MAYOR GLASMANN SUED FOR $10,000.

District Attorney George Halverson Enters Suit Against Standard for Libel.

SESSION OF CITY COUNCIL.

Miraculous Escape of Little Child—Marriage of County Assessor Dix—Other Weddings—News Briefs.

Ogden, June 27.—The preliminary steps to the filing of a big libel suit for $10,000 damages by District Attorney George Halverson against Mayor William Glasmann and the Standard Publishing company were taken last evening, when summons were placed in the hands of Deputy Sheriff Sam Cave and were served on Mr. Glasmann personally and the Standard Publishing company, of which he is editor, and owner.

For some time past, unfriendly feelings have existed between the two gentlemen, and a number of articles have been published in the Ogden Standard and Morning Examiner damaging to Mr. Halverson's name and character, and as a consequence of these articles the suit is brought. A. E. Pratt appears on the summons as attorney for Mr. Halverson, but several other able attorneys have been employed to assist in prosecuting the case, which promises to be very interesting before it is completed in the courts. The complaint has not yet been filed in the district court, but is being prepared and will be filed in a few days.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE

Of a Little Child from Death in Thrilling Runaway.

Particulars have just come to light of a most thrilling runaway which occurred Saturday evening in the Ogden canyon. Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Reed, 236 Twenty-fourth street, drove up the canyon in the afternoon and soon after reaching Ogden valley Mr. Reed got out and went fishing along the river. Mrs. Reed drove up to the creamery and watered her horse at the trough. The little boy was in the buggy, asleep on a pillow. When Mrs. Reed started to put up the check rein the horse started to plunge. She endeavored to hold him and at the same time to take the little fellow out of the buggy. She was thrown down and kicked by the horse over the right eye, which was badly gashed. The woman clung desperately to the reins, and the horse dragged her for over two blocks. Her head struck some obstacle and she was stunned and had to relinquish the reins. The horse dashed on at a great pace, and the little boy, awakened by the jolting and the cries of his mother, climbed from the bottom of the buggy to the seat and clung there while the horse sped down the canyon. A young man at the Ritle residence saw the animal pass and, mounting a horse, dashed after it, bring it to a halt. Mrs. Reed was later brought to Ogden and attended to by Dr. Egan. Her injuries consist of a gash over the eye, a wrenched shoulder, bad bruises about her back, and cuts about her hands and arms.

On a resolution offered by Councilman Davidson the city council last evening authorized a committee of its members to investigate in conjunction with the city engineer, the cost necessary to build a waterworks system in this city, and to submit a plan for financing the project. An adjourned meeting will be held Tuesday evening to pass a resolution giving notice of special election to be held to vote on the proposed issue of bonds for building a sewer in the south part of the city.

The law committee submitted a substitute ordainance in lieu of the original one introduced some time ago granting a street railway franchise to B. Mohler. The substitute asks for a 100 years franchise. It passed its first and second readings and was referred again to the law committee.

LEHI.

BOSTONIA POSSIBILITIES.

Rumors of Establishment of Iron Works—Colorado Sugar Prospects.

Special Correspondence.

Lehi, Utah Co., June 24.—Rumors have been afloat ever since representatives of Samuel Newhouse have been taken from here over to Pilcan Point, and during the development of the plans for Bostonia, that something big is going to be put up at that point besides a concentrating plant for the Bingham ores. It is believed by those who have been over at the proposed site of Bostonia lately that preliminary surveys are being made not only for a concentrating plant but for something else of huge proportions. These extensive preliminary surveys, it is conjectured, by those familiar with the situation, are made for no other purpose than the establishment of great blast furnaces, rolling mills, etc., at that point for the conversion of Utah's vast iron ores into marketable products. The purchasing of so much land near Pelican Point has set our citizens to guessing what is coming our way and many look forward to Bostonia becoming one of the great industrial centers of the west, and Lehi is now waking up to the possibilities that lie before it in that direction.

Field Supt. W. C. Thomas of the Boston Con. Mining company was in Lehi the first of the week and he says now that the money is ready for the building up of Bostonia and the concentrating plant. Active work will begin in the very near future, and he expects the mill to be ready to operate in eight or nine months. In addition to the plant a large boarding house, powerhouse, clubhouse and business and dwelling houses will be erected, building up a city which was little thought of a few months ago.

The railroads are getting active and will shortly rush spurs to Bostonia.

COLORADO SUGAR PROSPECTS.

Mr. Devey, owner of the Grand Junction, Colorado, sugar factory and promoter of other sugar factories in Colorado, and Mr. Shupe, director of the Grand Junction factory, were in Lehi Friday, the guests of General Supt. James H. Gardner of the Utah Sugar company. In speaking of conditions at Grand Junction they said they have the very best of prospects for a large crop; 6,500 acres have been contracted for and some farmers have been refused the privilege of planting as the mill cannot take care of any more beets than have been contracted for. Mr. Devey says next year instead of enlarging the Grand Junction plant another mill will be built in that vicinity, so that all beets grown can be taken care of. These gentlemen were taken over to the Saratoga Springs and to the pumps at the Jordan river. Mr. Devey said it was the first time he had seen river pumps and he was much taken up with the idea and contemplates putting pumps of this nature in his home country. The visitors were enthusiastic at the glowing prospects for beets and other crops here.

The house committee of Lehi Commercial club is busy having fine rooms in the bank building fixed up for club purposes; $1,000 will be spent immediately and every convenience will be added for the benefit of the members.

The farmers are busy harvesting their hay crop. All kinds of farm and garden "truck" are above the average. Fruit prospects are flattering. Water is falling off and it is a scramble for the fellow at the lower end of the ditch to get enough for his "truck patch," the man at the head of the section is more fortunate. Several fines have been imposed for tampering with the fluid.

There is a scheme on foot to harness up the Battle creek falls and establish a power plant.

Unique Contest for the Youngsters with Two Successful Competitors.

Special Correspondence.

Vernon, Tooele Co., June 25.—On the 14th the Sunday school gave an ice cream and strawberry festival, which was a success in every way. One feature of the afternoon was a contest for the children in which every member that could recite the Lord's prayer, blessings on the bread and water, giving the chapter or section and verse where each was found, and giving the same word for word, would received a dish of ice cream and strawberries free. Former Bishop John C. Sharp added $1 each for the lucky ones. Only two tried, Kenneth Bennion and John A. Sharp, each winning the prize. Mere could have succeeded had they had confidence and tried.

Ten cars of horses were loaded at Faust on the 19th. Most of them came from the Rydalch ranch on government Creek.

OAKLEY, IDAHO.

BIG IRRIGATING PROJECTS

Inspected by Congressional Committee And Party—Pumping Machine.

Special Correspondence.

Oakley, Cassia Co., Ida., June 22.—Among our citizens who went to Burley on the 20th inst., to meet the Congressional Irrigation committee now making a tour of the west, were John L. Smith; D. P. Thomas, L. W. Robbins, H. C. Haight, S. P. Worthington, B. P. Howells, Wm. T. Jack and others, including a number of ladies. Gov. F. R. Gooding and a number of state officials joined the tourists at Minidoka and accompanied them to the Minidoka dam, now being constructed across the Snake river east of Howell's ferry. This is an immense piece of work. Huge derricks on either side of the river support cables stretched across the river a distance of 1,500 feet. Along these cables are carried large stones, taken from the bluffs skirting the banks, and dumped into the river, thus forming a mountain of stone across the channel, which, with a concrete core and soil will constitute the dam when completed. The construction is in charge of Hon. D. W. Ross of Boise, and is well under way. It is the intention of Mr. Ross to push the work so that water may be had by the settlers under the gravity ditch in the spring of 1906.

Some uneasiness has been felt by the settlers on the south side of the river, caused by reports that money appropriated for the pumping plant had been transferred to another project, and that the engineer had abandoned the pumping idea. The visit of the committee, however, has proven these fears to be unfounded, for while it is true that the money has been put into use at the Boise Payette works for temporary use it will be refunded when needed at Minidoka.

It is not a question as to whether or not the pumping plant will be put in at this point, that has been decided; that point is already settled, the only question to be decided is as to the best and most successful system of pumping to be placed here. Eminent men in the employ of the government are now busy experimenting along these lines, and the result of their deliberations will soon be known, and the pumps will adorn the banks of the river at this point. As five other pumping plants depend largely, for their commencement and development, on the success or failure of the Mindoka project, the reclamation officers feel the responsibility much more keenly than if this one alone would suffer through failure.

The congressional party was provided with carriages at Minidoka and drove out six miles to the dam, where expressions of satisfaction were heard on every side. At 10:10 a. m. the party again boarded the train and pulled out over the Minidoka & Southwestern, arriving at Burley at 12 m. There some 400 people had assembled to greet the visitors. As the six Pullmans carrying the party rolled into the future metropolis of Cassia a deafening cheer burst from the assembled populace, partly in honor of the committee and partly on account of the presence of Hon. D. E. Burley in the first car, in whose honor the town was named. During a brief halt, the following members of the party were introduced by Prest. Wm. T. Jack to the citizens of Cassia: Senator Fred T. Dubois, Congressman Burton L. French, Gov. F. R. Gooding, Congressman Mondell of Wyoming, and Hon. F. H. Newell, chief of the reclamation service; each spoke very highly of the work being done by the government and its representatives in reclaiming the arid regions, and assuring the people that the wants of this section would be amply provided for in due time.

After leaving Burley the party continued on in the cars to the great Twin Falls dam, where they left the train and, after viewing what had been done by private parties at this point they took carriages for Twin Falls City and Shoshone via Blue Lakes.
