THE PUBLIC FEEL.

The Pennsylvania Troops Are De. feated. WASHINGTON, D. C., March 8.—Editor Critic: Your editorial yesterday seems unjust as well as unbecoming. The premises, the logic of the facts, are wrong. This Critic does not voice the sentiment of the residents when it invites their guest, the Pennsylvania troops, to leave the city and not return again.

CITY AND SUBURBAN. Andrew Bowman, an inmate of the Insane Asylum, escaped from that institution yesterday. The High School cadets gave an exhibition parade yesterday afternoon which was highly creditable. The funeral of Merilus W. Shekell will take place from Oak Hill Cemetery this afternoon at 4 o'clock. The remains of the late Dr. W. Bowie Tyler, who died at Summerville, S. C., Wednesday, will arrive in the city this afternoon. The Harrison and Morton Pioneer Corps ball will take place Monday night. Robert R. Paine has been elected lieutenant commander. Patrick Kegan received a number of friends at Thomas Walsh's house, 1444 N street, last night, and recounted to them how the Pigott forgeries were detected. The Indiana Republican Club have completed arrangements for the reception and reunion of Indians which takes place this evening at the National Rifles' Armory. The "Life and Character of John A. Logan" was the subject of an interesting address delivered last night at Grand Army Hall by Rev. Eugene May of Osage, Iowa. Thieves entered the residence of Charles B. Carter, near the Maryland Agricultural College, on Tuesday evening and robbed it of two suits of clothing and $25 in money. Louis C. Ferrill, a clerk in the War Department, has been appointed private secretary to Judge Cooley of the Interstate Commerce Commission at $1,800 per annum. Hon. Edward C. Wade, late U. S. Marshal of Georgia, has the endorsement of a large number of prominent people as an applicant for the Third Assistant Postmaster-General's office. Colonel Seligson sustained severe injuries to his wrist and arm in jumping from a moving train at Fourth street and Virginia avenue Tuesday afternoon. The wound was dressed at Providence Hospital. A delegation of Mississippi Republicans called on Attorney-General Miller yesterday to urge the appointment of Dr. John S. Burton to succeed J. M. Liddell, deceased, as U. S. Marshal in the Northern Mississippi district. The Women's National Press Association will hold a meeting this evening at Mrs. M. D. Lincoln's, 1810 K street. A number of visiting members will be present, among them Mrs. Marble of Minnesota, Mrs. Ormsby of New York and Mrs. Chapman of Iowa. The jury in Judge Montgomery's Court yesterday gave Elizabeth Bowden a verdict for $864.04 in her suit against the executor of Ann G. Campbell, in which she claimed compensation for her services as nurse and housekeeper to that lady during and prior to her illness. The inquiries into the transaction of the Supervising Architect's office is to be resumed before long by the committee having that matter in charge. Senator Spooner is reported as having expressed in a very emphatic manner his opinion that the office was in thoroughly incompetent hands. An action in bond brought by the U. S. Government against the Indian agent in Indian camp, was yesterday decided in his favor by the jury in Chief Justice Bingham's court. He had not made return of his vouchers, as required by law, but the jury found that he had made all disbursements properly. The Minneapolis Flambeau Club serenaded Hon. S. P. Sulder at Wornley's last night. After the serenade the club dined with Mr. Sulder and then paid their respects to Senators Cullom and Washburne at the Arlington. Then they called on Secretary Wisdom, who made them a speech from the door of the Ebbitt House. The following officers have been elected for the South Washington Building Association for the ensuing year: President, John F. Cullane; vice-president, Maurice Fitzgerald; secretary, James F. Shultz; treasurer, N. H. Shea; directors, P. N. Dwyer, T. T. Keane, John Quinn, J. J. Brennan, C. H. Parker, B. Leonard, D. Murphy, S. B. Bever, William Fegan, A. Horner and M. J. Colburn. American Art Exhibition. The Exhibition of American Art, given under the auspices of the lady managers of Garfield Hospital at the residence of Hon. Levi P. Morton, 1500 Rhode Island avenue, was formally opened last night with a full dress reception and supper. The handsome rooms of the house were crowded with ladies and gentlemen, very many of them strangers in the city. Supper was served at 11 o'clock. The pictures are distributed about the walls of all the rooms, the etchings being on the second floor, and the display includes the work of many of the best American artists in oil, water and ink, with some handsome specimens of sculpture in marble and bronze. The value of the pictures is placed at $125,000. The opening reception was a glittering success, fashionably and financially, and the continuing days and nights of the exhibition will follow the first night's example, though in a much less formal manner. Open day and evening and with tea afterwards. Notes From Laurel. Laurel will grow to the extent of $100,000 in 1889 and expects to catch some of the office holders. A. E. Ellis, the contractor, has just finished a beautiful store for A. Gottschalk, etc., of Baltimore, who now owns some fine property in the city. The election of five commissioners to govern Laurel for one year will come off on May 6, and there is going to be a lively fight between the "Masses" and the labor element. A Wedding Business. During the inauguration the Ebbitt House accommodated 600 guests and served meals to 2,500 persons per day. Tharp's Medical Goods. There is no dealer in liquors and wines who is better and more favorably known in the community than our fellow-townsmen Mr. James Tharp, at 815 F street, for the purity of the goods he handles, the excellence of his Old No. 100 Herkley's Whisky, to one who has used it. Doubts its superior qualities. No MAN OR WOMAN can afford to be without Wolf's A-Cure Blacking. Mail is now carried between New York and San Francisco in 110 hours. Harman's bottled Maeczen beer. Telephone call, 634-3.

AMUSEMENTS. Miss Mary Anderson, in "The Winter's Tale," drew a magnificent audience at Albaugh's last night, a special interest being manifested to see her as Hermione and Perdita in this play, which she has so successfully put upon the stage. It is hardly necessary to state that her presentation of the role was eminently satisfactory to the audience, notwithstanding the effects of her recent illness were quite perceptible and painful to the audience. Her support was all that could be desired, every part being taken with care and fitted scrupulously to the occasion. The scenery was beautiful and thoroughly artistic and the costumes correct. Every attention was paid to detail, and the play is as nearly perfect as plays may be. Miss Anderson will not appear during the remainder of the week. To-night and to-morrow evening at the Congressional Church Mr. John L. Stoddard will give the second lecture in his series, "Holland and Belgium." He is the subject of the lecture, and will afford abundant material for Mr. Stoddard's graphic descriptions, while the illustrations may be expected to be the finest collection yet shown by Mr. Stoddard. This lecture has received the highest praise everywhere it has been presented. Mary Anderson sick. Acting on the advice of her physician, Dr. Yarrow, Miss Anderson will not appear again this week, the work of last night having been too much for her. She is suffering from a heavy internal cold and nervous prostration, and is confined to her room at the Arlington Hotel until Monday, when she appears in Baltimore, and Dr. Yarrow thinks this rest will quite restore her. There are thousands of disappointed people in Washington, but they sympathize with her none the less, and there is a hope all around that Miss Anderson will regain her wonted health more speedily. She will not be in Washington again this season. All persons holding tickets are requested to apply at once at the box office at Albaugh's, and their money will be promptly refunded. An Amateur Minstrel Performance. The members of the "Palmetto Club" gave an amateur minstrel show last night at the residence of Mr. W. P. Watrous, on Brecht's road, for the entertainment of visiting friends of the city. Mr. Watrous officiated as interlocutor and Miss Mamie Williams rendered material assistance as pianist. Nat E. Olyphant, an old Washington boy now located in Milwaukee, celebrated his return among his old friends by rattling the bones in a highly artistic fashion. Among the other participants were C. C. Prosser, J. J. Elson, W. H. Pumphrey, W. A. Gaitley, Bert Gaitley, R. P. Barnard, W. E. Williams and M. A. Joyce. Drawing the Line on Boonings. The Eighteenth Regiment got back from Washington at 9 o'clock Wednesday night. They were twenty-nine hours on the road, and the boys were loud in their complaints against the Pennsylvania Railroad. They have had enough of free rides to last them for some time. Despite their tough experience the members of the Eighteenth were in good humor. According to their accounts, they left Washington Tuesday evening at 3 o'clock and marched four miles out in the deep suburban mud of the city. Those who attended the inauguration know just how thick and plastic the mud in the country was. They laid in a swamp at Benning's Station, on the Pennsylvania Road, from 7:30 in the evening to 12:30. All the members of the Eighteenth Regiment want it distinctly understood that they draw the line on the rain and Benning's swamps.—Pittsburg Dispatch. Heurich's bottled Maeczen beer. Telephone call, 634-3. The Ball Souvenirs. All the inaugural ball souvenirs and programmes have been secured by Tyssowski Bros., who have them for sale. Heurich's bottled Maeczen beer. Telephone call, 634-3.
