Brownlow's Majority.

All the counties in East Tennessee have been heard from but three, and Brownlow's majority foots up 22,000. The remaining counties will swell the majority to 23,000. This is just about the old Union majority of 1861, and the fight has been between the same two parties, with this difference—the rebels fought under the name of Conservatives, which enabled them to impose upon many good men.

The Poor and Dirty Party.

The party representing the intelligence and moral worth of the country, has been defeated by Baxter's "filth and off-scourings of society." Etheridge stated in his speech that the Radical party paid no taxes, owned no property, never changed shirts, had no use for soap, and rode poor horses! To be beaten so far by such a party is bad enough. It indicates that the people are sick of the hump-tailed aristocracy.

The Dirty Shirt Party.

When Etheridge would hold up the Radical party as the party paying no taxes, riding poor horses, wearing dirty shirts, and having no use for soap, the rebels would cheer loud and long. It turns out that a man's vote with a dirty shirt on counts as much as the vote of the purse-proud aristocrat. That is what troubles the aristocracy. The common laborers of this country, who wear dirty shirts, intend to rule. These men who plant, prune, reap, change shirts every day, smoke fine cigars, and drink fine brandies, have had their day.

Horace Maynard.

The returns received give Maynard 7,000 of a majority, with Polk, Union, Claiborne, Campbell, Scott and Morgan counties to hear from. These six counties will swell the majority to ten or twelve thousand! What a rebuke to the rebel revilers of Maynard, and our aristocratic pretenders, who have erected for us the gentleman standard. The people are all right, and to a degree they will see the eyes of the aristocratic leaders, and would be dictators, who seek to bring them under rebel rule again.

Hon. John Netherland,

Of Hawkins county, has been appointed by the President, and confirmed by the Senate, as Minister to Bolivia. We would as soon see Col. Netherland have this appointment as any other Conservative. Detesting his politics, we esteem him a gentleman in the private relations of life.

Robert Morton, of the city of Nashville, was by the President, and rejected by the Senate, as Paymaster in the regular army.

A Thing of the Past.

Harper's Weekly, of New York, a neutral paper in politics, speaking of Johnson's policy, says: "Neither Radicals nor Conservatives like the policy of President Johnson."

The President's famous policy is as much a thing of the past as the political project of Mr. Jefferson.

To every man in the country who does not have a nigger on the brain, the truth of this declaration is as plain as the noonday sun. Andrew Johnson's policy is Conservatism, and Conservatism is as powerless in this country as the policy of the tories of 1776.

Unfortunately, there is a small party of Rip Van Winkles in East Tennessee, who have no better sense than to suppose that the Conservative policy of Johnson will triumph. Such men are unfit to associate with the men of the present generation. They ought to be locked up in a castle with the Egyptian mummy in the capital at Nashville, who was embalmed fourteen hundred years ago.

Mayor Luttrell.

During the exciting period of the past two weeks, an important and responsible duty has devolved upon Col. James C. Luttrell, Mayor of this city. Though differing with him in politics, we cheerfully bear testimony that Mayor Luttrell has energetically, earnestly and faithfully discharged his duty. He has rendered efficient the police under his command, and striven to protect alike alleviators in the exercise of their rights.

On election day he was constantly at the polls, personally supervising the police, and faithfully exercising his authority to prevent any infraction of the law. In his efforts he was efficiently aided and sustained by Waddel, Chief, and Bridwell, Assistant Chief of Police.

Mexico.

Major General Lew. Wallace, of Indiana, late a distinguished officer of the Union army, has spoken some plain words about Mexico, which it is well to look at. He says Maximilian was the greatest criminal whom this continent has yet seen. And the judgment has been formed with direct reference to charity, mercy and humanity, all which appear to have been so shockingly the Austrian's death. He is further my judgment," he adds, "that no people in any age or country, not excepting our own country in the recent rebellion, ever suffered so much at the hands of their ruler, lawful or usurping, as the Mexican people suffered from Maximilian.

As for Juarez he claims to be

"Juarez is a brave man; he has, in a great measure, the physical courage of the Indian tribes and the moral courage of the educated Christian gentleman. The French hooted him, year in and year out, like a wild beast; he did but kept his constancy proof against misfortune. And now, in the face of the world, calm amid the storm of protestation, partly in duty to his people, partly in duty to the weak republics south of him, which Europe proposes to reduce once more to the condition of colonies, he has deliberately sprinkled the dust of imperialism with the blood of the latest Emperor, Bazaine and Maximilian! Who will come next? and when will he come?

"That we can destroy Mexico there is no doubt, but let us not do it because we can. A study of our own embarrassments, together with the right knowledge of the customs, habits and peculiarities of the Mexican people, should satisfy every thinking citizen that we are no more interested in Mexico independent than in Mexico absorbed, and that we will be better paid by spending fifty millions to hold her up than a thousand millions to hold her down."

"Statal Calamity."

The Memphis Appeal, edited by General Albert Pike, late of the rebel army, the same General Pike who commanded an Indian brigade at Pea Ridge, and had Union soldiers scalped, says:

"A Statal calamity has been experienced in the complete recovery of the Rev. W. G. Brownlow, Governor, etc."

Wonder if the rebel General Albert Pike, of the Memphis Appeal is the same Albert Pike, who, when a young man, stole a canoe on the Tennessee river, in Maury county, and sailed down South, leaving his board and washing debts unpaid?

Etheridge's home is in Weakly county, and Etheridge has been a weakly candidate.

ELECTION RETURNS.

Under this head we give such returns from the elections as have reached us up to the date of issuing this slip. The route has been perfect, the Radicals carrying everything, and leaving the Rebel Conservative party to mourn over a Waterloo defeat.

KNOXVILLE.

Knoxville is the home of Brownlow and Maynard, and gave them larger majorities than ever given to men for the same office. Brownlow, 1827; Etheridge, 314—giving Brownlow a majority 639, in a vote of 1,825. The Governor cut-run the party ticket about one-third of a mile. What a rebuke to Etheridge, Baxter & Co.! And what a rebuke to the blackguards who opposed Maynard, on the ground that he was no gentleman! In East Knoxville, where the Governor votes, and within one hundred yards of his dwelling, out of 545 votes polled, he received 541.

KNOX COUNTY.

After all the hard lying and abuse by Conservatives in this county, and the circulation of thousands of dirty newspapers, the rebels were not able to carry one of the nineteen civil districts. And to cap the climax of glory, the county gives the entire Radical ticket a majority of over 1,800 votes!

McMINN COUNTY.

Brownlow, 1,205; Etheridge, 386; majority for Brownlow and whole Radical ticket, 209. God bless McMinn.

CARTER COUNTY.

Brownlow, 921; Etheridge, 65; Butler, 606; White, 66. Well done Carter county!

WASHINGTON COUNTY.

Brownlow, 1,199; Etheridge, 85. Radical ticket triumphant.

MIDDLE AND WEST TENNESSEE.

Nashville, Brownlow, 3,044; Etheridge, 745. Columbia, Brownlow, 1,142; Etheridge, 148. Brownsville, Brownlow's majority 641. Clarksville, Brownlow's majority 500. Murfreesboro, 700 majority also. Memphis, Brownlow's majority 6,000. Elections all quiet.

BRADLEY COUNTY.

The majority for the Radical ticket in Bradley is 815, being larger than was expected.

ANDERSON COUNTY.

The entire Radical ticket received 333 of a majority in Anderson, being two to one.

ROANE COUNTY.

The Radical majority in Roane is 1,334, giving the rebel ticket literally no votes at all. This is the county in which Baxter and Fleming opened the ball, and where Byrd spread himself like a green bay tree!

MONROE COUNTY.

The majority for the Radical ticket in Monroe is said to be 600; and if Baxter had made a few more of his lying speeches there, our majority would have reached twelve hundred.

HAWKINS COUNTY.

Brownlow's majority 1,000, with two districts to hear from.

GREENE COUNTY.

Brownlow's majority 737. Well done old Greene the President's home.

BEDFORD COUNTY.

Brownlow's majority 886. Mullins majority 765.

JEFFERSON COUNTY.

In this county Brownlow's majority is 1,211.—Well done, Jefferson and Jones.

FRANKLIN.

Intelligence reaches us that the town of Franklin and adjacent precincts gave 300 majority for Brownlow.

COLLIERVILLE.

Tallahoma, Aug. 3.—Brownlow received 76 and Etheridge 61 votes to-day.

UNION COUNTY.

Brownlow, 695; Etheridge, 268; Brownlow's majority, 417. Well done, glorious little Union. In this county there is scarcely a colored voter and scarcely a disfranchised rebel.

COCKE COUNTY.

The Radicals have expected to carry this county by 300 majority. The Conservatives have confidently claimed it. The votes: Brownlow, 1,168; Etheridge, 59; Butler, for Congress, 921; White, 56. Gov. Brownlow is in, as in many counties, but cut-run the ticket. All hail, freemen of Cocke!

BLOUNT COUNTY.

Brownlow, 1381; Etheridge, 327. Brownlow's majority, 1,054.

Old Blount has done just what every loyal man would have expected, and she has done as well, under the circumstances, as any people on earth could have done.

RHEA COUNTY.

Brownlow, 268; Etheridge, 63. So goes the Radical ticket in the little county of Rhea.

SULLIVAN COUNTY.

Brownlow, 776 votes; Etheridge, 22. John Weight is re-elected by a majority of 560.

CAMPBELL COUNTY.

Brownlow, 449; Etheridge, 188. This is another of the counties claimed by the Conservatives before the election.

HAMILTON COUNTY.

Brownlow's majority 1,500, and 700 of that majority was cast in Chattanooga, under the long nose of John Bonner.

HANCOCK COUNTY.

Brownlow, 518; Etheridge, 26. Other candidates about the same.

CLAIBORNE COUNTY.

Radical ticket carried by a majority of 650 votes.

MARION COUNTY.

Brownlow, 470; Etheridge, 30; Ralston received 400 in the Legislature.

WEAKLY COUNTY.

This is the home of Etheridge, where Brownlow received 761, and Etheridge 282. In Dresden, where Etheridge resides, Brownlow received 323, Etheridge 78. In civil district No. 4, where Etheridge was raised, Brownlow, 84; Etheridge, 30.—So much for Weakly county, the home of the Great Defeated!

SCOTT COUNTY.

The glorious little mountain county is the banner county of the State. Brownlow, 580; Etheridge, 7.

POLK COUNTY

Gives Brownlow 200 majority.

SEQUATCHIE COUNTY.

This the smallest county in the State, gives Brownlow 114, Etheridge 14.

MORGAN COUNTY

We learn this county gives 100 Radical majority. This majority in Morgan is less than we expected.

SEVIER COUNTY.

Sevier county gave Etheridge the old rebel vote of 81, and Brownlow a majority 1,248. Well done, little Sevier! She is entitled to the hostle to the pole!

BLOUNT COUNTY.

In this little county of Meigs the rebels claimed a majority, but she has given the Radical ticket 225 of a majority. Not one of the 19 counties in this end of the State has gone the rebel ticket.

BUTLER MAJORITY.

Judge Butler's majority in President Johnson's district reaches 8,000. What a triumph!

JOHNSON COUNTY.

The glorious little county, the home of R. R. Butler, Radical Congressman elect in President Johnson's district, gives Brownlow 620; Etheridge 314, Butler 598; White 35. In this county, as in a majority of the counties of East Tennessee, the Governor runs ahead of the entire ticket of his party.

GRAINGER COUNTY

Gives Brownlow 600 majority.

Official Vote of Knox County.
