SAD SAM TOOK THE PREMIER STAKES.

A Weak Ride at the Finish Beat Buda, Who Was Plainly the Best Horse.

QUIZ FINISHED UNPLACED.

Weight Anchored Patterson's Colt, Who Was Sent to the Post a Strong Favorite—Racing Results.

SPECIAL TO REPUBLIC.

New Orleans, La., Jan. 24.—The first stake for 2-year-olds east of the Rockies was run off this afternoon in the presence of a large crowd. It was called the Premier and was worth $1,000 to the winner. Six well-tried colts and fillies accepted the weights, with Charlie Patterson's br. Florian—Queenstown colt, Quiz, favorite. Stripes and Choice, bearing the all-scarlet of the Morris stable, were second choice, with Buda third in demand. All the wise money went in on Quiz, his race of the other day, when he beat a good field, justifying the confidence. The race resulted in a complete upset. Sad Sam, by Banquo—Hedley, belonging to J. F. Newman, winning by a nose from Buda, the property of O. H. Parke. Quiz was outlasted from the start, his 115 pounds doubtlessly being responsible for his defeat. Choice was third, a head away. With a stronger finish Buda would have won.

Sister Fox was a lukewarm favorite in the first, a mile selling for 4-year-olds and upwards, with Yuba Dam a shade higher. Bacciarra went up in the betting, and with anything like good racing luck he would have won. He was cut off twice, once at the first turn and again in the stretch, but was in front in the stretch. However, he got into the dead going next to the rail and was beaten a length by Yuba Dam. Fire Lady was third. Sister Fox did not cut much figure, although Odom rode her from start to finish.

The all-scarlet of the Morris stable was carried to the front in the second, a seven-furlong affair for 2-year-olds. Miscreondo, a source of many previous disappointments, ran phenomenally well, and lasted long enough to get the jump by a nose from Turney, who beat Doctor Faustin the same distance. Magic Light, the favorite, had no speed at any stage. There was considerable bumping in the stretch, in which a half dozen of those in the first flight participated.

The short-course steeplechase was a farce as far as the actual running was concerned. The favorite Cheesemite went to the front at flag-fall, and, opening a gap of fifteen lengths, maintained it clear to the wire, winning in a walk. Brakeman was twenty lengths in front of the balance, all the way and finished second just as easily. Van Brunt got third place by a half dozen lengths.

The mile handicap showed Tom Middleton a hot favorite, at a price being cut from 5 to 2 to 8 to 5. The prices on the others fluctuated all through. The high-weighted Miss Mae Day went to the front at flag-fall, and, though tiring in the end, lasted long enough to beat the favorite a length in a drive. Compensation was third. The mile was covered in 1:46½, the fastest time for the distance since the meeting began.

The hot trotting and driving finish between two outsiders, Rodland and Derina, in which the former got the decision by a nose, Cathedral, one of the choicest, was third.

Track Talk.

The results for the Lewis Handicap at the Fair course. This event is to be decided next Saturday at Oakland track, San Francisco, and a signal look can be expected for a good race. Sir Richard Cox is expected to be prepared, after his Montana visit, to handicap the sports, after the Yellowstone Park, the national park, has disappeared. It is said that Sir Richard will be ready for a match race with Lord Newminster.

Quite an interesting discussion took place in Doyle's between Jack Kent and Judge Hawes, Hawes claiming the prize money of Lamp, due to Kent's mare Lady Dunham, by Mr. Dunham out of Lady Disguise, by Disguise, dam Albione by Scratch. Kent claims that Albione was not a pure thoroughbred, and that, although Albione was a winner, she was not entitled to the stake. He claimed to have proved that the mare was not a thoroughbred by her sire, with Lord Newminster.

Mr. Lewis's imported dog Rubber Top had an other trial of the Inland Cup. Harry Lewis, who is back with the dog for the Cup, is pleased by the showing made by Rubber Top. The dog is a fine specimen of the greyhound family, and if he continues to show as well as he did last week he will be a dangerous competitor for the Cup.

Andy Mack (Scranton, Mack), the wonderful 2-year-old, left for his home in Scranton last week. Mack, who is owned by Mr. Lewis, of Scranton, is a son of Lexington—Lady Dunham, and is the sire of the celebrated Lady Dunham, who was the winner of the Inland Cup, which took place last March. The Inland Cup is a very valuable stake.

Mellow (Dakota, Mellow) has been declared, if by Judge Brown to a friend for a mile race. While Mr. Brown is judging he cannot work, and he has taken off the good eyes of Mr. Kelly, of the Bazaar. The Kelly eyes also made of Tudor Hilles and should form of an late date. He is hard to beat, if prepared by the trainer, and, if allowed to do his work with Lord Newminster.

The announcement that Meer Primitiv, the winner, Harry Lee, the hallmaker, and Jack Kinney, the great thrower, will represent Yale University at Paris next summer is welcomed by all of the other American college athletes who will compete in the Olympic games. All three of these men have achieved success in their respective lines. Primitiv is perhaps the best of the three. At one time he was the champion intercollegiate broad jumper, but was beaten by Kraenlein, the phenomenon of the University of Pennsylvania. Dodge, Tritten is one of the best amateur all-around athletes in the country. It is proposed by Sargent to send six men to the Olympic games and $1,500 will be raised for that purpose. The Sargent Intercollegiate Athletic Association, which is to be formed, will not be in shape for the coming three meets, but it is hoped that the Yale team will not be chosen until late in the spring, and will undoubtedly be selected from among the joint winners in the spring games.

F. J. H. Fitzpatrick, athletic manager of the University of the South, at Sewanee, Tenn., has arranged for the organization of wrangling a series of joint baseball games between the college team and those of the Northern colleges. Fitzpatrick will start in with the University of Virginia. He has made arrangements for a game with Columbia.

It has been definitely settled that Corbett will meet Brown in a play race at the Bay in Chicago on January 27. Instead of Princeton, as was at first expected, on February 3 the team will meet Columbia in Boston, and on the 10th will probably run again at the meet of the Knickerbocker Club, in New York City.

The athletic authorities at Notre Dame University place credence in the report that J. Ford Power has turned professional and accepted the position of trainer at the Worcester (Mass.) High School. Power is a big all-around amateur athlete, chairman of America and his friends at Notre Dame expect him to compete in the International Amateur Athletic Championship in Paris next summer.

PERSONAL.

LADIES, if you have trouble in making good coffee, try the ever reliable "H. & K." brand.

DREAM books may tell you about your love affairs, but "H. & K." coffee is the best thing to keep a husband's love from getting cold.

COOKS who earn high wages will take no substitute for "H. & K." Java and Mocha when giving orders to the grocery boy.

MAN cannot live by bread alone. He wants "H. & K." Java and Mocha coffee three times a day.

WANTED—A few thousand more men and women to stop drinking inferior coffee—what's the use when "H. & K." Java and Mocha costs but $1 for a three-pound air-tight can?

"CLERKS" will find their employment easy if they drink the delicious coffee—"H. & K." brand.

EXTRA fine quality of the celebrated "H. & K." Java and Mocha coffee is never lowered. Try a can—your grocer sells it.

FOR SALE—At all live grocers—the celebrated "H. & K." blend of Java and Mocha coffee—sold in 3-pound air-tight vacuum—one dollar.

ATTENTION—Cheap coffee lacks strength as well as flavor, one spoonful of "H. & K." Java and Mocha coffee has the strength of two spoonfuls of common coffee—so really it is cheaper after all.

MARRIED people find "H. & K." coffee tends to smooth their family differences. It's hard to quarrel when drinking this delicious Java and Mocha.

WARMED-OVER coffee is always lacking in flavor, but warmed-over "H. & K." Java and Mocha is better than poor coffee made fresh.

SAMPLE—Meet me at the corner grocery where they sell "H. & K." Java and Mocha coffee. X. Y. Z.

FULL value for your money when you buy a three-pound can of H. & K. Java and Mocha coffee for $1.

GROCERIES where "H. & K." coffee is not sold are few and far between. Insist on getting this kind no matter what is offered.

MONEY spent for a can of H. & K. Java and Mocha is true economy in the kitchen. It goes so much farther than poor coffee.

FRED—If you will come home, I will never use any other coffee except the "H. & K." brand which you like so much. Mary.

BOARD—Wanted Boarders—We set the best table and always use "H. & K." coffee. Aberdeen Hotel.

COURSING NEWS.

Trouble Over the Breeding of Puppies—Van Natta a Pretty Greyhound.

That enthusiastic courser, Captain D. J. Crimmingham, seems to have forsworn the sport of which he was so fond. At least, he does not patronize local coursing events. The distinguished military man has some very Puritanical ideas of how they should do these things, either in London, Paris or St. Louis. As they say on the stage, "He is a lekit" all the way, and the rather circumscribed park at Dr. Hoffmann's does not chime with his vast ideas of what a coursing park should be. Hence he takes slight interest in proceedings therein.

Van Natta (Arkansas—Jet Bridgeth), is a very pretty black bitch, which Mr. Lavin has secured from Doctor R. Van Hummel of Indianapolis. She is a small, but very fast leading bitch, owing to lack of condition it will be some time before she will be sent to the slips.

J. J. Curran, the Dr. Hoffmann courser, has purchased Hector (Jim of the Hill—Susie), and Gil Blas (Royal Greenick—Jessie Green), from Nichols and Avery, Dakota coursers. The dog is a great big fellow while the bitch is quite a nervous animal, who threatens trouble.

There has been quite a lot of unpleasant talk about the breeding of certain puppies on the South Side. Their owner declares that the sires are by Sir Guy, much to the disgust and scorn of Mr. Pelham, who avers that good dog and Sir Guy's brother, Mr. Hoffmann, owner of the puppies, proved that the sires were by Pelham, and that Sir Guy was not entitled, and without that of the owner and trainer Mr. Hoffmann could not be satisfied of such mixed breeding, and he was always J. J. McKinnon's other partner and owner of the dog. Mr. McKinnon, the owner of the puppies, claim that Mr. Sadler, trainer of the puppies, knew, knowing he is an honest man, that the sires were by Pelham, and that Sir Guy's brother, Mr. Hoffmann, proved
