Monument at Washington Recalls Notable Services Rendered by Indian Chief to Young Republic

In the old Congressional cemetery at Washington stands a monument, the subject of which is known to very few of even the well-informed citizens of this country.

Pushmataha was chiefly celebrated for his unflinching friendship for the young American republic, and throughout his life he was able to demonstrate this friendship in various valuable ways.

Fashions in Flowers.

Flowers have not always meant beauty alone. In the days of the French revolution to wear or even possess the proscribed fleur-de-lys meant death.

Auntie Remembered.

Auntie, getting along in years, is an earnest devotee of the "blank" system of memory training. By its use she has had remarkable success lately in recalling names.

ST. MARK'S RECTOR SOUNDS WARNING. To the Editor of The Palatka News: Take a dose of Herbine when you are bilious or constipated, or your stomach is out of order.

The time has come and indeed has long been here when someone should speak plainly and most kindly to our dear young people and speak without fear of being misunderstood, and do so even though the truth may hurt; speak without fear of consequences to the speaker.

A few words of introduction: I am asking for the permission of using your columns because in the pulpit I am unable to reach the young people I love and prize so highly, because so few even of their elders are supporting the church through their presence in the congregation.

I have not been here these few months for nothing, and I know the time has come to open my mouth through the press in the hope of reaching the dear young people who do not go to church where the minister can warn them. I know a professional man whose word is as good as gold who told me what he has seen himself, and let me tell you, my young people, what he saw makes us older people tremble for you, for we would save you from utter destruction.

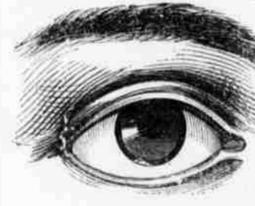

Mr. Editor, this is merely a warning to our good young people because we want them to continue to be the best on earth, and not fall by the wayside or roadside. If the cap fits any others, I hope it will fit so tightly that they will repent and resolve to join the ranks of the more fortunate.

As a young man, let me advise the young men, and I know whereof I speak, you have no right to ask for the hand of a young woman unless you can look her in the eye and say, "I am as straight and clean as you are." Young men, if we cannot say that, let us today resolve that we shall be from today just exactly what we expect her to be, no more, no less.

MEN BLIND TO WOMAN'S SUFFERING

How many men, think you, have any idea of the pain endured by women in their own household, and often without a murmur? They have no patience when the overworked wife and mother begins to get pale, have headaches, backaches, faint spells, or is melancholy and cannot sleep.

Chats With Your Gas Man

Sometimes you buy more meat than you need and some of it is wasted, but you do not get angry with your butcher for selling it. Or, you purchase more fruit or vegetables than you can possibly use, but you do not complain to your grocer. If you throw away a little coal with the ashes, you do not blame the coal man. You leave the refrigerator open and waste the ice, but you do not quarrel with the ice wagon driver.

Of course not! But sometimes when people carelessly waste gas, they blame the gas company. Neither merchants nor a gas company can control the use you make of a commodity.

Your gas company, however, while urging you to use gas, begs you not to waste it. Part of its service is to give you full value, and to see that you pay only for what you use and to use all that you pay for.
