PITTSBURG-LIBERTY MILLING MUCH ORE

General Manager Bryan Says Company Has Large Body Blocked Out —Masonic Is More Lively.

John Bryan, one of the owners and general manager of the famed Pittsburg-Liberty mine at Masonic returned to this city a few days ago from that place where he had been upon a tour of inspection.

Speaking of the section, says the Carson News, Mr. Bryan said: "Of the many years that I have been interested in the Masonic district, and that has been since the camp has been brought back to life after its sleep of over 40 years, I never saw the place looking more promising and fully believe that the coming summer will prove it to be one of the best camps along the Nevada-California border. I am able to speak of what we are doing with the showing that is being made.

"At the present time we have 22 men employed in the mine and six men at the mill. Work is going ahead constantly and we are extracting sufficient ore to keep the mill running steadily and are also doing a little development work. Until the last few days we have had a force of men driving the lower tunnel into the hill and this through a most promising territory which was showing up stringers of good ore at various times but owing to the excessive amount of surface water from the heavy snows, we thought it best to discontinue the work in this tunnel for the time being but will recommence the work as soon as the spring thaws are over.

BLOCKING OUT ORE.

"The mill is reducing about 20 tons of ore daily which is of value in excess of $30 a ton. We have blocked out in the mine above the 50 foot level and leading to the surface about $300,000 of ore and we have tailings impounded below the mill of value of $102,000.

"We will resume the reduction of these tailings in our cyanide plant about the 15th inst. and will keep it running steadily all summer and will probably be forced to increase our mine force at this time as our reduction of ores will be a great deal larger. The gasoline engine recently installed in the mill has solved the fuel problem for us and has decreased the cost of power about one-half.

"Not alone is the property which I am so heavily interested in looking good but it seems as if the entire district was on the move and the work that is being done on the various properties is all showing promise of ore.

THREE FOOT LEDGE.

"The Laughlin property east of Masonic proper is showing up some good ore and I learned while in the camp and from a good authority, that they had a three foot ledge of ore that went from $40 to $110 per ton, and that they were anxious to lease the property to some good miners as they were not in a condition to work it themselves at present."

TRADING FALLS OFF.

Colorado on Becoming Ex-Dividend Declines Sharply.

Colorado declined sharply today on account of it being ex-dividend stock that was sold. From 88 cents where it was selling yesterday, the stock dropped to 78 cents. This is minus the 10-cent dividend. The total number of shares of Colorado disposed of this morning was 800.

In sympathy with Colorado the entire market was off and trading dropped to the dullest of the year. The number of shares of stocks traded in amounted to 24,800, while the amount represented by the transactions only amounted to $7,233.25. Sioux was lower today and sold at 39 cents, 2,500 shares changing hands. Columbus was stronger and Iron Blossom held up well at 95 cents. Prince Consolidated brought a better price than it has for several days and was disposed of at 79 cents, 600 shares changing hands. Silver King Consolidated sold down from $2.60 to $2.50.

The following were the sales on the curb market: 1,000 shares of Ely Centennial at 29 cents; 100 shares of Greenhorn at 5½ cents buyer 60 days; 500 shares of Bingham Central Standard at 22½ cents.

BUY OPHIR PROPERTIES.

Piedmont Group on Lion Hill Changes Hands.

L. E. Kramer and J. W. Sloane have purchased the Piedmont group of claims on Lion Hill from A. N. Butte, who has gone to Jarbidge. The property joins the Sweetwater group and Lion Hill Consolidated mines and from the surface work that has been done shows up well.

The group comprises four claims, Piedmont, Piedmont No. 2, Monitor and Bunny. Just as soon as the snow is off and supplies can be taken to the ground, there will be a lively campaign of development work carried out on the property. Mr. Kramer will be in charge and he will carry out his idea in which development work is all that is necessary to make a mine of vast proportions in Ophir. He has proven his ability as an authority on the Ibex.

SHIPPING SOME RICH ORE.

The principal owners of the Gold Crown Consolidated Mining company, with headquarters at Heber, but whose mine is at Milford, are much elated over their immediate prospects. A carload of high grade ore shipped by the company last week it is thought will net the company $2,000. A second car will be shipped soon.

This mine has paid its way from the first and is generally considered the best prospect in its vicinity. R. Jone, Wm. L. VanWagoner, G. F. Buhler and other interested parties are now on the grounds of the company.

EXCHANGING MASON VALLEY.

Giving New Stock for Old—At One for Five—Selling in East.

According to reports from the east, the exchange of old Mason Valley Mines company stock for the new issue has already begun. The stock it is said is being exchanged at the rate of one share of new stock for five of the old issue. This is the beginning of the reorganization that will build a smelter at Wabuska and also provide a comfortable treasury for the continuation of development work. The $1,000,000 convertible bond issue has been taken care of it is said and the money will be ready at once.

The report received over the private wire of Badger Bros. this morning, declared that the new issue is selling around $9 a share. This is close to what the old stock is selling at on the local board.

General Manager George E. Gunn and William B. Thompson, two of the heaviest stockholders in the company will arrive in Salt Lake tomorrow from Ely.

ORIGINAL JARBIDGE VISITS SALT LAKE

Escallon Declares Camp Filled With Reckless Men—Fears Snowslides Will Catch Many of Daring.

John Escallon, the Frenchman who was the second man in the now famous Jarbidge camp, is registered at the Moxum hotel. He has been a miner for 30 years, and declares though he has sold all his interests in Jarbidge, it is certain to be one of the great gold camps of the state of Nevada. Mr. Escallon has bonded his two claims and a fraction to the Twin Falls Jarbidge Development company for $250,000, receiving a substantial cash payment, the full amount to be paid over before Nov. 1, 1911. Before this deal, he refused one offer of $50,000 and another of $75,000 for the property, the first with $10,000 cash down.

"Many people in the camp are reckless," said Mr. Escallon. "They are crazy, they go wild, and run all kinds of risks. I have seen men start out in blizzards with lanterns to light their way, and would camp out all night so as to be on the ground in the morning to find the gold. One poor fellow fell into a crater and was never seen again. They don't seem to care for life, and I'm afraid the big snowslides will get lots of them.

"There are little tent towns now scattered for miles up and down the mountains, and everything is staked out for 10 miles. Some men hold from 50 to 60 claims.

"The Escallon property has a ledge sticking up 25 feet high. It assays from a few dollars up to $960 from the surface. You can break off a piece covered with moss, and underneath will be seen the fine gold."

PLEASED WITH ELY MINES.

Fred Dern Returns From Inspection Of Big Copper Camp.

After spending several days in Ely looking over the big copper propositions that place boasts of, Fred Dern of the brokerage house of Dern & Thomas has returned. During the time he was there he took advantage of the opportunity to visit some of the big mines that are being opened up. He declares that there is every indication that the camp has enough ore to make it a second Butte if not greater.

The Giroux Consolidated, Mr. Dern declares has some exceptionally rich showings and he would not be surprised if it became the greatest copper property in the world. The ore in the Alpah shaft, de declares, is truly wonderful.

"I was given a real treat in witnessing the work at the pit at Copper Flat," says Mr. Dern. "There I saw 4,000 tons of ore loosened at a shot. Superintendent Vanderhoof informed me that the day before 7,400 tons of ore had been taken out of the pit. Unless something stops the work there is ore there for shipping for many years to come."

Mr. Dern was also well pleased, he declares with the showing made at the Ely Central and also at the Ely Consolidated.

Mr. Dern went to Ely to look over the Ely Centennial in which he has become heavily interested. His interests he secured on the reports of friends, but on inspecting the property he felt that the property justified the investment and would probably yield many times as much as was expended. Further than that he became convinced that Ely is destined to be one of the greatest copper producers.

STRIKES MINERALIZATION.

According to a telephone message received this morning from Supt. Elmer Duncan of the Tintic Combination property in east Tintic, a mineralized talc has been encountered in the new drift started at the property. The drift on the 220-foot level, which was recently started, has advanced 40 feet. This morning the face of the drift was in a mineralized talc the same as was found in the Bullock before reaching the ore body. It has been the theory of Supt. Duncan that the Hidden Treasure or old Aspinwall vein would be encountered within 100 feet of the shaft. The latest development makes this theory look probable.

COPPER SHOWS IMPROVEMENT.

Copper is bringing a better price in the east according to a dispatch received over Badger Bros.' private wire. This morning 4,000,000 pounds of electrolytic copper were sold to the American Brass company. The price was not stated. Another sale was 2,500,000 pounds for Milan, Italy, at 13.8 cents. Lake copper was selling at 14 cents. Another sale today was 8,000,000 pounds of Lake copper at 14 cents.

CONCENTRATES.

Wells L. Brimhall of Provo, who purchased the seat on the exchange held by R. A. Barney, has been elected to full membership.

Dan Lynch of Stockton has gone to Colorado for a month. The work at his Hidden Treasure mine he has left in charge of his son.

Horace Dunbar, who has been field man for James A. Pollock & Co., for some time has returned to his old position as mining editor of The Tribune.

Grant Snyder has returned home from Denver. There he met President A. D. Thomas of the Cliff Mining company. Mr. Snyder returned so full of information that he did not care to talk.

The drill work on the Blackbird Copper-Gold Mining company, limited, property, adjoining the South Utah at Newhouse will be resumed in a few weeks. The work was stopped last fall on account of the weather.

Superintendent E. C. Coffin of the Lower Mammoth Mining company is of the opinion that the strike recently made on the 1,800 foot level will yield sufficient means to continue development work until an ore body of some size is encountered.

The No You Don't property at Stockton, which was one of the many proposed for the giant consolidation of claims in that district, is now working five men. The property is being put into shape and it is expected that the force will be increased shortly.

The mill erected for the Star mine of the Glasgow & Western Exploration company at Cherry Creek, Nev., was turned over on March 1. The mill was constructed by the General Engineering company and is a combination for the treatment of silver and gold ore.

Prof. C. A. Porter of the Ophir schools took his pupils to the Ibex mine last week for the purpose of allowing them to make a study of geological conditions. Mr. Porter has purchased a large interest from James Sloane in the Piedmont group of claims on Lion Hill.

The large rich ore body in which a winze is being sunk off the 200-foot level at the Copper Acres property, continues to grow larger according to reports received at the local office. The latest cross-cut in the winze shows more than 20 feet of ore with only one wall in sight.

Considerable equipment for the Gold Chief Mining company, which is operating the Panaca mine in the Chief mining district, below Pioche, has been purchased of the Bamberger-Delamar Gold Mines. It is the intention of Secy. E. A. Hodges to install a plant as soon as possible.

Lon Buckland, president and superintendent of the Buckland Mining & Development company, says that he expects some good results to be obtained in the Farmington district shortly. The snow is going fast and several shipments may be expected from some of the properties within another month.

William Utley and Joe Hughes have made a fine strike in their lease on the Hercules, where they are leasing from the Bullion Coalition company at Stockton. There have been two good strikes made the last few weeks. The main tunnel is now going ahead and the contractor is making good headway.

The Yankeee Consolidated Mining company has closed a contract with the Gallgher Machinery company for new equipment. It consists of a Vulcan electric hoist, a 225 horsepower Westinghouse motor and a 1⅛ inch cruciable steel cable. The equipment is to care for the work to a depth of 2,500 feet.

A note from Burrville, Utah, says: B. S. Wilkensen has left here and has gone south to look for copper ore which he saw when a lad herding cattle. He thinks he can go right to the ledges and is of the opinion that the stuff he thought of little worth in his boyhood days will turn out to be valuable copper claims.

According to C. E. Huish, editor of the Eureka Reporter, who was in the city yesterday, the Chief Consolidated at Tintic is making a great record. Although operating less than a year the company has been whipped into fine shape. During the first 13 days of March the company shipped 12 cars of ore. Most of this is being taken from the 1,400 and 1,600-foot levels.

Bullion returns of the Round Mountain Mining company for February were $36,000, an average of $1,500 per day for the 28 days of the month. Mining conditions are steadily improving under the supervision of J. F. Thorne, and the entire property is in most satisfactory shape. It is now planned to extend development. Machinery and equipment for this work has been shipped to the mine from Goldfield.

James Dugan, who has a lease on the old Black Jack mine at Mammoth, declares that he has already opened up a carload of copper ore which will be hoisted to the surface in a few days. He also asserts that there is some good lead ore in sight and that within a week a shipment could be taken out. He believes he will take out two cars at the same time and ship them to the smelter.

BUSINESS AND REALTY

After an absence of 12 years during which he has been engaged in business in eastern cities, Julius Reinberg has returned to Salt Lake to make it his permanent home. He is looking for a location for a large cigar business in the business center of the city. During his former residence in the city, Mr. Rienberg was in business on Main street, between First and Second South.

"At the present time," said Rienberg, "Salt Lake is the best city from a business standpoint in the country. Its prospects are the brightest of any that I know and investors in the east are watching it with interest. I know a number of moneyed men who are going to visit Salt Lake this summer with a view to investment."

MISSOURI STAMP ACT HELD CONSTITUTIONAL

Jefferson City, Mo., March 15.—The supreme court today sustained the constitutionality of the law requiring a stamp of 2c. on each deal in futures of grain, stock and provisions.

BANK LOOTER COLLAPSED WHEN SENTENCED

Indianapolis, March 15.—As sentence was pronounced on him by Judge Anderson in the United States district court today, Paul C. Gall collapsed and slipped to the floor between the deputy marshals who were supporting him. Gall's face grew livid in the progress of Judge Anderson's scathing denunciation and his knees bent under him when the court said:

"I sentence you to five years in the federal prison at Leavenworth."

Gall was convicted last week of having aided Max. P. Emmerich, a bookkeeper of the Capital National bank of this city, in abstracting $40,000 of the bank's funds. Gall, a tobacco merchant, was a depositor in the bank and he overdrew his account $2,000. Emmerich covered up the overdraft. He is serving a sentence in the Leavenworth prison.

EMERY.

TOWN IS BOOMING SINCE SALOONS WERE ELIMINATED

(Special Correspondence.)

EMERY, Utah, March 12.—Emery is coming to the front. The Emery Rural Telephone company has installed 19 phones and has orders for more. Those who at first were opposed to it are now among its most earnest promoters.

There is a marked improvement among the people here in the last year. There is a showing of more energy, more money, more interest in development, less loafing, less credit, all religious gatherings are better attended, and so on all through. Why is it? Perhaps it is because we have no saloon. The people seem to think so or they would not have voted 11 to 1 recently, in favor of a high tax in order to run the town without the saloon.

If this good weather continues the fields will be full of farmers next week.

STRIKE ORDER AFFECTED STOCKS

New York, March 15.—Opening dealings in stocks today were apathetic. The order to the locomotive firemen of the western railroads caused a heavy tone. United States Steel lost ⅝ besides the 1¾ per cent. dividend which came off the stock. New York, Central, St. Paul and American Smelting also declined large fractions.

Prices broke on Union Pacific in the first hour, Union Pacific declined 2¾, L. & N. and Utah Copper 2, U. S. Steel and St. Paul 1¾, Southern Pacific and Amalgamated Copper 1½ and Reading and Great Northern preferred 1⅜.

The threatened strike of firemen and enginemen on western railroads was the principal topic in the morning stock market. Shares of railroads immediately affected were weakest but the whole list declined with some violence. Professional operators sold freely on the short side and the recent support was withdrawn. The hardening money maket acted as a discouragement to purchasers of stocks. Union Pacific's decline ran to 2⅝, Northern Pacific 2½ and Southern Pacific and Reading 2. In the industrial department Westinghouse Electric fell 3, Amalgamated Copper and American Locomotive 2, American Smelting 1¾ and National Lead and American Telephone 1¾. Losses up to 1½ were common to the whole list. Noon prices were a fraction above the lowest.

Bonds were easy.

The recovery in prices was short lived, further selling extending the loss in Union Pacific to over 3 points and pulling the rest of the list to a lower level.

Federal Mining lost 6½. United Railways and Investment preferred advanced 4 points.

Although there was little stock offered, prices declined again with Union Pacific and Amalgamated Copper the weakest features of their respective groups. Rock Island fell 2⅛ and Westinghouse Electric 4½.

The market closed dull and easy. The rise in call money rates to above 3 per cent. for the first time since the last of January, was followed by a recession in foreign exchange rates. The strength of exchange had aroused discussion of possible gold exports. A sufficient short interest was left uncovered by the day's selling to cause some rally in the final hour, when they bought. The demand became very languid at the recovery.

ST. LOUIS.

St. Louis, March 15.—Wool, unchanged. Territory and western mediums, 24@27; fine mediums, 19@24; fine, 11@20.

LONDON.

London, March 14.—A large and varied selection amounting to 14,844 bales was offered at the wool auction sales today. Competition was animated and prices were firm, especially for merinos, which were in sellers favor. Light, greasy crossbreds were in spirited demand for America and the home trade. Geelongs brought 1s 4½d. and New Zealands 1s 4½d. Americans purchased crossbreds freely.

BOSTON.

Boston, March 15.—Inquiries in the local wool market are still confined to clothing wools. Values are surprisingly well maintained considering the long period of quiet. Good fine clothing territory is obtainable at 68c. and some Michigan quarter bloods have sold at 33.

Little demand is reported for the new Arizona clip, which is arriving here in fair quantity.

Montana growers are still holding for 24@25c. for the 1910 clip, but very little business is being done in un
