AIR MAIL EXPANSION WAITS ON CONGRESS

Cannot Develop Unless Private Companies Are Offered an Adequate Payment.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

New York Herald Bureau,
Washington, D. C., May 22.

Further extension of the United States Air Mail Service has become impossible. It was made clear to-day that this condition will continue unless the Government renders it possible to operate all available planes, maintain landing fields and employ a large force of pilots and mechanics.

E. H. Shaughnessy, head of the service, said that the Government now is operating four routes, including one that crosses the continent, and thirty big landing fields.

"But to extend the service it will be necessary for private aviation to take contracts for carrying the mail on schedule," he added. "This private concerns now are unable to do because of the restrictions placed on the letting of such contracts by Congress. Under this restriction the Postmaster-General may approve such contracts only when the compensation is not greater than it would be were the mail to be carried by railroads. The outlook is most unhopeful."

The United States air mail established in May, 1918, was the first attempt in any country to carry mails regularly by plane. Banks found the service useful in transferring checks which must move quickly, from the Atlantic to the Pacific. The air mail beats the railroad mail across the continent by from thirty-six to forty-eight hours. Business mail which must move in a hurry is carried in large quantities.

Since May, 1918, the system has transported nearly 50,000,000 pieces of mail, mostly first class. The cost of carrying the mail by plane has been found by the Government to be more than one dollar a pound.

CARGO OF GERMAN TOYS ARRIVES ON MANCHURIA

American Liner Also Brings 676 Passengers.

The American liner Manchuria arrived here yesterday from Hamburg carrying a cargo of German made toys and 676 passengers, including several Germans who plan to make their homes here permanently.

In addition to these animate and inanimate reminders of the new regime of peace there was also on board the liner C. L. Lincoln, a veteran of the civil war and a Mississippi attorney, who went abroad two months ago to arrange for the return to this country of the body of his son, Capt. Atwell T. Lincoln. Capt. Lincoln was commander of Company B, 354th Infantry, when a German bullet killed him during the St. Mihiel drive in 1918.

Others on board were Baroness Stefan Keneny, formerly Ida Mitchell, of San Francisco, widow of a Hungarian nobleman, who returned to reestablish her American citizenship and raise money for Transylvanian war sufferers; Mrs. Oscar Munsterberg, sister-in-law of the late Prof. Hugo Munsterberg, and her three children; William C. Dreher, an American journalist, and Dr. Charles Otto Lesge, formerly professor of biology in German schools, who is here to help Californian farmers fight fruit pests.
