THE SEMI-WEEKLY NEWS

The Great Country Paper of the West.

Issued Mondays and Thursdays and Contains All the Cream of the Daily and Saturday News.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Health League to Meet—The Utah Health league will meet this evening to discuss the question of pure milk. Experts are to be present to speak.

Mrs. Schulthess Improved—Mrs. Arnold W. Schulthess, who has been lying dangerously ill at the Groves L. D. S. hospital, is reported to be better, though she is only slightly improved.

Mrs. Dersham's Recital—Cards of invitation are out for a piano recital to be given by pupils of Mrs. Alberta Dersham, assisted by Miss Jean Clifton, in the First Congregational church, on the evening of May 4.

Raising Church Debt—The Rev. F. B. Short of the First Methodist church is confident that his church debt of $20,000 will be eliminated in the course of another 12 months; in fact, $2,500 of the second $10,000 has been promised.

Masonic Initiations—A number of Ogden citizens were initiated last night in Masonic Temple into the Lodge of Perfection, the work being done under the direction of Robert S. Joyce. The conferring of degrees continues through today.

Deserter is Tried—Fred Phillips, a private in the Fifteenth infantry, was court-martialed yesterday at Fort Douglas on a charge of desertion. Phillips deserted from his regiment over six weeks ago and was later captured at Eureka on information given by his wife, whom he had abandoned.

Campbells Receive Award—The Campbell Building company received word this morning from Washington that the United States treasury department had awarded it the construction of the new $80,000 Federal building at Baker City, and to start work immediately. The structure is to be 50x100 feet, and two stories, the material to be of stone and granite.

Want to Come to Salt Lake—Secretary J. L. Perkes of the Real Estate association, is in receipt of a letter from Joseph H. Lenesque of Ithica, N. Y., an architect and civil engineer graduate of the University of Paris, inquiring after conditions in Salt Lake, as he may locate here. L. F. Shields, a Brooklyn, N. Y., man, writes for literature, stating his purpose to come out here.

After New Members—The Utah Wool Growers' association is to start on the war path for new members. It began 14 months ago with 25 charter members and has now a membership of 260. Circulars are being sent out showing no individual indebtedness need be incurred, such as wrecked the old association, and setting forth valuable information regarding the present organization and its work. A membership of 500 or over is desired.

Death of Martha Miller—Mrs. Martha Shurtliff Miller, wife of Melvin M. Miller, died at her home in Mill Creek yesterday afternoon. She has been suffering from stomach trouble for some time past. Mrs. Miller was born in Mill Creek a few years after the pioneers entered the valley, and was the daughter of Vincent Shurtliff. The funeral will be held at the Mill Creek meetinghouse tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

TWO MEN LOOT MURRAY SALOON

Daring Profssionals Line Their Victims Against Bar And Rob Them.

WERE SURELY IN EARNEST

When Proprietor Tried to Unmask One of the Thugs, He Was Struck With the Desperado's Gun.

With a cool daring that betokened the work of professionals, two highwaymen entered the Union Pacific saloon at Murray shortly after 11 o'clock last night, and at the point of their revolvers held up 10 men, including the proprietor of the resort, and secured over $200 in cash.

Their earnestness was shown in the quick manner in which they acomplished the work, and was emphasized when one of them struck Fred Carlson, proprietor of the saloon, to the floor, with his revolver when Carlson attempted to tear away the mask from the robber's face.

At the time of the holdup, the saloon was occupied by eight customers, the proprietor and the bartender, Arthur Lundgren. The two men entered from a side door, and both used white handkerchiefs to mask the lower portion of the face.

As they advanced to the bar one of them gave the gruff command "hands up." Proprietor Carlson took a step forward, and reaching one of the handkerchiefs attempted to give it a tug. With a curse the robber struck the nervy proprietor over the head with the butt of his revolver, inflicting a flesh wound and knocking him to the floor.

The customers in the saloon were then ordered to line up along the bar, with their hands behind them, and while one of the robbers kept them covered with a revolver, the other went through their pockets. After the men had been searched the cash register was the next object of attention, the robbers securing about $165 from the money drawers. Mr. Carlsin was also robbed of his gold watch.

When they had completed their work the thugs, after ordering those in the room to make no attempt to give an alarm or follow, backed out of the saloon and fled in the darkness.

As soon as the victims could recover their wits, Marshal Mauss was notified, and a search was begun for the highwaymen. The Salt Lake police department and the sheriff's office were also informed and kept a lookout for the men.

The robbers were described as being 5 feet 10 inches in height, and wearing dark suits and dark soft hats.
