SHIP BUILDERS AIM AT STANDARDIZING

New Organization Also Plans to Coordinate Methods of Operation.

Preliminary steps toward the formation of a permanent organization to formulate rules and methods for the standardization and coordination of ship building and ship operating in the United States were taken yesterday at a conference held in Grand Central Palace at the suggestion of Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce. In attendance were about a score of delegates representing the leading societies and organizations in all branches of the shipping industry.

At first planned to cover only the standardization of ship building equipment, the conference quickly expanded its scope to take in the operation and management of ships, in response to a general feeling that any attempt to deal with one field of marine activity to the exclusion of the others would necessarily meet with failure.

Roy M. Hudson, representing the Department of Commerce, read a paper telling of the advances toward standardization made in other American industries and in foreign ship building, and detailing the advantages gained thereby. He concluded with the following summary of Secretary Hoover's views of the means to be taken by the shipping industry to obtain similar results:

"That there be formed a central committee, or 'American Marine Council,' made up of representatives from every association or group interested in, or connected with, our merchant marine problem.

"That this council be given the responsibility for a comprehensive survey of the facts to determine the prevalent wastes in current practice, both commercial and engineering, and the extent to which simplification and standardization may be practically applied throughout all phases of the industry.

"That a definite time be set for the completion of the survey and for another general meeting to receive the report and act on its recommendations."

The response of the delegates to this was a resolution offered by John L. Bogart, consulting marine engineer, and quickly adopted, directing the appointment of a ways and means committee of five or more members to lay the groundwork for the suggested council. Col. E. A. Simmons, president of the National Marine Association, who acted as chairman of the meeting, was asked to name the committee. A recommendation of William F. Gibbs, chairman of the technical committee of the American Steamship Owners Association, that paid employees rather than voluntary assistance be used in working out the program was favorably received.

Several talks on shipping subjects scheduled to be given yesterday at Grand Central Palace in connection with the Marine Exposition in progress there were postponed till this afternoon. Francis H. Sisson, vice-president of the Guaranty Trust Company; Capt. J. L. Reed of the Coast Guard and Commander R. D. Gatewood of the Shipping Board were the speakers. Also on the program to-day are talks by Charles H. Potter, president of the Maritime Exchange; Winthrop L. Marvin, vice-president and general manager of the American Steamship Owners Association; Capt. Reginald H. Fay, president of the National Board of Steam Navigation, and Capt. J. F. Milliken of the Neptune Association.

PACIFIC COAST ORDERS 18 MONTHS' OIL SUPPLY

Bids to Be Considered Now for Atlantic.

M. W. Bowen, head of the Shipping Board's Fuel Oil Department, returned yesterday from the Pacific coast. He signed a contract to supply, between 5,000,000 and 6,000,000 barrels of fuel oil during the next eighteen months.

Mr. Bowen next will consider bids for the board's requirements on the Atlantic during the next year, expected to be between 13,000,000 and 15,000,000 barrels. He said that most of the needs on this coast would be met from supplies available near by. Shipments in large quantity from California could not be expected unless there was a further rise in prices on the Atlantic coast, he added.

SHIPPING BOARD SIGNS 409 FEWER IN MONTH

Marked Employment Decline on West Coast.

Officers and men placed by the Sea Service Bureau of the Shipping Board in October numbered 7,826, a loss of 409 as compared with the previous month. A marked decline in employment took place on the West coast, due to the replacement of Americans with Chinese, who are not hired by the bureau. There also was a loss at New York, caused by less activity in the laid up fleets.

Of the total signed during October, 6,642 were Americans, or 84.8 per cent., as compared with 86.2 per cent. the previous month. Placements on the Atlantic coast numbered 7,353 and on the Pacific 973. For coastwise service the placements were 2,514 and for ocean service 5,312.

W. J. LOVE SUCCEEDS MACK IN SHIPPING POST

Appointment as District Manager Causes Satisfaction.

Announcement that William J. Love had been appointed successor to A. F. Mack, who is retiring as district manager of the Shipping Board, was received yesterday with general satisfaction both in the local offices of the board and elsewhere in shipping circles.

There was some doubt as to when Mr. Love was to take up his new duties. He was not at the office yesterday and Mr. Mack has been at Atlantic City for several days.

The Emergency Fleet Corporation made public yesterday the total number of vessels owned and controlled by the United States Shipping Board. They number 1,422, with a total deadweight tonnage of 9,894,527, and are classed as follows:

Steel—Passenger and cargo, 44; cargo, 1,322; tankers, 80; refrigerators, 14; tugs, 30; unfinished cargo, 1. Total steel, 1,491; total deadweight tonnage, 9,799,545.
