BOZEMAN, MONT., SUGAR FACTORY

Amalgamated Company Will Build One if Railroads Will Give Favorable Freight Rates.

MRS. HENRY LARSON MISSING.

Left Home at Five Points Threatening Suicide—Drill Master Wanted—Court Notes.

Ogden, Sept. 14.—Judge H. H. Rolapp of the Amalgamated Sugar company has returned from Bozeman, Montana, where he went in company with David Eccles and others in the interest of locating a site for the proposed sugar factory at that place. He states that they inspected several sites, all of which are very good, but they did not decide fully on which site they will buy. A factory is assured providing the proper railroad concessions can be secured, and for the purpose of determining that important matter, Messrs. Eccles and M. S. Browning have gone east to consult the railroad officials who, it is believed, will fix agreeable freight rates, and when that is adjusted, the site will be purchased and immediate work on the buildings will be commenced so as to get the factory ready for next season's run. Mr. Rolapp says the people are very much enthused over the prospects of a sugar factory, which will bring a new industry into their midst, as up to the present time the raising of sugar beets and the manufacture of sugar has not been known there. A Colorado corporation has gone into Montana and is now building a large factory at Billings, but Mr. Rolapp says there is plenty of room in the state for a number of sugar factories.

AFTER MISSING WOMAN.

Sheriffs and Police Searching for Mrs. Henry Larson.

Ogden, Sept. 14.—The aid of the sheriff's department and police to locate if possible Mrs. Henry Larson of Five Points was solicited last evening by members of her family. Last Tuesday she disappeared from her home, and up to last evening no trace of her could be found by the family and neighbors; hence they called on the officers to try and find her. For some time past Mrs. Larson has been acting strangely, and Tuesday she told some friends that she was going to leave home and end her life by drowning, but her remarks were not taken seriously, because of her weak mental condition. During the day she disappeared from the place at Five Points, and it is now feared she has carried out her threats. This spring she and her husband had considerable trouble, and she got a divorce from him, and this with other troubles has caused her unfortunate condition. She is about fifty-five years of age. The officers will institute a search for her in the neighborhood, but if she is not found alive, then they will direct their attention to the rivers in hope of finding her body at least.

BJORNSON LECTURE.

Wedding Bells—Power Company Making Large Improvements.

Special Correspondence.

Provo, Sept. 14.—Erling Bjornson delievered an interesting lecture in the First ward assembly hall last evening before a small but very attentive and interesting audience in which he briefly traced the history of Norway down to the present time, dwelling particularly on the causes that led up to and the circumstances connected with the independence gained last summer. Mr. Bjornson proved worthy of his great father in the spirit of patriotism which characterized his address.

A circumstance in the negotiations of the convention called by the two countries—Sweden and Norway—to arrange a peaceful separation, and which meant war if it failed, was related that was new to most people: The convention had failed to agree and it looked as if it would be broken up without agreeing. At this critical stage the British ambassador at Stockholm called on the king who was holding a meeting with his cabinet, and upon being given audience informed the king that within 24 hours after the first shot was fired every Swedish port would be blockaded by British men of war. This was the turning point favorable to Norway and thus Great Britain, which was the cause of Norway's enforced union with Sweden through refusing aid to Norway in 1814, became the strong factor in securing independence for Norway without a war in 1905.

Mr. Bjornson was introduced by Bishop O. H. Berg, who presided over the meeting. A number of Norwegian songs written by Bjornsterne Bjornson were rendered by a choir, under the direction of Mr. Thomas Larsen. This was greatly appreciated by Mr. Bjornson.

Mr. Bjornson returned to Salt Lake this evening.

DISTRICT COURT CASES.

Three Convicted of Selling Liquor to Indians—School Opening—Notes.

Special Correspondence.

Vernal, Uintah Co., Sept. 11.—In the district court now in session at Vernal, three cases of selling liquor to Indians have been before the court. Brook Fairbanks pleaded not guilty, and was tried before a jury, found guilty and sentenced to six months in the state prison.

Wilder Fairbanks pleaded guilty and was sentenced to pay a fine of $100, or in default thereof 100 days in the state prison.

Edgar Snyder pleaded guilty and was sentenced to pay a fine of $50, or in default thereof 50 days in the state prison. The two latter are young men enlisted in the army, and in the case of Snyder it appears his offense was committed in ignorance of the law. There are some civil cases yet to come before the court. The Charley Mack drunk affair has quieted down. The Indian refused to tell who had given him the liquor, hence no arrests have been made.

Judge Booth lectured Sunday evening to a large audience at the Vernal ward house, under the auspices of the M. I. A. on the subject of marriage.
