A NEW PLAITED SKIRT.

Soft Fabrics Should Be Made Up After This Design.

Ladies' Eight-Gored Skirt, with Box Plaited Effect, No. 7024—Soft, clinging materials, such as crepe de Chine, foulard and Lonsdowne, lend themselves gracefully to the new box and side-plaited skirts, but heavier fabrics may be stylishly developed by this model, which has the effect of being box plaited from the waist down, without having the superfluous material at the upper part to add to the weight.

7024—LADIES' BOX PLAITED SKIRT.
22, 24, 26, 28 and 30 inch waist.

It is made with seven narrow gores, reaching almost to the center-back gore, which is arranged in a double box plait.

The skirt is fitted perfectly smooth at the waist and over the hips. The seams are opened, thoroughly pressed and machine stitched, on each side. Extensions added on each side of the gores, from the point where the stitching ends, to the lower edge, are arranged in hollow box plaits and fully pressed. These plaits graduate in depth from the front to the sides, giving the full graceful flare to the skirt at the floor line. The box-plaited look is of fashionable length.

Broadcloth, cheviot, Henrietta, Venetian and prunella are appropriate materials, and the seams may be strapped with machine-stitched bands or all stitching and decoration may be omitted in favor of a plain finish.

To make the skirt in the medium size will require five and five-eighths yards of fifty-inch material. The pattern, No. 7024, is cut in sizes for a 22, 24, 26, 28 and 30 inch waist measure.

Ladies' Chemise, No. 7081—Fine white nainsook is chosen for this dainty chemise, with trimmings of Valenciennes edging and insertion. It is adjusted with shoulder and under-arm seams, the fullness being arranged in gathers in back and front.

The neck is finished with lace insertion, surmounted by a Valenciennes edging. The arm's-eyes are finished in a similar manner, and the top is large enough to allow the head to slip through easily. A daintily shaped frill that narrows at the shoulders is arranged over the front. It is made of nainsook and edged with lace and insertion.

A deep flounce is applied at the lower edge of the chemise, the seam being covered by a band of insertion. The flounce is elaborately decorated with lace and insertion.

The waist may hang loosely or be gathered in by a band of ribbon run beading, or with insertion all around, and finished by a bow of soft wash ribbon in front.

Muslin, cambric or China silk may be used for undergarments of this style, with lace or embroidery for trimming. Ribbon run beading may be used in place of insertion with very dainty effect.

To make this chemise in the medium size will require three and a quarter yards of material thirty-six inches wide. The pattern, No. 7081, is cut in sizes for a 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inch bust measure.

7081—LADIES' CHEMISE.
32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inch bust.

River and Business.

Owing to the obstruction at Cairo there were no arrivals or departures yesterday.

The river Friday was 3 feet and rising.

Paragraphs.

The Georgia Lee, which has been detained at this city for the last two days owing to the ice, left this morning at 10 o'clock for the Yazoo River with a fair number of passengers and a light freight. She has been delayed at the wharfboat without loading cargo, or she could have left much earlier. The Lee had a very good business while stopping here. Yesterday afternoon she took a large amount of freight, and at 5:30 a. m. she had loaded nearly that much more. She was running out.

Another company, which is called the Mississippi Valley and Tennessee River Packet Company, has been organized by Memphis people. The boats of this line have been named Lee, Grant, Sherman, Sherman, Sherman
