AIR EXPRESS TO CUBA

Service Will Be Inaugurated From Key West in December

KEY WEST, Oct. 21.—(Special.)—James P. Farnham, representing the Aero Limited Airplane Transportation concern, of New York, is in the city. He is planning the inauguration of an air passenger line between Jacksonville and Havana, making station stops at the principal points enroute. He has been successful in securing a landing field here, and hopes to have the schedule in operation by December. He says that the rate of fare will be ninety cents a mile, which will make the cost from Key West to Havana -81 per passenger. From Jacksonville here would be only $469.89. He stated that the rate is not high, considering that pilots and machinists have to be paid $50 per week each and $2 an hour each while in the air. From the rate of speed he suggests will be made between Key West and Havana, it will cost passengers a dollar a minute while they are flying the distance.

The postoffice department has announced that the first air passenger line in operation between Key West and Havana will be given a contract to carry the United States mail. Mr. Farnham hopes to be the first in actual operation and gain this contract. He claims and shows that he has ample backing to put the thing over.

LAKELAND UP IN THE AIR

Machine For Inter-City Air Traffic Auctions First Ride

LAKELAND, Oct. 21.—(Special.)—Considerable interest was aroused in the city Saturday afternoon when the Inter-City Air Service was first introduced here. It had been announced that the first ride in the air machine would be auctioned off on East Main street in front of the City Drug Store. C. E. Todd acted as auctioneer, and the bidding was spir-

AROUND THE WORLD WITH THE AMERICAN RED CROSS.

Home Service.

One of the finest constructive activities of the American Red Cross in the war was Home Service in the United States, the friendly connecting link between the soldier far from home and his loved ones. This branch of the work which under the peace program of the Red Cross will be expanded to benefit all who need the assistance it can provide, is directed by scientifically trained social workers. Since instituted Home Service has assisted 800,000 soldiers' and sailors' families. This photograph shows one of the innumerable Home Service information bureaus where service men and their families could bring their problems for solution.

ited, a number of the large crowd gathering taking part in the fun.

J. Harold Davis, of Bartow, was the successful bidder, and to him was awarded the privilege and honor of taking the first ride. The ride cost Mr. Davis $40. The second ride over the cit ywas made by W. R. Miller, at the modest sum of $29, and the third trip was awarded to R. B. Child, editor of the Lakeland Advertiser, the price paid by the newspaperman for a seat in the car being $15.

The new car just from the factory is a beauty. It is decorated with the name of the company, "Inter-City Air-Line Corporation." The machine has been given the name of "Imp," and the name appears prominently displayed on each wing and the tail.

The proprietors express satisfaction at the good beginning of this air service, and it is thought this mode of travel will become popular in Lakeland and South Florida.

WITHDRAWS PROTEST AGAINST LEPROSARIUM

KEY WEST CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ACTS

Follows Advice of Former State Health Officer, Who Says He Is Surprised

KEY WEST, Oct. 21.—(Special.) The Key West Chamber of Commerce has withdrawn its protest against the locating of a leper farm in Florida. The protest was wired to the State's representatives at Washington recently when the southern portion of Florida was so worked up over the proposition. Dr. J. Y. Porter, Sr., appeared at the Chamber of Commerce Friday evening and at the suggestion of City Health Officer William R. Warren, suggested and requested that the protest be withdrawn. Dr. Porter stated that all the hullabaloo was raised by people who did not know a thing on earth about leprosy. "It is only mildly contagious," he said, "not nearly as much so as is tuberculosis." He mentioned leper homes at San Francisco and in Louisiana, and in foreign countries, stating that the disease had never been known to spread from any of them, and their location had not in the least proven a detriment to the community surrounding them.

He expressed surprise, stating his reason therefor, that the Chamber

GATORS HOPEFUL OF A WIN OVER GEORGIANS

WILL MEET BIG TEAM AT TAMPA NEXT SATURDAY

Georgians Have Unusually Heavy Line—Many Changes at Florida—Secret Practice

GAINESVILLE, Oct. 21.—That a powerful football defense is in the making at Florida was evidenced here last Saturday in the game with Mercer, in which, at no time, were the Baptists able to penetrate the 'Gators' line for more than five yards. As a result of the showing of the team in this game, it is generally agreed by followers of the Alligators that Coach Al. Buser and his assistant, Sam Buie, have ample reason to be satisfied with the work accomplished during the first three weeks of training.

Many minor defects were erahown the coaches in the Mercer battle game, and these defects are being smoothed out this week in preparation for Georgia at Tampa next Saturday. It is conceded that the Crackers have a formidable eleven, and the 'Gators are exerting every bit of energy to get their machine in smooth running order for the coming contest on Plant Field.

With Hatton back in the line-up at quarter and big Olson returned for full-back duty after an enforced rest, the offense of the team should show a considerable improvement—and it must have been pretty forceful Saturday to have rolled up forty-eight points against the Baptists.

Besides the eleven who probably will start, Coach Buser has a wealth of line material that will be available on the sidelines, and all of it good, while the backfield aggregation reporting daily to Buie represents a well-proportioned combination of speed and power that will prove troublesome to the Georgia forwards. Buie will have two distinct and powerful sets of backs—Hatton, Sparkman, C. Anderson and Olson, probably starting and R. Anderson, Bushnell, Merrin and Wilson ready to step in any time. Bush and Wi-

We Need an Annual Supplement to the Decalogue in These Latter Days

By EDWARD A. ROSS, in "Sin and Society"

The sinister opportunities presented in this webbed social life have been seized unhesitatingly, because such treasours have not yet become infamous. The man who picks pockets with a railroad rebate, murders with an adulterant instead of a bludgeon, burglarizes with a rakeoff instead of a jimmy, cheats with a company prospectus instead of a deck of cards, or scuttles his town instead of his ship, doesn't feel on his brow the brand of a malefactor. The shudder of blood, the oppressor of the widow and the fatherless, long ago became odious, but latter-day treacheries fly no skull and crossbones at the masthead.

Our social organization has developed to a stage where the old righteousness is not enough. We need an annual supplement to the Decalogue.

The growth of credit institutions, the spread of fiduciary relations, the enmeshing of industry in law, the interlacing of government and business, the multiplication of boards of inspectors—beneficent as they all are, they invite to sin. What gateways they open to greed! What fresh parasites they let in on us! How idle in our new situation to intone the old litanies!

The reality of this close-knit life is not to be seen and touched; it must be thought. The sins it opens the door to are to be discerned by knitting the brows rather than by opening the eyes.

It takes imagination to see that bogus medical diploma, lying advertisement, and fake testimonial are death-dealing instruments. It takes imagination to see that savings-bank wrecker, loan shark and investment swindler in taking livelihoods take lives.

It takes imagination to see that the business of debsuching voters, fixing juries, seducing lawmakers and corrupting public servants is like sawing through the props of a crowded grandstand. Whether we like it or not we are in the organic phase, and the thickening perils that beset our path can be beheld only by the mind's eye.
