CITY NEWS PARAGRAPHS.

The Pastors' Alliance met at the Foundry Church yesterday and adopted resolutions expressing disapproval of Sunday football.

Isiah Winston whipped Bagley Courtney last night for undue privileges with Mrs. Winston. He was arrested and locked up in the South Water Court.

Mrs. Ernest Becker, the Treasury Department clerk who was dismissed for abstracting mutilated money, has not, as has been announced, left the city, but is still living at 124 N. street.

The work of building a third story on the Twelfth-street Station-House has been finished, and the result is much more commodious and agreeable quarters for the policemen. The new story is used as a dormitory, and enables each officer to have a bed to himself.

Last Friday night J. W. Stoops, an 80-year-old white man, was run over by Fifth and C streets by a wagon and seriously injured. He died last night at his home, 709 Eleventh street, from his injuries. The driver of the wagon that ran over Mr. Stoops whipped up and escaped in the darkness.

THE DISTRICT GOVERNMENT.

The directors of the Eckington and Soldiers' Home Railway Company have asked the Commissioners to allow a double payment to be laid behind their tracks on New York avenue between Seventh street and New Jersey avenue. The Commissioners have declined to grant the request and they will pave the tracks with asphalt and charge the cost against the company.

A. A. Marsteller has notified the Commissioners that he will not submit tamely to their action in cutting off the water from house 304 C street. The Water Department officials report that the tenant admits having used the water from a 3/4 inch pipe next door, and there is no ground for the protest.

The Commissioners have held that Mr. A. Dent, a master plumber, is responsible for the paving of a sidewalk in front of 925 A street northeast, although the bricks removed by him from the pavement were appropriated by another person.

A new style of stop-cock boxes has been adopted by the Commissioners. The new boxes are adjustable and can be lowered or raised by merely turning them. This will relieve the sidewalks of the obstructions of this character that stick up about an inch or more above the surface.

A New Trial for Kelly.

Judge Montgomery to-day granted the motion for a new trial offered by T. C. Taylor in the case of Daniel Kelly, convicted in the Criminal Court of receiving stolen property. The defendant's discharge was also ordered. The offense was one of which the Police Court has jurisdiction, and as the case was not tried there, the Court held the trial in the Criminal Court to be illegal. The statute provides that the Police Court shall have jurisdiction of all offenses punishable by not more than $200 fine and six months' imprisonment in jail.

Bucial Permits Issued.

Bucial permits have been issued during the past 24 hours by the Health Officer as follows: John B. Lynch, 65 years; Susan A. Swingle, 70 years; Thomas Flanagan, 65 years; Anna Julia Locke, 36 years; Robert L. Mills, 10 years. And the following colored: Rachael Williams, 75 years; Lena Hall, 22 years; Henry Robinson, 31 years; Mary Brown, 3 years; John Mander, 19 years; Ebenzer B. Jackson, 77 years.

Costly Hallow Eve Fun.

George Myers, well-dressed white boy, threw a brick at Thomas Weaver's house, on Marion street, in the course of his Hallow Eve celebration and the brick struck Mr. Weaver. Mr. Weaver not only caught George and beat him but he had him arrested and fined $10 in the Police Court this morning.

Wrote His Name High Up.

"CHARLES PEARS." That was as far as ambitious Charlie Pearson got before he was arrested. He was scrawling his name on top of the Washington Monument yesterday afternoon, and was fined $2 for it in the Police Court this morning.

Novel and Unlithian.

Officers Duvall and Williams, of the Second Police precinct, registered a novel bet to-day. The losing better is to black the winner's boots whenever called upon to do so for three months following the election.

THE COURT RECORD.

Court in General Term—Chief Justice, Justices James and Merrick.

District vs. Brown: does not remain case to Criminal Court. Barber vs. Barber: does not remain case. Beal vs. Brown: does not remain case. Below: Mason vs. Sculling: does not remain case.

HOW AGNES WATSON WAS KILLED.

Testimony Given on the Trial of Frederick Barber. The trial of Frederick Barber, colored, charged with the murder of Agnes Watson and drowning her, was resumed in the Criminal Court this morning. Testimony was given yesterday by Dr. Lachlan Tyler as to the drowning. He also said that there were no evidences of bruises, although in a person of her complexion such marks might have escaped attention. Mr. Cabell had objected to Dr. Tyler's testimony on the ground that the infirmity did not charge that her death was the result of the drowning. The Court overruled the objection, and an exception was noted. Mr. Tyler testified that the words "mortally drowned," which appeared, was sufficient. The first witness called this morning was Georgianna Wallace, a colored woman. She stated that Barber and Agnes Watson were living together in her house in an alley off Twenty-fifth street, between M and N, their relations apparently those of man and wife. She saw Agnes on the night of June 23, at about 7 o'clock. She went out, returned and left the house again at about 8 o'clock. She did not see her again until the body was brought to her station-home. She had on a light dress when she left home. She had on the same dress after the drowning. That afternoon she had on light skirts and a blue sateen polka-dot blouse. She could not say whether the body had on corsets or not. Mary Hardy went with Agnes that night. She went to the store with her to buy a pair of shoes. Her description of Agnes Watson's clothing tallied with that of the first witness. Mary Smith saw Agnes on the night of her death in front of the house of Mrs. Mahoney, on Washington street, between D and E, where Sadie Mahoney, the woman of whom she was supposed to be jealous, lived, between 11 and 12 o'clock. Agnes asked Mary Smith to go and tell Fred, to please come out, as she wanted to speak a word. She went into the house to carry the message and found Barber reclining on a trunk with Sadie Mahoney sitting next to him. She told Barber that Agnes Watson wanted to see him; that she was outside crying. He said: "If I go out, d—ber, I'll kill her." Then he croaked her down again, and that Barber refused to come out. Agnes then sent Amanda Lee back on the same errand. Afterward they went down the street together. As they came up the steps he knocked her down across the curb into the street. He said: "If you follow me this night I'll kill you." She said: "Fred, I only want to speak to you." Then he croaked her down again at the corner, around which they then disappeared. She next saw Barber coming from the direction of the Jefferson street bridge. Officer Eberly asked Barber where he had been and Barber replied that he was just from the ice-house. The officer said there was a hat floating in the canal and began to question Barber further. He replied: "I heard a splash, but I thought it was a dog."

"I hold you responsible for this woman's death," said the officer. "I don't know anything about it," was Barber's response. "If you think I did it you can arrest me." On cross-examination by Mr. Cabell he said that Agnes was crying bitterly, evidently in great distress, but she had not been drinking. She insisted that when Barber knocked her down he struck her and did not push her.

A DIVA'S DIAMONDS.

Mrs. Jesse Bartlett-Davis's Room Entered on Washington Street. Mrs. Jesse Bartlett-Davis, of the Bostonians, singing at Albaugh's this week, was robbed last night while she was at the theater. A sneak thief entered her room, No. 108 at the Arlington, between S and 10 o'clock, and took diamonds she valued at $700, from her dressing case and trunk. The job was very quickly and cleverly done, the detectives think, by a professional hotel thief. The jewels comprised a gold and diamond breast-pin, a bonnet-pin of rubies and diamonds, a solitaire diamond bonnet-pin, a ring, a diamond collar button, a pair of gold bracelets and a pair of diamond sleeve buttons. When she left her room to go to the theater she locked the door. The breast-pin that was stolen she left on her dressing case and the rest of the jewelry was in her trunk. She left the trunk's key in the lock so that all the thief had to do was to pick the lock of the door and enter the trunk. It is supposed that the thief left town with his booty last night within a few hours after the robbery.

His Vote was Saved.

George W. Moran's vote was saved, but it was a close call. He used to loaf around the ten-cent lodging houses and get drunk with the money he saved in this way, and when he was drunk he used to fight.

A week or two ago he went to Baltimore to work. Yesterday morning he started for his home in Alexandria to cast his vote for Cleveland and Thurman. When he reached this city he was arrested in his trunk. She left the trunk's key in the lock so that all the thief had to do was to pick the lock of the door and enter the trunk. It is supposed that the thief left town with his booty last night within a few hours after the robbery.

Fell in the River.

George White, black, fell off the wharf at the foot of Eleventh street last night, and was fished out considerably soberer than before, by Louis Speaks and W. L. Jenkins.

Pettit Jurors Accepted.

The following jurors were accepted to-day to fill vacancies in the jury in the Criminal Court: James Guild, C. G. Hultmaier and John C. Petrlick.

George L. Arnold Assigns.

George L. Arnold, grocer, at 533 Eighth street southeast, has made an assignment to Eugene F. Arnold. The preferences amount to about $900.

The National Grange.

Dr. John Timble, secretary of the National Grange of the Patrons of Husbandry, and Dr. J. M. Blanton, of Farmville, Prince Edward County, Va., chairman of the executive committee, who will attend the twenty-second annual session of the National Grange in Topeka, Kan., on the 14th, will endeavor to have the Grange permanently located at the National Capital, and will make an important report on that subject. It is argued that by being located here the Grange can exert more influence on legislation favorable to the farmers.

Our Aim.

A better value of clothing for less money is what any other dealer. Examine our $3.50 Child's Suits. KILMAN BROS., 7th and E, Manufacturing Clothiers and Tailors.

LORD SAVKILLE'S DEPARTURE. Nothing Known About It, But It Is Believed That He Will Leave Soon. Very little can be learned as to ex-Minister West's intentions. There was a rumor current that his lordship intends to leave for New York shortly and would sail directly to London, but it could not be traced to any reliable source, and it was utterly impossible to get any information at the Legation building. Lord Savkille was in attendance upon the race last week and seemed to have enjoyed the sport in spite of the strain under which he labors. It is said that he risked some money and succeeded in capturing quite a good many American dollars. The ex-Minister seems to be preparing for a speedy departure. Whether or not he will leave Washington, and where he is bound, but around the Legation building there are evidences of preparation for leaving. Several trunks and portmanteaus were sent away to be repaired and the servants were being gathered around as though engaged in collecting together the personal property of the ex-Minister's family. One of the closest of the Minister's diplomatic friends here, that Lord Savkille would leave before the 15th. In diplomatic circles the opinion is very freely expressed that Lord Savkille will be assigned to some other mission. The general opinion was that his next assignment would be in the nature of a promotion, and that St. Petersburg would be his ministerial residence.

AT THE HOTELS. Wesley Sisson, of New York, and Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Kingman, of Brooklyn, are at the Arlington. Mr. M. Mr. Charles W. Metzger's Loss.

Mr. Charles W. Metzger, a well-known newspaper man of this city, now doing work for the Press News Association, has sustained a severe affliction in the loss of his only child, a bright boy of three years. The little died this morning at 610 E street southeast of diphtheria croup, after a short illness, and before its sorrow-stricken parents realized that it was in fact dead. The little boy followed was well and playing around the house in full good luck a week ago, and his sad death has left his mother weeping heart-broken. Mr. and Mrs. Metzger have the sympathy of many friends in their affliction.

Vices of a Great City.

"San Francisco" was the subject of the lecture delivered by Miss Jessie Ackerman, of Alaska, before a small but appreciative audience last night at the Metropolitan Methodist Church. She favored the audience with a lecture on the ground that they were not only dirty and filthy, but that by working for starvation wages they forced respectable girls to lives of shame. She was in favor of sending missionaries to China where the Chinese couldn't degrade American womanhood. The lecture was concluded by a strong plea for social reform.

Doing a Rushing Business.

"STORE NEWS" BY WOODWARD & LOTHROP. Judging from the trade of the past few days thoughtful shoppers are evidently aware of the fact that the best Fall buying time is now. The store is packed with the very latest productions in fabrics and styles. The goods are new, fresh and pretty. The assortment of shades and styles is at its fullest. Even Christmas preparations are cropping out all over the store. The Holiday Brie-a-brac Department is one of the beauties of the store, and deserves the attention with which it is meeting. The various wares, each of which takes on a myriad of shapes, embraces Venetian, Hungarian, Tepitz's Old Ivory, Caribaid, Imperial Crown, Cashmere, Dresden, Japanese, Terra Cotta and others equally rich and beautiful. (First floor; left of main entrance.) WRAP EXHIBIT. We shall have an exhibition of Wraps all the week. The styles in the long garments as are varied as they are handsome, and it is nip and tuck for popular favor, Pelisses, Newmarkets, Raglans, Carriage and Theater Cloaks in loose fronts and tight fronts, loose backs and tight backs, loose sleeves and tight sleeves, braided and plain, trimmed and untrimmed and the greatest wonder of all is the price. It is surprising how much Wrap and "Style" can be had for so little money. This can be appropriately applied to the entire trade of jackets and Wraps, as although the fabrics are better, the shades are handsomer, and the styles are more becoming, the prices are lower than have ruled any preceding season. We are buying with more care, with better knowledge, a "rider" experience, and then, too, direct from the makers. (Third floor.)
