SHORTY'S TAME BEAR.

The Painful Results of a Landlord's Forgetfulness.

Their Boxing Exhibitions—A Couple of Inebriates Stopping the Whole Business—When "Solomon Had the Jams."

[New York Sun.]

"A good many folks thinks, when they see Shorty Ryerson for the fus' time, that some time or other he must ha' ben a layin' in the saw-mill whar the log had orter ben, with the mill a-goin' full split; but that ain't it," said old Sol, landlord of the tavern at Sol's Ridge. Shorty Ryerson had just gone out. There was nothing remarkable about his appearance except that he was less than five feet high, and that every square inch of one side of his face was a scar.

"No, that wa'n't it," said old Sol. "You see, goin' onter five year ago I had a tame b'ar, an' kep' him chained to that pole out thar in the road. Him an' Shorty was p'ticklar good friends, an' when Shorty wa'n't doin' nothin', which were ginerly from daylight one mornin' till daylight nex' mornin', countin' Sundays, he were out thar foolin' with that b'ar. They'd cuddle down together an' go to sleep, Shorty an' the b'ar would, jes'as nat'ral 'if they war both b'ars, an' it got so that when Shorty happened to be away fur ten minutes the b'ar 'd git so oneasy that ye could hear him beller like a baby, all 'round the Ridge. Shorty larnt the b'ar a heap o' smart tricks, an' business was s'pended half the time, an' the folks all out a-watchin' him puttin' the b'ar through what he know'd.

"The thing that tickled 'em most was the boxin' matches Shorty an' the b'ar 'd give. Shorty had larnt that b'ar so he'd stan' up an' spar with him ez nat'ral ez life, and I swan if 'twa'n't a sight good fur a lifetime to see 'em stan' thar an' hat away at one another ez if they was a fightin' fur money an' the stakes was up. 'Nother thing that nearly take the town down was the way that b'ar 'd walk inter the tavern with Shorty, whenever any one invited him to take sumpin', an' stan' thar 'long side o' him an' take his glass o' rum ez good ez the best on 'em. That b'ar were a harvest for Shorty, fur evrybody that 'd come along 'd haf to call Shorty an' Solomon—Shorty named the b'ar Solomon 'cause he know'd so ter'ble much—they'd all call Shorty an' Solomon in to hev sumpin'. Conskience was that both Shorty an' the b'ar had ther wuthless skins full pooty much all the time. They got to be the hardest drinkers on the Ridge, an' mistey say that the fust thing anybody know'd they'd both git the jams.

"Wall, by-an'-by Shorty an' the b'ar got to be a nuisance. I got tired o' seein' 'em p'formin' out thar in the road, an' suckin' rum, an' the hull town spendin' its time a watchin' 'em, an' I threatened time an' agin to shoot the durn b'ar an' stop the hull business. But I hated to do it, an' kept a puttin up with it, an' takin' it out in cussin'. Shorty allus commenced business with the b'ar long about daylight, an' the fust thing on the programme were allus a sparrin' match. One nice mornin' in June Shorty come shuffin' down ez usual to begin the day's work. The b'ar were cuddled up 'round the pole. Shorty gave him a whack on the side an' hollers out: 'Come, Solomon! Git up an' put up yer flippers.'

"The b'ar got up an' put up his flippers. Yo see wha' that panel o' board fence is, up thar by the hen house? Wall, Shorty were picked up right thar. They took him hum an' sewed his face up ez good ez they could, an' the b'ar were gone when Shorty come back to the tavern three weeks arterwards. He never asked no questions 'cept to say, 'Solomon musta' had the jams, didn't he?'

"Ye see, the night afore the b'ar put up his flipper to Shorty, ez I told ye, and arter ev'ry body had gone hum, th' were a peddler comin' along to stop all night. He had a durn ugly b'ar with him that he'd traded fur, and the idee struck me to swap Solomon for that b'ar an' $10 to boot, an' I did. The new b'ar were chained to the pole, an' by daylight next mornin' Solomon were on his way east. An' ye see, I furgot to sen' word to 'Shorty 'bout the dicker."

DR. H. H. YOST,
PRACTICAL AND SCIENTIFIC
OPTICIAN,
(Formerly of Des Moines, Iowa.)

Respectfully announces to the people of Wichita and surrounding country that he has opened his office in the store of H. A. Benson's, first door north of postoffice, where all suffering from weakness and defective vision can have a thorough examination, made on strictly scientific principles, with all the late appliances known to modern science of optics, to ascertain and correct defective visions such as Myopia, Hypersetropia, Presbyopia and Astigmatism. All forms of light requiring various tinted glasses.

When the young man applied to Horace Greely for a position, the great journalist asked, "What do you know?" On presenting his diploma as a graduate, Greely says, "I don't care for that, it is good in its place, but what do you know. DO YOU KNOW ANYTHING PRACTICALLY."

Now, Dr. H. H. Yost comes to the people of this city and county feeling confident that he thoroughly understands the principles of optics by reason of studying and gathering knowledge from the experience of our most scientific men of this country, also of Europe, during the past hundred years. More than all can answer the question asked by Greely, I know it practically.

Having traveled for years doing nothing else but examining defective eyes and correcting the vision of the same with artificial lenses, I say this, if there is another Optician on earth that has fitted more spectacles than I have, I would like to see him. I DON'T BELIEVE HE LIVES.

Furthermore, improvements in the construction of spectacles and eye-glasses has kept equal pace with other improvements of this wonderful age, and Dr. Yost wishes to say to the people that his Brazilian Pebble Lenses are constructed on strictly scientific principles, that any person, no matter what the cause of their defective vision may be, who will come to the office of Dr. Yost, have their eyes tested in a scientific manner and fitted with a pair of his Brazilian Pebble Lenses, made to his order and exclusively for his use, will go away happy and say truly, great are the devices of man.

Dr. Yost comes highly recommended by numerous eminent physicians throughout the State with flattering certificates, also statements without numbers from leading business men from all parts of the country. Space will not allow us to publish but a small, VERY SMALL part of them.

Please read carefully and then come and see for yourself. "Seeing is believing."

IOLA, KANSAS, May 25, 1884.

This is to certify that I have been using glasses purchased of Dr. H. H. Yost, and so far have given good satisfaction. I believe the doctor understands his business, and would cheerfully recommend him to the public. All of which is respectfully submitted.
DR. C. GELLHAN.

FT. LEAVENWORTH, KAN., May 16, 1884.

Dr. H. H. Yost understands the principles of optics, and of fitting glasses to eyes requiring spherical or cylindrical lenses, thoroughly.
B. E. FRYER, M. D.

IOLA, KANSAS, May 19, 1884.

To whom it may concern:

Having used glasses for some thirty years, I can certify that the Brazilian pebble lenses are the best I ever used—such as Dr. H. H. Yost has on sale—and, furthermore, I can recommend him as one of the best opticians I know of, which can be certified to by quite a number of our citizens in Iola.
R. W. ACKIS,
Proprietor Iola Mineral Well, Iola, Kansas.

IOLA, KANSAS, May 19, 1884.

This certifies that about one year ago I purchased two pairs of spectacles—one pair for my wife and one pair for myself—which have given entire satisfaction, from Dr. H. H. Yost, and I cheerfully recommend him to the public as an optician of the first-class.
C. H. BOULSON, M. D.

IOLA, KANSAS, May 19, 1884.

My wife purchased glasses of Dr. H. H. Yost, in Girard, Kansas, about eighteen months ago, which have proven entirely satisfactory, and I cheerfully recommend the Doctor as an optician.
WILLIS S. WEBB,
Pastor Baptist Church.

IOLA, KANSAS, May 19, 1884.

It is with the greatest pleasure that I state that some time ago I had my vision corrected by the skillful hands of Dr. H. H. Yost, with a pair of his Brazilian pebble lenses, and now I consider that it is a duty I owe the public to say that they are all I could desire; and I would not take ten times what they cost and part with my spectacles.
J. E. BOYD,
Ex-Judge.

EUREKA, KANSAS.

I have known D. H. H. Yost, formerly of Des Moines, Iowa, for the past thirty years, or since boyhood, and can cheerfully recommend him to the public or the people of Kansas as a skillful optician; and if there is a doctor in Kansas that can correct the vision, Dr. Yost can do it, to my own personal knowledge.
E. J. ALDISON.

IOLA, KANSAS, May 19, 1884.

Having experienced a good deal of difficulty in obtaining the proper lenses for my eyes, I finally purchased a pair of Dr. H. H. Yost, and they give entire satisfaction. I can cheerfully recommend him as an optician to any requiring aid. Respectfully,
DAVID WORST.

Oh, Yes! Oh, Yes!

HERE WE COME AGAIN!

Another man arises to testify what Dr. Yost has done for him. So give ear all ye men of understanding: a voice in your midst speaketh.

WICHITA, KANSAS, June 12th, 1884.

With pleasure I state to the public that some time ago, after being dreadfully bothered to get spectacles that I could use without fatiguing my eyes, I applied to Dr. Yost, and was fitted with a pair of his improved lenses. And, oh, what comfort I take in using them! No tiring of eyes; can read or write as long as I please; eyes perfectly cool and comfortable. I feel now that I can continue in my business, which is very hard on the eyesight (writing a good deal), and in old age have eyes worth many times what they would have been had I continued the empirical haphazard plan of buying any kind of glasses kept by the storekeepers. Should I ever need to buy glasses again, most assuredly I would buy of none other than a practical optician, such as I consider Dr. Yost to be in the full meaning of the term.

Yours respectfully,
A. T. OWEN.

They Come to See, and Return Convinced.
