. Weihe on Ysaye's invitation will leave for San Francisco tonight and will spend the remainder of the week practising with the famous maestro. Mr. Weihe expects to return within a week and by that time it will be known definitely whether the Salt Lake concert can be arranged. That it may be found practical is the decided wish of every local music lover.

TUESDAY'S ORGAN RECITAL.

The time for the Tuesday afternoon organ recitals has been changed from 12:10 p. m., to 5:10 p. m., for convenience sake, and tomorrow, at the latter hour, Prof. McClellan will play the following program: Marche Religeuse, from Lohengrin; Passpied, Delibes; Palm Sunday, Mailly; Old Melody; Overture to Oberon, Von Weber.

BUSINESS NOTES.

Today's local bank clearings amounted to $596,116.58 as against $614,196.38 for the corresponding day of last year.

The Western Cement Block Building company of Logan filed a copy of its articles of incorporation in the secretary of state's office today. It is capitalized at $10,000, divided into shares of the par value of $1 each. H. T. Cornwall is president; Robert Murdock, vice president; G. F. Thatcher, secretary and treasurer.

The Mount Irish Mining company of this city filed its articles of incorporation in the county clerk's office today. Its capital stock is $600,000, divided into shares of the par value of $1 each. Geo. Crismon is president; L. F. Peer, vice president; E. M. Weller, secretary and treasurer. The company owns a number of claims in the Pahranagat Lake district in Lincoln county, Nev.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

On Saturday night at the home of Mrs. F. S. Richards was given a party celebrating the birthday anniversary of Nathan Tanner, Mrs. Richard's father, who on that day attained his ninetieth year. Besides the family the guests numbered those whose age nearly approached Mr. Tanner's, and also a number of those who have been associated in the Sandwich Island mission, with which Mr. Tanner was early associated. The rooms were bright with floral offerings and addresses of congratulation were made; the entire evening being most enjoyably spent.

Mrs. Will Clawson is in the city having come from Los Angeles over the new route on Saturday night with friends. She will remain a short time visiting with Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Burton.

Miss Lulu Gates has returned from New York and will spend the summer here with her family.
