SHIPPING NEWS FROM ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD

ROBERT DOLLAR CO. PLANS PIERS HERE

Terminal Project at Hunts Point Laid Before the Port Authority.

The Robert Dollar Steamship Company has plans for cooperating with the Port of New York Authority in the establishment of a pier and terminal project at Hunts Point on the East River to link up with trunk railroad lines and local transportation facilities, it became known yesterday.

"Robert Dollar attended a meeting of the Port Authority some time ago and laid plans for a Bronx terminal before it, but as yet no definite proposals have been made," said Eugenius H. Outerbridge, chairman of the Port Authority. He would make no further statement.

The Dollar terminal plans call for the construction of three piers, together with storage yards, tanks, warehouses and spur tracks connecting with the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad at the Mott Haven yards. From there an entirely new railroad line is contemplated, tying up with the lines of the Pennsylvania, the New York Central and the Staten Island Rapid Transit Company. The property for the terminal is already in the possession of the Dollar company.

Provision would be made by the terminal for the storage and distribution of the products carried by the trans-Pacific service of the Dollar Line, including, especially, wood oil, peanut oil and cocoanut oil. Large storage tanks for the vegetable oils would be provided at Hunts Point. The nearest storage tanks for this purpose now are located near Elizabethport, N. J.

The Hunts Point location will be made more desirable as a terminal point when present projects of the State, city and Federal Government are carried out. It is believed that the work of making the Harlem River navigable from the Hudson to the East River will shortly be pushed. The last Legislature appropriated $1,500,000 to eliminate the curved channel at Spuyten Duyvil and the Board of Estimate has set aside $900,000 to alter High Bridge so that the channel blocking piers may be removed.

BIG COAL PILE FIRES ITSELF.

Priority Orders Issued to Salvage 56,000 Ton Heap.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—A burning coal pile at Weeksbury, Ky., resulted in the immediate issue to-day of a sweeping Interstate Commerce Commission priority order for the salvage of its contents. F. W. Bell, assistant fuel distributor, explained that 56,000 tons, the entire stock pile of the Elkhorn Piney Coal Company, was succumbing to spontaneous combustion at a time when the country's need for coal was still occasioning Federal supervision and special railroad organization.

The commission directed the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad to disregard "all rules, regulations and practices" and get thirty cars a day to the mine until a total of 250 have been delivered, so that the fuel may be moved away from the flames.

MARINE NEWS NOTES.

H. F. Alexander, president of the Admiral Line, arrived in New York yesterday from the Pacific coast for a brief business trip, in the course of which he will go to Washington.

The East Coast South American Conference met yesterday and reduced the rate on paint to Montevideo and Rio de Janeiro from $20 to $16 a ton.

Of the ten ships to be withdrawn by the Shipping Board from laid up fleets, four are at New York. They will be reconditioned and kept ready for instant allocation whenever there is a cargo to be lifted or a damaged ship to be replaced.

A renewal of the downward tendency in intercoastal rates was reported yesterday. There is an urgent demand for space on the trip from the Pacific, but westbound the available tonnage is twice the amount of freight offered. When the movement of canned goods ceases at the end of next month, there will be a sharp decrease in the number of ships in service, it is predicted.

A meeting of representatives of Gulf and Atlantic lines on the cotton differential question was held yesterday at 8 Bridge street, but no developments came out of it, according to one of the men in attendance.

Preston J. Jennings, formerly in charge of East Coast South American traffic for the Shipping Board, has become assistant to the president of the International Chartering Company, 25 Beaver street.
