

Bargains! Bargains!

DON'T MISS THE BARGAINS

Dry Goods

In our Dry Goods Department we are offering a number of real bargains and you should not miss them. You can rest assured that Dry Goods will not come down soon, and we must advance prices of some goods or else we cannot buy more, as they are now higher in the wholesale market than we are selling them.

Ready-to-Wear

In this department we have made several good reductions, some in Dresses, some in Suits and Coats. This is your chance to save some money as these special prices are on for a few days only.

There is a shortage of goods in all lines, because the European countries are buying as fast as they can do so, and at most any price. You will make no mistake in buying now.

SOCIETY

MISS NELL LUCAS, Society Editor Phone 195

ANDERSON - BROWNING NUP- TIALS.

An event of unusual interest of the autumn social season the wedding tonight of Mr. Charles Everett Anderson and Miss Marie Estella Browning at the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Stanton Browning, in East Palatka.

The ceremony has been planned for 8:30 o'clock on the spacious lawn of the Browning home on the shore of the beautiful St. Johns river. A beautiful arch has been erected, with harmonizing floral decoration around the altar where the ceremony will be performed, Rev. Seymour Grady, Methodist minister of St. Augustine, registering the vows of the popular young couple.

Befitting the occasion a musical program of unusual appropriateness has been arranged. The Putnam orchestra, with Messrs. John Tilghman and Lew Barstow on violins, Mr. Mark Shaw on saxophone and Mr. William Towner at the piano, will play several selections, and during the ceremony Mrs. L. Tenny, accompanied by Mrs. E. L. Mann, will sing "At Dawning."

The attendance on the bride will be Miss Helen Cochrane, Miss Thelma Hyers, Miss Halkie Lancaster and Miss Winnifred Browning, maid of honor; Mr. Clyde LeMee, Mr. Cromwell Anderson, Mr. James Browning and Mr. Kelley Reynolds.

Following the ceremony a reception will be tendered, during which a delightful musical program will be rendered.

The bride and groom will leave, at an hour not announced, for points in the north, to be gone two weeks, after which they will be at home to their friends in Palatka at No. 417 North Third street.

Miss Browning is one of the most popular members of the society set, much admired for her charm of manner as well as lovely personality.

Mr. Anderson is one of Palatka's most popular young business men, a member of the firm of the Spencer Electric Co.

Miss Houghton Entertains.
Miss Winnifred Houghton entertained last evening with a dinner in honor of Miss Browning and Chas. Anderson whose marriage will be solemnized this evening.

Covers were laid for ten at the table, whose appointments were perfect in every detail. A color scheme of yellow and white was used in decorations and throughout the five courses.

The center piece was a delicate French ivory basket, tied with yellow tulle and filled with golden glow. This was surrounded with tall yellow candles in cut glass candlesticks. The places were marked with place cards hand-painted in designs of golden glow, and small yellow candles in tiny candlesticks.

The favors were small kewpies with yellow sashes, those for the honor guests being dressed as bride and groom, one with bridal veil and the other with a silk hat.

An attractive feature of the desert course of yellow and white ice cream, was the individual cakes which were iced in white with the letters "B-A" in yellow icing.

The invited guests were: Miss Browning, Misses Winnifred Browning, Halkie Lancaster of Fort Morgan, La., Thelma Hyers of Jacksonville, Helen Cochrane and Messrs. Chas. Anderson, Jimmie Browning, Clyde LeMee of Jacksonville, Kelley Reynolds and Lewington Barstow.
