ANDERSON-BROWNING WEDDING A BRILLIANT SOCIAL EVENT

MRS. CHARLES EVERETT ANDERSON.

Mrs. Anderson's Marriage Occurred Last Night at the Handsome Browning Home on the St. Johns. As Miss Marie Estella Browning. Mrs. Anderson was one of Palatka's Most Admired Young Women.

An event of the autumn social season was the wedding last evening of Mr. Charles Everett Anderson to Miss Marie Estella Browning. The marriage was solemnized at the beautiful home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Browning, on the shore overlooking the St. Johns river, in East Palatka.

An aisle was arranged, overarched with bamboo and graceful evergreens, leading from the broad veranda steps down the lawn facing the river to an arbor in which was suspended a wedding bell of white roses. The archway of the aisle was studied with electric lights under Japanese shades.

Immediately before the ceremony, a musical program was given by the Putnam Orchestra and Mrs. Louis E. Tenney sang Csadmon's "At Dawning," accompanied by Mrs. E. L. Mann.

At 8:30, the bridal party descended the steps, as the orchestra began the strains of the wedding march from Lohengren. They were led by Miss Thelma Hyers and Mr. Clyde LaMee, of Jacksonville. Next came Miss Helen Cochrane and Mr. Kelly Reynolds, and they were followed by Miss Hallie Lancaster, of Fort Morgan, Ala., and Mr. James Browning, a cousin of the bride. The bridal party was immediately preceded by the maid of honor, Miss Winnifred Browning, sister of the bride. The bride entered on the arm of her father, Mr. S. S. Browning, who gave her in marriage. At the entrance of the arbor, they were met by the groom, and his brother, Mr. Cromwell Anderson, who acted as best man. From the end of the aisle, the minister, Rev. Seymour Grady, of St. Augustine, advanced to meet the bride and groom and impressively performed the marriage ceremony.

Miss Browning, in bridal robe, was at her loveliest. She wore a gown of white Pussy Willow satin with court train, and simply trimmed in handsome radium lace embroidered in crystals and pearl. Her veil was of the usual bridal tulle, edged with pearls with a crown in regal effect made of radium lace, effectively embroidered in crystals and pearls. In her arm she carried a bouquet of bride's roses and valley lillies.

The maid of honor and the bridesmaids carried baskets filled with Russell Roses and tied with pink tulle.

Miss Winnifred Browning was girlishly attired in pink charmeuse decorated in lace and roses in pastel shades. Miss Lancaster wore an exquisite gown of sequins in iridescent shades. Miss Cochrane was becomingly gowned in turquoise blue radium silk draped with tulle and gracefully caught with small roses.

Miss Hyers looked lovely in a dress of yellow moon glow meteor with iridescent trimmings.

Mrs. Browning looked handsome in her dress of black satin and lace with a bit of sapphire blue.

Miss Margaret Anderson wore a beautiful gown of tulle and crepe emerald and heavily beaded.

After the ceremony, to the joyous strains of the Mendelssohn wedding march, the bridal party proceeded to the house, where an informal reception was held. The home was decorated in the color scheme of pink and green, the mantles banked in roses, the stair rail, doors and windows twined and draped in asparagus ferns, and Mexican roses, Miss Winifred Haughton and Miss Grizella Merrill presiding at the punch bowl in the living room.

In the center of the bride's table in the dining room was the bridal cake, over which pink tulle was draped in graceful effects and extending to the corners of the table.

The ice course was served to the guests by a number of Palatka young society set, Misses Kathleen Hilburn, Dorothy Merriam, Dorothy Davis, Florence Smith and Miss Birdie Reed, of Green Cove Springs. Miss Winnifred Barstow registered the names of the guests in the bride's book.

The bride's traveling costume was a becoming suit of African brown velour with a feather toque corresponding in shade.

After the reception, the bride and groom left for a honeymoon trip, the destination of which they have kept secret from their friends.

Owing to the prominence of the contracting parties this wedding is of universal interest. The bride is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Browning, and because of her charming personality is popular with a wide circle of friends.

Mr. Anderson is a grandson of Gen. Patton Anderson, of the Confederate Army. The groom has served two years in the Engineering Corps with the A. E. F. Since his return he has been identified with the business affairs of the city, being one of the partners of the Spencer Electric Company.

SHIPPERS OF FRUIT ARE HAVING TROUBLE

STRIKE IN NEW YORK MAKES DELIVERY UNCERTAIN

William Tilghman Stops Car in Bad Condition, But Has to Pay Freight All the Way.

Owing to the tie-up at the docks in New York citrus fruit shippers are finding it a difficult matter to get fruit delivered by boat, as is evidenced by the experience of W. G. Tilghman. The strike at New York has been officially called off, but the dock wallopers who want to go to work are afraid to do so because they fear an attack from the radicals.

Mr. Tilghman shipped a car load of fruit some days ago, in which he had eighty boxes of fruit that had been lying in the warehouse of the Clyde Line here several days because the Clyde Line would not receive them under present conditions. When the shipment reached Jacksonville it was found to be in bad condition, rather the fruit he had held in the warehouse several days was in bad condition. Mr. Tilghman advised the railroad company to turn the fruit over to the State Marketing Bureau. This the railroad refused to do until the freight all the way to New York, its destination, had been paid. Mr. Tilghman had to pay the freight before he could secure a release.

Another shipment sent away by Mr. Tilghman on the boat was returned to him from Jacksonville, due to the refusal of the company to carry the fruit into New York until labor conditions were settled.

Passes Sugar Test.
Fruit in Mr. Tilghman's grove across the river passed the state requirements as to sugar test with a considerable margin to spare. Mr. Tilghman is very proud of the record, and says his fruit is as good as it would be if left thirty days longer. Both grapefruit and oranges passed the test, having a margin of about three per cent over state requirements.

GOHAM'S HOMELESS HOUSED IN ARMORIES

FAMILIES EVICTED BY LANDLORDS TAKEN CARE OF Heat Kept in Buildings and Breakfast Served—Beds Provided For All.

NE WYORK, Oct. 24—(United Press)—The extreme distress which was bound to result from the shortage of housing came to a head last night, when it became necessary to accommodate in the 12th Regiment Armory, at Columbus Avenue and Sixty-second Street, more than 100 men, women, and children who had been dispossessed in various parts of the city. They were not necessarily members of destitute families or persons who could not pay a reasonable rent, but were rather those who had resisted the continuous increase in rent imposed by landlords, and had been evicted from their homes.

The use of the armory was obtained through Nathan Hirsch, Chairman of the Mayor's Committee on Rent Profiteering, and the courtesy of Colonel Nelson B. Burr of the Twelfth Regiment. According to Colonel Burr, the regiment has shown that it could fight and now was going to show it knew how to aid and comfort the distressed.

Largely through his personal services accommodations were made ready for 150 persons—cots, mattresses and blankets for all. Orders had been given that heat should be maintained in the building all night, and that bathing facilities should be provided in the morning. Afterward the "tenants" had a breakfast of cereals, eggs, roots and coffee.

"John Chinaman."
As far as can be learned, the earliest use of the nickname John Chinaman as a designation for celestials is in "a letter to the committee of management of Drury Lane theater," published in London just 100 years ago.

Who Owns the Ring?
That an engagement ring is no longer the property of a young lady who breaks her engagement is the recent verdict of an English court. The girl in the case had broken off the engagement, but decided to keep the tokens of regard as souvenirs—until the court interfered.—Savannah News.

WHO ATTACKED WATSON?

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24—(United Press)—A resolution asking the Federal trade commission who authorized the press statement attacking the record of Senator Watson of Indiana, was adopted by the Senate today.

Makeshift, as it Were.
A strange family had recently moved into the neighborhood. Robert had made the acquaintance of the small son and had learned from him that the man was only the boy's step-father, and, in explanation to me, Robert said: "It ain't James' own daddy, mamma; he's just a second-hand one."—Chicago Tribune.
