FRUIT.—Col. Geo. S. Gaines.—The advertisement of our old friend Col. Geo. S. Gaines, comprising the splendid fruit nursery he has established near State Line Station, in Wayne county, will be observed by our readers, in another column. Colonel Gaines is one of the most skillful and experienced of horticulturists, and it is a treat to any lover of fine fruit to visit his extensive nurseries at "Peachwood," and inspect the extensive and choice collections, particularly in the Peach line, which he has accumulated, and now offers for the benefit of the public. The Col. has spent many active and useful days, and having retired from the more arduous duties of life, is devoting his attention to the refined and delightful employment of raising choice fruits. In this he has been eminently successful, while his well known integrity and high character as a gentleman will furnish ample security that those giving him orders will be fairly dealt with in all respects.—Let everybody that wishes to enrich their gardens and orchards with the descriptions of fruit which he advertises, send to him at once, as the time for planting will soon be past.

DR. CRANE.—This gentleman continues the successful practice of his electro-magnetic and chemical inhalation treatment administering to sufferers by pulmonary and chronic disorders with a success which is peculiarly and exclusively his own.

From the success which has marked his career in the city of New Orleans, for a number of years past, in numerous instances snatching from death and restoring to life and health sufferers who, under other treatments, might have gone prematurely to their graves, and in less desperate cases affording relief and a permanent cure—we may safely call the attention of the sick to his system as one of merit. There are numbers of people about new Orleans, now healthy, happy and happy as any, who were once in the toils of consumption, or aged before their time with rheumatism and other infirmities resulting from poisons in their systems, and who feel so much gratitude towards Dr. Crane, that they testimonial they are indebted to Dr. Crane, and that they are satisfied no other treatment could have relieved them of their peculiar infirmities.

To all who feel themselves in the approaches to consumption, or afflicted with any other painful and permanent ailment which may baffle the ordinary treatments, we say, go to Dr. Crane, and go to him without loss of time. Go and ascertain the nature of his treatment, and read the certificates, of which he has hundreds; many of them from citizens of the highest standing, and established in the strongest language which happiness and gratitude can dictate.

Dr. Crane's Institute is at No. 146 St. Joseph street, New Orleans. We refer to his card in another part of our paper.

CITY HOTEL—Mobile.—Mobile has been crowded with strangers this winter, for whom the best accommodations of the city have proven insufficient. Seeing this, our friend H. Griffin, has fitted up the old and once popular Exchange Hotel, which he has refurnished the "City Hotel," and is now prepared to accommodate customers in the very best style. The house is second to none in the city for hotel purposes after the Battle House. It has been thoroughly renovated, and wears an aspect of neatness and cleanliness from top to bottom which is refreshing to the eyes of its guests. The rooms are large and airy, and are kept in apple-pie order. We have known the worthy proprietor for years, and as a business man, and especially as hotel keeper he stands number one. We recommend his house most cordially to our friends who may have occasion to visit the city.

MESSRS. GEO. W. & JEHIAL READ.—No. 84, Warren, and 110 Chambers Street, New York.—Manufacturers and Wholesale dealers in Hats, Caps and Straw Goods, &c., &c.—This Mammoth establishment, beyond all question stands at the head of the houses engaged in the same trade in this country. Its present magnitude, and the success that it has achieved, is due to the untiring energy, the business capacity and the sagacious and enterprising manner in which the proprietors conduct their business. The Messrs. Read are truly model business men, and their transactions with customers are conducted upon the most high toned principles of integrity and liberality, such is the unvarying testimony of the numerous Southern Merchants who have had dealings with them. Their trade is chiefly with the South—and no Southern man need fear that in encouraging this house he is upholding a firm any member of which is hostile to the rights and interests of the South. We have been long acquainted with the partners, and can speak from personal knowledge of their worth and respecting them and their business. We desire to call the particular attention of all our merchant readers, to the advertisement which will be found in this paper.

We find complimentary notices of the Messrs. Reads' establishment in a number of our Southern papers, based no doubt upon information derived from merchants in their vicinity, who have traded with the house. Among these is the following from Texas Democrat and Mobile Tribune.

We take pleasure in calling the attention of our readers to the advertisement of George W. & Jehial Read in this issue. This is a popular and long established house, located in New York City, and being a delicacy question, it eminently deserves the patronage of Southern purchasers.—Texas Democrat.

See the advertisement headed "Straw Goods" of Messrs. George W. & Jehial Read, New York. This is one of the largest and most substantial of the northern houses, and can supply anything in the line cheaply and on as good terms as can be found anywhere. The stock is mostly new and of the latest styles. Our dealers would do well to inquire into it.—Mobile Tribune.

"SOUTHERN INSTITUTIONS."—Such is the first issue on the title page of a work from the pen of S. S. Boyd, Esq., of Louisiana, which is devoted to an inquiry into the origin and early prevalence of slavery and the slave trade, with an analysis of the laws and government of the institution of slavery in the principal nations ancient and modern, from the earliest upon record to the present time, with a concluding chapter in defense of the institutions of the South. The publisher has favored us only with a Prospectus of the work, and not the work itself. We can, therefore, only speak of its merits from hearsay. Antiquarian thought very highly of its ability, and it has received complimentary notices from various competent judges. It is for sale, $1.00 a copy, by J. C. Morgan, New Orleans and Middleton & McMaster, Mobile.

MACON STAR.—Messrs. H. C. BEXION and and W. C. BUFE, have become editors and proprietors of the Macon Star. The paper under their management promises to be of much interest and value, and we tender them our congratulations and best wishes on their accession to the fraternity.

We are indebted to our Senators, and to Messrs. Singleton, M'Rae and Reuben Davis, for interesting and valuable public documents and Congressional speeches.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT.—We acknowledge the compliment of a box of fine Havanas, and one of German Segars, from G. W. SUPIX & BRO., owner of Commerce and Church Street, Wholesale Dealers in Liquors, Wines, Segars, &c.

This firm is the sole agency in Mobile of German Segars, which have been pronounced by competent judges, fully equal, if not superior to the best Havanas.

COLEMAN'S PATENT, PREMIUM, UNDULATING CORN AND FODDER MILLS.—These Mills were invented several years ago, by W. P. COLEMAN, Esq., formerly of this State, and time has now elapsed sufficient for them to have been thoroughly tested by planters and Millers. We believe we do not err when we say that they have borne the test of experiment, and are now regarded as among the very best inventions of the kind in existence. They have received the strongest endorsements from those who have tried them, as shown by numerous certificates in the proprietors possession. Mills of different sizes and capacities for grinding, varying from 14 to 36 inches, can be furnished, adapted to horse, water, or steam power. Those wishing for information in regard to them can obtain it from circulars which will be sent by the patentee on application. See the advertisement in our business columns, and address the patentee, Mr. Coleman, or his agent, JOHN SUMMERS, Esq., New Orleans.

MESSRS. A. B. STRAWBRIDGE & CO.—Newspaper Agents, New Orleans.—We feel under many obligations to this firm for the punctual, faithful, and efficient manner in which they have attended to the business in their line which we have entrusted to their care in New Orleans. Their agency is a great convenience to the country press, as they are better acquainted with the city and the merchants than any country editor possibly can be, and can do his paper more good in New Orleans than he can himself. They are active, reliable, business men, and our brethren in the country may safely place implicit confidence in them to the fullest extent. Their establishment is no humbug, started to swindle publishers, but a legitimate business, conducted on proper principles and with great energy and perseverance. They are bound to succeed, and for a country editor to make them his agents is to benefit both himself and them, but chiefly himself.

REV. W. M. WIGHTMAN, D. D., now President of Wofford College S. C., has accepted the Presidency of the Southern University at Greensboro, Ala.

DOLBEAR'S COMMERCIAL COLLEGE.—This Institution, located in New Orleans, is steadily winning its way to the public regard. It is designed more especially to prepare young men for business avocations, and with this view large attention is given to Book-keeping, and other studies necessary to a commercial education. Young men wishing to prepare for business and commercial pursuits would be greatly benefitted by taking a course of instruction in this establishment.

PLANTER AND MECHANIC.—We are indebted to the worthy publisher and editor, Col. JNO. J. WILLIAMS, for the February number of this publication. Col. Williams having been compelled for the want of proper facilities at Jackson, to have his printing done in New Orleans, the appearance of his Magazine is now greatly improved. It is as neatly executed a pamphlet as one could wish to see. The present number is well filled with valuable and interesting articles for the Planter, the Mechanic, the Gardener and Fruit-raiser. The people of the State will be deeply censurable if they let this enterprise languish and die. They ought to sustain it with a liberality commensurate with its merits. It is worth ten times the subscription price to any intelligent man who will read it. Address JOHN J. WILLIAMS, Publisher and Proprietor, Jackson, Miss. Price one $1 00 per annum in advance.

ELECTION.—An election was held in this county last Monday, under an act of the Legislature submitting to the people the question of removing the county site.—We publish the official returns, from which it will be seen that the advocates of removal were successful by a majority of 52 votes. We have heretofore said very little on this question, but we deem it proper now to remark that the election cannot be considered as a fair test of the sentiment of the county, because the voters did not turn out. The vote fell short near three hundred of the polling strength of the county, and the falling off was principally—in fact almost wholly—in that portion of the county where the people were opposed to removal. We are unable to say what further steps will be taken in the matter; but for various reasons, we hardly suppose that this election settles the question.

BIOGRAPHY OF GEN. QUITMAN.—Col. J. F. H. CLAIBORNE, a few weeks ago, received from the family of Gen. QUITMAN, all the papers and correspondence of that lamented soldier and statesman, and has set diligently to work preparing his biography for the press. The work could not have been confided to better hands. Col. CLAIBORNE is himself a walking Encyclopedia of the political and social history of Mississippi, and in writing the life of Gen. QUITMAN he will rescue from oblivion, and embody in a permanent shape, many an interesting and important fact and incident connected with other prominent men of the State, and the State's history, which will be read and treasured by our people with the liveliest pleasure. Viewed in all respects, it is a most important and useful task he has undertaken, and as his capacity for its proper performance is undoubted, we may expect to see a work of almost unsurpassed interest to every Mississippian.

LADIES' HOME MAGAZINE.—We are already in receipt of the March number of this most excellent and deservedly popular Magazine. It is one of the best of the kind in the country, and no lady should be without it. Published by T. S. ARTHUR & Co., 323 Walnut street, Philadelphia—at $2 00 per annum.

LEVEE COMMISSIONERS.—The Vicksburg Whig says the following persons have been elected Levee Commissioners: Mr. Rains, of DeSoto county, Judge Hardeman, of Tunica Co., Mr. Nelson, of Tallahatchie, J. C. Field, of Bolivar, Mr. Southward, of Sunflower, Mr. Barksdale, of Yazoo, Col. Fall, of Washington, Mr. Barnard, of Issaquena, Mr. Alcorn, of Coahoma county.

Panola county was not represented.

LOOK OUT FOR COUNTERFEITS.—There are fifty dollar counterfeit bills in circulation on the bank of Hamburg, South Carolina. We received a bill purporting to be on this bank, from a friend, some time ago, and on presenting it in Mobile, it was pronounced spurious. We understand there are a good many of them out, and the public would do well to be on the watch.

"WASHINTON STATES."—The proprietors of this journal, one of the very ablest and best democratic papers published in the country, with a view to extending its circulation among the masses, have reduced the subscription for their weekly, to the low rate of one dollar per annum.—Mr. PAYNE, the leading editor of the States, is perhaps the most brilliant writer connected with the political press of the United States. Our democratic readers, and all others who wish to take a paper from Washington City, are referred to the Prospectus in another column.

THE PRESIDENCY.—A Washington letter, speaking of Mr. Buchanan says:

Again and again, on every possible occasion, he disavows with contempt and ridicule his supposed aspiration for a second term of office. "Two old men," he says, "myself and Lewis Cass, if we live so long, will quit this city on the 4th of March, both with much lighter and less burdened hearts than we bore with us on coming here."

"WHAT SHADOWS WE ARE!"—The Lexington Advertiser of last week, has the following melancholy paragraph:

In our last issue we published the marriage notice of Dr. Wm. A. Lloyd and Miss Mary H. Horton—wishing them a long life of joy and happiness, yet we were shocked to learn that even while we penned those lines the youthful and manly form of the late happy bridegroom had been already stricken down by the resorcelessness hand of death, and then lay a stiffened corpse. Dr. Lloyd was married on the evening of the 27th ult., and died of disease of the heart, after a few moments illness, on the morning of the 2d inst., at the residence of his father, in Attala county. Truly may it be said "in the midst of life we are in death." To the young bride, who has so suddenly been called upon to change her bridal robes for those of mourning, and to the afflicted family, we tender our heartfelt condolence. May he who tempers the wind to the shorn lamb" comfort them in their bereavement.

TOCCHOA INCIDENT AT THE BOSTON FIRE. The Boston Ledger records the following incident, in connection with the destruction in that city by fire, of the Mechanical Bakery:

During the fire, when men, women and children were fleeing from the burning dwellings, a policeman discovered on the sidewalk two little children nearly naked. They were tied together with a simple band of white cloth. Their little hands were clasped in each other, and they were crying for their mother. Once or twice they narrowly escaped death from a passing engine or a falling building, and when found their little voices were almost stifled and their forms stiff with cold. They were taken to the residence of a gentleman in Charter street, where they were kindly cared for by the ladies. Yesterday morning search was made for their parents. They were found in one of the rooms of a dwelling which narrowly escaped destruction from a fallen wall.—When found they were both so drunk that it was impossible to arouse them from their stupor. It is supposed that the mother of the children tied them together, and put them in bed, and they being awakened by the noise and light of the fire, strolled into the street, as they were found near the place where their parents were sleeping.

ELECTRICAL CLOCK.—The last Oxford Mercury speaks of a new astronomical clock now in operation at the Observatory of the State University of Mississippi.—This clock was invented by the President of the University, Rev. Dr. F. A. P. BARNARD, and constructed by Mr. E. S. RITCHIE, of Boston, who constructed the great electrical machine now in use at the Observatory.

The Mercury says it is an improvement on all clocks that have been heretofore, and are still, used in Observatories.—Clocks now in use are driven by a train, and the pendulum is made to do a part of the work—making the clocks imperfect time-keepers in consequence of the friction generated by the driving train. The motive power in the clock, as in many other astronomical clocks, is electricity, but in this the pendulum has no work to do; and as there is no friction, the arc through which the pendulum goes is constant, and the clock is thus made a perfect time-keeper.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 17.—Sales of cotton this day 16,500. Market generally unchanged.

LAUDERDALE CIRCUIT COURT.—The Circuit Court of Lauderdale County convened at Marion on last Monday—Judge Harrison on the Bench, and J. S. TERRAL, Esq., District Attorney. Up to Wednesday evening no very important case had been tried.

A despatch from Washington says that Senator BOUDINOT, of Louisiana, expresses the belief that the thirty millions bill will become a law during the present session, and that the acquisition of Cuba will take place as a result.

SHOCKING DEPRAVITY.—Among the day scholars at one of the female seminaries in this city has been for some time back a dashing pretty woman. Yesterday the chief of police learned the fact and notified the principal that this dashing young pupil's real name—or at least that by which she was known to the police—was Mrs. ——, and that she was the keeper of a notorious house of assignation! The woman can have but one purpose in going to school, and that is too horrible to contemplate.—[Cincinnati Gazette.

VIOLENCE AND ATTEMPTED LARCENY.—The residence of F. B. Clark, on Church st., was entered at about half-past 10 o'clock last night, by a cloak thief. Mr. Clark, who was expecting the return of his family from the fair, going into the entry discovered the man, who, seizing the cloaks and shawls which were on the rack, attempted to make his escape, but was caught by the clothes and in the struggle dropped his plunder and broke away.—Mr. C. soon overtook him on the pavement and laying hold of him, called to two men near, whom he supposed to be watchmen, for assistance; one of whom came up and struck him with a slung-shot upon the left temple. Watchman Gibbons, who was about a block and a half off, hearing the call for assistance came up only in time to pursue the villains, but they succeeded in making their escape. Mr. Clark was taken up senseless and bleeding badly, but his injury, we are happy to learn, is not dangerous, though severe.—Had the blow fallen an inch lower it must have proved fatal. He is confident that he can identify the man he had hold of, but has no recollection of ever having seen him before.

Congressional.

WASHINTON, Feb. 15.—In the Senate the consideration of Mr. Slidell's bill for the acquisition of Cuba, was the chief subject of debate.

Mr. Crittenden addressed the Senate in an eloquent speech of considerable length. He was in favor of the acquisition of the Island, but thought with the present state of our finances, and from other considerations, that the present time was not a propitious one for the accomplishment of the object.

House.—In the House to-day the Indian appropriation bill was under consideration.

A message was received from the President, in response to a resolution of the House, asking for the correspondence in relation to the schooner Wanderer.

The President says that it has been strictly enjoined upon the Government officials at Savannah to prosecute to the full extent of the law the cases which have come before them, in connection with the schooner Wanderer. He says that special counsel have been employed, who are instructed to find the negroes landed by the Wanderer, and identify the parties connected with the transaction, as also to ascertain other facts connected with the affair that may assist in the execution of justice to the offenders.

In the Senate yesterday the Ocean Mail Steamship bill was reported. The bill proposed to allow $62,500 to the Louisana Tehuantepec Stemship Company for carrying the mails from New Orleans to San Francisco, by way of the Isthmus of Tehuantepec.

The Judiciary Committee reported to the Senate declaring that Messrs. Bright and Fitch were the legally elected Senators from Indiana, and fully entitled to the seat they occupy in that body. The report was adopted.—N. Y. papers.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—In the Senate to-day the Senators elect from Oregon, Delazon Smith and Joseph Lane presented their credentials and were sworn in as Senators from that newly admitted State of Oregon.

Mr. Smith takes his seat for the long term, and Mr. Lane for the short term.

Mr. Hunter, of Virginia, made an eloquent speech on the tariff question.

The question as to the right of Messrs. Bright and Fitch to their seats as Senators from Indiana, was again brought up, and again the Senate decided that they were entitled to their seats. The vote was 39 yeas to 15 nays.

In the House, it was refused by an overwhelming vote, to suspend the rules, to permit the introduction of the Loan bill.

The bill introduced by Mr. English of Indiana, establishing post routes and giving the Postmaster General authority to send the mails over all public roads whenever he deems the public convenience requires it, was passed.

Two important treaties have been negotiated by our Minister, Mr. Reed, with the Chinese Government.

They were received by the State Department from China to-day.

One embraces a satisfactory adjustment of the claims of our Government against that of China; the other establishes commercial relations on a more liberal character than have heretofore been granted to our commerce.

Both treaties are entirely satisfactory to the Administration.

LEAVENWORTH, KANSAS, Feb. 14.—The Territorial Legislature of this State adjourned sine die last Friday.

Previous to the adjournment, a bill was passed granting pardon and immunity from prosecution to all under arrest or against whom writs has been issued on account of past disturbances in the southern portion of the Territory, and also exempting from arrest and prosecution all who may have been engaged in these outrages.

Governor Medary approved the bill.

Emigration to Arizona.

WASHINTON, Feb. 14.—The Arizona, Mexican and Central American Emigration Association, which has been incorporated according to law in the State of New York, is now chartering vessels to touch at Savannah and New Orleans to take up emigrants for Arizona, under the direction of Gen. C. F. Henningsen.

The Hon. Mike Walsh, of New York, is one of the prominent members. There are also several influential Georgians, Texans and Louisianians connected with it.

Offices were opened in New York on the 10th inst., and others will shortly be opened in the principal Southern cities.

Arrival of the Overland Mail Route.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 14.—The California Overland mail has arrived with San Francisco dates of the 21st ult.

By this mail we learn that Lieut. Chapman's Company of Dragoons, while en route for Fort Tejon, were attacked by a large party of Mohawk Indians near Beal's crossing, on the Colorado River. In this attack there were ten of the Indians killed.

The Mohawks, Pintos and other tribes have declared that no military posts shall be established in their country, but that whites may pass through en route for California.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.

Celebration of the Admission of Oregon—The President's Speech.—Much enthusiasm was manifested in this city on Saturday, at the passage of the bill for the admission of Oregon as a State.

A large crowd assembled at the White House; the President was called out and made a speech.

He congratulated the crowd upon the admission of Oregon, and said, among other things, that expansion was in future the policy of our country.

The President said that cowards alone feared and opposed our expansion.

Vice President Breckinridge's Speech.—Vice President Breckinridge was also called out and responded in an eloquent speech.

Upon the question of the acquisition of Cuba, Mr. Breckinridge said we talked too much and did too little.

He said that if such an island was located at the opening of the British Channel, England would take it within ten days, peacefully if they could, but forcibly if they must, for have it they would.

He was not in favor of robbing Spain of the Island of Cuba, but he would willingly act with any portion of his fellow-citizens in using all honorable means to acquire it.

Our Navy.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Report of the Naval Committee.—The recent report of the Senate Committee on Naval Affairs says we have fewer guns afloat in proportion to our commercial tonnage than we had a quarter of a century ago.

The report says our navy, as compared with that of England, is weaker than it was at the close of the war of 1812.
