GIFTS FROM THE GLAD TO THE RED CROSS

THE RED CROSS! Mother of Kindness; Sister of Cheer; Daughter of Sweet Hopes!

Memory harks back but a few years—a very few. Pictures of the steady toilers bearing sometimes double burdens come floating from across the sea.

Messengers from everywhere whisper of acts of love, devotion, sacrifice, discerned by those whose vision was hovering between the scenes of actualities here and the peace that "passeth all understanding" Over Beyond; when the soft touch and the gentle ministrations of the white-robed forms allayed the suffering and sometimes brought back the nearly dead.

History, after all, is but bits of detailed memory patched together so as to be reverted to when occasion demands that the good performances be touched upon.

History can be made to recall more than the service extended during the long years of the over-seas horrors; but the allusion to those alone is sufficient to awaken in the breast of everyone a realization of the debt owed the Red Cross for the performances which it is hoped will never again be required in so urgent a capacity.

Yet every day is the association born of the thought of an American woman and fostered by all religions and all creeds, and contributed to by those even without sect or creed, carrying on a work of devotion to all victims of disaster, ill-fortune and disease.

Once each year is there a supplication sent forth that those who have extended moral support in the past may tender a still more emphatic proof of the high opinion held for the association and all it stands for in each state, the United States, and the entire world.

Once each year to keep fresh in mind what it has done for humanity and what it continually does for those upon whom affliction has laid its heavy hand comes an almost universal testimonial for a "roll-call" and all that is associated with it.

It is at these annual reminders that offerings are made which enables the Red Cross to continue on doing great things and smaller things. There is made no demand upon any. There is merely a supplication that the moral backing be merged with a financial support as each individual donor may see best his way.

Next Sunday over all Great America spreads the appeal for aid to accomplish still greater work than has been done in the past. It means but little to the individual—this offering. It means wonderfully grand things for the Red Cross. Here in Palatka it means what it does in every city and village throughout the entire country: a support of a society which has no selfish desires to be accomplished and no unfair actions to be displayed; a society whose every aim is to serve those to whom service is a boon and to benefit and aid and assist and comfort all those whose condition may be unfortunate.

All Florida will respond to the roll call next Sunday—and Palatka and Putnam county will do their share in a noble undertaking.

MORE FIRST-PAGE SOB STORY STUFF

Evidently the starvation had must run in the veins of the MacSwineys of old Ireland. Terrence MacSwiney starved himself to death in Brixton prison, London, some two years ago, and gained nothing but a funeral for his pains.

Now Mary MacSwiney, arrested in a raid last Saturday, has eaten nothing since she was placed in jail and swears she will not again eat so long as she shall stay there. She has written that she "hopes she will be as brave as those who have gone before."

The determination of the woman carries with the threat a tinge of sympathy even though the matter is one having a humorous aspect. The carrying out of her program can win no point at law and authorities here of late become wholly indifferent to the gastronomical abilities of anyone in particular—whether come through or minus. Probably the all night and a little whether Mary of silencing us as they would care during an inv. He refused to eat guilty party can will be prosecuted.

macaroni while in the reformatory or Antonio Guiseppe chose not to eat chicken pilau so long as he was in the house of correction.

Mary is silly. Just so long as she can get her food free she should eat plentifully. Later years may show her that her checking up is all wrong, and she may lack food sadly needed.

Besides that, the game of starvation has been thoroughly worked on both sides of the Atlantic, and readers have lost interest in the sport.

SPARKS CIRCUS GIVES CLOWNS SEVERE ORDERS

There's something new under the white tops this season. At least there is with Sparks' Circus, which is due in Palatka next Monday. Yes, siree! Somethin' new, and it has to do with the clowns. This year they've told the "Joey's," so big top argot terms the chalk-faced cutups—this year, to repeat, they've told the clowns to go out in the three rings and on the hippodrome track and be funny. Honestly, every one of the thirty-five has been told to be funny, and if he can't be funny, so each one has been instructed, he must not go out before all the people and mislead 'em with his starched pantaloons and peaked cap. Those are the management's orders. Fact is, the orders read, "Every clown with this show is hired to get laughs. Any clown not getting one or more laughs in each clown display will be fined $100 for the first offense, $200 for the second offense, and for the third offense he'll have his clown suit taken away from him for one performance. Offenses after that will be handled without mercy." This is a fearful thing, folks. Perhaps the story should not have leaked out, but there

Merely Drummings From The Thought Tank By THORN

Putting Hot Shot.

Thunders an evangelist going about the country: "What constitutes a bad man? If he looks bad he is bad. If his breath is bad he is bad." Hold on, m-a-n, hold on. What about a cross-eyed preacher who has the catarrh?

My Loss; Not Theirs.

My chief regret at leaving south Florida was the thought that I could not again mix with the boys and girls of the press association of that section of the state—nor could I again be among the list of "those present" at those magnificently entertaining breakfasts given to the press by the Rotarians of Tampa. Those "breakfasts" are always so cleverly begun and so pleasingly done that once attended they are never forgotten. So mote it be.

Now Wearing Geese.

Quoting from The St. Petersburg Times which says "A feather from a canary bird worn by the bride brings good luck." I'm suggesting that very few brides of late years are wearing canary birds. The custom appears to have gone out of style. Yassum.

Make Anyone Sick.

The dispatches telling of that young fellow at Mesick, Mich., who killed his sweetheart, wounded her girl friend, and then shot and killed himself, certainly make Mesick.

Believes in Safety First.

I know a woman who steadfastly refuses to bank her cash balance in the local branch of the National Hoisery bank, upon the basis that "money talks," and she ain't goin' to have anyone start anything. Cautious chicken.

Do you honestly suppose that Solomon used to work one of those ancient weecree boards so as to get a few pointers on how to split babies? If that was the case I'd suggest that Prosecutor Mott tackle one for a few rounds, and see if he, too, couldn't get a few lurches in the Hall-Mills slaughter case. I thank you.

"Illuminate" Is Good.

An editoriallette from the columns of The Tampa Times says: "Drummings" from old Thorn's "Thought Tank" are now illuminating the pages of The Palatka News." For all of which I thank you.

Merely an Oversight.

It was gratifying to me to note a few days ago one of my little skits on "Oh, Those Skirts" published on Page B of The Tampa Times. It really sounded better to me than when I wrote it for The Kissimmee Gazette. P. S.—The only fault I had to find with it was the fact that it was not credited.

Titusville Star-Advocate Said.

In his good-by to The Kissimmee Gazette "Old Thorn," now with The Palatka Daily News, said: "Personally I have never worked for better men than the owners of The Gazette. There has been no friction and I hope The Gazette will be still a better paper than ever. And that's that."

And a nice way to sever business relations with old friends. W. L. Thorndyke observes all the ethics of a profession of which he is an ornament. Good luck to him.

American Artists Have Exhibition of Rare Showings (By Associated Press)

Chicago, Nov. 7.—Almost 300 oil paintings and pieces of sculpture, including works of many of the most prominent artists of America, are being shown in the thirty-fifth annual exhibition of American paintings and sculpture now on exhibit by the Art Institute of Chicago.

The exhibit is one of the most important events of the institute year. Nine prizes, carrying with them cash awards of $5,600, will be awarded by the jury of the exhibition. These include the Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Logan medal, with a purchase or gift of fifteen hundred dollars, and the Potter Palmer gold medal, with a cash prize of one thousand dollars.

England Plans Shipments Fruit From Australia

(By Associated Press) London, Nov. 8.—As the result of increased commerce between Australia and the mother country, a western Australian syndicate has been formed which will build eight new freight and fruit ships to operate between London and Australia.

The ships will run also to south Australia, and the syndicate expects to keep the markets of the British Isles supplied with Australian fruit in all seasons.

Pratts Poultry Feeds Must Make Good or We Will! No evasion or argument—Satisfaction or Money Back. That's the best possible proof that we know. Pratts Poultry Feeds are absolutely right—that they will give you better results than any other you have ever used. Make the test with your birds at our risk, under this guarantee—Use these feeds the easy "Pratt Way"—(Instructions in every bag)—then—"Your Money Back If YOU Are Not Satisfied." Pratts Buttermilk Laying Mash is not a hit-or-miss mixture, made up by guess and changed from week to week according to changes in grain prices. Instead, it is a scientific combination of highest quality feeds and buttermilk—it never varies in composition—it enables your hens to lay better because it contains exactly the right egg-making food elements and in correct proportions. They like it, eat it greedily and then lay the eggs you want. The knowledge gained through fifty years of service to poultrymen has made these better feeds possible. You are the gainer. Why not begin "cashing-in" today? Pratts Scratch Feed and Pratts Laying Mash work together in a splendid way—but the Mash is the sure-fire egg-maker. Your hens deserve a fair chance. Feed Pratts—the mash that makes the eggs.
