INSURGENTS ARE ICONOCLASTS

Rep. Campbell Says They Have Taken Course Requiring Least Mental Effort—Denunciation.

HOW THEY TEST MEASURES

If Republican Majority Favor It, It Is Bad; if That Majority Oppose It, It Is Good.

Holto, Kan., July 28.—Representative P. Campbell of the Third Kansas district, a "stand-patter," in a speech here tonight proclaimed the insurgents to be iconoclasts who "have taken the course that has required the least intellectual effort—denunciation."

"When the weather is hot," he said, "and mental effort irksome if possible, the true patriot and only friend of the people, with a show of rare courage, rises to the occasion and declares that the Republican majority of the house and senate were for a certain measure, therefore in the interest of the great common people it must be opposed.

"Whether the measure is good or bad does not depend on the measure itself, according to these mere critics and faultfinders, but upon the personnel of its supporters.

"Is the measure good? The Republican majority in the house and senate are for it and it is approved by the president. The measure is therefore bad and these men opposed to it.

"Is the measure bad? The Republican majority in the house and the senate oppose it. It is therefore good and these men support it.

"If the Republican majority in the house and senate and the president would avoid the rocks, these men would split upon them. If the Republican majority in the house and the senate and the president would steer into harbor, these men would miss it.

"The president and the majority of the Republicans of the house and senate agreed upon a tariff law. These men opposed it. Democrats and insurgents said they wanted the tariff reduced. The Payne bill carried a reduction in consumptive value in chemicals, including a 14 per cent reduction in white lead, of $433,199,846; in earthenware and glassware of $128,423,-232; in wood, including lumber of $566,-670,950; in metals, including steel and iron, of $1,231,955,620; in sugar, molasses and manufactures of, $300,965,958; pulp, white paper and books, $67,628,055; sundry articles, $1,719,869. The bill contained 654 reductions in articles of necessity and common use. The average ad valorem rate on dutiable imports under the Dingley law was 25.48 per cent; under the Payne law, 20.95 per cent—a reduction of almost 5 per cent on all dutiable imports.

"The Republican majority in the house and senate were in favor of the bill with these reductions and voted for it—Democrats and insurgents, working together against it.

"Democrats and insurgents said they wanted a law that would raise revenue. The Republican majority in the house and senate and the president were in favor of the Payne law and in 11 months raised enough revenue to make up a deficit in our treasury amounting to $57,000,0000, and giving us a balance of $15,000,000. Democrats and insurgents, working and voting together, voted against this law.

"Democrats and insurgents said they wanted to tax the income of corporations to secure revenue and information for proper use as to corporate management. The Republican majority in the house and senate were in favor of this provision in the Payne tariff law and voted for the law and the president approved it. Democrats and insurgents, working and voting together, voted against it."

THE NEW EDITION OF "PREACHING AND PUBLIC SPEAKING"

READY AUGUST 1st.

The public will be interested to learn that the Deseret News Book Store has published, owing to the many demands from the missionary fields, Improvement associations, priesthood quorums etc., a second edition of "Preaching and Public Speaking," the well known work by N. L. Nelson, professor of English and elocution at the B. Y. U., Provo. The book will be ready August 1. It has the endorsement of the First presidency as well as the First council of Seventy as the following notice issued by the latter body, will show:

To the Seventies' Quorums—The First Council is advised that the Deseret News Book Store is getting out a second edition of Elder N. L. Nelson's Preaching and Public Speaking; also that the book, after having been thoroughly revised by the author, has been read critically by a committee suggested by the First Presidency, and been duly accepted as worthy the study of all who expect to take part in the ministry of the Latter-day Saints.

Now, while he first requisite of a Latter-day Saint preacher is a testimony of the gospel, and the second, a wide range of facts and truths to sustain that testimony, these prime qualifications become effective only to the extent that he can invoke and hold the attention of his audience. In other words, his effectiveness will depend, to a very large extent, upon his method of presentation. In this respect, Elder Nelson's book will be found helpful. We therefore, cordially recommend it to the seventies generally, and especially to those preparing for missions.

ANOTHER TONG WAR IMPENDING IN NEW YORK

New York, July 28.—Once again New York's Chinatown is on the verge of war. After a fortnight's continuous effort to bring about a permanent peace between the rival tongs, the special committee of the Chinese public chamber has reported that its efforts have come to night. A majority of the Four Brothers have refused to accept the terms tentatively approved by the leaders and the On Longs are unwilling to make further concessions.

Chu Chung Tang, commercial attache to the Chinese legation at Washington has declined to act as arbitrator in the difficulties and the Chinese minister will be appealed to again.

A committee of Chinese merchants has recommended that the police be urged to stop gambling of all forms in Chinatown, to arrest all persons carrying arms and having no lawful means of support, to jail the lesser criminals and to deport the greater ones of China. This they believe is the only effective way keeping down the disturbers.

COLORADO FOREST FIRES UNDER CONTROL

Denver, July 28.—Rain and hard work on the part of hundreds of men have placed the forest fires in this state practically under control. Two of the four fires in Routt county are under control. It estimated that 40,000 acres of timber in the Routt national reserve, have been destroyed. Tre fires which raged for four days in Larimer county have been extinguished.

WILL BRING SIOUX BACK ACROSS OCEAN

Washington, July 28.—Consul Watts at Brussels, having reported to the bureau of Indian affairs that the 39 Sioux Indians connected with an American wild west exhibition, are dissatisfied and desirous of returning to their homes on the Pine Ridge reservation in South Dakota, the Indian bureau has cabled instructions that the redmen be brought back.

It was recently reported to the bureau that the Indians were stranded, owing to the show's poor season. The manager of the company, however, claims that he could fulfill his contract obligations with the Indians and that they were willing to remain. The officials asked the American consul to investigate the matter and their action was determined by his report that the redmen wanted to come back.

The payment of their transportation will be made from the funds deposited by the manager of the company to guarantee that the Indians would be taken care of and sent back to their reservation.

IRA G. RAWN DID NOT DIE A MILLIONAIRE

Chicago, July 28.—Instead of being a millionaire, Ira G. Rawn, president of the Monon Railroad company, who was found shot to death at his summer home, died possessed of an estate valued at only $120,000. So at least a petition filed today by his widow declared. Mr. Rawn's will was promptly admitted to probate.

Mrs. Rawn was appointed executrix. According to the petition there was no real estate, all of the holdings being listed as personal property. The total amount given in the document caused surprise, as there was a general impression that the estate would be appraised at more than $1,000,000.

DENVER & RIO GRANDE TRAIN DERAILED

Denver, July 28.—Westbound passenger train No. 15 on the Denver & Rio Grande railroad, which left Denver last night for Leadville, was derailed at the east switch at Cuba, a small station about 11 miles from Pueblo, at 12:45 this morning. The engine and eight coaches composing the train left the rails, which were torn up for some distance but remained upright. According to reports received at the general offices, no one was injured. Traffic, however, was blocked for several hours, and other passenger trains were detoured via the Santa Fe tracks. The cause of the derailment is unknown.

WIFE SWOONED WHEN HUSBAND DIDN'T RECOGNIZE

Cincinnati, O., July 28.—Percy Proctor, member of the wealthy Cincinnati family, appeared suddenly in court here today and faced his wife, the former Baroness Nadine von Klifuss, for the first time in many months. Upon his failure to recognize her, his wife promptly swoomed.

Proctor instituted the case in which he testified today to stop the transfer of $40,000 worth of stock which his wife claims was given her in furtherance of a marriage contract made in Berlin before the American consul.

By this agreement which Proctor acknowledged, he was to settle upon her 200,000 francs, the marriage to take place when she had succeeded in divorcing the Baron von Klifuss. Shortly thereafter, however, the baron died.

Proctor, on taking the stand in his own behalf, acknowledged the genuineness of the contract and said that he gave a note for $40,000 in fulfillment. Her family asked for "something tangible," he said, so he put up the stock as "collateral" and the marriage took place in London Oct. 14, 1909.

"It was understood that title to the stock was to remain in my name and that my wife was only to have the income from it," he testified.

BITTER ATTACK ON GOMPERS IN MINERS' CONENTION

Denver, Colo., July 28.—The matter of affiliating with the American Federation of Labor occupied the attention of the Western Federation of Miners today to the exclusion of other business. Tonight the convention approved the report of the executive board, which had detailed the negotiations leading up to the referendum vote on the question, and also referred to the favorable action by the unions as evidenced by that vote.

Voicing their opposition to affiliation several of the delegates denounced the American Federation of Labor as unprogressive in political affairs. Prest. Samuel Gompers of the American federation was bitterly attacked, and the suggestion was made that his retirement would be the best thing that could happen for the working people. Joseph H. Hutchinson, a board member, was most bitter in his assault on the American federation and the proposed affiliation.

It was not until Prest. Charles H. Moyer of the Western federation took the floor to speak in favor of the board's report that it became clear that the majority of the delegates were with him. They cheered and applauded his utterances.

LOOKS LIKE MURDER.

Great Bend, Kan., July 28.—The body of William Miller, a farmer, 25 years old, was found in a cornfield near a tent in which he lived three miles south of here today.

There was a bullet wound in the head. Miller's horses were gone from their stalls. Footprints believed to be those of a man and a woman were found near the body.

MUNICIPAL INDEBTEDNESS.

Census Figures Show Interest Paid Gradually Increases.

Washington, July 28.—Based upon its investigations into the question of municipal indebtedness made for the year 1908, the census bureau has issued a statement showing a gradual increase in the interest rate paid by cities on their founded indebtedness. According to this showing the average rate was 3.85 per cent in 1906, 3.89 in 1907 and 3.92 in 1908. These figures are on face values and admittedly do not represent the absolute rate, as on the $187,083,286 worth of bonds sold in 1908 an aggregate premium of $5,325,851 and an aggregate discount of $484,456 were paid. Only 11 cities are represented as having made sales at a discount.

As indicated by the statement, the cities of more than 300,000 population with the best credit rating were:

Detroit, 3.27 per cent; Boston, 3.64 per cent, and Philadelphia, 3.79 per cent. The best cities of between 110,000 and 300,000 were: Indianapolis, 3.49 per cent; Cambridge, 3.56 per cent; Worcester, 3.69 per cent, and Fall River, 3.79 per cent.

Cities of more than 300,000 with the highest net rates were: San Francisco, 4.30 per cent, and New York, 4.19 per cent.

Other cities of from 100,000 to 300,000 with the highest net rates were: Los Angeles, 4.49 per cent; Memphis, 4.34 per cent, and Jersey City and Omaha, 4.27 per cent each.

UNWRITTEN LAW FOR WOMEN

New Orleans, July 28.—Basing their appeal on "the application of the unwritten law to women," the Era club, one of the leading woman's organizations of Louisiana, has called upon all other organizations of women to pledge their support to secure the exoneration of Mamie McLoughlin, charged with murder. Miss McLoughlin shot and killed Hugh Smith, a wealthy saloon proprietor when she met him, accompanied by another young woman, on St. Charles avenue here several days ago.
