Now is the time to subscribe! The political Campaign for 1860 promises to be one of the most interesting and exciting. We have ever had. The CONSTITUTIONAL UNION PARTY have Men and Events on the track, and a more high strung contest, talented, patriotic, and conservative ticket has never been before the country.

The Black Republicans at Chicago, after a stormy session, some fighting and much abuse of each other, have, in the midst of hisses and hard words, nominated Abe Lincoln, the Illinois Abolitionist, who was supported by Buchanan's Administration, 18 months ago, for the Senate, in opposition to Douglas, on the ticket with this Administration par excellence, Hannibal Hamlin, of Maine, an Abolitionist of the John Brown—Helper—Seward school, who, by all measures, means, features, mouth, nose, skin, skin, and woolly head, could be sold in the South for a negro.

The regular Democracy at Baltimore, have put forth Douglas, for their candidate. The Conservative Democracy, who delegates seceded, have put forth Breckenridge, the representative of Southern Democracy, and of Southern principles, as their candidate. Bravo!—men or no men, such and this gives us fair opportunity in the field, and promise of a lively time. We know who we have to fight, and we open a brisk fire at once. Let those who desire to be posted, read for our Whig.
