GOLFERS PAIRED FOR OPEN TITLE

FIELD OF 240 NOW DRAWN FOR SKOKIE

Supplementary List Likely to Establish Record for Tourney.

HAGEN IS WITH DUNCAN

British Titleholder and Former Champion Paired for Qualifying Round.

By KERR N. PETRIE.

In these days of ribbed mashies and ocean greyhounds home for the golfer is where he digs his divots. Golf has passed the hectic days when an international visitor on either side of the Atlantic was a novelty. Nowadays the professional stars of Great Britain and America come and go like the swallows and the robins, and it is going to be a lonely day on either side of the ocean when the other fellow's championship ceases to interest.

It seems only a day or two since the smoke of battle was drifting over the dunes of Sandwich in England and Walter Hagen, Jim Barnes and Jock Hutchison were sending cold shivers down the spine of patriotic Britons such as George Greenwood. Now the scene has shifted to the United States and the avengers or would-be avengers are upon us. Today George Duncan and Abe Mitchell will arrive on board the Majestic and as soon as they can escape from the clutches of the customs inspectors they will be off hot on the trail of Walter and Jock and Jim to Skokie, where the United States Golf Association open championship begins next Monday.

In view of what happened at Sandwich when Hagen won the championship and only Duncan kept the American Triumvirate from runing one, two it had been hoped that J. H. Taylor and Sandy Herd would express an eleventh hour desire to toss their hats into the ring and hustle up their plans a bit so that they could compete at Skokie. But J. H. and Sandy are not to be here in time, it appears.

Possibly the old fellows have given up the ghost, so to speak. And if so, their line of reasoning no doubt is sound enough, for if they could not hold the Americans at Sandwich they would have little to hope for in stepping from an ocean liner and jumping into an American open title tourney under the blaze of an Illinois summer sun.

Odds Against Invaders.

And so it remains for George and Abe to do the best they can in the full knowledge that their failure means the blasting of John Bull's golfing hopes and aspirations for another year. In other words they are carrying the full load of responsibility upon their shoulders and while it is agreed that they are qualified to bear the burden they realize at the same time that when they are down British golf is down and that there are no Audrey Boomers, Ockendens or Haverses to come through as a forlorn hope.

The odds must be said to be decidedly against the invading pair. In weather that was supposed to be unsuited to his game, Hagen triumphed at Sandwich. Now the homebred star faces his own native conditions of climate. And, when it comes to the last analysis, it has to be admitted that heat is liable to prove a much more formidable antagonist to Duncan and Mitchell than wind is to Hagen.

There is to be a new phase of open championship play next week at Skokie—three days of qualifying. A very wise provision this has turned out to be for the entry list already amounts to the substantial one of 240 players.

There were 265 at Toledo two years ago and 264 at Washington last year, but one is justified in looking for a record this time, inasmuch as it has been erroneously announced in the Middle West that the entries do not close until July 5. As a matter of fact Saturday was the last day for sending in names.

In view of this a supplementary list is certain to be issued within the next few days and it is on the cards that the field which lines up throughout the three days of qualifying will be in excess of anything previously seen in this country.

Stars Are Divided.

Although great care has been exercised in dividing the stars it would almost seem that the third division will have an easier time than the first or second. On Monday such stars are to be sent out for their thirty-six holes of qualifying as Abe Mitchell, Jim Barnes, Chick Evans, Jock Hutchison and Joe Kirkwood, while on the second day there are Walter Hagen, George Duncan, Bobby Jones, Jesse Guilford, Leo Diegel and Gene Sarazen. Players of outstanding prominence are not quite so plentiful the third day. This, however, may be more fancied than real, for in that last batch are found Fred McLeod, Laurie Ayton, Pat O'Hara, Bob MacDonald and other high class exponents of the divot-gouging art.

The first ball in the tournament will be driven by Jack Patterson of St. Joseph, Mo. It will have to be a good three hundred yard affair if it is to stand even a remote chance of holding the honors, inasmuch as along about midday Charles W. Hall, the mighty hitter of Birmingham, will be driving off.

Jack Stait of Hartford, Conn., is the first golfer of these parts on the list. Behind will be Bobby Cruickshank of Sharkamaxon, paired with Emil Loeffler of Pittsburgh. Alex Smith and Cyril Walker drive off at 9:30 the first day and at 9:35 are George McBean of Grassy Sprain and Nipper Campbell. Abe Mitchell and Phil Guadin come on the tee at 9:50.

Starting the defense of his title Jim Barnes will hit the ball at 10:05. Barnes has drawn Chick Evans for a partner. These old friends, Jock Hutchison and Mike Brady, follow at 10:35 and Joe Kirkwood, the Australian, will get under way at 11:05.

Inasmuch as an admission fee is to be charged this year the U. S. G. A. has to be commended on its magnificent display of business acumen. Such a thought is conjured up by the pairing of Walter Hagen and George Duncan. The gallery will gladly pay its dollar to see this pair perform. Other good teams on the second day are S. Davison Herron, former national amateur champion, and C. W. Hackney, Gene Sarazen and John G. Anderson, Bobby Jones and Leo Diegel and Jesse Guilford and Wilfrid Reid.

Jackson to Box Marks.

Bid Marks, the Canadian lightweight, has been signed to meet Willie Jackson at the Commonwealth Sporting Club on the 18th of July. Marks and Jackson posted their forfeits of $500 for weight and appearance.

Johnston Will Compete in Five Eastern Events

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—William M. Johnston of San Francisco, former national tennis champion, will compete in five tournaments in the East this summer, he announced here to-day. Johnston's first appearance will be in the invitation tournament at Seabright, N. J., July 31.

After that he will perform in the national doubles tournament at Boston August 21, the Davis cup challenge round at Forest Hills, N. Y., September 1; the national singles championship tourney at Philadelphia, September 8, and probably the East-West tournament at New York, September 15.

POLO'S BIG WEEK ON LONG ISLAND FIELDS

Meadow Brook and Rockaway Hunting Club Start Their Tourneys To-day.

By CAPT. H. H. HOLMES.

A big polo week commences to-day when the Meadow Brook annual tournament, unfortunately, owing to so many postponements, clashes with that of the Rockaway Hunting Club.

The game at Cedarhurst is for the Independence Cups, when Julius Fleischmann's team, known as the Flamingoes, meets a side representing the Eatontown Polo Club, New Jersey.

At Meadow Brook the semi-finals for the low handicap Hempstead Cups will temporarily give way to the Meadow Brook Cup event. This is confined to teams whose aggregate handicap is not less than twenty goals.

This afternoon the Whippany River Freebooters oppose the Meadow Brook Ramblers and an Orange County four, the U. S. Army team.

These games should produce some very dashing polo as interspersed among the teams entered for this high goal event are all the old international players and others that rank almost as high in the list.

To-morrow both clubs will continue their respective tournaments. At the Rockaway Hunt Club a home side, captained by Charles R. Leonard, is scheduled to play against Averill Harriman's Orange County aggregation, while Meadow Brook, on its own ground, may place its Masuite teams with Tommy Hitchcock in the field against the Patagonians who will be assisted by Devereux Milburn.

On Thursday the winners of the opening game at Cedarhurst will meet a Whippany River side in the semi-final, and on Saturday, July 8th, the final of the Independence Cups will be played.

Many New York Oarsmen in Schuylkill Races To-day

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

PHILADELPHIA, July 3.—Schuylkill waters were fairly alive to-day with entrants for the people's day regatta to be rowed over the mile and a quarter course to-morrow afternoon. Prominent among the New York arrivals was the senior eight oared shell of the Union Boat Club, which is stroked by Frank Brodil, the Columbia University pace setter. This metropolitan eight, which meets the Potomacs of Washington and Vespers, Undine and West Phillies of this city, contains several Columbia sweep swingers. The make up of the Union eight follows:

Swinburne, bow; Wascheck, No. 2; Nelson, No. 3; Ince, No. 4; Bertsch, No. 5; Cooper, No. 6; Ferris, No. 7; Brodil, stroke, and Cullean, coxswain.

The Undine eight of this city contains a number of Pennsylvania oarsmen with Roland Mattison in the stroke seat and Capt. Ed Rosenburgh No. 3.

Coach George Van Vleit of the New Rochelle Rowing Club has several of his crews here. He accompanied his junior eight oared shell and centipede in a single.

Henry Heller of the Lone Star Boat Club of New York is expected to give Tom Rooney, W. E. Garrett Gilmore and Paul Costello, the local senior singles entrants, a hard race.

Joseph Cremins of the New York A. C. has arrived for the association singles, A. Fitzpatrick of the West Phillies being his only opponent.

New York A. C. has sent over a good looking intermediate eight oared shell stroked by R. T. Terwilliger, which will meet the Bachelor Barge Club crew.

Seventy-four entries have been received for to-morrow's regatta, which will be one of the biggest in years. Several of the Baltimore and Washington crews arrived this evening.

Tilden to Play in Title Tournament on Clay Courts

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 3.—Play in the national clay court tennis championship will begin to-morrow afternoon on the courts of the Woodstock Country Club. The two tournaments have brought to Indianapolis the greatest assemblage of players in the history of Hoosier tennis, including William T. Tilden 2d of Philadelphia, national and world's champion.

Tilden will have little trouble, it is believed, in his opening match with M. B. Hutchinson, St. Paul. Tilden will probably meet Wray Brown, St. Louis star of the intercollegiate championships, or John Hennessey, Indianapolis, in the third round and Arthur Hubbell, Chicago, or Walter Westbrook, Detroit, in the fourth round. He cannot possibly meet Zenzo Shimizu of Japan before the final.

Shimizu plays A. B. Lynn, St. Louis, late Monday and in his bracket are such players as Phil Bettens, California; Theodore Drewes, St. Louis; Sandy Weiner, Philadelphia youngster; Charles Garland, Pittsburgh; Julius Sagalowsky, national boys' champion, and Fritz Bastian of Indianapolis.

Baer and Vernon Advance in A.A.U. Handball Tourney

Arthur "Bugs" Baer, humorist, was the victor in the lone match contested yesterday afternoon in the continuation of play of the A. A. U. singles handball tournament on the courts of Brighton Beach. He defeated Charles Kendall, a fellow member of the Brooklyn Central Branch Y. M. C. A., in straight sets, 21—8, 21—17. In the last set, Baer was hard pressed to win out, but Kendall was unable to wipe out an early advantage.

Murray Vernon of the New York Athletic Club, New York State singles champion, was awarded a default in his first appearance in the tournament, when Charles Lennon of the Trinity Club failed to appear for their first round match.

Motor Paced Race To-night.

Two events that may make cycling history will be decided at the New York Velodrome to-night. They include the fifty miles Brassard motor paced race and the one mile, best two out of three heats, return match between Orlando Piani, who trimmed Kramer and Goullet last Sunday in a three cornered affair at Newark, and Arthur Spencer, the sprinter.

Vaudeville Managers Put on Golf Act at Mt. Vernon

Former Senator Walters Surprises A. J. Van Buren.

Walter Vincent, and E. G. Lauder, Jr., have won their way to the final for the Topics of Day Cup in the golf tournament for Vaudeville managers now being contested at the Mt. Vernon Country Club. Vincent defeated James Plunkett, 5 and 4, and Lauder defeated Harry Mosley, one up, in the top and lower sections of the first sixteen.

Former state Senator J. Henry Walters, who had never attempted golf before, was a starter in the tournament and drew A. J. Van Buren as a partner in the qualifying round. Van Buren does a heavy golfing act and he had rehearsed it indoors all winter in order to "knock 'em off their feet," when called upon to put the show on out of doors.

At the end of 18 ferocious holes, during which Van Buren not only forgot his lines, but his "business" as well, the scores were counted.

Although both had appeared on the same circuit it was found that Van Buren had played to 174 strokes, while Walters had played to but 156. This might seem to infer that Van Buren had been the most popular entertainer, but golf glory goes to the one who can play to few, instead of many strokes.

Navy's New Stands Will Accommodate About 10,000

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., July 3.—Work has has been begun on a new athletic field at the Naval Academy, the stands of which will accommodate about 10,000, nearly twice the capacity of those of Worden Field, now the regular athletic field used by the midshipmen. The field and stands will be in use by next spring. The grounds are situated just across college creek from the old Naval Academy grounds on what was formerly the Marines parade ground.

No Government funds will be used in the construction of the grounds or stands, as the necessary amount will be provided from the proceeds of the football games to be played by the Naval Academy away from home next year.

Many Nationalities in Playground Competitions

Melting Pot of Sport Will Boil To-day on Land and Water.

Descendents of every nation will be among the 30,000 girls and boys who will compete in athletic and swimming meets to be conducted by the Mayor's Committee in the five boroughs of New York City to-day. Some of the contestants are Americans by birth, but many others are such by adoption. But all are well qualified by instruction and careful training received from capable men and women instructors to give exhibitions of quality at running, hurdling, jumping, weight throwing and swimming.

Father Knickerbocker's Olympic games, as these playground and public bath competitions have been called, are really more international in interest than the real Olympic because of the different nationalities of contestants and spectators. Shouts of encouragement in many tongues will greet the ears of competitor and spectator. The Chinese, seldom seen in Olympic events, are always among the contestants. Truly the games are evidence of the existence of the melting pot in sport in this country. With clear weather more than 200,000 persons will view the contests.

'Tiny' Maxwell Buried.

CHICAGO, July 3.—The body of Robert Wallace ("Tiny") Maxwell literally was buried under a mass of flowers in a chapel here to-day. The floral tributes to the famous athlete, sports writer and official, who died from injuries received in an automobile accident, came from major league baseball clubs and persons in all walks of life. Funeral arrangements were under the auspices of the Masonic Lodge.

Maplewood Trapshooting.

MAPLEWOOD, N. H., July 3.—This was Trophy winners practice day at the Maplewood trapshooting tournament. The New Hampshire had fifty-eight entries. Four tied with 97 two class A, one class B, and one class C. High over all was won by Jay Clark of Worcester, Mass., with 97 out of 100. Class A was won by F. A. Siebert, New York with 97; Class B, by J. L. Snow, Boston, Mass. 97; Class C, J. W. Ault, Lancaster, Pa., 97. Class D, H. Z. Tosi, Boston, Mass. 93. The high professional was W. S. Colfax, Jr., Penns Grove, N. J., with 93.
